Landfill rates set to increase slightly on July 1

By Ali Holcomb
 Rates at the Jackson County landfill, which is located three miles west of Mayetta, are set to increase slightly this summer.
 The Jackson County Commissioners have approved a resolution to increase some of the rates at the landfill by one or two dollars effective July 1.
 Cars will be charged $10 per load, instead of the previous $9.
 Small pickups will be charged $14 per load, instead of $12, and regular pickups will be charged $20 and up per load, instead of $18 and up.

Larger pickups will be charged $10 per cubic yard, instead of the previous $9 per cubic yard.
 All other landfill rates will stay the same, it was reported.
 Trucks and trailers less than full will be calculated by the cubic yard or materials hauled. Unsecured loads will be charged double, according to the resolution.
 No items containing Freon are accepted at the landfill unless the owner can show proof of proper removal. No out of county trash is accepted.
 The landfill is open 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday each week. For more information, call 785-966-2652.
 The commissioners also recently met with David Elsbury, KANZA Mental Health CEO, and Virginia Freese and Karen Stous, other KANZA representatives, to discuss a proposal to renovate the Moser building as a new office building in Holton for the organization.
 Elsbury said that the current KANZA building on Idaho Street in Holton is not big enough and noted that the organization treated 1,369 people last year at the facility.

 The total cost to renovate the building is estimated at $732,832, and KANZA representatives are seeking the support of the commissioners to secure funding in the form of a Community Development Block Grant through the Kansas Department of Commerce. The grant could fund up to 50 percent of the cost of renovation if it's awarded to KANZA, it was reported.

Local high school proms scheduled for this Saturday

By Ali Holcomb
 Jackson County students will be dressed in their finest Saturday as all three schools – Jackson Heights, Holton and Royal Valley – have scheduled their respective proms for that evening.
 In the northern part of the county, Jackson Heights students will arrive at the school between 6 p.m. and 7 p.m. for prom, which has the theme "Midnight Masquerade," according to prom sponsor Amy Maiers.
 Maiers said the gym will be decorated in purple, white, gold and champagne colors, with handmade chandeliers and masquerade masks.

 A dinner of chicken alfredo, garlic bread, salad and other items will be served at 7 p.m.
 During dinner, JHHS alumnus Ross Allen will be the featured guest speaker.
 Dancing and photo-taking will begin at 8 p.m. through midnight with post prom activities to be held at the grade school. The evening is expected to conclude at about 2:30 a.m., Maiers said.
 Holton's prom theme is "The Great Gatsby," and students will arrive at the school between the new high school addition and the football field between 7 p.m. and 8 p.m. Bleachers will be available to those wanting to watch the parade of promgoers, it was reported.

 The dance will be held from 8:30 p.m. to 11:30 p.m. with post prom activities following at the commons area. Students have until 12:30 a.m. to get back to the school for post-prom activities, it was reported.
 Royal Valley students will again travel to the Heritage Hall at the Kansas Expocentre in Topeka for their prom. The stone building is located on the north side of the main Expocentre just west and south of the intersection of S.W. 17th St. and S.W. Topeka Blvd.

 Doors to prom will be open at 7:45 p.m., but students are expected to arrive beforehand for photos outside the building. Terri Griffiths, prom sponsor, said that students may arrive as early as 7 p.m.
 The dance will be held from 8 a.m. to 11 p.m. The theme for the Panther prom is "Here's to the Night."
 After prom activities will be held from 11:30 p.m. to 3:00 a.m. at the YMCA in Topeka, 3635 S.W. Chelsea Dr.

Second Saturday to feature Western-themed activities

By Brian Sanders
 Visitors to Holton's Town Square on Saturday will have the opportunity to take a trip back to the Old West from 4 p.m. to 9 p.m. that day with the Holton/Jackson County Chamber of Commerce's "Western Bonanza," this month's Second Saturday promotion.
 Chamber director Carolyn McKee said that in addition to the regular Second Saturday activities, this month's promotion will feature Western-themed arts and activities, including "cowboy art" displays, a "Children's Cowboy and Cowgirl Storyboard Art Walk" around the Square and, starting at 7 p.m., a family square dance on the east side of the Jackson County Courthouse.

 "We thought square dancing would be fun," McKee said of the square dancing event. "A lot of the younger kids may have never experienced it, so they're coming in to teach the kids how to square dance."
 The square dance lessons and event are being provided by Berlyton-based square dance caller Dana Schirmer, who has four decades of experience in the field. McKee said Schirmer has expressed an interest in starting a square dance class in Holton, and a sign-up sheet will be available at Saturday's event.

 A Jackson County Western Art Walk will be held from 4 p.m. to 7 p.m. Saturday in downtown Holton as part of the monthly Second Saturday event.

 Local artists will display 24-inch by 36-inch canvases illustrating all the scenes from "Cowgirls and Cowboys at Play," a story written by Carol Totten.

 Sixteen illustrated storyboards will be placed outside businesses around the Holton Square along with the text of the story. Artists will meet and greet the public and be on hand to answer questions.
 The storyboards will begin at J.M. Sewing Center on the west side of the Square and continue north and east around the Square.

Buchheit hearing postponed

By Brian Sanders
 The preliminary hearing for a Netawaka resident charged with several sex-related crimes involving a child has been postponed, with the new date depending on the outcome of another Jackson County District Court case, according to Jackson County Attorney Shawna Miller.
 Scott James Buchheit, 35, faces a new preliminary hearing date of either 10 a.m. on Tuesday, April 14 if the unrelated jury trial set for that day is resolved, Miller said. Otherwise, the hearing will be scheduled for 1 p.m. on Thursday, May 14.
 Buchheit was arrested at a Topeka hotel in February on charges including six counts of aggravated criminal sodomy, six counts of rape and one count of felony theft. The sex charges involve alleged incidents between August of 2008 and October of 2013

Meet Your Doctors: Dr. Michael Keehn

Note: This is the ninth story in a series about doctors in our community.
 Ask Dr. Michael L. Keehn of Netawaka who inspired him to become a family doctor, and he'll give you a list of some of his favorite TV shows from the 1960s and 1970s.
 "I don't think that there was one individual who was an inspiration, but I do remember 'Doc' Adams from 'Gunsmoke,' 'Marcus Welby M.D.' and the 'M*A*S*H' series catching my attention," says Keehn, who has been seeing patients at Muddy Creek Family Clinic in his hometown of Netawaka since 2006.
 Keehn grew up in northern Jackson County, attending grade schools in Netawaka and Whiting and graduating from Jackson Heights High School in 1981. He attended Highland Community

How money, not reason is influencing Kansas

A news story in the Lawrence Journal-World newspaper on Sunday pointed out how pro-business lobby groups are wielding power at the State Legislature.

In case after case, such as public school finance, labor rights and Medicaid, many Statehouse observers have noted that the fate of major pieces of legislation this year has depended on one thing: the support or opposition it receives from a small number of pro-business lobby groups led by the Kansas Chamber, Americans for Prosperity, and the conservative think tank Kansas Policy Institute.

In case after case, despite massive opposition on the major issues, the state lawmakers continue to blatantly take the side of the pro-business lobby.

"That's basically David and Charles Koch that run our State Legislature," said Tom Holland, D-Baldwin City, the ranking Democrat on the Senate Commerce Committee, which heard and passed the anti-union legislation. "They drive the legislative agenda up here when it comes to tax and commerce policy."

Billionaire brothers Charles and David Koch are co-owners of Wichita-based Koch Industries, one of the Kansas Chamber's "cornerstone members." They also founded Americans for Prosperity, a nationwide network of groups that advocate for pro-business, free-market policies.

Kansas Policy Institute is a think tank and lobbying organization that is part of the State Policy Network and the American Legislative Exchange Council, both of which are funded by the Koch brothers.

The source of the Koch-financed lobbying groups' power is their ability to funnel money, either directly or indirectly into election campaigns, according to the Journal-World report.

"It has to do with Citizens United and the expansion of third-party money that's unidentified, non-transparent, but there's oceans of it in Kansas," said Rep. Jim Ward, D-Wichita. "And it has a huge effect on races that used to cost $20,000 to $30,000 and now are running $50,000 and $75,000 to run for the House. And when you raise the cost of campaigning, it gives that money that much more influence."

The Journal-World news story helps explain why the voices of many Kansas taxpayers are falling on deaf ears this year.

Foreign policy primarily handled by presidents

By Lee H. Hamilton

Congress has developed a fondness for open letters when it comes to Iran. First came the warning shot signed by 47 Republican senators that touched off a storm of criticism. Not to be outdone, the House checked in with its own bipartisan and more diplomatically stated letter to the President, warning that its members must be satisfied with any agreement before they'll vote to reduce sanctions.

What lies behind these moves?

I think Congress feels left out of foreign policy-making.

I have considerable sympathy for this impulse. Over the decades, too much power has drifted to the President when it comes to foreign affairs. The Congress has been deferential, even timid, in allowing this to happen.

Moreover, the administration has not done an especially good job of consulting with Congress. The President is the chief actor in foreign policy, and it's his obligation to reach out and develop a sustained dialogue with Congress on foreign policy matters. As far as I can tell, he has not done that sufficiently.

Yet much as I want to see Congress speak up on foreign policy, how it does so matters. The Senate's letter to Iran was ill-considered and unhelpful. Its purpose was to defeat the nuclear negotiations, and it undercut the President while he was trying to negotiate a deal with another world leader.

It raised questions about America's reliability, invited doubt about the President's ability to negotiate a deal, and created a major distraction at a crucial moment. The letter undermined not only this President's credibility, but undermines future presidents' as well. It suggests that no one in the U.S. government is empowered to strike a deal.

The letter did focus appropriately on presidential use of executive orders to conduct foreign policy, but it wrongly implied that presidents are hamstringed in the conduct of policy. The senators suggested that an executive order on Iran is likely to be reversed by a future president, which is not true. Presidential deals with other countries are rarely overturned by their successors.

In part, this is because once an agreement is in place it becomes very difficult to undo — especially if it's working. Also, presidents are reluctant to reverse their predecessors' work because they don't want to undercut the same tool they themselves rely on to pursue their foreign policy goals.

As a nation we've gotten into the bad habit of using executive orders for the most important foreign policy initiatives — including such watershed moments as Richard Nixon's opening toward China and President Obama's accord with Syria banning the use of chemical weapons. In recent decades, 94 percent of pacts between the U.S. and other countries have been under executive orders; just 6 percent are done by treaty. This is because treaties require a two-thirds vote of the Senate before they can be ratified, and that has become a near-impossible milestone to reach.

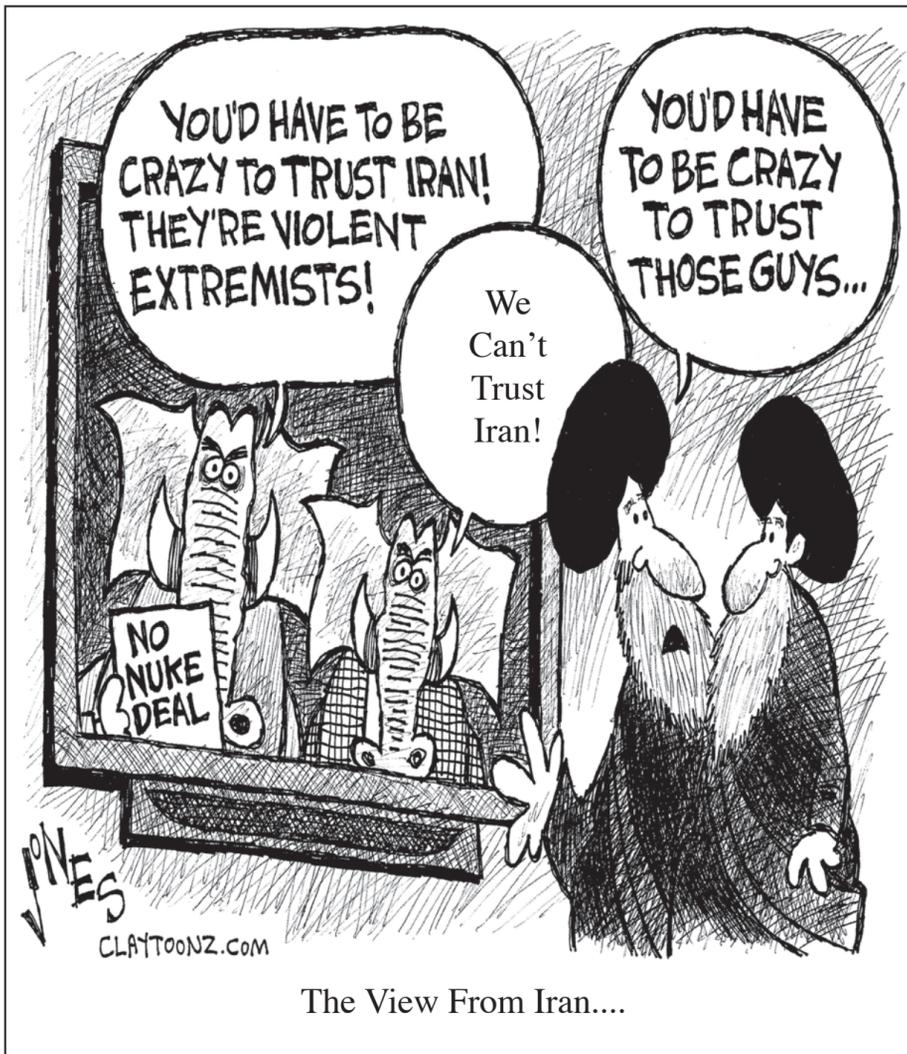

Yet the fact that a president can act on his own does not mean that he should do so. The reliance on executive orders means we have no clear mechanism, or even requirement, for the President to consult and work with Congress on foreign policy. So Congress feels left out of the action, and in an effort to deal itself back in it behaves clumsily, as the Senate did with the Iran letter.

The way past these bitter battles is meaningful consultation. The President and the Congress need to consult regularly and in depth before problems come to a head. Sustained and respectful consultation would go a long way toward avoiding the acrimonious contention over foreign policy that we've seen of late.

Edward S. Corwin, a professor of jurisprudence at Princeton in the first half of the 20th century, once called the Constitution an "invitation to struggle for the privilege of directing American foreign policy" — a line that is far better known than Corwin himself. Over the last half-century, the contest has largely been decided in favor of the President.

Congress's bid to reopen the question is not, in and of itself, a bad thing. But if the President and the Congress want to avoid these flare-ups and strengthen the nation's foreign policy, they should exercise in-depth, sustained consultation.

The View From Iran....

INSIGHT: Fast food? Not really

By John Schlageck
Kansas Farm Bureau

Pre-packaged, vacuum-packed, just add water.

Many of us in Kansas live in a world where food comes fast - so fast we all forget how it arrives at our table. We forget it comes from the hard labor and calloused hands of Kansas farmers. Our food also comes from Kansas ranchers who work miles of rangeland in rain, snow and blazing heat.

Fast food? Not really.

Our lives wouldn't be the same without the farmers and ranchers who put food on our tables. Just as meat, eggs and milk have always been part of our mealtime routine, caring and providing for the animals that give us these staples are part of a farmer's daily activities.

These activities continue, often for long hours, throughout the day. Farmers look after their animals first thing in the morning and the last thing at night. Livestock producers often place greater emphasis on their animals than themselves.

Farming has changed throughout the years. Many of today's farm animals live in carefully supervised environments. No longer do they need to struggle for survival in a driving snowstorm or search for nourishment on parched rangelands. Instead they have heat in the winter, cool ventilation in the summer and clean, dry living areas with food and water all year long.

All of this is provided with hands-on care, education and a long tradition of animal husbandry. Farmers and ranchers go far beyond their role of humane guardians and demonstrate devoted concern for their animals' health and safety.

They routinely stay up all night to help sows deliver piglets or tend to newborn calves. When it's 15 degrees below zero on a frigid Kansas winter morning, farmers and ranchers are feeding, watering and caring for their livestock.

They're God's creatures and a farmer and rancher's responsibility. Proper care of animals is a time-honored ethic that also makes economic sense. In order for animals to increase meat, milk, wool and egg production, farmers must take all possible steps to ensure their animals live stress free.

The farmer's creed has always been to nurture the land, improving it while coaxing forth a bountiful harvest. Farmers hold enduring respect for the land that sustains them and consumers in this country and around the world. Their reward is an abundance of the safest, most wholesome food on the planet.

Today's consumers enjoy ample yields from this nation's farms. Success lies with the farmer's ingenuity and stewardship ethic. Farmers want to leave the land in better shape for their successors.

Advances in crop production enhance the farmer's natural commitment to providing us all with food. These innovations allow farmers to harvest larger yields with fewer acres, in harmony with the environment.

Yes, it takes plenty of hard work and honest sweat to raise the grain, vegetables, fruit and livestock that are this country's food. Farm and ranch families take pride from their shared experience living, working and harvesting food from the land.

They believe that through their profession of producing food, they are giving more to the world than they are taking from it. Agricultural producers believe their lives will be measured ultimately by what they have done for their fellow men and women.

John Schlageck is a commentator on agriculture and rural Kansas.

Seven more bills signed into law

The following seven bills have been signed into law by Kansas Gov. Sam Brownback.

- SB 76 creates a requirement for insurance groups of a certain size to conduct risk assessment reports.

- SB 108 allows the Kansas Real Estate Commission to raise the ceiling on license fees by $50.

- SB 252 amends the crime of unlawful abuse of toxic vapors to include "other halogenated hydrocarbons" within the definition.

April 7, 2015:

- SB 95 bans all forms of dismemberment abortion unless necessary to protect the life or health of the mother.

A series of public ceremonial signings of SB 95 will take place on April 28 with locations and details provided closer to that date.

By law, the Kansas governor has 10 calendar days to sign the bill into law, veto the bill or allow the bill to become law without his or her signature.

Insurance scams occur daily

By Ken Selzer, CPA
Commissioner of Insurance

A recent report from Randy Adair, our Anti-Fraud Division interim director at the Kansas Insurance Department (KID), caught my attention.

According to the report, a police department investigated a morning accident involving a person who supposedly had vehicle insurance. Our department discovered that the driver purchased a policy online at 2:08 p.m. — two hours after the police investigation.

Obviously, a policy that does not take effect until after an incident occurs is not going to have any payment made for the claim. But this is just one example of a problem that insurance companies, and those of us who regulate them, see all too often — scams occurring on a daily basis.

Here are some other current instances that illustrate fraud in other lines of insurance:

- An unscrupulous tax preparer says he/she collects the federal health law fines that may be due the government, or he/she can get the fine lowered if it is paid directly to that preparer.

- A person purporting to be a life insurance company representative calls a family to say that a recently deceased family member had a life insurance policy with the company but the policy had lapsed because the premiums weren't paid. However, the person says, if the payment for the policy was made immediately to the caller, the policy would be reinstated and the proceeds paid to the family.

- A group of people purposely staged car accidents where vehicles were deliberately crashed into cars filled with people who were in on the fraud. The "victims" were then treated for fictitious injuries at a medical clinic which collected medical payments on them. Unfortunately, some of the participants were actually injured or died.

These are just some of the recent fraud-related cases that came across our desks at the insurance department. If they are Kansas-related, we actively pursue cases such as these to determine potential prosecution. Other fraud trends we hear about come from our colleagues across the United States who, like us, are fighting insurance fraud on a daily basis.

So far in 2015, our Anti-Fraud Division has received more than 150 fraud referrals. In 2014, KID had a total of 861 cases, a record for the 11 years that the division has been in existence.

It's not that surprising that those numbers keep increasing. If fraud was a national business, it would be a Fortune 500 company. It is, by all accounts, the second largest economic crime in the U.S., conservatively estimated to take in $80-120 billion annually. Only tax evasion exceeds it as a criminal activity.

If our anti-fraud investigators determine that suspected fraud violates the insurance laws in our Kansas Statutes, then our investigators interview witnesses, take statements and collect and analyze evidence. Once they have concluded fraud did take place, they submit an affidavit to our in-house Special Assistant Attorney General to determine who prosecutes the case and what jurisdiction will hear the case.

Insurance fraud affects everybody because its costs are passed on to consumers and businesses through higher premiums. We encourage Kansans who suspect insurance fraud to contact us at 1-800-432-2484. You can also file a complaint on our website, www.ksinsurance.org

In Remembrance

"Today, April 8, 2015 the saddest day of my life, when my dear, sweet, beloved and loving mother, Margaret Grant Gardiner, passed away peacefully in Topeka, KS, age 85 years, 10 months, 14 days."

If I was not the luckiest of all men on earth to have such a mother, I don't know who would be. The only thing missing were the words others would soon use when writing to me - "Lovely, good-looking, charming and witty." Lucky? OMG! Sadly missed and wonderfully remembered.

Panthers, Wildcats have strong day at league track quad in Hoyt

Royal Valley and Holton saw a host of league opponents in a meet hosted by the Panthers on Tuesday and both teams stacked up pretty well as no team finished worse than third.

The Panthers finished runner-up on both the boys and girls side in their home meet, while the Holton boys took the team title in Hoyt and the HHS girls finished third.

Holton was led by four individual champions, including double first-place medalist Indie Allen (long jump and triple jump), along with Spencer Baum (200m dash), Will Wright (400m dash) and Riley Strader (3200m run). In addition, the boys swept first place in all the relays.

Fittingly, Royal Valley finished second behind the Wildcats on the strength of several individual runner-up finishes, while Patrick Broxterman led the way with a pair of first-place finishes in the high jump and 300m hurdles.

For the girls, both HHS and RV had two individual champions on Tuesday, with Kimmie Snapp (100m dash) and Ashley Cook (200m dash) both placing first for the Wildcats, while Panther Kate Hanson finished on top in both the shot put and javelin and Macy Putnam came in first in the 300m hurdles. The Wildcats also finished first in the 4x100m relay.

Both teams will return to action next Tuesday as Holton will compete at the ACCHS Invitational, while Royal Valley will host its April Invitational. Meanwhile, the HHS freshmen and sophomores will compete at a meet hosted by Jeff West this Thursday starting at 4 p.m.

Both teams might have gotten a sense of déjà vu in the second game, as the Panthers once again jumped out to an early 5-0 lead.
Pitcher Hannah Beam retired the side in order in the first two innings, before the offense came through in the second following three consecutive singles from Maggie Schuetz, Megan Keehn and Ali Bryan. Leslie Schuetz then drove two of those runs home with a two-out RBI double.
After the Chargers could muster only a stray hit and walk in the next two innings, the Panthers once again did work on offense with two outs following a double by Worrell and a single by Leslie Schuetz.
Following the second out, Parker came through with an RBI single before Burns followed with an RBI double to give Royal Valley that 5-0 lead.
That seemed to wake up the Chargers, though, as the visitors plated three runs in the following fifth inning. A lead-off walk and single gave way to back-to-back

JH track athletes finish on top in Oskaloosa

Jackson Heights topped a strong debut to the track season last week with an even better showing against several Northeast Kansas League foes at the Oskaloosa Invitational on Tuesday. The Cobras placed first and second as a team, respectively, in boys and girls competition.

While there were a handful of individual champions, including Kaitlynn Little (800m, 1600m run), Hanna Davault (3200m run) and Becca Gibson (shot put) for the girls, and Seth Holliday (800m run) and Wyatt Olberding (triple jump), along for the boys, along with the 4x400m relay team, it was numbers that worked in Heights' favor on Tuesday.

Several young athletes got key fourth, fifth and sixth-place points to help the boys claim a team title and the girls finish as runner-up. Now, Jackson Heights will look to keep building on that momentum as the team gets set to see some competition from larger schools once again at the RV Invitational next Tuesday starting at 4 p.m.

Panther softball drills Santa Fe Trail in home opener Tuesday

Offense was not lacking for the Royal Valley softball team once again on Tuesday, as the Panthers combined to score 17 runs in a pair of wins over visiting Santa Fe Trail.

Royal Valley got those runs on the board quickly, too, after pitcher Kaileigh Gray-Milligan struck out the side (despite scattering two hits) in the top half of the first inning.

Royal Valley then added an insurance run in the sixth inning thanks to an RBI single from Burns. While the Chargers tacked on one more run in the seventh, it wasn't enough to stop the Panthers from picking up a 6-4 victory and sweeping the series.

The Panthers (3-1) will open up league play with a road doubleheader against ACCHS on Thursday. Games will start at 4:30 p.m. in Effingham.

Players sought for American Legion team

Plans for Holton to have an American Legion baseball team this summer are currently up in the air.

After American Legion Post 44 struggled to find a coach to take charge of the program last summer, one individual came forward after the registration deadline and showed interest to help get the team going again this summer.

Due to a death in the family, American Legion vice-post commander John Chiles Sr. said it was not possible for that individual to take on those responsibilities. The Legion was aware of the complications and continued to search for a replacement, but its labors were fruitless.

Recently however, American Legion member Danny Curl stepped forward and offered to lead the American Legion baseball team, but Chiles noted the Legion is still trying to get young athletes involved.

"If we can get the participation, we'll play baseball," Chiles said.

Registration for American Legion baseball is still open until May 15, when posts will be assessed an additional $200 charge to sign up and last call for registration is June 1. Current operating costs are estimated at $4,000.

It's not too late for Holton to once again have an American Legion team, but the interest has to be there first. If you are interested in coaching or playing, contact Greg Moser of the American Legion at (785) 364-2446.

Panther boys drop two games to SFT

After getting off to a slow start in Tuesday's home doubleheader against Santa Fe Trail, the Royal Valley baseball team could never quite pick up the pace to keep up with the Chargers in a pair of losses, 6-2 and 15-4.

Santa Fe Trail wasted no time getting going on offense in the first game of the night, leading off the game with back-to-back singles before an RBI groundout and an error staked the visitors to an early 2-0 lead.

The Chargers then got two more runs on zero hits in the second inning, as a pair of walks along with two hit batsmen compounded the Panthers' woes in game one. An error allowed another run to score, one of eight the Panthers had in the game, and the Chargers got a steal of home to go up 4-0.

Both teams seemed to settle in after that, but error issues reared up again for Royal Valley in the fifth inning after Santa Fe Trail started things off with a single and double from the first two batters.

Two more errors then allowed those runners to score and Santa Fe Trail to take a 6-0 lead with two innings left.

Royal Valley finally broke through on offense in the sixth inning and started to rally after Derrick Barger came through with a lead-off single and Zack Lux was hit by a pitch in the next at-bat. After a double steal, Noah Hart came through with an RBI single to score both runners and bring the deficit back down to four runs, 6-2.

Santa Fe Trail then went down in order in the top of the seventh and while Hayden Fenske came through with a single in the bottom half of the inning, the Panthers couldn't generate any more offense after that and fell 6-2 to the Chargers to start the doubleheader.

While the Panthers wasted no time getting on the scoreboard in the second game, the team had issues keeping up with the Chargers on offense and Santa Fe Trail eventually pulled away for the win.

An error brought in a Santa Fe Trail run in the first inning, but Royal Valley answered with a lead-off single from Barger, who proceeded to steal second, advance to third on a fly ball and stole home to even up the score at 1-1.

Things got a little hairy in the second inning, though, as the Chargers followed a lead-off single with an RBI double and showed no signs of slowing down. After two walks, an RBI single and groundout brought in two more runs before errors allowed the last two runs of the inning to come across and put Trail ahead 7-1.

In the third inning, the teams once again traded runs as a wild pitch led to the Chargers' score while Lux singled and Garrett Schultz came through with an RBI groundout to keep the Panthers within six runs, 8-2.

Despite Royal Valley recording two quick outs in the fourth inning, Santa Fe Trail managed to tally an RBI double and single in the inning to go up 10-2 and the Panthers could still only answer with one run coming via Barger's RBI single in the bottom half of the inning despite singles from Nick Ehrhart and Tim Martin Jr. as well.

Three more runs from the Chargers in the sixth inning seemingly iced the game, but the Panthers responded to keep the game going with Fenske delivering a lead-off single and scoring on an error to keep the home team alive.

The Chargers added two more insurance runs, once again with two outs, in the seventh inning and the Panthers had no answer this time as SFT went on to win 15-4 and sweep the series.

Royal Valley (3-5) will try to rebound on the road as the team gets set to face ACCHS in its first league games of the season, which will start at 4:30 p.m. in Effingham on Thursday.

ACCHS Tigers fall to Oskaloosa

Atchison County baseball and softball opened the spring season in Oskaloosa last week against some tough teams, leaving the Tigers still searching for their first wins after the road doubleheaders.

On the baseball diamond, ACCHS had trouble generating offense in the first game against the Bears as the Tigers managed just one hit. Meanwhile, Oskaloosa wasted no time getting going.

The Bears plated all their runs in the first three innings to end the game by run-rule in a 15-0 victory.

Atchison County fared a little better in the second game, tallying one run after the Bears had jumped out to a 6-0 lead. Unfortunately for ACCHS, Oskaloosa answered with seven more runs in the fourth inning.

While the Tigers added another run in the fifth inning, it wasn't enough to keep the game going as the Bears ended up with another run-rule victory, 13-2, to earn the series sweep.

Despite the adversity the team faced, both Hunter Osterreich and Michael Moeck came through with multiple hits in the two games and those two accounted for both of the team's runs in the second game.

The Tigers will now get set to host the Panthers of Royal Valley for a Big Seven League doubleheader starting at 4:30 p.m. on Thursday.

As tough as it was for the baseball team, the Lady Tigers ran into a buzzsaw on the softball field in Oskaloosa as ACCHS was held hitless in the doubleheader against the Bears.

In fact, no Tiger reached base in the first game and Oskaloosa secured a 15-0 victory in the perfect game on the back of a nine-run second inning that helped the Bears end the game by run-rule in the third.

Then, Oskaloosa jumped out to a 5-0 lead in the second game of the series. While Atchison County got two runners on base this time, it still wasn't enough as the Bears plated eight runs in the fourth and got another run-rule victory, 13-0, after five innings.

Now, the Tigers will try to rebound as the team gets set for a home doubleheader against Royal Valley coming up on Thursday. Games will start at 4:30 p.m.

Hope springs eternal for MLB teams, fans

By Kelly Breckunitch
With the weather fluctuating between bright and balmy and overcast and rainy, it can only mean that spring is officially here and the change of the season brings with it a special holiday for baseball fans.

Monday was opening day, the official start of the Major League baseball season that stretches through the summer months and into the fall. Like the spring season it starts in, though, opening day is a time when hope springs eternal for certain fan bases.

For some, this season will be one of rebirth. For others, it will be about the long haul and seeing the fruits of their teams' labor at the end of the road.

In some cases, spring may be the only time of optimism for certain teams. I mean, someone has to come in last in the division. Let's not focus on that right now, though, and instead look at the bright side and what high hopes teams and their fan bases may be holding onto at the start of the season.

Starting close to home, Kansas City Royals fans have plenty of reason to be hopeful after a World Series appearance in 2014, but one postseason run does not a perennial contender make.

What KC fans may be hoping for in particular this season is for a pattern to emerge. Even if the Royals don't make it back to the postseason, finishing third in the division and a game or two out of the wild card race would back-up general manager Dayton Moore's methods.

After 28 years of non-postseason baseball, this may be the dawning of a new age and fans are hoping so. It may need a kick start after the Royals were idling for all those years, but the baby blue bandwagon could be up and running for good with a third straight winning season.

What about the Royals' division rivals? What could they be hoping for this season. Well, in Detroit the fans may be hoping that David Price performs as the Cy Young-type ace the team traded for a season ago.

With Max Scherzer, Rick Porcello, Dew Smyly and Doug Fister all departing from Detroit within the past two years, that leaves Price to fill a void and he'll have to do better than his 4-4 mark after the trade deadline last year to assuage Tiger fans' worries.

In Cleveland, Indians fans may just be hoping that all of the pieces are coming together to allow the team to challenge for the AL Central title in 2015.

With the mix of homegrown talent (i.e. Lonnie Chisenhall, Michael Brantley, Carlos Santana) and acquired pieces (Michael Bourn, David Murphy), including former A's slugger Brandon Moss this offseason, the outline of a contender seems to be forming.

Considering defending AL Cy Young winner Corey Kluber is on the pitching staff as well, Cleveland players and fans alike will at least be hoping for a wild card this season, if not more.

On the south side of Chicago, White Sox fans will be hoping that a youth movement can bring the team back to relevance after back-to-back disappointments.

With five starting position players under the age of 30 and no starting pitcher older than that, the White Sox could have a high ceiling in 2015 and fans will be hoping they come anywhere close to breaking through that ceiling this season.

Minnesota's attempts at rebuilding have been well documented, but the Twins are still a year or two away from that goal. Instead of setting lofty goals this season, Twins fans may settle on hoping for their team just to finish above last place, where Minnesota has ended up in three of the last four seasons.

Before that, Minnesota was claiming division titles in six of the previous nine seasons. With one of the top farm systems in Major League Baseball and top prospects Byron Buxton and Miguel Sano on the cusp of breaking through, it looks like the Twins are back on the upswing. If the team gets there with some respectability that may exceed fans' hopes this season and be a good sign moving forward.

Quickly, here's a look at what some other fan bases around Major League Baseball may be hoping for in 2015.

In the AL East, Baltimore Orioles fans will be hoping that the talented pitchers the team has stockpiled through the draft can help carry the team following the departure of big bats Nelson Cruz and Nick Markakis. Meanwhile, Boston Red Sox fans will be hoping their team can pull off the worst-to-first swing once again, which culminated in a World Series title the last time around in 2013.

Fans in Toronto will just be hoping that the Blue Jays will be able to close out a strong season after a brutal August derailed the team's postseason chances in 2014. Tampa Bay fans will likely be hoping flying under the radar may allow the Rays to catch some teams by surprise, while Yankees fans will just be hoping to get back to the playoffs after a long, two-year drought.

Out in the American League West, Angels fans might be hoping the best record in baseball amounts to something more than a first-round postseason exit, while Seattle fans will be hoping for some offense to back up a stellar pitching staff led by Felix Hernandez to challenge the defending division champs.

Oakland fans will be hoping Billy Beane can work his magic once again after dismantling what was supposed to be a World Series contender. At the bottom of the division, Texas fans will just be hoping the Rangers can stay healthy and stay in the division hunt, while Astros fans will be in the same boat as Twins fans and wishing for baby steps to keep the team moving in the right direction.

National League East teams will likely be looking up at the Washington Nationals, but the Washington fans will just be hoping that loading up the pitching staff like the team did in the offseason means the Nationals can make it to the NLCS.

Miami fans will be hoping the Marlins can give them a run for their money and that their prospects old and new continue to pan out (and stick around), while Mets fans will not be unlike the Texas fans and hoping for their young, ace pitchers in particular to remain healthy this season.

Braves and Phillies fans will be hoping that rebuilding efforts pay off, though fans in Philadelphia may just be hoping the effort leads to an influx of young talents, while fans in Atlanta will be hoping the rebuild leads to the same dominant run the Braves managed out of it the last time.

Fans in St. Louis don't need to hope for much, being spoiled by the Cardinals' success each year, though they may be looking for a strong rebound from All-Star catcher Yadier Molina who was limited by injuries last season.

Fans in Chicago, Cincinnati and Milwaukee will be hoping for just a chance to challenge the Cardinals this season, while Pirates fans will likely be looking for more like an MVP-caliber season from star Andrew McCutchen and a longer stay in the playoffs after earning wildcard berths the past two seasons.

In the NL West, San Francisco Giants fans will be hoping their pitching can carry the team this season after losing players like Pablo Sandoval in the offseason and Hunter Pence, at least early, to injury.

Dodgers fans, meanwhile, will be looking to blow past their division rival, while the fans of the Padres will be hoping the team's offseason moves generate some momentum and put them in the mix as a threat to win the division. Arizona and Colorado fans may just be hoping not to be left in the dust of those California teams.

There is a lot more for fans to hope for at the start of the season, as the possibilities for each team are nearly limitless after the unwrapping on opening day.

Holton's Weilert honored by FHSU

A Holton High School senior was among students from 14 counties recognized recently at the recent Student Recognition Program in Topeka for the scholarships they have been awarded so far by Fort Hays State University for the 2015-16 year, it was reported.

Taryn Weilert, who is scheduled to graduate from HHS in May, accepted a $1,200 Miller Black and Gold Academic Award and a $900 Academic Opportunity Award in chemistry. She also won the SRP drawing for a $400 Capital Area Chapter Alumni Scholarship.

Weilert, daughter of Brad and Cindi Weilert, Holton, plans to major in chemistry.

The annual Topeka Student Recognition Program serves students from Brown, Coffey, Geary, Jackson, Jefferson, Lyon, Marshall, Morris, Nemaha, Osage, Pottawatomie, Riley, Shawnee and Wabaunsee counties.

Scholarships awarded at the SRPs include the $2,000 FHSU Presidential Award, the $1,200 Miller Black and Gold Academic Award, the $800 Hays City Silver Academic Award, the $700 Fort Hays Bronze Academic Award and the $500 Copper Academic ic Award. All are awarded to incoming freshmen enrolling in college for the first time, but each is renewable provided students maintain the minimum required academic standing.

One-time awards recognized at the SRPs are the $1,000 FHSU Transfer Student Award and the $900 or $500 Academic Opportunity Awards, given to scholars by individual academic departments.

Each SRP also features three drawings — one for a $500 FHSU Book Scholarship, one for a $400 FHSU Student Recognition Program Scholarship and another for an iPad.

Mayetta Methodist

By Shirley Stauffer
Easter Sunday dawned with the Mayetta Christian Church family gathering at 8 a.m. for breakfast and fellowship. Following breakfast, church was held with a nice crowd in attendance.
During announcements, Karen said that her brother in California had died this past week. Sympathy to the family. Liz Smith said her mother had celebrated her birthday on Saturday.

Cody and Cory Smith were the bell ringers, and Levi Parrott was the acolyte. Karen Burns read scripture from John 13:1. The congregation sang "Happy Birthday" to Jonathan Wimer Sunday.

Hymns included "Because He Lives," "Up From The Grave He Arose" and "Christ The Lord Is Risen Today." Pastor Howard's sermon was entitled "Celebrate Our Lord, The Good News."

Robin Rowland will be having neck surgery this week. Please pray for her recovery.

The Miller family enjoyed a family Easter dinner with the Shockey family in Sabetha on Saturday, April 4.

Bud and Shirley Stauffer hosted their family for Easter dinner. Those in attendance were Kevin and Laura Stauffer, Kenley Stauffer, Bryce Carpenter, Ellie Stauffer, Laura Sable, David, Dante, Jeff, Melissa McDonald-Stauffer, Aidan, Brenna, Todd, Rose, Gary Stauffer, Tim Smith, Rachel Whitten and Finn. Lots of fun was had by all hiding and looking for Easter eggs.

The congregation missed those who could not be with them on Sunday.

Soldier Group Ministry

By Sue Wichman
The three churches of the Soldier Group Ministry celebrated a joyous Easter at the Soldier Methodist Church. Carol Pollock welcomed the congregants from Buck's Grove, Circleville and Soldier.

Sandy Hefty, pianist, played "The Hallelujah Chorus" for an inspiring prelude. Carol Pollock lighted the altar candles to begin the worship service.

Lay pastor Charlotte Milroy used the 20th chapter of John for both the children's message and her sermon. Easter is about more than candy, bunnies and eggs. It is about life.

"Just as God sent Jesus into the world, He sends you to show people that the same power that raised Jesus from the dead is alive in you." God has forgiven our sins and has given us peace and hope.

The hymns for Easter Sunday were "Christ The Lord Is Risen Today," "Christ Is Risen" and "Up From The Grave He Arose." Theresa Rieschick served as song leader with Sandy Hefty as accompanist.

The special was provided by Dawn Duryea and Sandy Hefty. They played a flute/piano duet, "Handel's Pastoral Symphony."

Wayne and LeRoy Rieschick received the offering before the service closed with "God Be With You Till We Meet Again."

Note: The Circleville United Methodist Church Administrative Board will meet at 9 a.m. on Sunday, April 12. The Sunday school class will not meet on that day.

Mission Statement: "We serve and enhance the lives of others with caring hands."

- SOUND
If you hear a hissing sound around your natural gas appliances or meter, this could be an indication of a natural gas leak.
- SIGHT
If you see blowing dirt, persistent bubbling in standing water or unexplained discoloration of vegetation, these may be signs of a natural gas leak.
If you see yellow instead of blue flames from your natural gas appliance burners, have them serviced by a licensed professional. A yellow flame is a warning sign natural gas isn't burning efficiently, which can increase the potential for carbon monoxide poisoning.
- SMELL
If you smell an odor like sulfur or rotten eggs in or around your home, this may be the warning sign of a natural gas leak.

- If you suspect a natural gas leak, leave your home immediately and use a telephone away from the area to call Kansas Gas Service at 1-888-482-4950 or dial 911. Do not use any electrical devices, such as a light switch or wireless phone, in the area.

FENCELINE: Small dilemma averted when Ellie Raye says she likes "Caillou"

By Jody G. Holthaus
Meadowlark Extension
District Agent

Livestock-Natural Resources

We are not exactly avid sports fans. As we were discussing the outcome of the WSU and KU game, little Ellie Raye (age 22 months) chimed in, "I'm KU."

We were shocked!

"Oh no, honey, we're KSU, K-State Wildcats," I said.

She quickly responds, "No, I'm KU."

The whole family got in on this, "Willie Wildcat, go K-State," "go purple," to which she adamantly insisted, "I'm KU."

This went on for 15 minutes, before we finally got her to say "EMAW." Crisis averted, but then we wondered who had been teaching this child?

The likely suspect was the daycare provider, who has been known to be of that persuasion. We checked it out the next day, and found that she wasn't saying "KU," but "Caillou" which is a child's TV show character. What a relief!

Calving season is continuing, but the warmer weather is certainly a relief. As you prepare to work cattle this spring for grass, or branding time or whatever you call it, remember to implant those nursing calves. You'll be putting on an extra 20 pounds!

The only reason you would not implant a nursing calf is 1) you know you will be keeping it for a replacement heifer, 2) it's a heifer calf under 45 days, and you might keep it as a replacement, or 3) you are selling to a "natural" market and you are receiving a premium of $5/cwt.

I recently learned from my MBA 2.0 program (Masters of Beef Advocacy) that if all implants and Ionophores were taken off the market, we would need an additional 1.5 million head of cattle to match the current levels. Implants and Ionophores help the cattle be more efficient.

I've heard the arguments of putting hormones in our food. A head of cabbage has about 10 times the amount of estrogen than a similar amount of beef.

Agricultural hormone use has been found safe by scientists all over the world. Residue levels of hormones in food have been demonstrated to be safe and well below any level that would have a known effect in humans, according to the Food and Drug Administration.

The Center for Veterinary Medicine has confirmed that one pound of farmed beef from cattle given a common hormone, estradiol, contains 15,000 times less estradiol than the estrogen produced daily by the average man and 9 million times less than that produced by a pregnant woman.

"Sustainable global food security is attainable if we have open minds on technology and focus on high productivity and efficiency. We cannot feed tomorrow's world with yesterday's technology," according to Aalt Dijkhuizen, Wageningen University and Research Centre, The Netherlands.

Let's not go down the road that egg production has gone down. The 2013 Food Forward Analysis examined the global egg industry, finding a startling example of what happens when innovation is prohibited. More than a decade of disease, social pressures and increasing regulations on safe, proven practices have dropped global hen productivity nearly an egg per hen per year after decades of increases.

On this current path, we'll need 12.6 billion birds (double what we have now) to meet egg demands in 2050.

Using innovations, not adding hens would save, 113 million tons of feed, 65 million acres of land and 74 billion gallons of water.

Throughout history, the world's biggest problems have been solved through innovation. It's celebrated in virtually every sector of our economy. Why is it questioned when it involved the production of our food? Enough.

Netawaka UMC

By Mary E. Edwards

Easter Sunday was a beautiful morning as a nice group gathered to worship and celebrate the risen Christ at Netawaka United Methodist Church. Doris Oxandale was greeter and offertory usher and helped Alyssa Mullins light the candles.

Marilyn Banaka gave the welcome and announcements. Next Sunday, Whiting's UMC pancake brunch is at the community building at 11:30 a.m.

In the call to worship, the congregation testified, "Christ is risen! He is risen, indeed!" The resurrection hymn was "Christ The Lord Is Risen Today!" Three pretty little girls, Alyssa and Abigail Mullins and Jordyn Banaka, went up for the children's time. Pastor Caren taught them the song "Alelu, Alelu, Alelu, Aleluia, Praise Ye The Lord!" Then everyone sang it together, just like Bible school.

The prayer hymn was "In The Garden." In the prayer of confession, the congregation asked God to roll away the stone of their hearts so they can receive His word of healing and hope. After the pastor's prayer, the Lord's Prayer was said.

The scripture lesson was Luke 24:1-32, the account of the women finding Jesus' tomb empty on Easter morning and of the two men walking to Emmaus with Jesus joining them, walking and talking with them, and they didn't know Him.

In her sermon, Pastor Caren talked about the text and how Jesus' close friends did not recognize Him. They asked Him to stay with them, as it was evening. When they sat for supper, Jesus took bread, gave thanks, broke the bread and began to give it to the others, whose eyes were opened then, and they knew Him. Then He disappeared from their sight.

It is said we are Easter people (or resurrection people) living in a Good Friday world. Jesus made a deep sacrifice when He died for our sins. "Peace be with you."

Immanuel Lutheran

By Esther L. Ideker

Maundy Thursday service was held at Immanuel Lutheran Church at 7 p.m. on Thursday, April 2. An ancient custom of the early Christian church considered the services beginning with Maundy Thursday and continuing through Holy Saturday to be one service, called the Triduum (Latin for "the three days"). There is no benediction at the end of the service.

The name Maundy Thursday comes from the Latin word, Mandatum, meaning "commandment," taken from Jesus' words to the disciples in John 13:34, "A new commandment I give to you, that you love one another."

As the King of Kings took the role of a servant and washed His disciples' feet, the King of Kings demonstrated just how new His commandment was. As He instituted the Lord's Supper, Jesus was giving a "foretaste of the feast to come."

We are reminded of the depth of Christ's servanthood as the altar is reverently stripped in preparation for the Church's observance of Jesus' death. Thus we begin the journey through the three days of Christ's Passover from death to life, from captivity to freedom.

Following the invocation, the congregation sang "Jesus I Will Ponder Now." The readings were from the Old Testament, Exodus chapter 24, the Epistle, 1 Corinthians chapter 10 and the Holy Gospel, John 18:28. The sermon hymn was "Go to Dark Gethsemane."

Pastor Jeffrey Geske described the Passover meal our Lord shared with His disciples at the beginning of His passion journey, stating "This is my body...this is my blood." He also did something very significant - in sharing a new commandment to be followed and He washed the disciples' feet demonstrating servanthood.

In the prayers of the church, help us to keep God's name holy here on earth, even as it is in heaven, that all pastors be diligent in preaching the Holy Word and people obedient to follow it, that together we may receive the crown of everlasting glory.

The God of mercy was asked to bring comfort to those who suffer illnesses or debilitating conditions, for those facing surgery or recovering and for those who have lost loved ones. The congregation joined in The Lord's Prayer. Elders Tex Manuel II and Mike Keehn assisted Pastor Geske with the distribution of Holy Communion.

Following Holy Communion, the elders assisted Pastor in stripping of the altar by beginning with the communion elements, the altar cross, missal stand, candles and altar cloths and paraments. At the end of the service, the congregation exited the church in silence.

On the Good Friday - Tenebrae service on April 3, the congregation recalled the last hours of the life of our Lord and King, Jesus Christ, as He was paraded through a court system, suffered under Pontius Pilate, and marched to Golgotha, carrying the cross to which he would be nailed, but also His purpose in doing all of this—our salvation.

The introduction was the procession to the cross, with the opening hymn "Stricken, Smitten And Afflicted." The Old Testament lesson was from Isaiah chapter 52 and the Epistle lesson from Hebrews chapter 4, read by Elder Tex Manuel II. The Holy Gospel was read by Pastor Jeffrey Geske from John 19:16-30. The sermon hymn was "Were You There." Pastor Geske's sermon was entitled "Jesus Died For Us."

The seven words of Jesus were read by Deanna McAllister and Mike Keehn. First word: "Father, forgive them for they know not what they do." Second word: "I tell you the truth, today you will be with me in paradise." Third word: "Jesus said to His mother 'Dear woman, here is your son,' and to the disciple, 'Here is your mother.'" Fourth word: "My God, My God, why have you forsaken Me?" Fifth word: "I am thirsty." Sixth word: "It is finished." Seventh word: "Father, into your hands, I commit my spirit."

Interspersed between readings verses of these hymns were sang: "Alas, And Did My Savior Bleed," "Glory Be To Jesus," "Go To Dark Gethsemane," "My Song Is Love Unknown," "In The Cross Of Christ I Glory," "Come To Calvary's Holy Mountain" and "O Sacred Head, Now Wounded." Following The Lord's Prayer, the only lighted candle was removed from the altar. The strepitus was heard and the candle-light returned. The congregation departed in silence.

The resurrection of our Lord worship on Easter Sunday, April 5, opened with the hymn "I Know That My Redeemer Lives." The Old Testament lesson from Isaiah chapter 25 and the Epistle lesson, 1 Corinthians chapter 15, were read by Elder Topher Dohl. The response was the hymn "There Is A Redeemer."

Pastor Jeffrey Geske read the Holy Gospel from Mark 16:1-8. The sermon hymn was "Because He Lives." Pastor Geske's sermon theme was "The Awesome Resurrection," with the Epistle lesson as the text.

What do the scriptures teach about Christ's resurrection? They teach that on the third day Christ victoriously rose from the grave and showed Himself alive to His disciples.

From First Corinthians, we read,

"He was raised on the third day according to the Scriptures, and...He appeared to Peter, and then to the Twelve. After that, He appeared to more than 500 of the brothers at the same time...Then He appeared to James, then to all the apostles, and last of all He appeared to me also, as to one abnormally born." (1 Corinthians 15:4-8.)

The resurrection of Jesus is the key to the Christian faith and the basis for the church's witness to the world. Everything we do as a Christian Church is to proclaim Christ and His forgiveness for our sin and His eternal life given only by Him.

In thanksgiving, we respond to God in worship praise and service, telling and proclaiming the good news of great joy that our Savior was born, that our Savior died, and that our Savior rose from the dead. Christ is risen! He is risen indeed! Alleluia!

During the gathering of the offering, Adam Amon played a solo on the soprano saxophone. The prayers of the church were led by Pastor Geske with the congregation joining in The Lord's Prayer.

Elders Mike Keehn and Tex Manuel II assisted Pastor Geske in the distribution of Holy Communion. The distributions hymns were "At the Lamb's High Feast," "He's Risen, He's Risen" and "The Lamb."

Following the post-communion collect and the blessing, the service closed with the hymn "Jesus Christ Is Risen Today."

Following the service, the children were invited to the park for an egg hunt. Adult Bible class was led by Pastor Geske. Earlier, the congregation enjoyed a continental breakfast and fellowship.

It was a blessing to have many extended family members in attendance at the Easter worship service.

Members of the congregation are invited to attend a wedding reception for Pastor Jeffrey and Tricia Geske from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday April 11, at Trinity Lutheran Church at McFarland.

Esther Ideker enjoyed a visit from her grandsons, J. P and Hank Ideker, students at St. Louis University in St. Louis, Mo., on Easter weekend. They attended the Passion play at Fairlawn Nazarene Church on Saturday evening, attended worship service at Immanuel on Easter and were guests of Jan and Les Brandt on Easter Sunday evening at their home near Holton. Others present were Justin and Belinda Brandt, Kellen, Kaden and Karsen.

Immanuel Ladies will meet 1:30 p.m. on April 10 at the church with Elizabeth Handke leading the devotions and topic. Lavon Keehn is hostess.

Potawatomie Methodist

By Ilene Dick
Easter Sunday, April 5, was a beautiful day with the sunshine, greening of the grass and early flowering shrubs and trees in full bloom. What a nice day to celebrate the resurrection of Christ.

Members and friends gathered at Potawatomie United Methodist Church in the fellowship hall for a 6:45 a.m. breakfast. Following, everyone moved to the sanctuary while "The Old Rugged Cross" was being played.

Pastor Howard welcomed the congregation and shared scripture, followed by prayer.

During announcements, Laura Schreiber thanked everyone for the cards, prayers, calls and funeral dinner served to Lester Arnold's family and friends. The church family was also thankful for all who donated food and helped with the dinner.

It was a joy to have Jeff and Tami Shenk and McKenzie of Silver Lake and Mrs. Christopher Pugh and children present for worship. The congregation was also surprised and happy to have Ann W. back to church following her surgery on Tuesday, March 31.

Acolytes were McKenzie Shenk and Joe Redlightning. Hymns were "Because He Lives," "Up From the Grave He Arose" and "Christ the Lord is Risen Today." Music was provided by Tina Pugh and Ilene Dick.

Martha Roush was liturgist, reading John 13:1. The Easter Day prayer was prayed in unison.

Judy Thoman gave the special, sharing interesting information about the writer of the words and music of one of the most-sung Easter hymns, "Christ the Lord is Risen Today."

Offertory ushers were Jim Meeks and Jim Shenk.

Pastor Howard's message was "Celebrate the Good News," with the text taken from John 20:1-18. The scripture tells of the empty tomb as Mary Magdalene discovered it. She ran to tell Simon Peter. Many of us are looking for Jesus, but, like Mary, we are looking to see Him as we've always known Him. What are we looking for?

God surprised Mary that morning. What changed Mary? Just one word when Jesus called her name. Mary wanted to reach out for Jesus and hold onto Him, but Jesus had other ideas. He told her He must go to His Father.

Jesus sent Mary and us with a message. We need to go and tell the Good News - Jesus is alive.

Following the service, the children enjoyed an Easter egg hunt.

Easter dinner guests of Judy and Donnie Thoman were Jessie Thoman, Wendy and Brian Dorris, Shayne and Brian, Kassy Swain and Kaden and Kassy's mother-in-law, Carol Swain from Wyoming.

Judy Thoman visited with Pam Daugherty on Saturday, April 4, at the Holton Community Hospital.

Marjean and Jim Shenk enjoyed having her sister visit them all day on Thursday, April 2.

Lily Hall reported enjoying the breakfast and Easter service at the church, and all agreed it was a nice time of fellowship and worship.

Betty and Cecil Bowser attended a family Easter dinner at Hoyt Baptist Church. Betty's sister and husband, Shirley and Mike Swartz, were hosts for the gathering.

Jim and LeAnna Meeks went to Salina on Saturday, April 4, to celebrate Easter with family, the children of Frank and Elsie Sigle.

Sara and Matt Worcester and Ginger, Lee and Anna Pugh spent Easter weekend with their parents, Warren and Tina Pugh. The family all attended Easter services at Potawatomie U.M.C. They shared Easter dinner with Earline Pugh.

Following Easter breakfast and worship service, Ronald and I visited our son in Topeka, then drove to Lawrence to meet Joy Uthoff and Loren Litterer for dinner at Montana Mike's, and enjoyed a good visit before returning home.

Holton First Baptist Church

By Shirley M. Cameron
We serve a Risen Savior! Easter Sunday, April 5, was a lovely day. "Is It True?" was the title of Pastor Tim O'Byrne's sermon at Holton First Baptist Church, taken from 1 Corinthians chapter 15:12-20. Easter is not about what we do for God, but what God did for us. It was our sins that killed Jesus.

Isaiah 53:6, "He was wounded for our transgressions; He was bruised for our iniquities; the chastisement of our peace was upon Him and with His stripes we are healed."

Other gods that people worship are dead and gone; however, our Lord died and arose on the third day just as He said. He was on the earth 40 days after that and appeared to many who could testify to the fact. He then ascended up to heaven and was seated on the right hand of God, where He makes intercession for us. He came to earth the first time as a babe in the manger, born of a virgin; His second coming He will come as

King of King and Lord of Lords! Alleluia!

The Bible is not stories told by men. They are actual historical accounts of those who He knew He arose from the dead. They spread the Good News that Jesus saves.

Approximately 65 came to the Easter sunrise service held at the home of Randy and Nona German. Pastor Tim and Pastor Rhett played their guitars while hymns and choruses were sang. Pastor Tim shared a devotional. Scripture passages were shared and the congregation is appreciative of the Germans to host the group.

The choir brought a message in song at the beginning of the worship hour.

Faith Academy Learning Center (FALC) is the mission of the month. It is a faith-based preschool for three-year-old and pre-kindergarten children. Enrollment for the next term will be on April 26.

The church will be feeding the workers and performers from the World Impact Tour two meals a day for four days. A sign-up sheet is in the foyer.

A sign-up sheet is in the Narthex for those who can pray at the evening events next week in an assigned prayer room during the events. The events will be held on Tuesday, April 14, at Jackson Heights; April 15 and April 16 at Royal Valley; and April 17 and April 18 at Holton High School. All begin at 7 p.m. Admission is free to all events.

The next men's encounter will be held from April 24-26.

Brielle Rice, Calista Hickman and Michelle Jones will be hosting a baby shower for Emilee Spalding at 2 p.m. on April 26.

“Coffee with Congresswoman” Jenkins scheduled here Friday

By Lynn Jenkins
U.S. House of Representatives
R-Kansas

Recently, I spent some time at The University of Kansas chatting with student leaders about my legislation to expand 529 college savings plans. We discussed how modernizing and improving 529 college savings plans — like making computers a qualified expense — are sensible ways to empower hardworking families and students to save for their college education. The Lawrence Journal-World newspaper reported about a current student using a 529 at KU. Ryan Ott: “I have a 529,” Ott said. “I probably wouldn’t be able to afford all the student loans to come to KU if I didn’t.” The Journal-World continued: “Especially with college costs rising, Jenkins said, her legislation aims to make 529 plans better and more attractive for middle class families to use.”

The students and I also discussed our efforts to combat sexual assault on college campuses, including legislation I cosponsored, the Campus Accountability and Safety Act.

Mental Health First Aid
Mental Health First Aid is a proven education program that helps the public identify, understand and respond to the signs of mental illness. Recently, I sent a letter along with Congresswoman Doris O. Matsui (D-Calif.) to the House Appropriations Committee in support of this program so that we can continue to expand the number of folks who have the necessary tools to respond to mental health crises and connect individuals with mental health resources and services.

I will continue to make mental health a priority as mental illness impacts the lives of millions of Americans and their families. Too many mental health disorders continue to go undiagnosed and untreated and we must make prudent investments to improve mental health awareness in our communities.

Upcoming Coffee with Your Congresswoman

This Friday, I will be hosting a “Coffee with your Congresswoman” event at 10 a.m. in the Holton City Hall commission room.

I hope you can drop by, have a cup of coffee and speak with me directly about the issues most important to them. Listening to Kansans is my top priority and I look forward to hearing your ideas and bringing them to Washington each and every week.

ABLE Act Passes Legislature

On April 1, the Kansas Legislature approved the establishment of ABLE accounts in Kansas. The bill now goes to the governor for his signature.

This will complete the work started in Congress last year on H.R. 647, which I co-sponsored and will allow individuals and families to save funds to support those with disabilities and help them maintain their health, independence and a better quality of life.

AG WEEK: Cattle future strong, hogs mixed

By Matt Hines

Cattle futures were strong on Thursday and to end the week, while hogs were mixed with mostly sideways to higher trade last week. Both live cattle and feeders reached up for new nearby highs and packers paid up another $2 to $3 compared to the previous week. Texas and Kansas reported sales at $167 live with one out of Colorado as high as $169. In the North, cash feedlot sales took place at $167 to $169 live as well and $265 to $266 on a dressed basis.

For the week, Friday to Friday, April live cattle were up $.40, June live cattle also were up $.40, April feeder cattle were up $1.10, August feeder cattle were down $.67 and April lean hogs were up $2.05. The CME feeder cattle index was up $4.45 and the lean hog index was down $.32. Boxed Beef, Choice was up $4.77, Select was up $4.84 and Pork Carcass Cutout was up $.40.

Cattle slaughter from Friday was estimated at 97,000 head, down 1,000 from a week ago and down 9,000 from a year ago. For the week, the total was 525,000 head, down 9,000 from the week previous and down 62,000 from a year ago. The year to date difference is now out to 7.3 percent less.

Hog slaughter from Friday was estimated at 411,000 head, down 11,000 from a week ago but up 41,000 from a year ago. For the week, the total was 2,199,000 head, down 71,000 from a week ago but up 185,000 compared to a year ago. The year-to-date difference is now up to 4.5 percent more.

Monday’s livestock trade was a mixed bag, with cattle futures opening sharply higher but finishing lower and hog futures opening lower but finishing steady to higher. April feeders reached up to some resistance levels back from January and immediately turned south, which may not bode well for a continued rally this week. Cash activity though to start the week was called steady to higher again.

Monday’s April 6 livestock futures settlements:

■ April live cattle were down $.57 at $162.45, June down $1.62 at $151.75.

■ April feeders were down $.57 at $219.80, August down $.80 at $217.75.

■ April lean hogs were up $.07 at $63.25, June up $.90 at $76.60.

Grains were mixed Thursday with corn slightly higher to end a mostly lower week after the USDA report on Tuesday. Soybeans finished mixed but higher for the week. Wheat found a strong rally as weather remains dry in the southern plains and winterkill is becoming more evident in areas of western Kansas.

Export sales last week were under expectations, with soybeans at 27,400 MT or just above 1 MBU, corn sales at 406,600 MT or 16 MBU and wheat sales at 162,100 MT or just shy of 6 MBU old crop and 131,000 MT or 4.8 MBU new crop. Year-to-date sales for soybeans are now at 1.78 BBU vs. 1.63 BBU last year and corn year to date at 1.47 BBU vs. 1.62 BBU at this time last year.

For the week, Friday to Friday, May corn was down $.04½, December was down $.04¼, May soybeans were up $.18¾, November was up $.25½, May KC wheat was up $.29¾, July was up $.28¾, May Chicago wheat was up $.28½, July was up $.23¾ and May soybean meal was up $.59/ton.

Exports shipments for the week ending April 2 were in line with expectations for wheat and soybeans and were above expectations for corn. Wheat exports totaled 13.6 MBU with 2.9 MBU to Mexico, one cargo to Egypt and the balance spread out to countries in southeast Asia.

Walmart plans topic at city commission

By Brian Sanders

The Holton City Commission on Monday granted Walmart the partial release of an easement needed to extend a water line to the new store the company plans to build at the intersection of U.S. Highway 75 and Banner Road.

Construction is set to begin sometime this spring on the new, larger store, set to replace an existing store located at 209 Arizona Ave. in Holton, it was reported. However, commissioners noted that a partial easement release was needed due to changes in construction plans that necessitated the extension of Banner Road to the site of the new store.

Holton City Manager Bret Bauer said plans for extension of city water and sewer services were originally mapped out near Taco Bell, where an access to U.S. 75 is located about 150 feet south of the access to Taco Bell from the highway. However, Kansas Department of Transportation officials said the existing access south of the restaurant posed a safety issue and recommended the extension of Banner Road.

New plans for the new store included an extension of Banner, making it necessary for Walmart to relinquish part of its responsibility for the waterline, Bauer said. The affected part of the waterline will be on the city’s right of way, not Walmart’s, and the city will take over responsibility for that part of the waterline, he added.

Furthermore, extension of water and sewer services to the store are being paid for by Walmart, which

Assistant City Manager Kerwin McKee said is footing the cost of that extension. McKee also noted that once construction is complete, the city will assume responsibility for the extended line between the point of extension and the store.

On a related note, Commissioner Twila White relayed concerns expressed by a Kansas Highway Patrol officer that once a traffic light is placed at the intersection of U.S. 75 and Banner Road, “there might be more accidents because of the congestion” at that intersection. KDOT officials have recommended the placement of the traffic light, along with left-turn signals directing traffic west onto Banner.

However, White said, the officer was “happy” that the speed limit between the city limits and the top of a hill just south of the city limits was reduced to 55 miles per hour in anticipation of the new store’s construction. Bauer added that the speed limit reduction is helping motorists to be aware of what they can expect at that intersection once the new Walmart is built.

In other business on Monday, Bauer told commissioners that it was not likely that Westar’s refunding of about $38 million in overcharges to its customers during 2014 would result in any financial savings for the city of Holton. That overcharge, it was reported, will likely result in a monthly cost reduction of $1.26 for Westar’s customers, but Bauer suggested it would likely affect only power customers who deal directly with Westar.

Bauer noted that the city no longer gets its electric power from Westar, which served as the city’s primary power provider through 2007. Instead, the city gets most of its power from a power pool overseen by the Kansas Municipal Energy Agency. The city also receives power allocations from the Western Area Power Administration and the Grand River Dam Authority, he added.

Commissioners also:

■ Approved the minutes from their March 16 meeting, as well as budget appropriations made since the meeting.

■ Approved a resolution adopting bond issuance procedures in accordance with federal government rules and regulations as suggested by the Gilmore and Bell law firm of Kansas City, Mo. Bauer reminded commissioners that the firm acted as the city’s bond counsel on three recent projects in the city, including the Homestead Affordable Housing senior housing project near Countryside Park, as well as bond issues involving Holton Community Hospital and Medicalodges Jackson County.

■ Approved a local waterskiing club’s request to open Prairie Lake on Saturday, Aug. 9 for a ski clinic for disabled children, pending the submission of a copy of the club’s liability insurance and naming the city as an additional insurer for the event. Bauer also noted that the water level at Prairie Lake is “close to full.”

■ Approved a proclamation of the observation of April as Fair Housing Month at the suggestion of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, in conjunction of the Civil Rights Act of 1968.

■ Approved an alcoholic beverage special event license for Your Place or Mine Catering, for a private event the restaurant is hosting on Friday.

■ Approved renewal of a retail liquor sales license for Jerome Retail Liquor.

■ Heard a comment from Commissioner Erich Campbell on the new fountain at Elkhorn Lake in Rafters Park. Campbell added that he had been asked if there were plans for a second fountain at the lake. Bauer replied that it was not on the city’s plans, since the fountain was made possible by private donation from Holton resident Jan Hodge, but added that a memorial plaque will be placed at the lake to note Hodge’s donation and her husband, Harold Hodge.

■ Noted that the annual spring clean-up would be held from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturday, May 2. Since the Jackson County Fairgrounds, the clean-up site of previous years, is no longer available, the event will be held at Countryside Park if no athletic events are going on at that time, Bauer said.

■ Met in executive session for 20 minutes to discuss non-elected personnel matters. No action resulted from discussions held during the closed session.

■ Adjourned the meeting at 7:45 p.m. All commissioners were present, including Campbell, White, Dan Brenner, Tim Morris and Mayor Robert Dieckmann.

Van Wagoner walks 60 miles for Kansas schools

By Ali Holcomb
Hoyt resident Lauren Van Wagoner recently participated in a 60-mile walk for Kansas schools with the organization Game On for Kansas Schools. Van Wagoner was one of more than a dozen education activists to walk 60 miles in three days from Merriam to Topeka to protest how the state currently funds public schools. The event concluded with a rally and press conference at the state capitol building on March 30. During the press conference, which was held inside the Statehouse, Van Wagoner shared her motivation for walking the 60 miles. "On June 27, 2013, my life was forever changed when my oldest daughter received a diagnosis of Autism Spectrum Disorder," Van Wagoner said. "It did not take long for my husband and me to realize how thin the resources were spread in our small rural school district. I fear that with recent cuts to educational spending, those too thin resources will be spread even thinner. I fear for children like my own." Van Wagoner and her husband, Colby, have lived in Hoyt for three years. They have three children, Liz (6), Presley (4) and Brody (nine months). As the walk progressed, Van Wagoner said she saw how grateful people were for what the walkers were doing. "I watched the little town of De Soto welcome us," she said. "I saw practically the entire town of Eudora turn out, complete with a police escort. As we arrived in Lawrence, we were greeted by a large mass of people chanting 'Fund our schools!' Each and every one of those stops helped me to realize that I was a part of something remarkable, something bigger than myself and my family. I know that what I did, and what the other walkers did, meant something to these towns." After the walk, Van Wagoner said she felt very liberated. "As we walked this weekend, I saw Kansans from all across the state, both in rural and urban areas discussing the challenges facing their schools. The similarities were endless," she said in her address. "In the future, the urban and rural areas of Kansas need to pull together to help solve the challenges facing our schools. I want to see the schools of Kansas fully funded. I want a Kansas where parental concerns are not just heard but acted upon. The children of Kansas deserve so much more than they are getting. They are our future, and they deserve it now." Van Wagoner said it will take a group of people, working together, to get more funding back into the classroom. "When I began this walk, people would ask me about my career. I would say that I'm just a mom. But after this walk, I have changed my job title. I'm a mom who walked 60 miles for Kansas kids. For those of you who say I am just one person, what can I do? Can I really make a difference? Yes, you can. It just takes one person to begin a movement. You can support your school district, contact your legislators and educate your neighbor. The time to act is now. Tomorrow may be too late. Game on."

Commission...

Commissioner Janet Zwonitzer asked if additional employees would be hired to serve the residents of Jackson County. Elsbury stated that they do not currently plan to hire more employees. Currently, the county allocates $64,000 in local tax funds to KANZA each year. If the organization had a larger facility, Elsbury said that allotment would need to be increased. He did not have specific figures available during the meeting.
