Heights to stage "Game Of Tiaras"

By Brian Sanders

What do you get when you cross Shakespeare's "King Lear," the "Game Of Thrones" TV series and a group of spoiled-rotten Disney princesses?

You get "Game Of Tiaras," a two-act comedy with a body count that Jackson Heights High School's Cobra Drama department has scheduled for 7 p.m. Saturday and 2 p.m. Sunday on the JHHS stage.

The comedy marks the JHHS directing debut of Johnna Crawford, who said the Don Zolidis-penned play was one of a few plays given to students to choose from for the fall production.

"I just narrowed it down and let the students decide," Crawford said. "We had a couple meetings with kids who were interested in being in the play, and once we felt like we had a good number, we narrowed it down to two classics and a comedy, and they picked this one."

Crawford allowed students in her language arts classes at JHHS to read the play aloud during a curriculum unit on theater, and they found it to be an enjoyable story, she said.

"They were entertained by it because it is different, it has a more modern feel and there are characters that everyone recognizes in a totally different way," Crawford said. "There are a lot of Disney and popular references, and there's a lot more modern humor than you might associate with high school plays or community theater."

In "Game Of Tiaras," when the aging King of England (Hunter Sturgeon) decides to split his empire between his three daughters, Cinderella (Trinity McMahon), Belle (Alyssa Keehn) and Ellie the Snow Queen (Sarah Marshall) — the latter not to be confused with a certain copyrighted Disney character — tragedy ensues, but it's tragedy of the comical kind.

In addition to the aforementioned princesses who have also been featured in Disney movies and elsewhere, Snow White (Grace Linck), the

Harris selected for Chamber HOF

By Brian Sanders

Every Tuesday afternoon, Dan Harris can be found with a microphone in his hand, presiding over the weekly livestock sale east of Holton at the market that's been in his family since 1951.

"It gets pretty busy out here," Harris said of the weekly auctions, which he noted sees an average of 55,000 to 60,000 head of cattle sold per year.

But Harris, owner and manager of Holton Livestock Exchange, is more than just an auctioneer — he's an ardent advocate for agriculture and a leader in his industry on more than just the local level.

For his representation of the Holton community in the state and national spotlight, Harris will join the Holton/Jackson County Chamber of Commerce Hall of Fame this coming February, a distinction that he admits was surprising, but also one that he accepts with pride.

"I was shocked, I guess, but I was also very honored that I would be considered for something like that," said Harris, a longtime Chamber member. "To be in a group of people like that, it is quite an honor."

Harris was raised in Wetmore, as was fellow 2019 Hall of Fame inductee Susan Mencl, and he confirmed Mencl's statement that he used to "run around" with her sons while he was growing up.

More importantly, he said, he grew up in the livestock marketing business along with his father, W.O. "Wes" Harris, following him to livestock sales — and deciding that he wanted to follow in father's footsteps — from a young age.

After graduating from Wetmore High School, Harris and his brother went to auctioneer school in Iowa. He would eventually return to Holton and the sale barn, which Harris said his family has owned outright since 1977.

"My father's health took him out in 1984," he said. "That's when I took it over."

Since then, Harris — who along with wife Lesley has three sons, Blake, Garrett and Tyler — has seen the business growing into a successful one, with the Tuesday livestock sales drawing hundreds of people every week and two consignment sales a year reportedly bringing in as many as 800 bid numbers, it was reported.

Harris admits that success wasn't something he achieved on his own.

"None of this would have been possible without our faithful employees," he said. "I've got a lot of 20-to-35-year people out here. That's what makes it all work."

In addition to his duties at Holton Livestock Exchange, Harris' work has earned him recognition at the state and national levels, with memberships in the Kansas Livestock Association, the state and national Livestock Marketing Association and the Kansas Beef Council.

He's also a tireless advocate for agriculture at the local level, serving as a past president of the Jackson County Livestock Association and as a supporter of Jackson County's 4-H program. In the latter case, he's been a long-time, regular fixture at the annual Jackson County Fair livestock sale, volunteering his time and expertise to benefit local 4-H'ers.

"My father helped with the 4-H auction, and I started helping him out sometime in the 1970s," Harris said. "I might have missed one or two when I had kids, and I missed last year, but I've been pretty regular at it ever since I got started."

Harris has also allowed young people involved in Jackson County 4-H clubs to use his facility to weigh and prepare their livestock for the fair, and he encourages them to continue to look at agriculture as a career choice as they grow up.

"We need young people in agriculture. It's an area in which it's been difficult to keep young people involved. But I do what I can to help that along," he said. "And if a young person comes to me needing advice on growing or selling, anything to do with their cattle, I'm there to help if I can."

Harris will be inducted into the Chamber Hall of Fame along with Jerry and Susan Mencl, Dr. David and Ange Allen and Blair Wagner at the annual Hall of Fame dinner on Wednesday, Feb. 6, 2019.

Thanksgiving dinner plans set

By Brian Sanders

For two decades, Freda Galer of Holton has been organizing the annual Community Thanksgiving Dinner in Holton, coordinating donations of food and volunteer efforts to make sure that no one goes hungry on Thanksgiving Day.

This year's dinner, to be held from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Thursday, Nov. 22 at the Evangel United Methodist Church Family Life Center at Third Street and Pennsylvania Avenue in Holton, will be her last, she said, as the dinner's chief coordinator.

"It's time for me to step down," Galer said, noting that she plans to assist with future dinners, but only in a cook's capacity.

The annual dinner, a Holton community event since 1985 (33 years), draws an average of 300 to 350 people from the area, but last year's turnout may have exceeded 400, it was reported. Galer said she hopes this year's total number of dinners served exceeds last year's total.

But for that to happen, donations of food and volunteer service are necessary — and Galer said she's off to a good start.

"I've already got five of my turkey cookers," she said.

For this year's dinner, Galer needs a total of 12 20-lb. turkeys, cooked and deboned, along with three 10-lb. hams and six gallons each of corn, green beans and sweet potatoes.

Also needed are five gallons each of baked beans and instant potatoes, 26 pounds of stuffing, 17 fruit and vegetable salads, 17 Jell-O salads, 26 dozen dinner rolls, 17 cakes, 27 pies and six cheesecakes.

Volunteers are also needed to help cook and serve the dinner, prepare the Family Life Center for the event, greet those who come to the dinner and clean up after it is over. Help is also being sought for delivering meals and providing people with rides to and from the Family Life Center.

Anyone interested in helping with donations of food, volunteer service or money, or to place an order for a carry-out or delivery meal, is encouraged to call Galer at 364-4160. Those requesting a ride to the dinner or a delivered meal should call Galer before 10 p.m. on Wednesday, Nov. 21.

County tax statements mailed

By Ali Holcomb

Real estate and personal property tax statements for Jackson County residents were mailed out on Friday, Nov. 2, according to Jackson County Treasurer Linda Gerhardt.

The first half of taxes are due on Dec. 20. The second half are due May 10, 2019. Tax payments will be honored if postmarked on or before the due date.

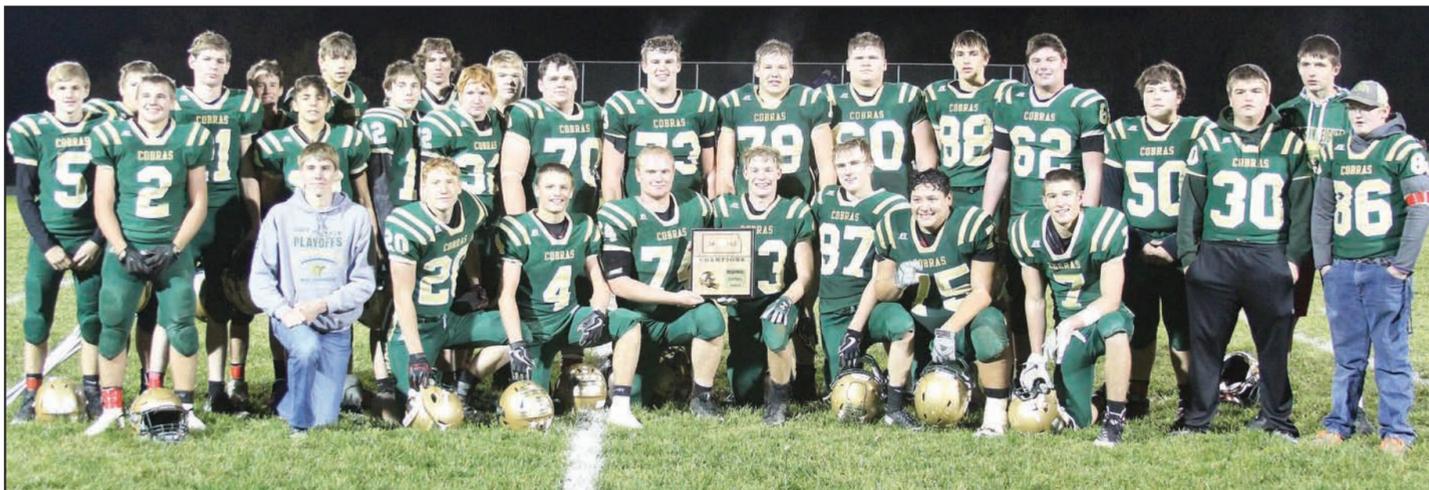

Taxes may also be paid online at www.kansas.gov/propertytax. Kansas.gov is the official website of the State of Kansas.

Any personal property taxes not paid by Dec. 20 are due in full starting Dec. 21. State statute requires that all delinquent personal property taxes must be current before any vehicle-related tax business can be completed.

If the first half of the real estate tax is not paid by Dec. 20, the total amount is due May 10.

The Jackson County Treasurer's Office is located on the second floor of the Jackson County Courthouse.

For information about your tax bill, or if you do not receive your tax bill, contact the county treasurer's office at 785-364-3791.

For most adults, driving a car is how we stay mobile and on the go. Driving is how we see the people we want to see and how we do the things we want to do at our convenience. But changes in our physical, mental, and sensory abilities can challenge our continued ability to drive safely.

The assessment assists with determining if a person has deficits in the skills needed for safe driving. Based on the evaluation, the occupational therapist can make recommendations about strategies, specialized equipment and training to improve driving safety and overall health and well being.

HCH Home Health honored

Holton Community Hospital Home Health has been named a 2018 HHCAHPS Honors recipient by HEALTHCAREfirst, it has been reported.

HEALTHCAREfirst is a leading provider of web-based home health and hospice software, billing and coding services, CAHPS surveys and advanced analytics, it was reported.

This annual review recognizes agencies that continuously provide a positive patient experience and high quality care as measured from the patient's point of view.

Saturday, Nov. 30, medaling in her fourth straight state meet, it was reported.

Jackson Heights High School senior Brandy Pagel, daughter of Wayne and Beth Pagel of Holton, was named queen of the recent Hiawatha Halloween Frolic, it was reported.

A new teletype communications system was inaugurated on Saturday, Nov. 2. The new system gives the office of Jackson County Sheriff Don Collins a 24-hour written message service with the offices of all other Kansas sheriffs, it was reported.

Following several weeks of negotiations with the Holton city administration and the Chamber of Commerce, Aristo Foods, Inc. of Topeka has completed plans to locate a large meat processing plant here, it has been reported. The new industry will be located on a tract south of Fourth Street and east of the Rock Island tracks.

A new sign was recently installed at the Dodds House Motel on the south side of Holton. The sign announces the hotel's affiliation with Best Western Motels.

Tips for controlling musk thistle

Crops & Soils/Horticulture

With many other invasive species, the focus of our summer weed control program (sericea lespedeza comes to mind), we sometimes forget about how bad musk thistle can be for our grasslands. It's still there, however, and just waiting for next spring to take off yet again.

Just because musk thistle is waiting for next spring doesn't mean forage managers should do the same. Musk thistle is what is known as a biennial or winter annual. That means that they germinate in the spring, spend the summer as a rosette, live through the winter, then bolt the following summer, essentially taking two years to complete their life cycle.

It's pretty difficult to get them during the bolting stage as they get ready to enter reproduction, so focusing on the rosette stage is the key to a good control program. That focus starts this time of the year as we work to control those first year rosettes.

For many reasons, fall is often considered the optimum control window for musk thistle. For starters, the plants tend to be smaller and more susceptible to herbicides. Off-target drift potential is also reduced as most ornamentals, forest stands and sensitive row crops are for the most part far enough along to be less sensitive to off-target herbicide movement.

Unlike trying to spray for many other weeds, our application window is actually pretty wide as well, stretching until the ground is frozen and plants have shut down (earlier frosts may cause some leaf discoloration, but plants are susceptible to herbicides as long as green tissue exists).

Product options vary. 2,4-D LVE, dicamba and picloram containing products have typically shown excellent fall control potential. Newer active ingredients like aminopyralid and metsulfuron have shown performed very well, too.

If you need to treat musk thistle this fall, herbicides exist that will not only control the rosettes at the time of application, but will carryover and control new emerging rosettes next spring. If possible, select a warm, sunny day when spraying musk thistle this fall. Always read and follow label directions.

The 2018 KSU Chemical Weed Control Guide has an entire section on musk thistle control, including product names and application rates. You can access a copy online at www.bookstore.ksre.ksu.edu/pubs/chemweedguide.pdf or request one from your district extension office.

Keep holiday meals safe

FACS

Whether it is a simple meal for two, or a large gathering with a buffet, food safety is a priority at any meal, and especially at the holidays. Nobody wants the gift of foodborne illness!

Are you the host for the holiday meal? Reduce your stress by starting a list now to plan the location, food and recipes, activities and games, and what your guests could bring. Put it in a timeline or on a calendar to stay on schedule.

Are you buying a fresh or frozen turkey? If you choose fresh, be sure to place an order with your grocer or butcher shop and pick it up one to two days before the meal. Frozen turkeys can be purchased any time and stored in the freezer. Pay attention to grocery sales to save some money.

Frozen turkeys are best thawed in the refrigerator or in cold water. In the refrigerator, plan on at least five days for a 20-pound turkey. In cold water, allow about 30 minutes per pound of turkey.

Do you only have one oven? Use a slow cooker for hot dishes. A tabletop roaster oven can be used like a regular oven for many items. Even electric pressure cookers can cook up some tasty dishes! Some items, such as dessert or bread, can be made ahead and frozen.

When cooking the turkey, remember that 325 degrees F is the lowest oven temperature to safely cook turkey. Use a food thermometer to be sure it reaches a minimum internal temperature of 165 degrees F.

Freezing Yeast Dough

To save time during the holidays, or any time of year, prepare yeast dough ahead of time and freeze into dough balls or rolls to bake later. The trick is using dough with extra yeast because slow freezing can damage yeast.

According to Fleischmann's Yeast, it is best to use dough recipes developed for freezing. These recipes are high in yeast and sugar and low in salt. It is recommended to use bread flour to help maintain bread structure.

After preparing and kneading the dough, shape into rolls or flatten into a disk and wrap airtight. The dough can be frozen up to four weeks. When ready to use, thaw at room temperature or slowly in the refrigerator. Once thawed, shape, let rise and bake as directed.

OPINION

Tuesday, Nov. 6, 2018 is election day locally and across the country.

You have probably read and heard this stated before, but - Every Vote Does Count!

More than once, I have witnessed local political races decided by a coin flip after two candidates received the same number of votes.

Don't let anyone tell you that it is not important to vote or that your vote does not matter. It does.

When we (American citizens) vote, our collective will is carried out.

The time for public discourse from all of the candidates is over. Now it is time to exercise our right to vote!

When you vote, you are also honoring all of our U.S. soldiers who have fought for our freedom over the years.

HAMILTON: What it means to be an American

By Lee Hamilton

Tell me: What does it actually mean to be an American? In the press of day-to-day events and amid the ongoing tumult of politics, we don't think about this much. Yet it's a crucial question, one that each generation in this country is called upon to answer for itself.

Despite our differences, there are some traits that I think we and our predecessors would recognize — characteristics to being an American that resonate with most of us, regardless of our age or our political beliefs.

For instance, I believe the aim of our representative democracy is to enhance the liberty of free people, and to offer them the opportunity to make the most of their talents. This lies at the root of what it means to live in a representative democracy: Extending respect to all and wanting every person to be aware of his or her political importance.

Perhaps the most eloquent expression of this view is the awe-inspiring Declaration of Independence, which remains a core inspiration both for our political values and our shared identity. The notion that all people are created equal, that we possess God-given inalienable rights, including to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness — these are beliefs that undergird our democracy.

They suggest that our country can — and should — be an example to the world of what a government of liberty can mean in the lives of citizens. And that we should never stop trying to make the world a better place. Bringing these values into our policies and our politics depends on all of us — another notion embedded in this country since the beginning.

Often people ask, "Where are the Jeffersons or Lincolns in this time of need?" They understand that the quality of our elected leaders makes all the difference, and that bold, decisive, thoughtful leadership is essential for our country's success.

Yet while I recognize the need, ultimately our success as a nation will rest on the strength and capabilities of our citizens.

The Founding Fathers spoke often of the need for citizens of virtue and talent, for people capable of governing themselves.

We do so through our political institutions, within a framework set out in our Constitution. While our system is not perfect, it has provided us with the tools to meet our challenges — and in a better fashion than any likely alternative.

Politics as it is practiced in our country can bring despair and crushing defeat. But it can also produce splendid achievements.

If you enter politics, you have to be prepared for both. I know that a lot of people view politics with disdain and disapproval, yet over the course of a long political life, I never felt the desire to escape it. Just the opposite, in fact. I knew a lot was at stake in the battles, and I embraced them.

To be sure, I pursued them at a time when it was possible to find common ground across partisan divides, and when respecting one's opponents did not bring immediate censure from donors and primary voters. The atmosphere is different now. Yet the basic need — for using the political system to resolve fundamental challenges — has not changed.

Nor has one of its most basic features: A permanent tension between the preservation and expansion of individual freedom on the one hand, and the stability and strength of the nation on the other.

Government must have enough power to protect the national interest and to be capable of addressing deep-seated problems. It must secure and enlarge personal liberties while maintaining order and stability. It must provide the national security necessary for the preservation of freedom.

These are not contradictory goals, but they do rub against each other. How we interpret them — how far in one direction or the other we go as our national circumstances change — is a constant challenge. Being an American means not shying away from that task, but instead embracing it as part of our birthright.

LETTER: More written on Mayetta's spray park project

Dear editor,
My wife and I have lived in Mayetta since we were married — nearly 20 years. Our children have lived all of their lives in Mayetta. I, like Mr. Chapman, am also a member of the Mayetta City Council. I wanted to take this opportunity to respond to an earlier letter to the editor by Chapman, voicing his concerns relating to the water spray park being built.

The first concern Chapman had concerned having a council member on the spray park committee. The spray park committee was appointed by the city council. Chapman himself voted in the positive to appoint each member.

The idea of having a council member on the committee was to serve as a "liaison" between the spray park members and the city council. This was to help the flow of questions, ideas, upcoming fund-raisers, etc. It also was to help drive the project — as the spray park project is actually a project of the city council — with the fund-raising committee taking the lead on doing the actual fund-raising and doing the research on spray park systems, sanitation, operations, design, etc.

In his letter, Chapman states that "enormous power" was given to the chairperson of the committee and that she made decisions for the city. This is simply not true. Ultimately, it is the responsibility of the city council to approve or deny any decisions that impact the city — not the spray park committee or committee chairperson.

Relating to the purchase of some, but not all, of the spray park equipment, this was discussed at one of the council meetings. It was done on purpose and for good reason. The spray park is comprised of above-ground fixtures, and in-ground fixtures.

After fund-raising for the past three years, the committee knew that donations were becoming more difficult to secure, so an attempt was made to rejuvenate fund-raising to finish the project. One of the benefits of the selected spray park package was the fact that it is possible to run the in-ground nozzles independently of the above-ground fixtures. In fact, this is exactly the same arrangement as the spray park at the Kansas State Fair. They have no above-ground features at all.

The decision was made to complete the concrete pad, including all the plumbing, in-ground nozzles, wiring, lighting, etc. Also, all the plumbing for the above ground features would be completed.

Lastly, special nozzle "inserts" were ordered that enable the above-ground feature plumbing to be temporarily used as additional in-ground nozzles — until such time that additional fund-raising made it possible to purchase all the above ground fixtures.

By completing the pad and operating the system, it was anticipated that fund-raising could possibly be re-energized and people encouraged to donate to finish the park, while enjoying the in-ground features and LED lights. This was also discussed with the city council.

Concerning the crack sealing of the city streets, this was an opportunity to save the city money long term and to assist the spray park with funding. Chapman is correct that in the past, the city has paid to have an outside contractor perform crack sealing with his own equipment.

However, what Chapman does not mention is that the city has more than doubled — if not tripled — the amount of streets to be crack sealed from the last time that an outside contractor was hired. To hire a contractor again would cost more money than the last time crack sealing was done. Much like other cities who do their own street work to contain costs, I suggested the city should purchase its own equipment, and utilize city employees to do the crack sealing instead.

At the time, no city employees had training in crack sealing, so I suggested that I would donate my time, skill and training to do the crack sealing, with the assistance of members of the spray park (who also donated their time and personal equipment) and would also train the city employees so they could do all the work in the future.

It made business sense to have the streets crack sealed with the donated labor, and get the city employees trained to do all the future work. Otherwise, the city was going to have to pay an outside source to train the employees — without the benefit of that payment being used for a project that the city would benefit from (the spray park).

Next, Chapman suggested that the council waited until he was called away from a council meeting to vote to provide funding to finish the park. Again, this is untrue. The spray park was on the meeting agenda. Chapman chose to leave the meeting. This is not the first time Chapman has left a meeting or was not available to attend council meetings at all.

While I honestly respect and appreciate the job that Chapman performs as his daily job, it is equally important that the city council continue to perform its duties as required. Other council members have priorities as well, and must make choices of what is more important each night of the council meeting. However, none of them have ever suggested that the council suspend or delay decisions due to their absence.

Each council member knows that it is his/her responsibility to attend the council meetings to represent the people who elected them to the office. To suggest that special treatment be made for one council member is not only unfair to the other members who attend the meetings on time (despite important things going on in their lives too) and also borders on unprofessionalism of an elected council member. If he wants to vote, then he needs to be at the meeting.

Chapman alleges that the townspeople haven't had a voice. However, he seems to forget that it is the council members (who are elected by the townspeople) who conduct the city's business at the behest of the townspeople. The voice of the townspeople comes through the members of the council. That is not to say that all council decisions will be what every townspeople wants. Of note, it is interesting that up until this point in time, Chapman never complained that the townspeople were not getting to speak up.

Further, that didn't stop Chapman from suggesting and making the motion for new fencing for the park — which cost $22,000, and borders Chapman's backyard. Chapman didn't suggest the townspeople have a voice for $22,000 worth of fence that he personally benefited from, so why is it suddenly an issue now?

Chapman stated that the intentions of the spray park committee were to raise the entire funds to cover the cost of the spray park. This is correct, and was the intention of the spray park committee. However, that was three years ago, and many things have happened since that time. As anyone who deals with such projects, there are surprises that pop up, and unexpected costs.

Also, as a project extends out over time, interest is lost and donations wane. This is exactly what has happened with the spray park. Despite the best efforts of the spray park committee, funding has become very difficult, and members of the city council wanted to finish off the project — which is why the decision was made.

Interestingly, the spray park committee still continues to host fund-raisers in an attempt to raise additional funds which can be used to complete the park, despite the city council providing enough funding to finish the project. The committee is still trying in good faith to reduce the amount that the council voted to contribute, yet that goes unmentioned by Chapman.

Unfortunately, Chapman has taken it upon himself to make it appear that the members of the spray park committee are irresponsible and committing poor choices. He made allegations to a county attorney, complained to the Jackson County Commission and finally complained to the public via his letter to the editor. He alleges deviant behavior by the members of the city council and the city's mayor. Chapman is only generating negative statements and half truths that, on the surface, undermine the great things that the spray park committee and city council have done.

Chapman states that the spray park itself is not his concern, yet I have noted that he has never attended any meetings of the spray park committee, never attended a spray park function or fund-raiser and never offered to help raise funds for the spray park.

If Chapman is truly concerned about the city spending money to secure professional workers to finish the project, he could have easily helped raise funds, thereby reducing what was left to pay for. Rather, Chapman has chosen to go on a witch hunt, accusing good and honorable people of doing illegal and unethical behavior and damaging the public image of the spray park, the spray park committee and the city council.

Chapman may have wanted to avoid the city paying for anything, but he may well have succeeded in guaranteeing that donors will no longer donate and the full $43,000 will have to come from the city fund to finish the project. I can only wonder what great things could have been accomplished if Chapman had directed his efforts to embrace the project rather than condemn it.

LETTER: Writer now a Trump supporter after accident

Dear editor,

Two years ago, my vehicle was struck by a vehicle with an intoxicated driver at the wheel at the intersection of U.S. Highway 75 and Arizona Avenue in Holton. After the initial impact, I got out of the vehicle and went to the rear of my vehicle to assess the damage.

After assessing the damage, I looked into the vehicle that struck me. A woman was driving with a man sitting in the passenger seat. Oh, I almost forgot, there was an infant in the back seat in a child seat. The male immediately got out of the car and asked in broken English, "Is everything all right?"

I stated, "No, everything is not all right. You've damaged my car." At that time, the male got out of the vehicle and ran. I did not have my cell phone on me and at about that time a stranger in the Casey's parking lot yelled, "Are you okay?" I stated that I was okay and for him to call the city police department. He proceeded to call them.

After a closer examination of the driver, it was my opinion that she acted intoxicated. At that time, Drake Ewing and his grandfather were walking out of the Casey's convenience store and saw what was going on. Well, after trying to entice the male back into the car (in Spanish I might add, and the male took off on foot before the police arrived) the driver of the vehicle decided that she was not going to wait around for the cops to come. She backed up and went around me and took off.

When she took off, Ewing and his grandfather hopped into Ewing's truck and began to chase her and also had the city police department on the phone with them during the chase. She was hitting curbs and running through people's lawns in order to escape.

After Ewing and his grandfather followed her for more than 10 minutes, the police finally caught up with her. She was arrested for DWI, child endangerment, driving without a license and driving without insurance.

I attended several court sessions. Her child was subsequently taken away from her. I attended her trial and she was sentenced to jail (to be served after hours so she could hold a job to pay back the restitution she owed me).

While sitting there, I noticed that there were two individuals to offer her support. No doubt to me that they were taxpayer funded. I listened in court to her public defender describe how she had been attending every one of her "sessions" to try to gain custody back of her child.

To make a long story short, she served her time and got her child back but the court date was "a show cause hearing" in which she was to either pay me money or show cause as to why my restitution money was not paid. She failed to appear.

I was not a big Trump supporter, but after all of this, I certainly have been converted. How much of our city and our county resources have been utilized for an individual that could not even speak our language and status in this country probably is one of two things - an illegal alien or a DACA recipient?

When I asked the assistant county attorney at the time whether she was in this country legally at the time, his statement was this: "We don't inquire on the legal status of someone being in this country."

It's nice to see that our government officials have our back!

I'm $700 in the hole on the matter and she has fled with her child and she has the court system and whatever kind of advocates that were in the courtroom to thank. Oh wait, I bet that they didn't get a thank you either from whatever state or country that she now resides in. Want to place a wager on that?

Upcoming events for area beef producers

By Jody G. Holthaus
Meadowlark Extension District Agent, Livestock and Natural Resources

Well, we successfully got the cows gathered and moved around, except for one group. You never know if the force will be with you on those days.

The only casualty was my index finger, because I had my fingers in the wrong place! I was thinking at that point, my fingers should be back at the office, instead of helping out! I hate moving panels. Now our only issue is if everyone got bred.

Beef issues groups will be starting up this November. These small groups of beef enthusiasts meet to discuss current topics, animal health, management and financial strategies. We bring in expert speakers and share how to implement these strategies in our own herds. The topics are decided by the group and the frequency of the meetings.

The "big" meeting in Nemaha

County will be held at 7 p.m. on Nov. 27 at the Glacial Hills center at 913 Dakota St. in Sabetha. Let me know if you can come. I'm interested in starting groups in other parts of the district, so let me know if you would like to be invited.

We got some great news – we will be hosting a calving school. There will only be seven in the state, so we're feeling pretty lucky. The calving school will feature Dr. AJ Tarpoff, our KSU beef veterinarian. It will take place at 7 p.m. on Dec. 4 at the Oskaloosa City Hall.

The program will outline the normal processes of calving, and Dr. Tarpoff said the goals of the event are to increase knowledge and practical skills and to increase calf survival if assistance is needed during calving.

"We will discuss timelines on when to assess calving cows and when to call for help if things are not going well," Tarpoff said.

Anthony John (A.J.) Tarpoff was born and raised in Edwardsville, Ill. His family owned and operated a beef processing plant and a steakhouse. He received his bachelor of science degree in animal science at Kansas State University in 2010. In 2012, he received his D.V.M. and master's degree in biomedical science at Kansas State University.

After earning his D.V.M., Tarpoff accepted an associate feedlot veterinarian position at Alberta Beef Health Solutions in Southern Alberta, Canada. His focus in practice was herd-based cattle production medicine, research field trials, hands-on feedlot employee training, disease surveillance and mitigation and Federal Import/Export duties. He came back to KSU in 2016.

There will also be a presentation on winter feeding. This school is very popular, with the life-size cow and her rubber calves. This cow usually makes her appearance at the Kansas State Fair, and has proven to be very popular.

Dr. Tarpoff will show how to deliver a live calf, even in the most unusual presentations. Even the most experienced cattlemen and women can learn something new!

It's apple cider time

By Nancy C. Nelson
Meadowlark Extension District Agent Family Life

A glass of cold apple cider or a mug of hot cider is a fall treat this time of year!

People have been enjoying cider since at least 55 BC, when Romans arrived in England and found locals drinking a cider-like liquid. Later, English settlers introduced cider to America by bringing apple seeds specifically for cider production.

In the United States, fermented alcoholic apple juice is called "hard cider," while freshly pressed, non-alcoholic cider is called "sweet cider." Cider

On Oct. 21, the Pleasant Hill United Methodist Church congregation opened its worship service by singing "Let There Be Peace On Earth."

The birthdays for Oct. 21 through Oct. 27 were Pam Walder and Alex Wilson, Oct. 21; Taylor Cartolano and Marty Ransdell, Oct. 23; and Susie Forman and Grace Unruh, Oct. 25.

Pastor Jim baptized Barrett Alan Lovewell. Barrett's parents are Bryce and Kerry Lovewell.

For special music, the chancel choir sang while the bell choir played the song "Grant Us Peace." Those singing were Jenny Christman, Linda Griffiths, Billie Winsor, Murel Brandenburg, Ron Griffiths, Bruce Tomlinson and John Wilson. Those playing bells were Susan Arnold, Alfred Mannell, Danette Martin, Annie McDowell, Kelly Neiman and Barbara Slimmer. Marjorie O'Konski directed the bell choir.

The children's story was given by Kevin McDowell. He asked the children if they liked winning a prize such as a ribbon, a medal or a trophy when they participated in a sport. Of course, they did.

James and John, two of Jesus' disciples, thought they deserved an honor or a prize. They each wanted to sit on each side of Jesus.

Jesus said He could not do that. Jesus asked them if they were ready to suffer. He told them, "You must be a servant. To receive the seat of honor means you must serve others." Let us live a life to serve others.

The concerns were prayers for Darci, who was to have gallbladder surgery on Oct. 22; Adrian, who lost his father; and the family of Eva May Bolz; and the family of Jeremy Pittman.

Murel Brandenburg read the scripture Matthew 5:5, 8-9.

The sermon "Blessed Are... The Meek, The Pure In Heart And The Peacemakers" was given by the Rev. Hyun-Jin Cho. The Bible tells us that Moses was a humble and meek person. In Matthew 11:29, it tells us that Jesus was humble and meek.

How do you react to people's mistakes? Do you get angry or do you forgive them? Our customs may make us clean on the outside, but God can see what we have in our hearts. God wants us to have peace, hope, joy and love in our hearts. Let us make peace with our sisters, brothers and friends. God is invisible, but we believe in Him. We are called children of God.

The closing hymn was "Make Me A Channel Of Your Peace." Those assisting with the service were Murel Brandenburg, liturgist; Marjorie O'Konski, organist; Deb and Matt Mannell, sound system; Brian Smith, acolyte; John Wilson, song leader; and Ron Griffiths, Sam Martin, Kevin McDowell and Brian Smith, usher team.

Cobras wear 1A regional crown by beating VH - again

■ Jackson Heights football team travels to Pittsburg-Colgan Friday for sectional

By Brian Sanders

Earlier this fall, the Jackson Heights High School Cobra varsity football team traveled to Blue Rapids to take on the Valley Heights High School Mustangs and came home with a last-minute 22-14 victory, one which Cobra Head Coach Caleb Wick suggested the Mustangs might be looking to avenge this past Friday in regional play.

But the efforts of the Mustangs — going up against the Cobras in that evening's Class 1A regional playoff game at Dave Henry Field — to even the score fell short as Jackson Heights pulled out a 35-20 win to advance to sectional playoffs later this week.

"I thought we played very, very well in the first half — from an execution standpoint, I'd say that was the best half of a game we've played all year," said coach Wick, whose Cobras, now at 9-1 on the year, will travel to the sectional game in Pittsburg this coming Friday to take on St. Mary's-Colgan, now 8-2 after beating Hillsboro 45-20 this past Friday.

The only thing holding the Cobras back, Wick said, was the penalties, which saw Jackson Heights hobbled for 60 yards in the first half alone, compared to Valley Heights with only five yards lost under the flag.

"If it wasn't for a couple of penalties there in that last drive in the first half, they wouldn't have scored, but that lead we had at halftime was a great thing, particularly when you're going up against an offense like Valley Heights," Wick said.

Valley Heights opted to open the game with the first of five unsuccessful inside kicks, with Cobra senior Curtis Niehues falling on the first kick at midfield to set up a 10-play, 50-yard touchdown drive.

That drive ended in a 20-yard touchdown pass from junior quarterback Cable Wareham to junior Joel Kennedy with 6:54 left in the first. The score was followed by a point-after kick from senior Dylan Lacey, who would end up going five for five on the night in PATs.

After the Mustangs turned their next possession over to the Cobras on downs, the Cobras ended up punting the ball back to Valley Heights. But on the first play following the punt, Mustang sophomore Jake Yungeberg fumbled the ball, the Cobras recovered it and began a 61-yard march toward another touchdown that stretched into the second quarter.

The Cobras' second touchdown campaign ended on a 12-yard run from junior Cooper Williams with 10:32 left in the second frame, and another PAT kick from Lacey put the Cobras up 14-0.

Another Mustang fumble was picked up by the Cobras less than a minute and a half later, and that turned into another Cobra score when Wareham connected with senior Lane Thomas for a 28-yard TD pass with 4:40 left in the half. Lacey's third PAT kick made the score 21-0.

The Mustangs weren't content to go into the lockers at halftime with no score, and with just eight seconds left in the half, following a late hit on Mustang sophomore quarterback Cam Beardsley that took him out of the game, sophomore backup quarterback Jackson O'Toole handed the ball to junior Cole Coggins for a one-yard TD run to put the halftime score at 21-6.

Less than a minute into the third frame, the Mustangs struck again, with VH junior Trey Martin breaking free of the Cobras' defensive line for a 52-yard rush into the end zone, making the score 21-12.

"We kind of got lax a little bit with that halftime lead," Wick said.

But it took the Cobras less than two minutes to respond, as Wareham connected with Thomas again, this time for a 53-yard touchdown pass and another Lacey PAT kick to bring the score to 28-12 with 9:24 left in the third.

The Cobras quickly got the ball back after the Mustangs failed to touch midfield on their next possession, setting up a 76-yard march that ended with Williams running three yards into the end zone with three minutes left in the third frame. Lacey's fourth PAT put the Cobras up 35-12.

The Mustangs' final possession of the third quarter, stretching into the fourth, put the ball back into the Cobras' hands, but Valley Heights freshman Trent L'ecuyer picked off a pass intended for Thomas, and the Mustangs attempted to put some more points on the board near the end of the game.

Valley Heights got all the way to the Cobras' 19-yard line and had trouble getting into the red zone, with O'Toole falling victim to a sack from Cobra senior Conlan Bruggeman that put the Mustangs at fourth and 16. O'Toole answered with a 20-yard TD pass to Coggins that made the score 35-20 following a successful two-point conversion from Martin with 4:04 to go.

But rather than give the Mustangs another chance to score, the Cobras took advantage of good field position following another failed inside kick from VH and ground the clock down for the win, leaving the Mustangs to close their season with a 6-4 record.

Wick said he was proud of Wareham's improved efforts in the passing game, which gave the Cobras 119 of their total 368 offensive yards, including three touchdowns.

"It's an ongoing process in practice, where we have to work on it each and every day, but Cable's gotten a lot better from Week 1 until now," Wick said. "Friday night was just the proper time to bring the passing game out and run it a little bit more. One thing we need to work on with Cable a little bit more, though, is not being too greedy and trying to go for the big play."

The Cobras also had a good rushing game on the night, with Williams picking up 117 of the team's 249 rushing yards on 17 carries, including two touchdowns, and senior Kolby Rethman — returning to the ranks after three weeks of injury recovery — picking up 44 yards on 10 carries.

"It didn't seem like Kolby lost a beat after being off for three weeks," Wick said.

Bruggeman also did well on both sides of the ball, picking up 41 rushing yards on 12 carries and leading the defense with 15 tackles, including a forced fumble and the fourth-quarter bag on O'Toole. Thomas also picked up 11 tackles, including a sack, and Williams got 10 tackles, including one for a Mustang loss.

Wick said the next big test for the Cobras is just being ready for Friday's game against Colgan.

"We've just got to be ourselves," he said. "They're a smash mouth team, we're a smash mouth team... The biggest thing for us is to not let the trip be a dictator on how we play. We're doing everything in our power to be the same tough team that we normally are."

Little one of 20 state finalists for Wendy's Heisman scholarship

Jackson Heights High School senior Faith Little has been named one of 20 state finalists representing Kansas in the Wendy's High School Heisman Scholarship Contest, it has been reported.

The scholarship, created in 1994 by Dave Thomas, founder of the Wendy's restaurant chain, has honored more than 600,000 of the nation's most esteemed high school seniors who share a passion for "giving back to their communities, treating people with respect, continuing education and excelling on the athletic field."

To be eligible for the scholarship contest, applicants must maintain a 3.0 grade point average and be recognized as "proven leaders and role models within their school and community," according to scholarship officials.

Applicants must also participate in at least one of the 47 school-sponsored sports recognized by the International Olympic Committee in the Summer and Winter Olympic Games or the National Federation of State High School Associations.

Through the scholarship program, a joint venture between Wendy's and the Heisman Trophy Trust, host and custodians of the Heisman Memorial Trophy, a $500 college scholarship will be awarded to one senior male and one senior female from each state. The state winners will be announced on Wednesday, Nov. 7.

Ten national finalists will be selected from the 100 state winners on Thursday, Nov. 8 to represent one senior male and one senior female from each of the five geographic Heisman regions (Kansas is located in Region 2). The national finalists will receive a $1,000 college scholarship.

On Friday, Nov. 9, a judging panel will select one senior male and one senior female from the 10 national finalists as Wendy's High School Heisman National Winners. National award winners will receive a $5,000 college scholarship, as well as national recognition during ESPN's national telecast of the college Heisman Memorial Trophy presentation.

Little was one of two applicants from Jackson County to be considered for the scholarship contest. The other student in the running was Royal Valley High School senior Mary Broxterman, it was reported. For more information, visit www.wendyshighschoolheisman.com

HHS Marching Band competes at Baker U.

By Samantha Auxier
 Freshman Correspondent
 Holton High School

On Wednesday, Oct. 10, the Holton Wildcat marching band, under the direction of Jayme Malsom, traveled to Baker University in Baldwin City for a marching competition.

The band departed at about 12:30 p.m. to arrive at Baker at about 2 p.m. and performed at 3 p.m.

The bus ride to Baker was filled with noise and excitement as the kids were singing their all-time favorite songs and having a good time just being kids.

"It was one of the best trips I've been on," junior Alexys Campbell said.

When the band rived at Baker, it was freezing. Band members had coats on and were shivering. As time drew near, everyone was happy to start marching and to get moving.

The Holton marching band was the last band to play at 3 p.m., but before the band went onto the field, everyone had to warm up.

Members could feel the excitement and nerves before they went onto the field. For freshmen, this was their very first marching competition, as the K-State marching festival was canceled due to poor weather.

"It was a really great experience," said freshman Gaby Cortes, who plans on staying with the program all throughout high school.

The performance consisted of three songs, "We're Not Gonna Take It" by Twisted Sister, "Sweet Child O' Mine" by Guns N' Roses and "Rock 101," a drumline feature.

The Holton marching band was the last band to play at Baker, but still managed to hype up the crowd when they came out. There is a part in "We're Not Gonna Take It" where band members stop playing and start singing the words. While they were singing, the whole crowd joined in and started singing as well.

At the end of the competition, sophomore Allison Campbell's mother bought the whole band hot chocolate. As the kids were sipping their hot chocolate, the scores were announced, and the Holton Marching Band received a 2 rating and second place overall.

"I am proud of our performance and feel that it was the best of the year so far," band director Malsom said. "We have come a very long way since band camp and it's nice to see everything come together."

At a second competition, held at the HHS football field on Wednesday, Oct. 17, the band earned another second-place finish with a 1 rating to conclude the marching competition season.

On Oct. 28, the Pleasant Hill United Methodist Church congregation opened its worship service by singing "We Are Called."

The birthdays for Oct. 28 through Nov. 3 were Jack Unruh, Oct. 28; Patty Chilton, Oct. 29; Skyler Neblett, Oct. 31; and Dennis Pittman, Nov. 3.

The anniversary for the week was Michael and Angie Smith, Oct. 28.

For special music, the adult bell choir played "Chimings Of Great Joy." Those playing bells were Susan Arnold, Betty Domer, Kay Jones-Ray, Alfred Mannell, Danette Martin, Annie McDowell, Barbara Shimmer and Val Warkentine. They were directed by Marjorie O'Konski.

The children's story was given by Kevin McDowell. He had a bouquet of red carnation flowers. He asked, "How would you describe these flowers to a blind person?" One child answered, "They are beautiful and soft."

He told them a lady named Fanny Crosby was blind and she wrote lovely poems. Some of these poems were put to music, therefore we sing some of her songs. When we get to heaven, we will all see Jesus.

The adult hand bell choir and chancel choir played and sang "Shalom," which means "farewell dear friends." We'll see you again. Those playing bells were the same as before except Annie McDowell.

Those singing were Murel Brandenburgh, Jenny Christman, Annie McDowell, Sandy Old, Carol Powell, Billie Winsor, Dave Link, Bruce Tomlinson and John Wilson. They were directed by Marjorie O'Konski.

The adult chancel choir also sang "How Can I Keep From Singing?"

Linda Lanning read scripture from Matthew 5:6-7, 10.

The sermon "Blessed Are... The Righteous And The Merciful" was given by the Rev. Hyun-Jin Cho.

God tells us to repent and not sin. Job was a man who had been blessed with many children and he was rich. Then Job lost everything. The Lord restored the fortunes of Job when he prayed for his friends, and the Lord gave Job twice as much as he had before. The Lord blessed the latter days of Job more than his beginnings. After this, Job lived 140 years. The kingdom of heaven is full of righteous and merciful. Let us save others and go in peace.

Hosea 12:6 says, "But as for you, return to your God, hold fast to love and justice and wait continually for your God."

The closing hymn was "There's A Wideness In God's Mercy." Those assisting with the service were Linda Lanning, liturgist; Marjorie O'Konski, organist; Deb and Matt Mannell, sound system; Kevin McDowell, acolyte; Betty Domer, song leader; and Gary Domer, Sam Martin, Kevin McDowell and Larry Miles, usher team.

On Oct. 22, Rick and Mary Colton, Larry and Barbara Hanson, John and Dorothy Holt and Dorothy Tefft ate breakfast at the Hanover Pancake House in Topeka.

On Oct. 23, Bruce and Linda Lanning, Dick and Beverly Newell and Dennis and Kim Smerchek ate supper at Paisano's restaurant in Topeka.

Jim Dodge (at right in the photo above) recently held a plaque given to Delia Community PRIDE by the Delia Masonic Lodge, which is combining with the Dover Masonic Lodge in the near future, it was reported. The Delia lodge recently sold two historic buildings it had owned, including one that until recently served as the city's post office, where the plaque, which lists Delia residents who served in the military during World War I and World War II, had been hanging for years. It will now be on permanent display at the former Delia Grade School.

Public Notice

(Published in The Holton Recorder, Holton, Kan., on Monday, Nov. 5, 2018.)

Public Notice and Comment Period U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, Region 7

1) Proposed Wastewater (NPDES) Permit No. KS009377
2) Proposed Certification of Compliance with Section 401 of the Clean Water Act

Prairie Band Potawatomi Nation Casino Complex Wastewater Treatment Facility Mayetta, Kansas 66509

This public notice is issued by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, Region 7 (EPA). EPA is seeking comments on: 1) a proposed National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System (NPDES) permit, under Section 402 of the Clean Water Act (CWA), for the discharge of wastewater from the Casino Complex wastewater treatment facility (facility) operated by the Prairie Band Potawatomi Nation, and 2) a certification under Section 401 of the CWA that EPA's proposed NPDES permit for the facility is protective of applicable water quality standards and effluent guidelines and limitations.

EPA is seeking written comments regarding these proposed actions until xxx, 2018. The address for written comments or to request a public hearing is shown below.

BACKGROUND: NPDES permits to discharge wastewater to waters of the United States are issued under Section 402 of the CWA, 33 U.S.C. Section 1342, subject to certain effluent limitations and other conditions. The Prairie Band Potawatomi Nation has applied to EPA for an NPDES permit to discharge treated wastewater from the facility, which consists of an activated sludge wastewater treatment system and a 3-cell lagoon system. The facility discharges treated wastewater to Big Elms Creek, which is within the exterior boundaries of the Prairie Band Potawatomi Nation Indian Reservation. EPA has the authority to issue an NPDES permit for this facility, located and discharging in Indian country. On the basis of information provided to EPA by the Prairie Band Potawatomi Nation, and application of pertinent standards and regulations, EPA proposes to issue NPDES Permit No. KS0093777 to the facility, pursuant to Section 402 of the Clean Water Act, 33 U.S.C. Section 1342.

PROPOSED NPDES PERMIT: The proposed permit would allow treated wastewater from the facility to be discharged to Big Elms Creek. The proposed permit includes technology-based and water quality-based effluent limitations. Additional information regarding this proposed permit is contained in the Administrative Record, which includes the permit application, the proposed permit, the Statement of Basis for the proposed permit, and other pertinent information upon which the proposed permit is based.

CERTIFICATION OF COMPLIANCE WITH CWA SECTION 401: Before EPA may issue the final NPDES permit for the Casino Complex wastewater treatment facility, EPA must certify under Section 401 of the CWA, 33 U.S.C. Section 1341, that the discharge to be authorized by this proposed permit will comply with the requirements of Sections 301, 302, 303, 306, and 307 of the CWA, including applicable water quality standards and effluent guidelines and limitations. EPA has reviewed the applicable water quality standards and effluent guidelines, and has included limitations and conditions in the permit to ensure compliance with such requirements, as described in the proposed permit and Statement of Basis. At this time, EPA seeks public comments regarding its intent to certify that the discharge authorized under NPDES Permit No. KS009377 will not violate applicable water quality standards or effluent guidelines and limitations.

ADMINISTRATIVE RECORD AVAILABILITY: The Administrative Record and other information concerning EPA's proposed NPDES permit are available for review from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., Monday through Friday, at the Waste Water & Infrastructure Management Branch (WIMB), EPA Region 7, 11201 Renner Boulevard, Lenexa, KS 66219 (Attention: Lisa Stufflebeam, Phone: 913-551-7051; or Alex Owutaka, Phone: 913-551-7584). Copies of these documents are also available at the Prairie Band Potawatomi Nation Environmental Office, 15434 K Road, Mayetta, KS 66509 (Attention: Virginia LaClere, Phone: 785-966-2946).

For more information about available documents, please call Alex Owutaka, EPA Region 7, at 913-551-7584 or toll-free at 1-800-223-0425.

HOW TO PROVIDE COMMENTS: Interested persons may submit written comments regarding these proposed actions by EPA or submit a written request for a public hearing on the proposed permit. Any request for a public hearing must state the nature of the issues that the requester proposes to raise at the hearing. EPA's rules and procedures governing the issuance of NPDES permits, the public comment period, and public hearings on proposed NPDES permits are found at 40 Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) Parts 25 and 124, and are also available for review in the Administrative Record for the proposed permit. All written comments and any requests for a public hearing must be submitted by xxx, 2018, to Glenn Curtis, Chief, Waste Water & Infrastructure Management Branch (WIMB), EPA 28.5 Region 7, 11201 Renner Boulevard, Lenexa, KS 66219.

Halloween Parade

The Holton Elementary School held its annual Halloween parade around the Holton Square on Wednesday afternoon. In the top photo, students are shown parading around the Square dressed as artists, monsters and other creative characters.

In the photo above, members of the Holton Middle School band are shown as they lead the parade downtown. After the parade, a special trick-or-treating event was held at many businesses around the Square with more than 800 kids participating from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Road conditions discussed

The conditions of some Jackson County roads used by area school buses and delivery trucks were called into question during a recent Jackson County Commission meeting.

During a special meeting on Friday, Oct. 12, the commissioners discussed several road issues with Kelly and Joe Kennedy, Larry and Doug Amon, Jimmy Lovvorn and Mark Grollmes, who was representing USD 335 transportation.

The men said that, in their opinion, the man hours used to lay chip-and-seal this summer have caused the rock roads to be neglected.

One of their main concerns was G Road, which is traveled by both Holton and Jackson Heights school buses two or three times per day. There is a bridge on the road that they said they think is unsafe.

Dan Barnett, road and bridge director, joined the meeting and agreed that the bridge on that road needs to be looked at, however, the bridge is located on the Prairie Band Potawatomi Reservation and it's the nation's responsibility, Barnett said.

Grollmes stated that he has difficulty traveling down some roads on his bus route and that it is not safe for the kids. He said he turned in his route map to the road and bridge office so they could have those roads maintained for the bus routes.

Lovvorn stated that the drivers of his freight truck deliveries have been calling ahead of time to find out if the road is passable. If not, he drives to the highway to meet them and get his shipments.

Barnett explained that the very dry season followed by the excessive rainfall has left the roads in poor condition, and it will take time to get them back in order.

The men said that they feel the roads have deteriorated over the last five years or so and that it is not just this season. They questioned whether the county could upload GPS for the motor graders to the website so residents could track them in real time.

Barnett said that the motor graders have GPS, but there is an hour or so delay and it is not set up for the public to view.

Kelly Kennedy stated that he would prefer all-weather rock roads over chip-and-seal roads.

Barnett said he would look into the roads, and in the future, he told the men to call his office or him personally with their concerns about road and bridge conditions.

Also during the meeting, the commissioners reviewed and approved bills and payroll to be paid, as well as approved the 2019 holiday schedule for county employees.

The meeting, which began at 9 a.m., adjourned at 11 a.m.

FCCLA stays busy at Holton High School

By Taylor Moore
Freshman Correspondent
Holton High School

The students of Holton High School will be participating in a community service project put on by FCCLA (Family, Career and Community Leaders of America). FCCLA is a student-led organization for young men and women in Family and Consumer Science (FACS) education.

FCCLA members have been working hard to make a difference in their families, careers and communities. Every month FCCLA puts on a community service project.

This month's service project is SOCKTOBER #FCCLACARES. During SOCKTOBER students collect new socks for those in need. Any and all sizes and colors are accepted. Students in each CRT (Career Readiness Time) class will be competing with other CRT classes to see who collects the most socks. Whichever class wins will celebrate with a prize during their CRT class.

Students will be practicing skills they learn in CRT while donating to this project. Currently, they have been discussing respect for others and community service during this time. Community service plays a big part in this project, allowing students to give to others.

Why socks? Socks are among the most needed items of clothing, and they don't get donated often.

"It is a wonderful experience to help someone out that is in need. It makes me have a great day when I know that I helped someone out," freshman Macey Gross said.

There will be many monthly FCCLA service projects throughout this school year. Some of the projects that FCCLA has planned are a food drive, "Donate to the Dogs," "Adopt A Family This Christmas," candy bags and many more to be decided.

"These are the service projects we have planned at this point and we are still gathering student input to finish out the year," sponsor Amy Oldehoeft said.

HHS Correspondent Holton students enjoy rocket class

By Jaymee Howe
Freshman Correspondent
Holton High School

In early October, Jennifer Bottom's earth and space science classes started building bottle rockets. The rockets consist of one to two two-liter pop bottles, cardboard fins, a center of gravity and duct tape to put it all together.

Students in science classes are excited about the project and can't wait to launch their rockets.

Freshmen are coming up with creative ways to build these rockets. Students have wrapped the bottles in duct tape that has color and/or patterns on it. Most of the rockets are about a foot tall. Some students have made cones on the top of their rocket out of file paper, a pop bottle or clay and duct tape.

The students have been taking safety, construction and launch tests to prepare for everything. Students had to score 100 percent on all tests to pass and be able to start and launch their rockets. Classes held their first launch between Oct. 15-20.

The students will write reports about their rockets and how they launched. The report will have questions about the distance each went, how high it went, the angle of the peak, etc. The report will be 20 percent of the student's grade.

On Wednesday, Oct. 17, Bottom's white day classes shot their rockets. Students filled their rockets halfway with water and started walking to the track. Every three students put the nozzle cap on the rockets and prepared to shoot them off.

Students had their safety goggles on, the angle shooter in one hand, and the launcher in the other. As they pulled the trigger, the rockets shot up spraying a path of water behind them.

"I look forward to this project because I love seeing students build the rockets and the outcome of the launch," Bottom said.

Snyder crowned Halloween Queen

Holton High School senior Sydney Snyder, competing as Miss Holton, was named the 2018 Hiawatha Halloween Queen last Wednesday during the 104th annual Halloween Frolic. A total of 12 area girls competed for the title.

As the winner, Snyder will receive a $1,000 scholarship. She is the daughter of Tanner and Jessica Snyder.

Some of her honors include student council president, cheer captain and National Honor Society.

In high school, Snyder has been involved in choir, SADD and Seatbelts Are For Everyone. She plans to attend Kansas State University and major in biology.

The first runner-up and winner of a $500 scholarship was Norea Menold, Miss Rural Hiawatha, who is a senior at Sabetha High School.

Josie Santos, Miss Everest and a senior at Horton High School, was named Miss Congeniality and will receive a $250 scholarship.

The girls were judged on an essay, leadership, community involvement, judges' interview and scholastic achievements.

Other candidates included Abby Unghans of Axtell, Aubriana Gugelman of Bern, Hunter Lowdermilk of Fairview, Robin Madere of Hiawatha, Bella Eppens of Reserve, Shayna Straham of Sabetha, Madeline Rogers of Seneca, Isobel Langham of Topeka and Chantel Duncan of Troy.

Employers to pay lower unemployment tax in 2019

Kansas' unemployment insurance trust fund reached a positive balance surpassing $800 million in July, representing a full solvency level, it was reported.

With this solvency level, most Kansas employers will pay reduced unemployment tax rates in 2019 for the first time since major unemployment reforms were enacted in 2014, according to Lana Gordon, secretary of labor.

The unemployment insurance trust fund is administered by the Kansas Department of Labor and is solely used to pay unemployment insurance benefits to eligible workers. It is financed by Kansas employers that are covered under the program.

"This safety net for workers who lose work through no fault of their own is very important to preventing economic insecurity," Gordon said. "Thanks to the contributions of Kansas employers and the strength of the Kansas economy, the trust fund is solvent."

The Kansas unemployment insurance trust fund was depleted over the last several years in Kansas, triggering borrowing from the federal government. Kansas quickly repaid its debt and enacted a series of unemployment insurance reforms that promoted greater protection from fraud and abuse of the system.

"The unemployment insurance trust fund has been on the right trajectory for the past eight years," Gordon said. "We look forward to continued job growth in Kansas."

Kansas employers should receive their 2019 tax notices with reduced rates in the mail within the next week.

More information on the unemployment insurance trust fund can be found on the Kansas Labor Information Center (KLIC) at KLIC.dol.ks.gov and clicking on "Unemployment Insurance Data and Information."

Jackson Heights High School students rehearse a scene from their upcoming play, "Game Of Tiaras," to be presented this weekend on the JHHS stage. Clockwise from upper left: Grace Linck, Ian Anderson, Nate Linck, Hunter Sturgeon, Wyatt Bacon and Trinity McMahon.

"Game Of Tiaras" ...

Little Mermaid (Kassidi Strathman), Pocahontas (Sadie Raborn) and Aurora (Ali Teter) also make appearances in "Game Of Tiaras."

"Oddly enough, we had the perfect number of girls trying out for all of the princess parts, and they were good matches for their characters," Crawford said. "These girls have been in past plays, so our boys are younger but our girls are a little more experienced. They've all done really well."

Some students involved in the production play more than one character, including Linck, who, in addition to Snow White, also plays "Talking Candleman" and one of Ellie's guards, while Keehn plays "Animated Snowman" in addition to Belle. Ian Anderson, Nate Linck and Emilee Smith also play multiple roles, Crawford said.

"We had a few kids had to play more than one part, but we just kind of made up for it by saying, 'Well, it's a spoof,'" she said. "The more creative it is, the funnier it is. We haven't really taken anything too seriously if it hasn't gone exactly as it should."

Other cast members include

Wyatt Bacon, Indiana Crawford, Devin Mock, Alex Rollins and Wyatt Rollins. Jenna McAllister and Annie Allen also appear as the play's narrators.

Crawford also cited the work of two parent volunteers in preparing the play — Ange Allen, who assembled the play's costumes, and Mike Crawford, who was involved in set construction and painting.

The play runs about an hour and a half with a short intermission, it was reported, and tickets are $5 at the door. For more information, call the school at 364-2195.

Increase in license processing fee OK'd

By Ali Holcomb

The processing fee for driver's license renewals issued in the Jackson County Treasurer's Office has been increased from $2 to $5.

During a recent Jackson County Commission meeting, Linda Gerhardt, county treasurer, proposed the $3 increase to the county fee, and the commissioners unanimously approved a motion to set the fee at $5. The fee is now in effect.

"That's the only money the county keeps for processing drivers' licenses," Gerhardt said. "We're getting more out of county residents coming here for their license. It takes time away from other office business, and I think it's worth the $5 to help cover costs."

Gerhardt said the $2 processing fee had been in place for more than five years.

Driver's license renewal fees set by the state vary depending on the type of license, as well as the age of the driver, Gerhardt said. The county's fee is added to the state fee when people pay for their license.

The treasurer's office, located in Room 206 on the second floor of the Jackson County Courthouse, processes driver's license renewals from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Tuesday through Friday. The office only renews regular driver's licenses. The office can also issue IDs, process changes of address, remove or add certain license restrictions and replace lost of stolen licenses or IDs.

In other business, according to the approved minutes of Oct. 22, the commission:

* Met with Mixie Vance, noxious weed and environmental services director, who discussed the guidelines required by the Kansas Department of Health and Environment in order for the county to establish a possible shooting range at the landfill.

Vance said that building a shooting range with utilities would require her to update the county's landfill plan and could potentially result in the loss of future landfill space.

Commissioner Janet Zwonitzer requested a copy of the current landfill plan.

* Heard a weekly report from Dan Barnett, road and bridge administrator.

* Met in executive session for five minutes with Barnett to discuss a personnel matter. No action was taken back in open session.

* Met with John Kennedy, Banner Creek Reservoir director, who submitted weekly revenues as follows:

* Sept. 30 – Oct. 6, $1,188.
* Oct. 7 – 13, $672.
* Oct. 14 – 20, $3,122.75.

Commissioner Bill Elmer asked Kennedy about the leaking hydrants at the camp sites and a light pole that is out.

Kennedy reported that the hydrants only leak when turned on. He has repaired one and put bags on the others until he fixes them in the spring.

The south side camping area will close on Nov. 5, and the north side will remain open, it was reported. The water will be shut off when the temperature drops below 32 degrees and the campground "A" restroom and fish cleaning station will remain open through October.

* Met with Garrett Nordstrom, grant writer, David Jasper, KANZA CEO, and Virginia Freese, director of business operations for KANZA, to discuss a Community Block Development Grant they plan to reapply for.

KANZA is seeking $248,250 in grant funds. This is the third time the organization has sought grant funds.

The grant, if awarded, will be used to continue renovations to the KANZA office at 713 Idaho St. in Holton.

If KANZA receives the grant, the commissioners agreed to support the organization and allow the funds to be funneled through the county and allocated by a grant administrator.

* Met with Anna Wilhelm of the Jackson County Tourism Council, who discussed the historic area located near Straight Creek on Q4 Road. The easement contains a model cabin and silhouettes representing the Battle of the Spurs and Underground Railroad.

There is a roadside historical marker located off U.S. Highway 75 and 286th Road related to the historic area, but Wilhelm said the area is overgrown and needs maintenance.

Wilhelm asked the commissioners to look at the property and to assist with cleaning it up.

* Met with Jackson County Sheriff Tim Morse and Deputy Dennis Immenschuh to discuss the proposed shooting range plans at the landfill property.

* Approved a motion to enter into agreement with Mize & Houser for the 2018 audit.

* Signed a request and petition to allow Telcom Construction to occupy a county right-of-way to bore under P Road.

* Adjourned the meeting at 4:24 p.m. All three commissioners were present.
