The first radish of the season has been harvested from the garden, setting the scene for another successful season at Royal Valley High School.

This was the first year I grew Myra’s purple sweet potato. This root has definitely not the last time I’ll try growing this vegetable. It was well worth the effort to slice into yummy pieces and to market said that they grow through the winter and into early spring. They are versatile and can be used as a side dish, in salads, or as a garnish.

Jim Birkbeck’s positive influence locally spanned nearly 50 years

The long term, positive impact that Jim Birkbeck had in our Holton and Jackson County community will be remembered for a very long time. Jim was one of those rare individuals that we can say that we report the death of very rarely.

Every major local community improvement project and project over the last four decades, including the Holton Community Hospital, the local school district, the concerned about the south side of Holton for his customers and watching to ensure the success of his bank to take leadership of local community. I remember shared with me his thoughts on the local community. I remember asked for a loan. With the loan was secured, Jim told me about the background check he had for him, and that over the next few years, other banks that were excited to have in the community. Jim was impressed with the number of people that need of people that Jim knew as friends in every stage of life.

Jim later introduced me to his sons and, my family, and we sponsored me as a new club member. Jim was a humble and down-to-earth man who is our only way back up. What is our only way back up. What must we do?

But the trend of the day was for the rural population is shrinking and the number of students in the 1950s decreased. Immediate consolidation is needed. We must gear up our military for both nuclear and conventional wars.

Tips on shopping winter sales

On the weather outside is frightful. Rather than succumb to cabin fever, you can use the winter months as the perfect time to visit area stores and score a few deals.

Here are a few tips that will ensure you make the most of the sales season:

1. Start shopping well before the sales season kicks off. This will allow you to shop at your own pace and avoid the crowds.
2. Look for sales that are advertised in local newspapers and online. This will help you stay informed about the latest deals.
3. Take advantage of buy-one-get-one-free sales and discounts.
4. Pay attention to the end dates of sales. Some sales may be extended or may have limited quantities.
5. Avoid impulse buying. Stick to your shopping list and avoid purchasing items that you don’t need.
6. Be patient. If an item is on sale, wait for the next sale before making a purchase.
7. Consider purchasing last season’s products. These may be heavily discounted and still offer great value.

Family meals are vital for kids’ development

Family meals provide groundings and a “connection” to family life. We know from research that a family that eats together is less likely to be obese, that family meals help kids stay out of trouble, that family meals help kids sleep better, and that family meals reduce stress.

Family meals benefit kids in many ways. They reduce stress, help kids sleep better, improve relationships, and have been shown to reduce the risk of obesity. They also help kids stay out of trouble and improve academic performance.

Family meals are beneficial for children of all ages. They can be as simple as a quick meal at home or as elaborate as a family dinner out. The key is to make sure that family meals are a regular part of your child’s routine.

Tips on hosting family meals

1. Make sure that the kitchen is clean and organized before the meal.
2. Set the table with nice plates, utensils, and napkins.
3. Serve a variety of foods that your child will enjoy.
4. Engage in conversation during the meal.
5. Encourage your child to try new foods.

Mayetta Methodist Church

By Joyce Cochren

July 15-16 was the congregational reading as worship service at Mayetta Christian Church, opening on Dec. 1. "Angels We Have Heard On High," "O Holy Night" and "In the Garden of Eden" were sung by Lauren Harris and Aline and Bob Morse leading singing.

The children were shown a flower plant that had experienced frost. Aline had planted it in a flower pot, but after a few days in the warmth, it began to show signs of new life. We hope for new life in Jesus now, and the promise of eternal life in our future because of the birth of our Savior. Cooper Ma-worthy for the candle, the first reading was chosen by Carol Pollock.

Prayers were shared for a time to focus on Thanksgiving for the blessings we sometimes take for granted. For happiness, immortality shown through picture, for the entire world in the holiday season. After Pastor Coleman gives the announcement, the congregation sang "The First Noel" and "O Come O Come Emmanuel.

Lake 1:5-11 was the scripture reading. The congregation was challenged, "Are You Burdened?" Zacharias was broken with the news and at that time it was thought of as a punishment from God. Most likely, they had prayed for years that they would have a child, someone to help them for their old age, as was the custom then. That would have broken their hearts. This Is the consummation age and may have given up hope of their prayer being answered.

Zacchaeus was faithfully carrying out his proper duties to God in the temple on an ordinary day when an angel appeared and gave him news. They would have no ordinary life. He would be lifted up to God in the Highest, the way for the version: Satan was lifted and the blessing far greater than expected.

We may have burdens of illness, sin, financial problems or relational problems, and have been praying for what seems a long time, for the burdens to be lifted. We often think God is not listening or not moving fast enough. Through our hope, fulfillments in prayer and service to God, we receive the victory of faith, and the message is to come to Jesus so that his will be done and let God do the greater than we have expected.

Matthew 26:20-30 was the scripture reading and "When I Survey The Wondrous Cross," "I know whom I have believed" and "Our Father" were sung. The only way to lift the burden of sin was the hymn of invitation. After the singing, everyone stood and "You’re A Good, Good Father" was sung. Following worship, the church was decorated for Christmas and music was served for lunch. On Dec. 15, we will combine monthly prayer and communion with our family. The DelToros will provide food for all. It will be the time for the burdens to be lifted rather than walk around town, come and join us!"
