Vets Day dinner to feature retired U.S. army colonel

By Brian Sanders

This year's Veterans Day dinner will feature a veteran of the Iraq War who believes that American forces won in both the Korean and Vietnam wars, it was reported.

Roger T. Aeschliman, a retired U.S. Army colonel with 32 years of service in uniform, will be the guest speaker at the dinner, scheduled for 6 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 11 at the Northeast Kansas Heritage Complex south of Holton. There is no charge for the dinner, which is open to all area veterans and their families, and others.

Aeschliman, who served primarily as an armor officer in the Kansas Army National Guard, has extensive command experience, having volunteered for two combat deployments and was awarded the Bronze Star for his tour of duty in Iraq and the Defense Meritorious Service Medal for his tour in Kosovo.

In addition to his military service, Aeschliman is also an author who has published a memoir of his service in Iraq, "Victory Denied: Everything You Know About Iraq Is Wrong." He has also done extensive research on military history, including the Korean and Vietnam wars.

His presentation at the Veterans Day dinner will focus on that research, performed during his time at Command And General Staff College, exploring the concept of victory. That presentation has been accepted for publication in the Armor and Cavalry Journal, it was reported.

Today, Aeschliman is a vice president and trust officer at CoreFirst Bank and Trust in Topeka. Prior to that, it was reported that he served as a Kansas government executive in customer-focused programs, including unemployment insurance and workers' compensation.

Aeschliman and wife Robyn are community leaders, working with such groups as the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, Rotary, Junior League, First Baptist Church and many other education and military organizations.

The Veterans Day dinner will open with a color guard presentation from Holton Boy Scout Troop 64 and a "table for one" memorial presentation. The dinner will feature a main course provided by Holton's VFW Memorial Post 1367; those attending are asked to bring their favorite side dish to share. The Fairlawn Swing Band will perform following Aeschliman's presentation.

There will also be a Veterans Day Parade on Holton's Town Square at 1 p.m. Friday, Nov. 9. To sign up a group for the parade, call John Chiles at 364-2824 or Mike Hare at (785) 806-9524 for more information.

Drug take-back day set for Saturday

Law enforcement officers at locations across the state will be collecting unused medications for safe disposal on Saturday, Oct. 27, Kansas Attorney General Derek Schmidt said Monday.

Medications will be accepted at drop-off sites across the state, including the Jackson County Sheriff's Office in Holton, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturday, it was reported.

The collection events are part of a nationwide effort to safely dispose of leftover medications to prevent accidental or intentional misuse. Since the Drug Take-Back Day program began in 2010, nearly 75 tons of unwanted medications have been collected and destroyed in Kansas alone.

"Unused medications are dangerous for kids, pets and the environment," Schmidt said. "Diversion of opioid painkillers, in particular, can contribute to the misuse of these drugs that has become a serious nationwide problem. Getting leftover medicines out of the medicine cabinets and safely destroyed keeps them from falling into the wrong hands and makes our communities safer."

The National Drug Take-Back Day is coordinated by the federal Drug Enforcement Administration, which collects and safely destroys the medications.

Perez-Marquez arrested in Nebraska

By Brian Sanders

A Nebraska woman charged in connection with the deaths of three members of a Sabetha family in a November 2017 accident north of Netawaka is facing extradition to Jackson County after failing to appear at a court hearing here earlier this month.

Jackson County Sheriff Tim Morse said Maria D. Perez-Marquez, 49, of Omaha, Neb., was arrested in Nebraska by U.S. Marshals on Tuesday morning and taken to the Douglas County Jail in Omaha to await an extradition hearing.

Perez-Marquez has been charged with three felony counts of involuntary manslaughter, two felony counts of aggravated battery and one misdemeanor count of reckless driving in the Nov. 25, 2017 traffic accident that resulted in the deaths of Carmen Ukele, her daughter, Marlee Ukele, and her brother-in-law, Stephen Ukele, all of Sabetha.

After Perez-Marquez did not show up for an Oct. 11 preliminary status hearing in Jackson County District Court, a felony failure-to-appear warrant was issued. Details of her whereabouts between the time of the hearing and her arrest on Tuesday morning were not immediately released.

In the accident, Perez-Marquez was driving a 2008 Chevrolet Equinox SUV south on U.S. 75 at about 8:05 p.m. on Nov. 25, 2017, when she reportedly attempted to pass another vehicle about a mile north of the junction of U.S. 75 and Kansas Highway 9 near Netawaka.

Schmidt, Swain seek attorney general post

Derek Schmidt

Current Kansas Attorney General Derek Schmidt, 50, of Independence is seeking his third, four-year term in office during the Nov. 6 general election. Democrat Sarah Swain of Lawrence is also running for the position.

The attorney general is responsible for providing legal services to the state government.

Schmidt was first elected attorney general in 2010 and was re-elected in 2014.

He graduated from The University of Kansas William Allen White School of Journalism and Mass Communication, The University of Leicester in the United Kingdom and The Georgetown University Law Center.

Schmidt was elected to the Kansas Senate in 2000 where he served for 10 years.

As attorney general, Schmidt said he's helped recover a record-setting $800 million for Kansas consumers and taxpayers.

He said he's also helped lead the Kansas fight against human trafficking.

"Since 2011, Kansas has improved from a 'F' to an 'A' in combating human trafficking, according to a respected international organization," Schmidt said.

Sarah Swain

Lawrence attorney Sarah Swain (Dem.), 42, is challenging incumbent Derek Schmidt for the attorney general's seat in the upcoming general election.

Swain graduated from The University of Kansas School of Law and studied political science at Baker University.

"As a criminal defense attorney for nearly 17 years, I have seen firsthand how justice has not been applied equally to the many citizens in Kansas," Swain said. "I, like so many in Kansas, have grown tired of the status quo where Kansans are not part of the process and are also left behind to the whims of the political machinations of elected officials who do not put Kansas citizens first."

Swain said that part of her campaign platform includes enforcing the Kansas constitution.

"Kansas needs an attorney general who advocates for greater inclusion in civil rights laws," Swain said. "I will ensure that agencies of the government enforce the Kansas constitution equally and prosecute vigorously any discriminatory or biased actions by any government agency or agent, will ensure that agency regulations are followed and applied legally and without bias, that education and health care are available to all and that

Three health insurance options available

Kansas consumers will have their choice of up to three health insurance companies, depending on where they live, when open enrollment begins Nov. 1, according to the Kansas Insurance Department.

Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Kansas, Medica Insurance Company and Ambetter from Sunflower Health Plan will offer plans in 2019.

The three companies signed agreements with the federal government to offer 23 total individual marketplace plans online through www.healthcare.gov. Also, all three companies will offer plans outside of the online marketplace as well.

The Blue Cross and Blue

Shield of Kansas plans are available in all Kansas counties except Johnson and Wyandotte. Medica will have plans available in all counties, and the Ambetter from Sunflower Health Plan coverage is available in Johnson, Wyandotte, Miami and Leavenworth counties.

The federal government has indicated that consumers will be able to "window shop" for all plans on the federal website prior to Nov. 1, 2018, the official date for 2019 open enrollment to begin.

"During open enrollment, Kansans need to evaluate whether to enroll in coverage, stay on their current policies, if available, or enroll in different policies," said

Ken Selzer, CPA, Kansas Commissioner of Insurance.

Commissioner Selzer said it is also important for consumers to understand the network requirements of the various plans and to check that all of their providers of medical services are in the plan's network.

In addition, consumers should be aware that the types of policies companies sell may change from year to year.

Open enrollment for the 2019 plan year ends Dec. 15, 2018. The open enrollment period is for coverage purchased on the healthcare.gov platform, as well as for policies purchased offline.

Kansans have likely heard about short term limited duration policies and Association Health Plans (AHPs). These types of plans offer other options for Kansans who are seeking health insurance coverage, according to the commissioner.

"We know that consumers will have questions about open enrollment," Selzer said. "We will assist callers through our consumer assistance division by answering questions they have or by referring them to the proper agencies for help."

The department's consumer assistance hotline is 800-432-2484. Questions can also be answered through the department's online chat feature at www.ksinsurance.org.

Halloween Party slated at Netawaka Fitness

The Netawaka Family & Fitness Center is hosting its annual Halloween Party from 5:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. tonight, Oct. 24, it has been reported.

The event is free and open to the public. Besides a costume contest, the event will feature a decorated pumpkin contest, a free swim night, a bounce house for the kids and a chili feed.

"We have a number of members-only events for our 700-plus members," said Scott Steffes, director. "But we open this Halloween party to the public because it offers a nice opportunity for children in the area to have a fun, safe, celebration. Our facility is fast becoming the community gathering place. This event allows us to show we're proud of that role. It also allows potential members to see what we offer here."

Steffes notes that there has been an increase in visits to the center since the new "Dollar A Day" special membership offer was recently announced. That offer is good between now and Thanksgiving.

"This Halloween party will give people a chance to see the inside of this 30,000 square-foot non-profit facility, which includes an 8,000 square-foot heated pool, full-size basketball court, top-of-the-line fitness equipment, indoor walking lanes and more," he said. "Visitors in the past couple of weeks have been pretty amazed at what they can enjoy regularly as a member at our 'Dollar A Day' fee. We're drawing new members from more than 40 miles and growing fast."

That includes Joe and Janet Summers of Fairview.

"This center gives us some place to go and something to do," Janet Summers said. "It's well worth the drive. We've made a lot of new friends here."

The membership records show a particular rise in the number of retirees. Martha Coder of Effingham is one of them.

"We love the interaction with other members, including playing cards," Coder said. "For my husband and me, this place has added a lot to our lives."

October is Fire Prevention Month

Today's home fires burn faster than ever, experts say. In a typical home fire, you may have as little as one or two minutes to escape safely from the time the smoke alarm sounds. Knowing how to use that time wisely takes planning and practice.

October is Fire Prevention Month. The Office of the State Fire Marshal (OSFM) and Safe Kids Kansas have teamed up with the National Fire Protection Association (NFPA) to promote this year's Fire Prevention Month campaign. "Look. Listen. Learn. Be aware. Fire can happen anywhere," which works to educate the public about basic but essential ways to quickly and safely escape a home fire.

In Kansas, 100 percent of civilian fire deaths in 2017 occurred in residential structure fires, and there were 2,589 residential fires in Kansas in 2017, resulting in 18 deaths and 214 injuries.

NFPA statistics show that the number of U.S. home fires has been steadily declining over the past few decades. However, the death rate per 1,000 home fires that are reported to fire departments was 10 percent higher in 2016 than in 1980.

While people feel safest in their home, it is also the place people are at greatest risk to fire, with four out of five U.S. fire deaths occurring at home. That over-confidence contributes to a complacency toward home escape planning and practice.

"We know that people often make choices in fire situations that jeopardize their safety or even cost them their lives," Doug Jorgensen, state fire marshal, said. "We need to do a better job of teaching people about the potentially life-saving difference escape planning and practice can make and motivating them to action."

Safe Kids Kansas reminds families to plan, talk about and practice your fire plan with all your family members, especially young children, so they know what to do when they hear a smoke alarm.

"Teach children to get low and get out when they hear the smoke alarm," Cherie Sage, Safe Kids Kansas, said. "A child who has practiced getting out of the home and to a safe meeting spot will have a better chance of getting out of danger safely during a real emergency, so practice your escape plan regularly as a family."

Jorgensen says this year's "Look. Listen. Learn." campaign highlights three steps people can take to help quickly and safely escape a fire.

* Look for places fire could start.
 * Listen for the sound of the smoke alarm.

* Learn two ways out of every room.

While OSFM, Safe Kids Kansas and NFPA are focusing on home fires, these fire safety messages apply to virtually anywhere.

Time for comprehensive land use planning is before you need the plan

Neighboring Shawnee County officials recently approved a new land use plan for the county.

That's something that Jackson County officials should be considering, too.

The Shawnee County Commission voted 2-1 recently to approve that county's first-ever comprehensive land use plan.

Commissioners Kevin Cook and Shelly Buhler voted in favor of the nearly 200-page plan, which will help guide decision-making about the physical development of the county's unincorporated areas for the next 20 years or so while serving as a blueprint for future growth and the preservation of agricultural land.

Commissioner Cook described the plan as being a "compromise" between various interests. Commissioner Bob Archer disagreed, saying the plan had little or no public support and he didn't trust much of the data it contained.

Archer added that he was concerned about the process the vote put in place for amending the plan because planning director Barry Beagle, the Shawnee County Planning Commission and the county commission are, in his view, "on different tracks" in terms of what they think is important for the county from a planning perspective.

The plan seeks to guide orderly growth, balance environmental values and steer future economic and residential developments reasonable to areas of the county where utilities can most easily, and inexpensively, be extended.

Assistant county counselor Joni Thadani told commissioners that approval of the new land use plan would not have any immediate fiscal impact, but the county may have to spend money in the future to put some of its components in place.

Commissioners made various amendments to the plan earlier on Sept. 10. Some came in response to concerns it would discourage residential development in some rural areas.

We reported on a similar comprehensive land use planning process for Miami County, located south of Kansas City, Kan.'s Johnson County, in 1996-97 when we owned two newspapers in that county, The Louisburg Herald and The Osawatimie Graphic.

The problem that was occurring in Miami County at that time was that the "urban sprawl" - people seeking to move out of the city limits to rural areas - had then extended into Miami County.

Very expensive homes were being built in the Miami County countryside - good news for the county - but as soon as the very expensive homes were built the owners expected the county to build new, paved roads to take the place of the gravel ones.

As the urban sprawl continued, the utility service providers in Miami County were increasingly unable to meet new demands.

Miami County wanted the growth but needed it to occur in a more orderly fashion, in selected areas where utilities could easily be extended so as not to out-stretch county-provided services such as fire and police protection, too.

The lesson, I think, from what Shawnee County is doing now and from what Miami County was doing more than 20 years ago, is that counties (and cities) must plan for future residential and industrial growth.

Where should the next residential subdivisions be located in the counties and cities, for example?

Where should the next industrial parks be located in the counties and cities?

When and where should Holton, for example, annex the next properties into the city limits?

This is what comprehensive land use planning is all about. In my view, Jackson County could use an up-to-date plan.

The thing about aging: It's no cakewalk

By Glenn Mollette

In recent years, I've watched good friends walk the valley of battling cancer.

Somewhat slowly, they went through the process of fighting for their lives. Finally, one day it was over and they died.

I sat with one dear friend in his home months before he died and he asked, "Why me?"

He was about 63 and had just started thinking about retirement and then his life was over.

I was talking to a classmate from high school who was telling me about his elevated PSA while his significant other had just been diagnosed with cancer.

She had just decided to go with a double mastectomy. We were sharing our troubles and we both agreed that we are aging.

The alternative to dying is aging. If we are to live, there is only one way to go and that is adding additional years. While many of us still feel and want to act like we are 21, we aren't.

We all know people who died at young ages from disease or an accident or were killed in war. Some of us have been fortunate to live awhile and most of us are very grateful for every day of life.

We shrug our shoulders sometimes and say we're 40, then 50, then 60, 70 and so forth. It's hard to believe that we have achieved our particular age.

The flipside to this increasing number are life's problems that accompany aging.

We don't see as well. We don't hear as good. We don't stand as straight. Our knees and hips hurt. Our hair turns color or falls out.

We start having other internal problems related to heart, liver, kidneys, thyroid, lungs and the list goes on. Aging means more trips to the doctor and other medical specialists. The trade off to dying young is frequent body checkups and tune-ups. They aren't fun at all and are sometimes financially prohibitive for many.

I'm not for socialized medicine but I'm for everyone having access to healthcare. If it takes socialized medicine to ensure this, then I'll vote for it to happen.

I'm totally against the powers that be at an insurance corporate office deciding that I can't have a surgery if my doctor says it's imperative for my health and even life.

I am opposed to someone at a government Medicare office saying that Medicare won't pay for a heart surgery; a chemo treatment, dialysis or whatever is needed for anyone's health and life.

I am opposed to killing babies on the front end of life and I'm opposed to killing old people at the back end of life.

Life should be given every opportunity.

We are fortunate if we get to live awhile. The longer we live we will deal with blood pressure, cholesterol, blood sugar, polyps, nodules and so forth.

Finally, something takes us out and this good life we enjoyed is over.

Thus, while we are alive we do all we can do to live wisely and to do our best.

We trust that our doctor will do all that he can do and we look to God in faith that beyond this life is a much, much better place where our dear friends and family await our entrance to where they have gone on before.

Texas cattle were driven to territory as early as 1857

By Tom Isern

No longer is a doubt entertained in regard to the character of the disease, announced a correspondent of The Emporia News.

The Spanish fever - later more commonly known as Texas fever - was rampant in the herds of Kansas Territory.

Hundreds of cattle were dead. Causes of the disease were uncertain, except that it appeared wherever Texas cattle were driven, affecting the livestock of settlers with whom they came into contact.

There was much correspondence about the Spanish fever, The Emporia News being the chief forum.

What strikes me about it is the date - 1860, before statehood, seven years before the first celebrated herds were shipped from the cattle town of Abilene.

Contrary to common knowledge, the driving of Texas cattle into the territory dated from at least 1857.

What started me thinking about this was reading in a remarkable new book by James E. Sherow, of Kansas State University - The Chisholm Trail: Joseph McCoy's Great Gamble - published by University of Oklahoma Press.

In a later column I will write more about Jim's book, but I can tell you this now: we thought we knew all about the Chisholm Trail when I read Wayne Gard's classic work about it a half-century ago, but we didn't know the half of it.

It was Jim's discussion of Spanish fever that set me reading the territorial newspapers and learning about the problem from grassroots accounts, on the ground.

One writer described a swath of cattle deaths - in an extent of country 50 miles long, north and south, and three miles in width - tracking across the Neosho and Verdigris rivers and Eagle, Cottonwood and Dow Creeks.

The indication is that already in 1860 there was an established trail for Texas cattle.

From the ground, people described the symptoms of Spanish fever. Milk cows went dry, lost appetite, became feverish, and exhibited - a disposition to be solitary. - The animals commenced to "dropp" often dragging heels.

They developed sore tongue and throat and sometimes hollow horn. Nearly all infected cattle died.

Inquisitive settlers opened dead beasts to conduct post-mortem examinations and discovered various organ failures, as well as brain deterioration - which explained why some diseased beasts became aggressive and had to be dispatched.

Later research revealed that the bacterial disease was carried by ticks. Texas cattle were relatively immune to it, but carried it.

Ticks from such beasts sloughed off in the Kansas brush and then affixed themselves to Kansas cattle.

Territorial folks thought the disease was spread via water holes or by cattle with sores on their legs infecting the tall grass.

The immediate response of distressed stockmen was resort to folk cures, mainly purgative. They compelled their cows to take solutions of powdered rhubarb, saltpetre, bicarbonate of soda, calomel, camphor gun, and exotic croton oil. Some fed them bacon fat; others bathed hooves in tobacco solutions. All in vain.

Local farmers, such as those at Elmdarado, called protest meetings to demand exclusion of Texas cattle, but some protested the protest, as they wanted to buy cheap Texas beeves and finish them on corn. What soon curtailed the drives from Texas, however, was the outbreak of Civil War.

And that created a whole new dynamic as to the reception of Texas cattle. These were Confederate cattle driven by Confederate handlers, all suspect.

No wonder that from Abilene on, Kansans drove the diseased, disreputable cattle trade steadily west onto the plains.

LETTER

Dear editor,

A piece of political mail, making the rounds recently, emphasizes "faith and freedom." Whose freedom? Faith in what? Some candidates claim Christianity among their credentials. Some years back, a popular phrase spoken among Christians was the question "What would Jesus do?"

Appearing on bumper stickers and pieces of jewelry, the question suggested that being a Christian required a person to make decisions each day based on the teaching and example of Jesus.

Such faith might then naturally translate to decisions made for the benefit of all, just as Jesus turned from the wealthy and powerful, reaching out to the little children, the weak and the lame.

Maybe today Jesus would encourage decisions that bring freedom to live in peace with all of our neighbors, freedom for all children to have equal access to good education, freedom for all ages to obtain affordable health-care and freedom to respect and be respected.

Circleville Christian

By Jeannie Arnold

Rena Askren served as greeter at the door for the cowboy/traditional service at Circleville Christian Church on Oct. 21.

Brody Bliss gave the welcome and announcements and the opening prayer. Music was provided by the praise team of Max Lierz, David Allen, Johnny Lynch, Sandra Hurt, Paul and Sue Davault and Kay Hallauer. Brody Bliss gave the prayer for concerns and praises.

Ron Parrett used text from Luke 22:24-25 as he gave the communion meditation. Communion servers were Donald Askren, Mike Cochren, Jeremy Kennedy and John Ray.

The prayer for the offering was given by David Allen. Kay Hallauer provided the beautiful piano music as communion was served and the offering received.

Brody Bliss used text from Revelation 20:10-15 as he gave the morning sermon titled "Death: The Inevitable Starting Point." His message was "A description of Hell" according to the Bible.

Hell is a burning lake of sulfur and brimstone, where there is torment and utter darkness as eternal punishment. The choices that we make now have eternal consequences for our eternal destination.

The fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge. The godly and the un-godly will all be judged. Hell is just as real as Heaven. Are you living a life that is worthy of the cross?

The service closed by singing "I'll Fly Away."

Panthers to host Eagles Thursday

The Royal Valley Panthers (2-6 overall) will host the Wells-ville Eagles (3-5 overall) tomorrow night (Thursday) at 7 in what will be the season finale for both teams.

Under the state's new scheduling formula for Class 3A that established six-team districts, the top four teams in each district qualify for bi-district play while the final two from each district are paired with the final two of another district, giving the teams not advancing the opportunity to end their seasons with a victory.

The Panthers (from District 4) lost to undefeated Big Seven League and district champion Sabetha last Friday, 48-0. With the win, the Bluejays improved to 8-0.

The Bluejays had three first-quarter scores — a 56-yard TD run by Spellmeier, a 30-yard TD run by Gruber and a 32-yard TD pass from Gruber to Stapleton.

Sabetha then added two more touchdowns in the second quarter on a 53-yard TD run by Gruber and a 55-yard TD pass from Garber to Gruber.

In the third quarter, Sabetha tacked on two more touchdowns on a five-yard TD run by Spellmeier and a two-yard TD run by Gugelman.

Wellsville, from the Pioneer League, lost to Topeka-Hayden last Friday (36-0). Earlier this season, the Eagles beat Anderson County (50-16), beat Iola (35-16), lost to Burlington (34-12), lost to Perry-Lecompton (52-18), beat KC Bishop Ward (62-6), lost to Santa Fe Trail (22-8) and lost to Jeff West (41-6).

HMS 8th grade football goes 7-0

The Holton Middle School eighth grade football team took first place in the Big Seven League, going undefeated (7-0).

The other league schools placed as follows — 2 Sabetha (6-1), 3 Nemaha Central (4-2), 4 Jeff West (4-3), 5 Perry-Lecompton (3-4), 6 Hiawatha (2-5), 7 Royal Valley (1-6) and 8 Riverside (0-6).

Holton beat Hiawatha (46-14), Jeff West (42-0), Nemaha Central (46-8), Perry-Lecompton (58-0), Riverside (52-0), Royal Valley (38-0) and Sabetha (36-8).

The HMS seventh grade team went 3-3 (playing seventh graders versus the rest of the league with B team rosters, it was reported) beating Royal Valley (44-0), losing to Sabetha (20-14), losing to Wamego (18-0), beating Tonganoxie (14-8), beating Topeka-Seaman (28-8) and losing to Topeka Saints (28-8).

HMS volleyball results given

The Holton Middle School eighth grade volleyball team finished the season in third place in the Big Seven League with a 5-2 record, it was reported.

Overall, the team was 11-5 and placed fourth at the league tourney.

"This was a really fun team to coach this year," said head coach Stacy Lasswell. "They made huge strides in their development both individually and as a team. We played everyone tight to the third set in league play and just fell short in our league tourney at the end of the day."

Coach Lasswell said the team has a lot of potential.

"I am really excited for this group as they are just beginning to recognize their potential," she said. "I have no doubt they will be a formidable team in high school."

In pool play at the league tourney, Holton beat Jeff West (25-12, 25-16), beat Perry-Lecompton (25-14, 25-20) and beat Sabetha (23-25, 25-17, 15-7).

In the semi-finals, Royal Valley beat Holton (20-25, 25-19, 15-12) and then in the third place game Sabetha beat Holton (25-21, 29-27).

Meanwhile, the HMS seventh grade volleyball team finished the season with an overall record of 13-5, taking third at the Holton Invitational and first at the Big Seven League Tournament.

"I am so proud of this group of girls," said head coach Christi Boswell. "They all improved tremendously over the course of our short season, and they finished the season as league tournament champions by playing some of their best volleyball yet. They set a team goal at the beginning of the season to be league champs, and they were able to accomplish that goal through teamwork, unselfishness, competitive attitudes and enthusiasm."

Wildcat golfers finish on high note

By Brian Sanders

Last Tuesday's KSHSAA Class 4A state girls golf tournament marked the end of four Holton High School seniors' high school golf careers, but Coach Dennis Tegethoff said he was proud to see them finishing on a high note.

"Those seniors had a very special year together," coach Tegethoff said of Sarah Holaday, Faith Holaday, Taylor Stevens and Abbigail Hundley. "They had a lot of success, but more importantly, they were great teammates. I heard from many coaches at the state tourney how lucky I was to have such a close-knit, fun group. But I already knew that."

Tegethoff said the seventh-place team finish at the state tournament, held at Hutchinson's Carey Park, made him proud, as the Holadays, Hundley and Stevens have done repeatedly over their high school careers.

"No doubt those girls hold a special place in my heart," he said. "We've spent a lot of time together the last three years. And their progress has been wonderful."

But none have been as special as this year, when the senior team took first place at four tournaments — two Jefferson West-hosted meets at the Village Greens and tournaments at Silver Lake and Paola.

Also, Sarah Holaday took first place in three meets (Silver Lake, Village Greens and Wamego) and shared top honors with cousin Faith at the season-opening two-person scramble at the Village Greens.

Tegethoff said he was "very proud" to see two of his team members, Stevens and Sarah Holaday, medaling at the state tournament to finish their careers. Stevens shot 91 and finished 17th, while Holaday's 93-stroke finish was good for 19th place.

"We shot a 390, which is not too far off our best of the year," he added. "We finished seventh, but we were only four shots out of the top four. So I'm extremely happy with those scores."

Tegethoff also noted that he was proud of the way the four seniors performed in terms of the size of the varsity team.

"It's hard to explain how well they did as a team the last two years. They had four golfers, so all four scores had to count in every tournament for two years," he said. "Other teams had six golfers and used the best four scores. So those teammates counted on each other every time they went out. That's how special they were to each other and to me."

Looking ahead, Tegethoff said he sees some junior varsity golfers who have the opportunity to rise through the ranks and replicate, or even better, the scores of the four who have just finished their careers, including sophomore Olivia McAsey and freshmen Katina Bartel and Lilly Kimberlin.

"Our JV golfers have a special bond as well," Tegethoff said. "They are pretty close-knit, just like the seniors are. They enjoy the game and each other. They are also extremely excited about their future."

In fact, he said, the JV girls are already making plans to practice on the off-season to better their accomplishments of this past season.

"They had some scores that were better than some of the regional scores that were out there," Tegethoff said. "I'm looking forward to seeing their improvement."

Nine JH Cobras set to compete at Class 2A State Cross Country Meet

By Brian Sanders

Following a successful Class 2A regional cross-country meet at Alma-Wabunsee, Jackson Heights head cross-country coach Brad Alley aims to get his Cobra harriers to the state meet at the Wamego Country Club this Saturday in good shape.

"Our main goal is to enter Saturday healthy," said coach Alley, noting that the Cobra nine — two qualifying girls and a seven-member boys team — were planning two tough workouts this week, along with some "easy tempo runs to get our legs fresh."

The Cobra boys team — anchored by freshman Daniel Little, who finished third individually — finished third overall at Alma last Saturday, and while the Cobra girls narrowly missed out on a team qualification, senior Faith Little and freshman Annie Allen will represent JHHS in the girls' race at Wamego.

"It was a great weekend and a very difficult regional," Alley said. "We knew going into the regional that we would have to be really good, and we were close to that."

Little, preparing for the fourth and final state cross-country meet of her high school years, finished fifth, while Allen, gearing up for her first trip to the state meet, finished in eighth place, little more than 20 seconds behind Little. Alley said that concerning a shot at the state meet, both of them "really wanted it."

"Both of them were in the top eight for the entire race," he said. "All year I've told Annie to not let Faith out of her sight. She has done that and more this year. And I'm so glad that Faith gets to finish her decorated career at the state meet in Wamego. I was proud of how each of them finished the last half mile, where they left no doubt."

Despite narrowly missing out on a shot at the state meet, sophomore Shelby Phillips, who finished 13th out of 70 competitors, still performed admirably, Alley said.

"The top five individuals just happened to be stacked in the top 10, and Shelby had two teammates taking two of those spots," he said. "I have no doubt that Shelby will bounce back next year."

The rest of the Cobra girls — including senior Trinity McMahon, who finished her high school cross-country career in 53rd place — all "ran really strong," Alley noted, despite junior Skyla Howe (45th), sophomore Cheyenne Hewitt (60th) and junior Jill Buck (65th) "battling through some nagging injuries."

Rossville's girls team finished ahead of the pack, followed by Kansas City Christian and Jefferson County North in a close finish for second and third. KC Christian's Alysia Wagner finished first, followed by McLouth's Reagan Clark and Rossville's Julia Streit and Kaytlin Dorman.

It was also a close finish for the Cobra boys team, with Alley and his men not sure that they would qualify for the state meet until hearing the final results.

"When the race was over, we thought we were going to be third or fourth," he said. "It's always an exciting moment when they are reading off the team scores — they get to fourth place, and our name hasn't been called yet. Lucky for us, they called Kansas City Christian at fourth and us at third. We beat them by two points to qualify."

Those two points could be found with Daniel Little finishing in third place and KC Christian's Drew Birnbaum finishing fifth out of 82.

"The difference between this team and others I've had in the past is having a true front-runner like Daniel," Alley said. "He probably didn't run as well in the first mile as I would have liked, and he allowed the top two to separate early. But he battled back and hung on to a respectable third-place finish."

Three more Cobra boys finished in the top 25 to aid the team in qualifying for state — senior Kolten Brenner in 17th place, and juniors AJ Mock and Drew Holliday finishing 20th and 21st, respectively. Also competing were sophomore Garrett Klahr (38th), freshman Wyatt Bacon (43rd) and sophomore Ben Stites (66th).

"Everyone has a part when your team qualifies," Alley said. "Drew and AJ pushed each other, and Garrett showed great toughness after turning his ankle in the first mile to pop back up and finish. Even Wyatt and Ben took a spot from KC Christian."

But it was Brenner's performance that emerged as heroic among his teammates, Alley said, noting that his was the name they chanted after finding out the team qualified for state.

"He accomplished the equivalent of a last-second, game-winning shot for us," he said of Brenner. "If he doesn't run as our number two runner for the first time all season, we probably don't qualify. But I love seeing a senior care that much and to will our team to the state meet... It was a fun moment for our team, and for Kolten."

The Northern Heights boys team finished in first place, anchored by five runners finishing in the top 30, followed by host school Wabunsee. Bishop Seabury's Henry Nelson finished in first place, more than a minute ahead of second-place finisher Trevor Pentlin from Jefferson County North, who was followed less than two seconds later by Daniel Little.

Despite not having enough runners to qualify for a team score, Atchison County Community High School's girls cross-country team still made a dent in the top 10, with junior Victoria Caplinger finishing in sixth place to qualify for the state meet. Tiger runners Ashton and Madison Appel also did well, finishing 17th and 18th, respectively.

As in previous years, state qualifiers from KSHSAA Classes 1A, 2A and 4A will all compete at the Wamego meet. The Class 2A boys, including the Cobra seven, will race at 10 a.m., while Faith Little, Annie Allen and Victoria Caplinger will race with the rest of the state's 2A girls at about 11:45 a.m.

Jackson Heights beat Lyndon last Friday to win the Class 1A, District 3 title for 2018. Northern Heights lost to Alma-Wabunsee last Friday (16-7).

The winner of Friday's game will take on either Lyndon or Valley Heights in the regional game on Friday, Nov. 2, it was reported.

Earlier this season, Northern Heights, from the Flint Hills League, lost to West-Franklin-Pomona (24-0), lost to Mission Valley (30-0), beat Yates Center (40-8), beat Lyndon (21-8), lost to Centralia (59-7) and lost to Valley Heights (58-0).

Tigers, Bears to square off

The ACCHS Tigers football team, a 50-20 winner over Horton last Friday, emerged as the fourth place finisher in Class 2A, District 3 and thus qualified for the bi-district, playoff round this Friday.

ACCHS led Horton 16-8 after the first quarter and 32-14 at halftime. In the second half, the Tigers outscored the Chargers 18-6.

The Tigers (2-6 overall) of the Northeast Kansas League will play at St. Marys (2-6 overall) of the Mid-East League on Friday. The Bears qualified for the bi-district round by finishing third in the Class 2A, District 4 group of teams. Last Friday, the Bears lost to Riley County, 48-0.

The ACCHS Lady Tigers volleyball team finished 4-17 overall and 1-7 in the Northeast Kansas League.

At the Class 2A Blue Rapids-Valley Heights Sub-State tournament held last weekend, the Lady Tigers lost to the host team 25-10 and 25-11. Valley Heights went on to win the sub-state, beating JCN 25-11 and 25-23 to qualify for the state tournament.

Wetmore plays at Tescott on Thursday

The Wetmore Cardinals took the field on the road at Onaga in 8-Man-DII football last Friday. The Cardinals lost this game 36-18.

While the Cards will not be advancing in the football playoffs this season, the team will have one more opportunity to improve on its 1-7 overall record.

Tomorrow night (Thursday), the Cards will play at Tescott (0-8 overall) of the Northern Plains League as part of new KSHSAA rules.

While Onaga (2-6 overall) is also not advancing in the football playoffs, the Buffaloes will be back in action this Thursday on the road at Linn (1-7 overall) at 7 p.m.

Against Onaga, Wetmore scored 12 points in the second quarter on a 25-yard interception return for a touchdown by senior Joel Hutfles and an 18-yard TD run by Hutfles. In the third quarter, Wetmore scored six points on a one-yard TD run by Hutfles.

On the offensive side of the ball, Hutfles had 22 rushes for 80 yards, sophomore Kael McQueen had four receptions for 32 yards and six rushes for nine yards, senior Jonathan Hladky-Bailey had one reception four 19 yards and freshman Storm Hackler had one rush for three yards.

As a team, Wetmore had seven first downs, 29 rushes for 92 yards for an average of 3.2-yards per carry. The Cards also threw 14 passes with five receptions for 4 yards. They had 133 punting yards, three fumbles and lost one, four penalties for 20 yards and 13 yards of total offense.

Benefit fun run/5K planned to support local teacher

A "Footsteps In Faith" fun run and 5K is being held Saturday, Nov. 3, to support local teacher Judy Ireland as she battles cancer, it has been reported.

The event is being organized by the First United Methodist Church, and volunteers hope to make it an annual event to benefit families fighting cancer.

The fun run will begin at 9 a.m. that day, and a 5K run will be held immediately after.

The runs will start at the Holton USD 336 Fresh Start building (the former fair building) at 501 Dakota Ave.

The course route will loop towards the middle school/high school, back past the Town Square to Banner Road and back to the start on Topeka Street.

The 5K entry fee is $30, and proceeds this year will benefit the Judy Ireland family as she is fighting breast cancer. Ireland is an art teacher at Holton Elementary School.

Medals will be awarded for the top three finishers, male and female, in the 5K and the top three finishers of the fun run.

The fun run is free to enter. Race day T-shirts are also being sold during the event.

For more information, contact Carolyn Cochren at 785-851-7234 or at c.cochren@holtonks.net

Undefeated Centralia (42-0) top seed at 1A volleyball

Centralia, the winner of the Twin Valley Volleyball League for the seventh consecutive season going 14-0 (and also the TVL League tourney winner) won the Class 1A regional tournament held on Oct. 16 at Onaga, then won one of the two sub-state tournaments that the school hosted on Oct. 20, and now is headed to the state volleyball tournament set for Oct. 26-27 at Emporia's White Auditorium.

Centralia has won 14 state volleyball titles in Class 1A since Panther head coach Kimbrook Tennal took over the program in 1997.

Coach Tennal, who also writes a weekly sports column for the Courier-Tribune newspaper of Seneca, has already announced that he plans to retire from coaching after this season. He has also written about his diagnosis of colon cancer in April of this year and his subsequent battle with the disease, including chemotherapy.

The Class 1A volleyball qualifiers, their overall records and seed for the state tourney are as follows - No. 1 Centralia (42-0), No. 2 Spearville (40-0), 3 Beloit-St. Johns/Tipton (32-8), 4 Olpe (32-9), 5 Grainfield-Wheatland/Grinnell (31-9), 6 Moundridge (32-10), 7 Montezuma-South Gray (28-11) and 8 Oits-Bison (28-12).

Centralia beat Waverly in straight sets (25-11 and 25-8) to win its sub-state on Oct. 20.

Centralia beat Valley Falls in straight sets (25-15 and 26-24) to win the Onaga regional tourney on Oct. 16.

The final Twin League standings were as follows - Centralia (14-0), Valley Heights (13-3), Frankfort (12-2), Axtell (9-5), Clifton-Clyde (9-6), Hanover (9-6), Blue Valley-Randolph (7-6), Wetmore (6-8), Washington County (4-9), Linn (4-9), Doniphan West (3-12), Troy (2-13) and Onaga (1-14).

At the regional tourney held at Onaga, the fourth-seeded Wetmore Cardinals, entering the tourney 11-20 overall, beat fifth-seed Doniphan West 17-25, 25-20 and 25-23 to advance and play Centralia. The Panthers then beat the Cards 25-6 and 25-10 to advance to the title game with Valley Falls.

At the Twin Valley League tournament held Oct. 13 at Washington County High School, Wetmore beat Onaga (25-8 and 25-17) but lost to Hanover (18-25, 25-12 and 25-9) and Centralia (25-10 and 25-13).

The Cardinals finished eighth in the 13-team TVL (6-8) and were 12-24 overall.

Gardener's Corner Gathering myself in for winter

By Sandra M. Siebert

No more tomatoes. When the forecast called for freezing weather, I took down most of the tomato plants. Even if the weather had not dropped to freezing, I was ready to get rid of most of them.

Five gallons of dried tomatoes and numerous pints of roasted tomatoes in the freezer (I even canned a few pints) will get me through to next tomato season.

Picking the little Sun Gold tomatoes had become a tedious task. After so many weeks, I got tired of having piles of ripening tomatoes sitting on the kitchen counter. I was ready to let them go.

My only regret was the Brandywine tomatoes. They had done quite well this year, but the vines naturally put on just a few ripe ones at a time. I had not had quite satisfied my hunger for their exceptional flavor, and the two vines were loaded with beautiful, large green tomatoes.

I considered protecting them against the freeze, but covering even a couple of tomato plants would have required more effort than I wanted to take. Only the bell peppers have been protected against freezing, and I'm about ready to let them go, too. A few of the Brandywines that had reached the "breaker" stage, the point when the plant cuts off the food supply to the fruit and it's ready to ripen, came in for ripening. At the breaker stage, they often ripen off the vine with little loss of flavor. I put some in a paper bag with some nearly ripe paste tomatoes, but they didn't all make it with rotting, so the rest went into the dehydrator.

Two Brandywines that were seemed the most promising sat on the counter to ripen. However, when I picked one of them up my finger went through the skin into mush. One tomato left. I have yet to test its flavor. Maybe today.

I often find it difficult to make the transition from summer-autumn to autumn-winter. Usually I feel that the freezing weather comes at me from behind, taking me unaware and suddenly disrupting my comfortable gardening routine. I feel lost without the rush to harvest, water and weed. I mourn the passing of the summer vegetables (even though the garden is full of cool-season vegetables hitting their prime).

I somehow manage to pass the days without accomplishing many, if any, of my planned winter tasks. However, by mid-January I finally settle into a winter routine focused inner household tasks that sit neglected all summer – just in time to pull out the little pots and start planting cabbage seeds so I have sturdy plants to set out in the garden by mid-March and start putting my focus outward again.

This year, however, I've found it easier to slide into a less hectic schedule. By "less hectic" I mean a less outdoor-focused schedule.

Maybe I'm becoming more flexible in my "old-age." Or maybe it was the week of rainy weather before the freeze that forced me indoors. Maybe my body and brain just need a break.

I still find it necessary to be outdoors every day. I need that space to breathe. And many tasks remain to be done. But the urgency has drained away.

Now I can be outside without garden tools in hand. I can simply stand in the midst of beauty and peace, breathing. Why rush to take down that last tomato plant? It's time to start wandering through the woods. Time to go through the pile of mending and finish that little quilt I started years ago.

While the earth pulls plant energy downward so roots can regenerate and seeds can gestate it's time for me to pull myself inward, to regenerate, to incubate ideas and plans, to study my inner self and determine my path for the next "growing season."

We can get so wrapped up in doing, in the outward focus that we forget our inner selves. When we do find ourselves in a pause, a quiet place, we are lost. Who am I? What is my purpose? We find ourselves in the middle of January, finally ready to look inward, only to have our attention pulled outward again by a shifting season.

Perhaps the transition is easier this year because I've already begun taking time each day for self-reflection. I take my morning cup of tea onto the porch and sit, recording the night's dreams and contemplating their meanings. Or I write a verse or two of poetry. Or simply meditate. From this vantage point I've watched the season change and flow with it.

The benefits of this meditation time make up for any loss of time in the garden. In fact, I think I am more productive and definitely feel less stress. Ironically, now that the season has shifted it's too chilly to sit on the porch and I seem to have abandoned my meditation. When I try to "sit" indoors, I am unable to resist the pull of household tasks. So I will find another way. I already feel the tension building from the lack of my morning ritual.

Winter pulls me in, tells me to sleep late and go to bed early. I surrender as much as possible, wrapping myself in coziness. I'll finally read the books friends recommended months ago. Or I'll just sit and watch the fire dance.

Maybe I'll leave one of the tomato plants standing all winter. Whenever I go to the garden, I can learn from its surrender to the season, its slow decay, and the beauty and wonder of the cycle in which seeds dropped by the plant will sprout next spring.

AG Week: Markets remain mostly steady

By Matt Hines

Cash feedlot trade in the Southern Plains sold steady again at $111 live. This is the sixth consecutive week of steady money, which actually can be construed as bearish due to the fact that normal seasonality pushes cash trade higher this time of year. Dressed sales in Nebraska sold steady as well, mostly $174, with live trade steady to $2 higher from $109 to $111.

Cattle on feed as of Oct. 1 were slightly below the average estimate at 105 percent vs. a year ago, but still the largest inventory for October since the data series began in 1996. Placements were friendly at only 95 percent, and marketings were at 96 percent, with one less business day compared to last September, which means it is actually at 100.5 percent vs. a year ago.

Compared to last week, steer and heifer calves sold steady to $5 lower. Yearling steers and heifers sold steady to $3 lower. In the Northern Plains, calf runs are just getting started and high-quality weaned calves are in demand. Yearlings are in demand this time of year as feed yards will try to get the new procurements in the processing plant prior to June becoming the front month on the CME.

For the week, Friday, Oct. 12 to Friday, Oct. 19, October live cattle were down $.07, December was up $.60, October feeder cattle were down $.05, November was down $.52, January was down $1, December lean hogs were down $3.40 and February was down $3.20. Boxed Beef, Choice was up $.52 at $207.93 and Select was up $1.96 at $194.24.

Cattle slaughter for the week estimated at 625,000 head, down 14,000 from the week previous and down 8,000 from a year ago. Hog slaughter for the week was estimated at 2,589,000 head, up 100,000 from the week previous and up 121,000 compared to a year ago.

Livestock Futures Settlements Monday, Oct. 22

- October live cattle up $.55 at $112.80, December up $1.30 at $118.07.
- October feeder cattle up $1.00 at $155.65, November up $2.82 at $156.92, January up $2.97 at $151.72.
- December lean hogs up $1.57 at $53.17, February up $1.27 at $60.30.

The cold storage report Monday after the close showed total frozen poultry supplies down slightly from the previous month but up 10 percent percent from a year ago. Total pounds of beef in freezers were up 1 percent from the previous month but down 5 percent from last year.

October live cattle are holding the $112 support with resistance at $113.67 and then $114.47. December support is holding at $116 with a reversal higher, breaking the lower trend that was in place since hitting the contract high back on Oct. 1 at $119.75.

October feeders gapped higher on Monday, but are still holding the lower trend with support at $154 and resistance at $157. January gapped higher on the open and came back to fill that gap during the day but shot higher, breaking the lower trend with resistance next up at $153, then $155.

December lean hogs gapped lower last Thursday breaking below all major moving averages with support next at $50 and resistance at $54.

Wheat basis is firming as flour mills are running a little short with most grain movement focused on fall-harvested crops. The Buenos Aires Grain Exchange reported Argentine corn planting at 33 percent complete and wheat harvest just getting started at 1 percent complete, with early yield indications worse than expected due to frost.

Corn and soybeans both pulled back on Friday and for the week as the harvest picked back up and provided the most pressure. Managed money or funds were actually buyers over this past week, covering short positions. Thursday's soybean sales cancellations to China and unknown destinations didn't help current trade issues, and sales were weak for all the grains.

For the week, Friday, Oct. 12 to Friday, Oct. 19, December corn was down $.06¼, March was down $.06¼, November soybeans were down $.10¼, January was down $.11¼, December Kansas City wheat was down $.08, March was down $.07½, December Chicago wheat was down $.02½, March was down $.03¼, December Minneapolis wheat was down $.08¼ and December soybean meal was down $3.80 per ton.

Export inspections for the week ending Oct. 18 were very good again for soybeans at 42.2 million bushels (MBU), 5.2 MBU going to Argentina and 1 cargo directly to China. Corn sales were below average at 37.4 MBU, grain sorghum shipments of 370,000 bushels went to Mexico and Kenya and 14.1 MBU of wheat shipped last week, half of which went through the Pacific Northwest to Southeast Asia.

Grain Futures Settlements Monday, Oct. 22

- December corn up $.02¼ at $3.69¼, March up $.02¼ at $3.81¼.

- November soybeans up $.01¼ at $8.58½, January up $.02 at $8.72½.

- December Kansas City wheat down $.08¼ at $5.07¼, March down $.08¼ at $5.32¼.

- December Chicago wheat down $.06¼ at $5.08, December soybean meal down $.30 per ton at $312.80.

AgRural reported that 34 percent of the soybeans are planted nationwide, up 14 percent on the week and 14 percent ahead of last year. Plantings in Mato Grosso have reached 62 percent complete vs 27 percent last year. Accelerated plantings likely bode well for second season corn crops.

U.S. corn harvest is now at 49 percent, advancing 10 points last week, while soybean harvest jumped 15 percent to now 53 percent complete but still behind the 69 percent average pace. Grain sorghum harvest is 10 points behind the average at 46 percent complete. Winter wheat plantings are now at 72 percent with 53 percent of the crop emerged.

The latest six-to-10-day U.S. weather outlook still shows above-normal moisture in the Northern Plains, Eastern Corn Belt and East Coast with below normal in the Southwest. Temps are still below normal in the east and above normal in the west.

December corn was up to $3.78½ last week but is now on a lower trend with support at $3.60. November soybeans reached $8.92 last week, still holding a higher trend since the contract low at $8.12¼ more than a month ago, but with nearby support at $8.50.

December Kansas City wheat traded sideways from $4.98¼ to $5.34¼ this past month. December Chicago wheat looks similar on the charts with support

Buck's Grove

By Betty Bernitter
 Oct. 21 was a beautiful fall day, the 22nd Sunday after Pentecost, to worship at Buck's Grove United Methodist Church. The service began with the Ashcrafts providing the recorded prelude as Mary Ringel brought in the light of Christ. After announcements, Pastor Charlotte Milroy led the call to worship, opening prayer and Psalm 104. She also read scripture Job 38:1-7, 34-41 and Hebrews 5:1-10. Hymns sung with Donna Ashcraft as song leader were "Tell Me The Stories Of Jesus," "Jesus Loves Me" and "Are Ye Able."

The gospel reading was Mark 10:35-45 and Pastor Charlotte chose "Ambition And Challenge" for the title of her message. The gospel Sunday was a quick reminder that we are all in need of God's forgiveness and grace. We read that James and John are ambitious. Some ambition can be good, but ambition can be fuel to the heart. Where ambition gets to be a problem is when it makes us self-centered, less aware of others and closed to where God might want to lead us. We can be so busy seeking recognition that we fail to recognize those most important to us, our family, our friends, our neighbors and most of all Jesus Christ. Jesus knew that ambition can distort our view of life and the world. Through ambition, others can become objects, tools to use, instead of being our sisters and brothers. Ambition can be a cruel master and cause us to never have enough. So the challenge for us in life is to become the person God wants us to be, not necessarily the person we want to be but to find our place of service in His kingdom. If we listen, truly listen, we will hear the command to love one another and not expect others to do it for us. We will hear the challenge to seek, to serve and not to be served but to give with no expectation of return. When you listen to God, you are challenged to do as God needs, not what you need. Then you will feel the joy. Offertory ushers were Don Boling and LeRoy Rieschick, and the service closed by singing "Blest Be The Tie That Binds." Bible study continues as Jesus informs His disciples that He will soon be crucified on the cross.

Circleville News

By Jeannie Arnold
 The Oct. 15 meeting of the Circleville Senior Executives was called to order by President Sharon S. Cochren, who also led the flag salute. Dennis Hutchinson gave the blessing. There were 15 members in attendance. Two anniversaries were noted: Jaci and Bob Morris on Oct. 24 and Wayne and Theresa Rieschick's 50th anniversary on Oct. 20. Minutes from the Sept. 17 meeting were read and approved. A treasurer's report was given by Dixie Mannell.

The program was given by Circleville Mayor Ed Rostetter. He talked about the upcoming Trunk n Treat and answered questions from the group about privacy fences, building permits and the status of the Circleville Cafe. The group appreciated Ed taking the time to attend the meeting and give city updates. The next meeting will be held at the Holton Senior Citizens Center on Thursday, Nov. 15. Reservations need to be made by Monday, Nov. 12, for anyone planning to attend. A motion was made to adjourn the meeting at 1:30 p.m. Kenny Wykert went to Topeka on Wednesday, Oct. 17, and visited his brother, Bob Wykert. They enjoyed having lunch together and spent some time visiting. The Jackson Heights Cobra football team beat the Lyndon Tigers with a 47-8 victory on Friday, Oct. 19. That gave the Cobras the title of district champions. Congratulations to all the players. The annual Trunk n Treat will be held at the Circleville Gym from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 27. Chili, hot dogs, cookies and drinks will be provided. This event is sponsored by the city of Circleville.

Netawaka UMC

By Mary E. Edwards
 On Oct. 21, Laity Sunday, the frost was on the roadside fields, if not on the pumpkins. Marcia Robertson served as greeter, acolyte and offertory usher at Netawaka United Methodist Church. She lit the altar candles as So-Jin Won played the prelude, "This Is My Father's World." Worship leader Marilyn Banaka gave the welcome and announcements. Netawaka Senior Citizens will meet for lunch on Thursday, Oct. 25 at the community center. Administrative council will be held at 4:30 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 4. The Charge Conference is scheduled for Tuesday, Nov. 27. It was a joy to have live piano music for the service. Thank you, So-Jin! Marilyn and Steve attended a birthday party for several people at her brother's home on Saturday. The church is thankful for the nice fall weather. Marilyn led the responsive call to worship, followed by a time to greet one another. The hymn of praise was "We Gather Together." Pastor Young Won led the reading of the congregational prayer. The prayer hymn was "Sanctuary," followed by silent prayer, the pastoral prayer, the Lord's Prayer and the prayer response, "Cares Chorus." So-Jin played the offertory hymn, "Jesus, Keep Me Near The Cross" as Marcia took up the offering. The doxology was sung. Pastor Young read to the congregation about the reason for Laity Sunday. Early in His ministry, Jesus called the 12 to help make disciples for Him. In the Methodist Church, John Wesley commissioned Thomas Coke and Francis Asbury to lead the mission in America and make disciples, giving people the opportunity to participate in spreading the gospel. Marilyn gave the message. The scripture lesson, Mark 10:45, says, "The Son of Man did not come to be served, but to serve and give His life as a ransom for many." We, the laity, celebrate as we are called to be Christ's disciples. We all can serve by sharing, witness and example. We can encourage each other in the faith. Hope is something we want to spread: H-hospitality, O-offer Christ, P-purpose and E-engagement. Hymns used in churches are important in worship. Many of the hymns were written as poems expressing faith and love, then another person composed music to fit, and then they were sung and enjoyed by many. The hymn of going forth was "The Summons." Pastor Young gave the benediction.

The Jackson County Republican Party proudly supports Kris Kobach for Governor.

"Kris Kobach shares our family's conservative and Christian values, and has earned our vote."
- Vance and Erin Lassey.

"Kris Kobach is a man of character and keeps his word. In this upcoming election we have a choice - our founding patriotic values, or destructive liberal socialism. Kris endorses the principles required for a strong future while his opponents embrace the socialist agenda. Kris Kobach is a champion of what is good, right, and true, and we are proud to vote for him on Nov. 6th!"
- Rick and Kerry Wright Chairman and Treasurer, and Business Owners, Jackson County

"Secretary Kobach is exactly who we need as Governor in Kansas and is the only candidate who believes government can improve. He will serve the people of Kansas with respect, defend our principles, and lead our State to a great future."
- Rep. Francis Awerkamp

"We've known Kris personally for many years and will state without hesitation that he is the right person to lead Kansas as Governor. He is incredibly intelligent, hard working, honest, and dedicated. Most importantly, he is a man of principle and will not yield to the political winds that direct nearly every other politician."
- Steve Sheldon

"This election is so important for our future. Kris Kobach has the character, consistency, and leadership ability to defend and promote our values. We are proud to vote for Kris!"
- Dr. Joel and Becky Hutchins

Drug Take-Back...

Medicines that languish in home cabinets are highly susceptible to diversion, misuse and abuse. Nationwide, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) estimates opioid overdoses kill 115 Americans every day.

According to the Kansas Department of Health and Environment, pharmaceutical opioids are a leading cause of drug poisoning deaths in Kansas. The CDC says the number of opioid prescriptions has quadrupled since 1999, despite Americans reporting a steady amount of pain.

Studies show a majority of abused prescription drugs are obtained from family and friends, including from the home medicine cabinet. In addition, Americans are now advised that traditional methods for disposing of unused medicines — flushing them down the toilet or throwing them in the trash — pose potential safety and health hazards and should be avoided.

Unused prescriptions can be turned in year-round at many local law enforcement locations. Kansans should contact their local sheriff's office or police department for more information.

Perez-Marquez...

The Equinox reportedly crossed the center line into the path of a 2008 Chrysler Town and Country minivan driven north on U.S. 75 by Carmen Ukele. Both vehicles reportedly swerved to the same shoulder of the road to avoid a collision but instead struck each other head-on and came to a rest on the east shoulder, it was reported.

The collision killed the three members of the Ukele family and injured Carmen Ukele's husband, Lee F. Ukele, also of Sabetha, a passenger in the van. Perez-Marquez was also injured, as was a passenger in her vehicle, Rosalao G. Perez of St. Joseph, Mo., but both survived the accident, it was reported.

The fatal accident occurred as the Ukeles were driving home from the Class 3A state football championship in Hutchinson, where the Sabetha High School football team beat Marysville to win the state title. Tanner Ukele and Carson Ukele, sons of Lee and Carmen Ukele, were members of the SHS football championship team, it was reported.

Perez-Marquez was originally charged and arrested this past August, then was released on bond.

Sheriff Morse said his office requested assistance from the U.S. Marshals to locate Perez-Marquez, who was arrested Tuesday morning on the no-bond Jackson County District Court warrant.

The photo above shows the 522 Iowa Ave. location of the construction accident in Holton last Wednesday afternoon that claimed the life of a Holton man and critically injured another, shortly after the accident scene had been cleared. The photo was taken from alley area east of the home, facing west and shows the overturned forklift and metal "work basket" that had been extended 30 feet high or more so work could be performed on the three-story home's roof.

Swain...

property rights of all Kansans are honored."

Swain said she personally supports the legalization of cannabis and hemp agriculture.

"Kansas needs a common-sense approach to license and regulate cannabis agriculture, manufacturing, testing, distribution and compliance," she said. "When elected, I will work with the Legislature, state and local governments agencies, including law enforcement, business, farmers, industry leaders, the medical community, educators and, most importantly, all Kansans. I will ensure that Kansas is protected from federal overreach via the 10th amendment, end the war on drugs and ensure a safe market. I will work hard to allow sick Kansans access to both CBD and legal cannabis."

Swain said, if elected, she wants to increase government accountability.

"I will implement a new system focused on transparency and accountability in law enforcement. This will include a statewide Brady-Giglio list (comprised of all officers in the state with dishonestly/credibility issues), a task force of investigators and prior law enforcement officers who will perform unbiased investigations of police misconduct and the operation of a statewide hotline where allegations of sexual misconduct, racial profiling and other misdeeds can be reported and investigated," she said.

Schmidt...

Schmidt said he's also led the effort to establish the Child Victims Unit and the Internet Crimes Against Children Task Force at the Kansas Bureau of Investigation.

Since his election as attorney general, Schmidt has re-organized the office to place an "unprecedented focus" on investigating and prosecuting financial, physical and sexual crimes against older Kansans, he said. He served as the president of the National Association of Attorneys General from July 2017 to July 2018.

"I have successfully challenged numerous federal agency actions that unlawfully inhibit the ability of Kansans to govern ourselves," he said.

Schmidt has twice argued on behalf of Kansas before the U.S. Supreme Court.

"I have also made service to, and support for, victims of crime a priority," he said. "I also overhauled the open government sections of the Office of the Attorney General to improve education and training about transparency laws and to improve enforcement when those laws are violated."

Schmidt and his wife, Jennifer, have two daughters.
