

Sunday liquor sales OK'd

■ Residents have 61 days to file a protest petition to force a public vote

By Brian Sanders

Sunday beer and liquor sales are permitted by law in many of Holton's neighboring cities, including Mayetta and Hoyt.

On Monday, the Holton City Commission took action to authorize package liquor stores in the city to sell beer, wine and liquor on Sundays as well.

An ordinance authorizing Sunday sales of liquor and cereal malt beverages in Holton received the commission's approval on a 5-0 vote, but the ordinance will not become law for 61 days, during which time Holton residents may file a protest petition to force a public vote on Sunday beer and liquor sales.

Barring a protest, Sunday beer and liquor sales will be permitted in Holton starting 61 days after final publication of the ordinance in The Holton Recorder, or mid-to-late November. The first of the ordinance's required two publications may be found on Page 15 of today's Recorder.

Holton City Manager Kerwin McKee said the city had recently received a request from Arcada Liquor owner Jim Myers to allow Sunday beer and liquor sales, allowing Arcada and other liquor stores in Holton to sell package liquor on "the same days that cereal malt beverage can be sold."

"Other surrounding cities already do it, like Mayetta and Hoyt," McKee said. "I feel like we're leaving some money on the table here, because folks that want to get a six-pack of beer on a Sunday are driving to our neighbors to get it."

Commissioner Dan Brenner made the motion to approve the ordinance, noting Myers' request of the commission earlier this summer to grant retail liquor store owners "a level playing field" in a world of "bigger companies" that can now sell "strong beer" in Kansas. Brenner's motion was seconded by Marilyn Watkins and approved unanimously.

According to the ordinance, beer and liquor may be sold within the city limits between

HCT to present "Morbid Curiosity"

By Ali Holcomb

Holton Community Theatre will present "Morbid Curiosity," a romantic ghost story, as its fall production on Oct. 12 and 13.

The play was written by Shannon Reilly, artistic director at Topeka Civic Theatre, and performed at TCT in 2017.

HCT director Shannon Wittmer worked alongside Reilly last year on two different musicals for TCT, and he suggested "Morbid Curiosity" to her.

"He was eager to see another theatre put it on," Wittmer said.

"This play is a ghost story/love story at heart, and it is a comedy drama. An old mansion will be up for sale soon and a conniving realtor brother is trying to dupe his younger brother and new wife into purchasing the house for a bed and breakfast. The new wife can see dead people and soon sees a ghost. The friendly ghost, Wilbur, is stuck at the old house because the love of his life told him to stay there before he died."

Wittmer said the play also includes a fortune teller, a séance and other events that lead up to the big question - Will Wilbur finally move on from being a ghost and reconnect to his long-lost love?

"People should come to see this play because it's a partnership of sorts and continued friendship between HCT and TCT," Wittmer said. "It is a wonderfully funny and thoughtful ghost story. It is a longer play than we have done in the past, and the set, lights and sound are more profound for this play."

The play coincides with Fall Fest weekend and the annual chili cook-off. A dinner theatre will be held at 6 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 12, at Penny's and a matinee will be performed at 2 p.m. on Sunday, Oct. 13.

"We felt people could make a day of it in Holton, supporting the community," she said.

Jennifer Taylor

Jennifer Taylor, 35, of Holton is seeking the position one seat on the USD 336 Holton board of education in the Nov. 5 general election. Incumbent Rex Frazier is seeking re-election to the same position.

"I believe high quality schools are important for both the community and the students," Frazier said. "I want our schools to provide a wide range of opportunities with strenuous academic rigor so our students will have success after they graduate."

Frazier has worked for Denison State Bank since 2000 where he currently serves as vice president. He also is a

City issues bonds for HCH improvements

By Brian Sanders

Last December, the Holton City Commission agreed to act as a "conduit" through which Holton Community Hospital would receive more than $14 million in funds for the hospital's expansion and renovation project.

On Monday, city commissioners approved an ordinance authorizing the city to issue "hospital loan anticipation revenue bonds" in the amount of $14,615,000 for the hospital's expansion project, which the city will hold for about two years while the hospital awaits the issuance of a loan from USDA Rural Development for the project.

Commissioners also approved a resolution authorizing the redemption and payment of bonds issued in February of 2015 for hospital improvements and refinancing of bonds used for construction and improvements at the hospital and construction of the hospital's health clinic in Hoyt.

Sarah Steele of Gilmore and Bell of Wichita, acting as bond counsel for the city, reminded commissioners that the new revenue bonds were being issued "in anticipation of a longer loan from Rural Development," which will issue a loan to the hospital to cover the costs of building and equipping an addition to the hospital.

Hospital CEO Carrie Saia reminded commissioners that more than $2 million has been raised through donations and pledges for the expansion project, with that amount established by the hospital to meet a Rural Development requirement for the $14.6-million loan that would cover most of the expansion project's costs.

Both the ordinance and the resolution were approved on 4-0 commission votes, with Commissioner Dan Brenner, a member of the hospital's board of directors, abstaining from each vote.

In other business on Monday, commissioners approved an updated policy for camping at Prairie Lake that allows retired city employees and retired volunteer firefighters who have

JAG-K education programs earning top national honors

Jobs for America's Graduates-Kansas (JAG-K) representatives have announced that, for the fifth consecutive year, JAG-K has earned the Jobs for America's Graduates 5 of 5 Award.

The 5 of 5 Award is bestowed upon those JAG programs that meet or exceed the performance measures in five categories: graduation rate, successful outcomes, employment, post-secondary enrollment and job placement.

JAG has a 12-month follow-up period with all seniors as part of its successful evidence-based, data-driven national model. Seven JAG-K regions and 35 JAG-K programs, including Royal Valley High School, also earned the 5 of 5 Award. JAG-K students had a graduation rate of 98 percent for the Class of 2018.

"The JAG model has proven that all students, regardless of barriers, can be successful leaders and reach their full potential," said JAG-K President and CEO Chuck Knapp. "The 5 of 5 Award is important because it shows our JAG-K students are meeting and exceeding goals. While a 98 percent graduation rate is impressive, we are also pleased that 90 percent of our graduates are on a successful career path."

JAG-K is a nationally accredited in-school program that teaches students career and leadership development skills, requires community service, provides time for academic remediation and ensures students master a minimum of 37 core life-skill competencies.

The learning strategies of the national JAG model are primarily introduced through project based learning. JAG-K has been a leader within the national organization for implementing project based learning.

JAG-K is a 501(c)3 not-for-profit organization that partners with students facing various barriers to success, helping them graduate high school and pursue a successful career path. JAG-K currently has 79 programs in 41 Kansas school districts, serving approximately 4,000 students.

The organization starts the 2019-20 school year with new programs in Colby, McPherson and Russell. Knapp indicated there is currently a waiting list of school districts requesting a JAG-K program.

Funding for the program primarily comes from a Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) grant, administered by the Kansas Department for Children and Families (DCF).

JAG-K is an affiliate of the national Jobs for America's Graduates program that started in 1980 and has 35 affiliate organizations across the country. In addition to school districts, JAG-K partners with DCF and the Kansas State Department of Education.

JAG-K also receives private funds from contributors, including Taco Bell Foundation, AT&T and John Deere Coffeyville Works. Anyone interested in more information about JAG-K may visit the website at www.jagkansas.org.

Leaders list three skills for schools to focus attention on

At a recent meeting of the Holton school board, there was some discussion about the district's plans to be part of an education-redesign pilot program in the state.

This year, it was announced Holton teaching staff and administrative leaders are formulating the plan for redesigning education here starting next school term primarily at the high school level.

The "No Child Left Behind" era of public education, including stringent tabulation of test scores and progress graphs showing improvement by numbers, is behind us now and there is a concerted effort at the high school level and middle school level – at least – to include more and more focus on possible future career pathways for our young people.

The school board learned at its meeting that business and industry leaders continue to report that three skills continue to be lacking in high school grads, two-year college grads and four-year college grads.

Those three skills that are reported to be lacking in the new additions to the workforce are the following:

- *Professionalism/work ethic.
- *Teamwork/collaboration.
- *Verbal communication.

"We need to make some changes in education because 56 percent of our kids being successful is not good enough," Supt. Bob Davies said to the board, referring to studies that track kids' five-year graduation averages, success averages and effectiveness averages.

OPINION

"Too many kids are still going through the system just to get through," Davies said. Schools can do a better job of helping kids find careers that they are passionate about, are good at and can make a good living wage with," he added.

The key to happiness in adult life is finding a good career that you are passionate about, are good at and can make a good living at.

Supt. Davies is right about how 56 percent of our kids being successful after five years is not good enough.

Davies said the Kansas State Board of Education defines school success as providing a high school graduate with the following:

- *Academic preparation.
- *Cognitive preparation.
- *Technical skills.
- *Employability skills.
- *Civic engagement.

School redesign focuses on student success skills, community partnerships, personalized learning with structure and real-world applications, Davies said.

These are things that, as a community, we can all support.

One thing that our area schools continue to have going for them is a high level of student participation in extracurricular activities. The importance of these extra activities like sports, clubs, band, school play, etc. in the overall development of our young people cannot be overstated.

Growing up in smaller communities like ours has its educational values. It's good to learn that even more focus is going to be made on helping kids explore possible careers in high school and middle school.

PLAINS FOLK: Dutch Henry the horse thief

By Jim Hoy

There were at least two late 19th century outlaws named Dutch Henry, but then I suppose that back on the frontier almost any man named Henry who talked with a German accent might have been called Dutch Henry.

Both Dutch Henrys were horse thieves. One (Henry Jauch) operated in Montana and western Canada and was known for his skill in riding, roping, storytelling and his sense of humor. He died in 1906, perhaps murdered or shot by a lawyer.

Dutch Henry Borne (or Bourne or Born) operated in the Great Plains and lived to a ripe old age. He was born in 1849 to German immigrants in Wisconsin, moved with them as a boy to Michigan and sometime in the later 1860s joined and quit the U.S. Cavalry.

Whatever his dissatisfaction with the army, it apparently caused him to steal 20 government mules, for which he was sentenced to prison at Fort Smith, Ark.

He escaped after only three months, and by 1869 he was in Kansas hunting buffalo. In 1874, he was at Adobe Walls in the Texas Panhandle when it was attacked by Kiowa and Comanche.

During the battle, he was said to have shot and killed a black bugler who was part of the attacking force of Indians.

Soon thereafter, he again joined up with the cavalry, this time as a civilian scout for Custer. That didn't last long because he didn't like Custer, calling him "the meanest man I ever knew."

By 1875, he had found his true calling of stealing Indian horses and government mules; he claimed never to have stolen a white man's horse. (A doubtful claim.)

He is reputed to have headed an organization that may have numbered as many as 300 men operating in Kansas, New Mexico, eastern Colorado and the Texas Panhandle.

One ranch Borne did not bother was Charles Goodnight's JA in the Palo Duro Canyon. In 1877, Goodnight met with Dutch Henry and warned him to stay north of the Salt Fork of the Red River, the boundary of the JA. And Borne did.

In late 1878, Las Animas County Sheriff R.W. Wooten arrested Borne for stealing horses and mules. Bat Master-son showed up with a warrant charging Borne with grand larceny and took him to Dodge City for trial, but he was acquitted. Then Arkansas authorities put him back in prison for his earlier mule theft, but by the late 1880s he was prospecting for gold in Creede, Colo.

It was at about this time that Dutch Henry went straight. He bought a quarter section of land near Pagosa Springs in the 1890s, married his childhood sweetheart Ida Dillabaugh at the turn of the century, had four children, and opened a fishing resort and trout hatchery at what became known as Born's Lake.

With his wild and woolly past behind him, Dutch Henry didn't talk much about his past, saying that he'd "had all the killing he wanted."

He didn't even keep a gun in the house during the last years of his life. He died of pneumonia on Jan. 10, 1921.

Borne's reputation was such that a stolen horse was often referred to as a Dutch Henry. And he was so good that he is said to have one time stolen a sheriff's horse, then sold it back to him. If that's so, then the sheriff must have been either been nearsighted or an inept stockman not to have recognized his own horse.

GARDENER'S CORNER: Seeing the garden like kids

By Sandra M. Siebert

On a beautiful September Sunday morning, a little girl (whose name is the same as that of a nut-bearing tree) visited my garden with her mother and sister.

As is usual when people visit, I invited them to take home some of the garden's abundance.

They went in search of cucumbers and the long, deeply colored "Chinese red noodle beans."

Mom expressed wonder at the length and color of the beans and we discussed how to use them, while the little girl and her sister searched the long bean vines entangled with morning glory vines blooming purple.

The little girl pounced upon one long and bumpy bean, in which the seeds had swelled toward maturity. At that stage I usually put them in the compost. Some people like them "beanie" and even use them as fresh shell beans. But I prefer mine less mature.

The little girl, however, insisted on picking and keeping this particular long bean. When her mother said something about cooking it for dinner, the little girl protested.

"I want to keep it!" She hugged it to her shoulder in the same way she hugs the teddy bear she was carrying.

She had made a pet of the long bean.

Ah, to view the world through the eyes of a young child.

At one time, on every visit, our grandkids insisted on going through the garden turning over rocks looking for snakes. (They grow up so fast! The kids, I mean – probably the snakes, too.) One day, disappointed that they didn't find any snakes, they uncovered a crowd of roly-polies. This delighted them as much, or even more than, finding a garter snake.

The grandkids insisted on keeping a few in captivity (temporarily, of course; roly-polies deserve to run free). The creatures entertained the kids for quite some time.

Through the eyes of a child, the ordinary becomes extraordinary.

Recently, grasshoppers have entertained visiting children, making them a bit nervous (it feels weird when they land on you), as well as fascinating them. Dozens of tiny frogs hop from hidden places as we walk through the garden. The youngsters always want to catch them, just to hold the tiny miracles.

Through the eyes of a child, everything is wondrous and alive, magical, mysterious, miraculous...

You don't have to have young eyes to see this, just openness and wonder in the heart, the perspective that everything is new and glorious, mysterious and miraculous.

We can do it, whether we're nine or 90.

But for most of us, the wonder was trained out long ago. We "don't have time" to pay attention, to look for snakes under rocks or catch frogs just to look them in the eye. I get so focused on "getting things done" that I don't take time to notice, to see the magic surrounding me. I get so focused on getting to the next task that every time the hose kinks, or I misplace a tool (no matter how briefly), or something else gets in my way I get annoyed. Grrr...

I wind up feeling like a cranky old lady. (Get off my lawn!)

It doesn't have to be that way.

It only takes a moment to pause and look up. Remember lying on the grass and pointing out shapes in the clouds? (Did it seem to you that clouds always looked like ducks?)

Or going out at dusk to chase lightning bugs to put in a jar. I wanted to gather enough that I could take them to my room and read by their light. It never worked, but I didn't stop believing it would.

Today I still go out into the darkness to watch fireflies dancing. I don't chase them, but I drink in the scene like someone taking water after a long time in the desert. I am here, now, just me and flashing lights against the night. Magical. Miraculous.

It only takes a moment. A moment to say "hello" to the little green tree frog nestled in the accidental hammock of the shade cloth draped over the young kale. (Is it condescending to call it "sweetheart?")

It only takes a moment to look up to watch the vultures soaring effortlessly high overhead and imagine what it would be like to ride on one's

A moment to look closely at the interesting caterpillar, or watch a butterfly float lazily by and wonder where it's going, to talk to the trees and the birds...

Recently, I went out to check how much rain had fallen. Rain drops hung from every leaf, hung from the rabbit fencing around the sweet potatoes, shimmered in the gray morning light. Did you know that if you look really, really closely at a drop of water hanging from a leaf, you can see the world reflected in it upside down? How is that not amazing?

Then I looked up at the clouds. Is that a bird shape? (No, not a duck.) A dove maybe. The wing morphed into a head and neck. No, a goose. (Not a duck.)

I can do this. The little girl that lives inside sighed with relief. I can do this.

Later, when harvesting vegetables, I'll keep an eye open for a long bean sufficiently long and knobby. (Honey, look what followed me home. Can I keep it?)

It doesn't take a lot of time to see the world with freshness and awe, just a new perspective and a different angle.

I remember lying on our picnic table, my head hanging over the edge so the world was upside down. It became an entirely new landscape. A different perspective. Stand on your head.

I think I'll name my long bean "Joy."

OBITUARIES

Immanuel Lutheran

By Esther L. Ideker

The 14th Sunday after Pentecost worship service at Immanuel Lutheran Church on Sept. 15 opened with the first two verses of "Lord Jesus Christ, Be Present Now."

Following the Invocation, Confession of Sins and Absolution, Psalm 119:169-176 was read responsively.

The Old Testament Lesson and Epistle Lesson were read by Elder Tex Manuel, following the Gloria Patri, Kyrie, Gloria in Excelsis and Collect of the Day. The references were from Ezekiel Chapter 34 and 1 Timothy Chapter 1.

Pastor Michael J. Van Velzer read the Holy Gospel of the day from Luke 15:1-10. The congregation professed the Nicene Creed. The sermon hymn was the third verse of "Lord Jesus Christ, Be Present Now."

Pastor Van Velzer continued the series of sermons on The Lord's Prayer with the last petition, "Deliver Us From Evil." This may be called a summary petition; in other words, the seventh petition includes petitions one through six in it.

"Evil" is what stands in the way of and hinders: God's name being hallowed; God's will being done; and God's kingdom coming.

What is it that causes hunger and the basic necessities of "daily bread," in summary, it is evil. What hardens our hearts so that we will not receive "the forgiveness for our trespasses - against evil."

What leads us into temptation - in summary, it is evil. In summary means that if God were to only answer this seventh petition of this prayer, He would answer them all. And that's just the point of this petition - He has, He does and He will.

In this final petition, Jesus sends us out into the world that is so saturated with evil and so dangerous, as soldiers being deployed for battle. We are surrounded by danger on every side and even from within. But we are not afraid. Our Lord gives us words to pray, "Deliver us from evil," with the assurance that it is already done. And so we come to the end of this series on the Lord's Prayer. It is a marvelous gift that our Lord has given to us. As the prayer began, we were little children, who in innocent confidence, delight in calling upon our heavenly Father as dear children call upon their dear father.

We come to the end of the prayer tested and seasoned saints who know the sad reality that is filled with evil. We can depart in peace because we have seen our Father's deliverance in the face of Jesus.

The offering ushers were Tex Manuel II and Topher Dohl. The offertory, "Create In Me A Clean Heart, O God," was sung by the congregation.

In the prayers of the church, thanksgiving was offered for sustaining us day to day in our needs of body and life and for delivering to us forgiveness of sins, life and salvation through Christ. Petitions were asked for all faithful pastors and those who hold office in the church; for our nation for wise and honorable leaders; for our armed forces; for families that their lives together may be examples to the world of Your goodness and love; for the sick and sorrowing for comfort of Your grace and preservation from all evil. The congregation joined in The Lord's Prayer.

The Service of the Sacrament followed with Elders Tex Manuel II and Topher Dohl assisting Pastor Van Velzer with the distribution. The distribution hymns were "Come, Let Us Eat," and "Your Table I Approach." Following the Nunc Dimittis, Post Communion Collect, Salutation and Benediction, the service closed with the last verse of "Lord Jesus Christ, Be Present Now."

Worship assistants were Tex Manuel II, Elder, Topher Dohl, acolyte, organist, Joyce Peterson and on the altar committee, Marcia Coufal and Esther Ideker.

Pastor Van Velzer led Bible Study based on the readings of the day.

Circleville News

By Jeannie Arnold

Beverly Kranz and Debbie Kennedy went to Wichita on Sunday, Sept. 8. They attended the second birthday party for their granddaughter/great-granddaughter, Lincoln DeVader. It was a fun party with many gifts for her.

One of her favorites was a Batmobile car, given by her mom and dad, Jessica and Brandon. It's a good thing they have a big back yard.

Later, they attended a baseball game to watch grandson Gage play. They took a different way back home through the Flint Hills, which was beautiful!!

I was in Topeka on Tuesday, Sept. 10 for an appointment and stopped at Stormont-Vail to visit my brother, Don Butler, who was a patient there. He was very happy to get to go home on Friday.

Deloris Beam and Leota

Wilkerson went to Sabetha on Wednesday, Sept. 11 to visit their aunt Evelyn. They spent the day and were able to have lunch with her at the Apostolic Christian Home, where she lives. After a tour of the facility, they enjoyed apple pie with Evelyn at her apartment. Evelyn is the last living aunt for both Deloris and Leota, so that made the day really special.

Steve and Leota Wilkerson, Merlin and Judy Arnold, and Bob and I were all visitors of Maxine Lewis at Vintage Park in Holton on Thursday, Sept. 12.

Mae (Swindale) Hittle, a Circleville High School graduate with the class of 1960, died at her home with her family by her side on Friday, Sept. 13. Her funeral service was held at Mercer Funeral Home on Monday, Sept. 16, with burial in the Fairview Cemetery at Goff.

Ag Week Recap

Demand good for feeder cattle; grains finish mixed but higher

By Matt Hines

Cash feedlot trade was light through Friday afternoon at $99 to $100 live in the South, which is steady with the week previous, and $159 to $160 dressed in the North, which is steady to $3 lower.

Lean hogs have been the leader for livestock futures with gap higher and limit moves the past two trading sessions as export trade looks to pick up. China announced it will not place the last round of additional tariffs on both U.S. pork and soybeans.

Compared to last week, steers and heifers sold mostly $2 to $6 lower, with calves as much as $10 lower. Many markets were compared to two weeks ago coming back from last week's Labor Day holiday.

Continued good demand remains for calves and yearlings. We are entering the time of year where every week we are starting to see more calves coming to market. With winter wheat grazing around the corner, demand remains good for feeders.

For the week, Friday, Sept. 6 through Friday, Sept. 13, October live cattle were up $3.20, December was up $4.62, September feeder cattle were up $3.15, October was up $3.67, October lean hogs were up $2.97 and December was up $6.22. Boxed Beef, Choice was down $6.43 at $220.88, Select was down $3.34 at $198.60 and Pork Carcass Cutout was down $5.11 at $68.21.

Cattle slaughter for the week was estimated at 629,000 head, up 64,000 from the week previous but down 27,000 from last year. Beef production was estimated at 512 million pounds, compared to 459.3 million the week previous and 541.2 million last year. Beef production was only up .1 percent compared to a year ago with cattle slaughter up 1.1 percent.

Hog slaughter for the week was estimated at 2,611,000 head, up 407,000 compared to the week previous and up 288,000 compared to a year ago. Pork production was estimated at 542.8 million pounds last week, compared to 458.2 million the week previous and 484.4 million last year. Pork production is up 3.7 percent compared to a year ago with slaughter up 3.2 percent.

There's little follow through to start this week with livestock futures mixed and spread trading the dominant factor for hogs.

Guidelines for obituaries

When submitting obituaries to The Holton Recorder, please remember that survivors listed in free obituaries are limited to those who are related to the deceased either by blood or by marriage. "Companions," "special friends," "life partners," pets and godparents do not fit into either category. However, if you would like the names of non-relations to be printed with the obituary, call The Recorder at (785) 364-3141 or e-mail holtonrecorder@giantcomm.net to make arrangements for a paid obituary.

Crude oil is gapping higher with the drone strike on Saudi Arabia taking out half of the country's production pushing gas and heating oil futures more than 20 cents a gallon higher.

October live cattle into a new contract low last week at $93.40 with a bounce higher at the end of the week to test resistance at $99.50, with the next up at $101.67. September feeders broke the lower trend last week with support at $134.30 and resistance at $137.75.

October lean hogs still held the long-term lower trend and remain choppy in a $10 range from the recent low down at $59.30, up to the nearby resistance near $69.

Grains finished the week mixed but at least held higher for the week. The crop report last Thursday was friendly enough for soybeans to pull all the grains higher. The export sales to Mexico early in the week and the soybean sales to China helped hold those gains.

The USDA flashed a sale of 204,000 metric tons of soybeans to China - look for additional confirmations in the coming days and weeks with sources indicating up to two million metric tons (MMT) has traded this past week and the total order could end up near five MMT leading into next month's trade talks in Washington.

Weather is still holding to warmer than normal, which is helping fall crops finish. Wheat futures are still stuck with burdensome world stocks and lower world prices, but the tightness in soft red winter wheat stocks here in the U.S. may keep Chicago wheat futures from breaking down much more.

Last week, I was able to attend the USDA lockup again, thanks to American Farm Bureau, and at least this last one was a positive report. One comment from NASS was that the corn and soybean yields are still challenging with the delayed crops, and the October report should be a much better picture of final yield. The other factor will be harvested corn acres, as it was left unchanged in the September crop report.

For the week, Friday, Sept. 6 through Friday, Sept. 13,

December corn was up $.13¼, March was up $.12¾, November soybeans were up $.41, January was up $.40¼, December Kansas City wheat was up $.06½, March was up $.06, December Chicago wheat was up $.19¾, March was up $.19, October soybean meal was up $8.60 per ton and December was up $8.50 per ton.

Export inspections for the week ending Sept. 12 were all below expectations and the weekly average needed to meet USDA's estimate expect for grain sorghum at 1.8 million bushels (MBU).

Soybeans continue to lead the way with 24.5 MBU, but that compares to needing to average 34.2 MBU per week. Corn totaled 16.6 MBU compared to the average per week needed of 39.9 MBU, and wheat totaled 16.9 MBU compared to average need of 18.7 MBU.

This week's forecast calls for above-normal temps in the Northern Plains along with an inch or more of rain from there straight down to the Gulf.

The latest six-to-10-day outlook still shows above normal temps centered over the Corn Belt, which is helping the fall crops finish and staving off much talk of an early frost or freeze. Precipitation chances are above normal for the Corn Belt and Plains, but below normal for the Southwest and Southeast.

December corn went into a new contract low last week at $3.52¼, with the next weekly low down at $3.40 and resistance up near $3.80. November soybeans were down to a new recent low last week at $8.51, breaking the $9 resistance with the next up near $9.13.

December Kansas City wheat held sideways this past month with the contract low down at $3.81 and resistance up around $4.10. December Chicago wheat broke the lower trend with support at $4.72½ and resistance up at $4.91, then around the $5 mark.

RV Panther football at Riverside this Friday

Coach Lott points to improved play

By Michael Powls

The Royal Valley Panthers football team hosted the Jeff West Tigers last Friday night. The Tigers defeated the Panthers 40-0.

After a scoreless first quarter last Friday, the Tigers scored three touchdowns in the second quarter (two rushing and one passing) and led 20-0 at half-time.

The Tigers scored another TD in the third quarter and one in the fourth, as well.

Despite the loss, RVHS head coach Jake Lott said he saw improvement in his team.

"I thought we improved in week two even though the score was not what we wanted," coach Lott said. "The kids competed hard and I thought we had chances in the first half to make it a close ball game. Again, we just had some costly miscues on offense that really cost us, such as fumbles in our own territory and some penalties in early drives, which - if we avoid - could have changed the game. We have to keep improving each week and focus on eliminating mental mistakes."

This Friday night the 0-2 Panthers will travel to Riverside to take on the 2-1 Cyclones. Riverside beat Hiawatha 14-13 in week one and lost to Sabetha 50-7 in week two.

"This Friday's game is a big game for us, coach Lott said. "It is week three and right before district play starts. We have to get some things ironed out on offense as well as continue to improve across the board."

"Riverside presents a challenge for us and we will have to play disciplined football to come out of this game with a win," the coach added. "Our defense has to continue playing with effort and communicating. Our offense has to take care of the football and finish off drives. If we do all of that and control the line of scrimmage then we will have a chance to win the game."

Panther Chance Lyning had 12 rushes for 49 yards and nine tackles versus Jeff West.

Gavin Cumpton had 14 rushes for 54 yards and Tegan Ruddy had eight tackles.

Jackson Heights' Cooper Williams (No. 2 in the white jersey above) was the intended pass receiver for the Cobras on this play versus ACCHS last Friday night. When Williams determined he was not going to be able to catch the pass intended for him, however, he turned his attention to tackling the Tiger defender who was making a good play on the ball. On the jarring tackle, Williams prevented a Tiger interception. The Cobras beat the Tigers to improve to 2-0 this season and this Friday will host 2-0 Maur Hill. Photo by Michael Powls

JCN, Horton latest teams to fall to JH

By Brian Sanders

Jackson Heights High School's Lady Cobra varsity volleyball winning streak continued on Tuesday night with a pair of straight-set road victories at Horton over two different teams of Chargers - Northeast Kansas League foes Jefferson County North and the night's host team.

The wins bolstered the Lady Cobras' NEK League record to 5-1, while their overall record climbed to 15-1 - a record that Head Coach Denise Visosky said the team is enjoying for the moment.

"I think we still have that target on our back," Coach Visosky said of her team. "But overall, it has been good how the girls have responded."

First, the Lady Cobras took a tough win over JCN with a pair of 25-22 set victories.

"When we started with JCN, we came out a little flat, but we made some adjustments to respond to them," Visosky said. "Kylie Dohl played well for us, as well as Amaya Marlatt and MaKenzie Kennedy. I think that last night's game gave us some great confidence."

In the nightcap, the Lady Cobras knocked off Horton with a 25-17, 25-19 win.

"With Horton's game, we were able to push through," Visosky said. "I could tell that it had been a long week of play for us with the Frankfort tournament this last weekend - we were a little sluggish. Horton played against us very well, but we were able to respond to that."

Visosky credited Dohl and McKenzie McMahon for their work at the net and Abby Brey and Southern Raborn for their defensive work in the nightcap.

League-wise, the Lady Cobras' victories on the night knocked fourth-place JCN's record to 3-3 in the league and 7-4 overall, while Horton, currently tied with Maur Hill-Mount Academy for sixth in the league, fell to 2-4 in the league and 3-7 overall.

The Lady Cobras remain in second place in the league behind Pleasant Ridge, undefeated in the league at 6-0 but with a 12-4 record overall. Visosky said her team is preparing to hand the Rams their first league loss next Tuesday at Valley Falls, where JH will also face the Dragons, currently at fifth in the NEK with a 2-3 record in the league and 2-8 overall.

"We're looking forward to Pleasant Ridge and Valley Falls," she said. "We're going to have to play well against Pleasant Ridge so that we can make a push for a league title."

Cards beat Southern Cloud in 8-man

By Michael Powls

The Wetmore Cardinals traveled to Miltonvale to play Southern Cloud in 8-Man-DII football last Friday. The Cardinals won this game 28-22.

"I can't say enough about our efforts in the second half, said Wetmore head coach Rick Schnacker. "We had too many mistakes and turnovers, especially in the first half. ## Little's 1st place sets tone for Cobras

Last Thursday's cross-country meet at Holton was the first for the Jackson Heights High School Cobra runners, and Heights sophomore Daniel Little led the pack, taking first place with a time of 18:06.11.

Jackson Heights Head Coach Brad Alley said Little's performance "sets the tone for our entire team."

"Daniel is set up to have a big year," Coach Alley said this morning. "He put in some miles this past summer and is really driven this year. It's a huge accomplishment to win any cross-country meet, but for him to do it on his first meet this season is big... He is still young, and he can only get stronger."

Little will be "a fun one to watch this year," as will Cobra girls leader Annie Allen, a sophomore, who finished fifth at the Holton meet. Alley said Allen is looking to build on her experience at last year's state meet at Wamego, where she finished in the top 30.

"She is a talented kid, but she's also a hard worker," Alley said of Allen. "To finish fifth in her first meet - that's a great start to the season."

Also finishing in the top 10 on the boys' side for the Cobras was senior Drew Holliday, whom Alley described as Heights' most experienced male runner.

"Drew has been practicing really well," Alley said. "In the top 10 is a great place for him to be. His time will come down as we add to our volume in practice."

Junior Shelby Phillips, who also competed at last year's state meet, just missed the top 10 on the girls' side, but Alley said Phillips can only get better after a rough 2018 season.

"Shelby is trying to bounce back from a hip injury that kept her down for most of last year," he said. "I was really pleased with her race. As we go along, I look for her to gain more confidence and get back to her old form."

Alley said he also expects to see some more Cobra runners coming up through the ranks as the season progresses, such as senior Skylia Howe, who finished 13th in the girls' race, and freshman Alex Browning, who finished 19th in the boys' race.

"Skylia has been really consistent in practice, and she had an awesome race at Holton. I look for her to make a big leap this year for us," Alley said. "And Alex looked solid in his first cross-country meet. You never know how dual-sport kids are going to perform until it happens. He will see his times drop as he gets more races under his belt."

■ Shift farm safety into high gear

By Bridget Kucan
Holton High School Student Intern

Each year since 1944, the third week of September has been recognized as National Farm Safety and Health Week. According to the Upper Midwest Agricultural Safety and Health Center, this recognition has been an annual promotion by the National Safety Council and has been proclaimed as such by each sitting of the U.S. President since Franklin D. Roosevelt signed the first document.

This year, the National Farm Safety and Health Week is being recognized on Sept. 15 through 21. The theme for the week is "Shift Farm Safety into High Gear." Throughout the week, each day has a specific theme. Monday is Tractor Safety and Rural Roadway Safety. Tuesday is Farmer Health and Opioid/Suicide Prevention. Wednesday is Safety and Health for Youth In Agriculture. Thursday is Confined Spaces in Agriculture. Friday is Safety and Health for Women in Agriculture.

The Agrisafe Network and their partners have webinars each day for Farm Safety Week. Those who are interested in viewing the webinars, can register for the free, hour-long webinars at learning.agrisafe.org.

"During National Farm Safety and Health Week, we recognize the importance of the health and safety of our nation's farmers, ranchers and foresters. These hard working Americans and their families endure, long strenuous hours of labor to provide for the American people and the world. We recommit the wellbeing of all agricultural workers by pursuing initiatives that improve their work environment," said President Donald Trump in a recently released proclamation.

According to the National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health (NIOSH), agriculture ranks among the most hazardous industries. Farmers are at a very high risk for fatal and nonfatal injuries. The NIOSH reports that in 2016, 417 farmers and workers died from work-related injuries, resulting in a fatality rate of 21.4 deaths per 100,000 workers.

Farm Bureau offers some tips to help avoid injury: Always use protective gear; Note equipment needing repairs; Inspect grain bins; Use flashers on public roads; and Keep a list of emergency contacts.

Agronomy field day is Friday

By David G. Hallauer
Meadowlark Extension District Agent

The 2019 Agronomy Fall Field Day will be held in Manhattan this year on Friday, Sept. 20. "Building Resiliency in Agronomy" is this year's theme with a focus on understanding how agronomic practices and technologies can aid producers in building a more resilient production system.

Presentations will include resilient soils through conservation practices, discussions about wheat and sorghum genetics and technology, crop physiology and extreme temperatures, managing variability in the field and Kansas Mesonet and climate data in Kansas.

The event is free to attend and will conclude with a sponsored lunch for all attendees. Register online at <http://bit.ly/AgronFieldDay2019>.

Overseeding A Lawn
Right after we mow, everything is nice and green and uniform. Wait a few days and it becomes much easier to recognize "holes" in the stand. Maybe it's time for overseeding.

The first step in the overseeding process is to mow short. Reduce mower height to one to one and a half inches, removing the clippings during mowing to encourage good seed-soil contact, while increasing the amount of light that will reach young seedlings.

Look at thatch layers, too. A quarter inch of thatch or less is desired so that seed can easily reach the soil and germinate. If thatch layers are thicker than a quarter of an inch, use a power rake to reduce it to a quarter inch depth. Thatch layers greater than three quarters of an inch mean you probably need to start over with the lawn.

Once thatch concerns are alleviated, prep small areas using a hand rake to roughen up the soil surface. If larger areas are to be overseeded, additional tillage may be necessary.

Apply seed using a verticut machine or slit seeder, or consider core aeration. Slit seeding will likely get you the best seed-soil contact.

The advantage to core aeration is that it can also reduce the amount of watering needed to get the seed germinated and growing while increasing the water infiltration rate, decreasing compaction and increasing the amount of oxygen in the soil. At this time, it's also good to apply fertilizer as per a soil test recommendation.

Fastest Turtle In Mayetta

Mayetta Christian Church

The call to worship and announcements were led by Felix DeToro as members of Mayetta Christian Church opened the worship service on Sept. 15. John 14:1-6 was the congregational reading. Bob and Alma Morse and Lauri Harris led the singing. The opening song was "In Christ Alone."

For the children's sermon, Alma Morse asked the children to bow their heads and pray, making a request to God. Each child received a "yes" or "no" slip and a small treat. The child who got a "no" was later given a larger treat. Sometimes we are disappointed when our answer is "no," and in time, we find God had something better in mind.

After praises were shared, Pastor Coleman gave the invocation. "Open My Eyes That I May See" and "Since Jesus Came Into My Heart" were the hymns of praise and worship.

The morning message was from Acts chapters 7 and 11. As persecution of followers of Jesus began, many were dispersed from Jerusalem. The persecution was aimed at stopping those proclaiming the Gospel of Christ. The opposite happened.

Some Jesus followers who fled Jerusalem preached in Antioch. Greeks there who had been worshipping many false gods became believers. Barnabas was sent to Antioch to encourage these new believers. The power of the Gospel brought about such dramatic changes in the lives of the new believers, and the name Christian began to denote those who followed Jesus.

It happens today, too. Persecution for preaching still brings the power of the gospel to those who believe, and the proof of that power shows in the changed lives of those who accept Christ as Lord and Savior. We proudly wear the name Christian, and our lives must show the difference Jesus makes!

"In The Garden" was the communion hymn. Bob Morse read I Corinthians 11:23-27 where Paul reminds us of Jesus' words the night He was betrayed as He broke bread with His disciples. Stony Taylor, Larry McLaren, Tim Dillner and Hal Cochren passed out the communion elements.

Jaden Messer, Addyson Harris and Danika and Evangeline Decker took up the offering.

The hymn of invitation was "At The Cross." After prayer, the closing song was "Good, Good Father."

Kientz Corner

By Beverly Ramey Newell

On Sept. 8, the Pleasant Hill United Methodist Church congregation opened its worship service by singing "You Satisfy The Hungry Heart."

The birthdays for Sept. 8 through Sept. 14 were Ron Griffiths, Anita Link and Tenley Walder, Sept. 8; Hyun-Jin Cho and Megan Strobel, Sept. 9; Caleb Wilson, Sept. 11; and Tommy Blades, Brinley Cochran, Karen Domer, Emily Patton and Jim Wright (Judy's husband), Sept. 14.

The anniversaries for the week were Marc and Jammie Serrano and Denis and Val Warkentine, Sept. 13.

For special music, Betty Domer sang "I Believe." She was accompanied by Marty Ransdell on the piano.

A joy was that the Chapmans have a new great-grandson, who was born five weeks early. His name is Ryland.

The concerns were prayers for Rick Colton, who is recovering from back surgery; the family of Bob Ives; the family of Dale Kelley; and the family of Jack Worden.

The children's story was given by Kevin McDowell. He asked the children, "Do you play the piano?" Do you take piano lessons? When you take lessons, you have to practice. This is a big commitment. If you want to follow Jesus, you must take up the cross and be committed to follow Jesus. It is not easy to do.

The congregation was happy to welcome John and Ami Strickert and their son, Alec, into the church family.

Ron Griffiths read the scripture, Isaiah 58.

The sermon, "The Power Of Routine: Fasting For Fullness," was given by the Rev. Hyun-Jin Cho. A routine helps us to do things easier. Jesus fasted in the wilderness for 40 days. Esther had people fast for three days.

Fasting is a way to give up things for yourself. In Korea, people may fast for seven days. Fasting is everywhere in the world. When you fast and only drink water, your stomach will make strange sounds. You may be dizzy.

Fasting is when you stop eating. Let us think and care about others. May we give up one meal and give the cost of the meal to charity of to someone in need. Let us see how much we can help others.

The closing hymn was "Fill My Cup, Lord." Those assisting with the service were Ron Griffiths, liturgist; Marty Ransdell, organist; Deb Mannell, sound system; Megan Strobel, acolyte; John Wilson, song leader; and John and Linda Reed, Daryl Jepson and Gary Slimmer, usher team.

On Sept. 5, John, Dorothy and Mike Holt, Daryl and Joy Jepson, Jim and Sharon Miller and Nick and Karen Nicolay attended the Pleasant Hill coffee group for breakfast at Perkins restaurant in Topeka.

On Sept. 6, John and Dorothy Holt, Jim and Sharon Miller, Nick and Karen Nicolay and Glen and Linda Smith ate supper at the Country Cabin restaurant in Hiawatha.

Mayetta Methodist Church

By Shirley Stauffer
Church services at Mayetta Methodist Church on Sept. 8, the 13th Sunday after Pentecost, began with Pastor Howard reading from Psalm 106, followed by prayer.

Announcements were the upcoming sing-a-long at Hoyt United Methodist Church on Sept. 28 and that Pastor Howard will be on vacation on Sept. 22 and Sept. 29.

Prayers were asked for Delaina Miller's father, who was to have heart surgery on Wednesday, Sept. 11, and Dale Renfro, who is having surgery on Friday, Sept. 13.

Kathy Norris reported that Chuck's last oncology report was good and she thanked everyone for prayers. Prayers were also requested for all those affected by Hurricane Dorian.

Liz Smith was the acolyte and Tim Stauffer rang the bell. The call to worship was recited. The living word of God was given by Karen Burns and came from Job 26:12.

Hymns sung were "Majesty, Worship His Majesty," "Where He Leads Me" and "God Will Take Care Of You."

Karen Burns and Pastor Howard sang "Praise Him, Praise Him" as a special. Bud Stauffer took up the offering.

The message was "Seeing The Lord's Deliverance" and was from the word of God and Exodus 14:19-31. Services closed with the circle of friendship.

The prayer covenant church this week is Buck's Grove United Methodist Church and Circleville United Methodist Church with Pastor Charlotte Milroy.

The birthday song was sung to Karen Burns' great-granddaughter, Raegan Stutterheim, of Overland Park, whose birthday was Sept. 8, and Tim Stauffer, whose birthday is Sept. 12. It was a joy for June Schlodder to enjoy lunch on Wednesday with her friends, Betty Moser and Debra and Pam Salts. Pam's birthday was celebrated after lunch.

Bud and Shirley Stauffer attended the soccer game of their granddaughters, Aidan and Brenna McDonald-Stauffer, in Topeka on Saturday and Sunday.

Wanda and Becky White took a trip to Hawaii last week. It is one of God's beautiful creations!

Lisa Smith and Mary Anderson went to Salina on Saturday to see Karsen Smith and attend the football game against Tabor. In the third quarter, there was a lightning delay. Lisa took her two dogs so they could do some search and rescue training on campus. Karsen and two of his friends laid a trail for the dogs to find them.

Soldier Christian Church

By Alyssa Teter
Sept. 8 was a glorious day to all join together to worship God. The congregation at Soldier Christian Church began the 10:30 a.m. service by singing and praying with Henry Williams.

Henry's amazing singing led into the special that was given by Noah Hill, Drew, Silas and Kade Holliday. Their special was a perfect transition into Pastor Ron's sermon.

For the last six weeks, Pastor Ron has touched on some questions Christians may have. This sermon, however, was not a question, but instead a statement, which was "Whatever You Do, Don't Miss Out On Heaven."

Pastor Ron started his sermon with a story where a young boy asked his parents where Heaven was located. They said that Heaven is between the end of a Christian's life and where eternity begins. There were four main points in Pastor Ron's sermon on Heaven.

The first point he stressed was how Heaven is a reality. There are three Heavens that are mentioned in scripture, The Firmament, Celestial Heaven and Third Heaven, which is where God is said to be and where Jesus returned to after His resurrection.

The night before Jesus was crucified, He called Heaven a place twice. Pastor Ron stressed how Heaven is as real as your home, or anything else that comes to mind. Another point is how Heaven is described as a place of beauty. These descriptions can be found in Revelations 21:18-21 and 22:1-3. Heaven is a place of beauty beyond any possible imagination!

Pastor Ron also talked about how Heaven is a place of unending joy due to the absence of many things on this earth that tend to overcome one's faith in the Lord. Things such as death, pain and sickness are just a few of the seven mentioned in Revelations 21:4, 27 and 22:2.

The greatest ambition one should ever live for is to know that his or her name is recorded in the Lamb's Book of Life, just as Pastor Ron said in previous sermons.

The last point Pastor Ron made before he ended the sermon was how Heaven will be a happy place. For Heaven holds our savior, Jesus Christ, advocates and our loved ones.

Paul said it best in Philippians 1:21, and the greatest accomplishment we will ever have is to lead someone to Jesus and salvation, but to depart and be with Christ is far better.

To conclude, he expressed how eternity is too long and hell too horrible not to want to spend it with Jesus. Whatever you do, do not miss out on heaven!

Hanson essay wins Dem scholarship

Editor's note: Caroline Hanson (shown at right), a 2019 graduate of Royal Valley High School, was the recipient of the Jackson County Democrats' $250 scholarship for 2019. Scholarship applicants were required to submit an essay addressing this topic: "Some young people say their vote does not count and does not matter. Give reasons that support or reasons that refute this statement in 500 words or more. Give examples how the political process might affect you specifically in life. Also describe your volunteer activities, including school, church and/or community." Her essay appears below.

Growing up, my mother always made a point to take me to the polls when she was voting. She wanted to show me at a very young age that being informed about candidates and voting was important.

I believed this was how most children were raised until I entered middle school. There I learned that some of my friends' parents, their older siblings, and even some of my teachers believed either voting was not important or that their vote did not count. This is a dangerous thought process; just as I was taught the importance of voting, some of my peers were taught that their vote does not affect change.

What many young people do not see is that history shows that their votes do matter and can impact elections in positive and negative ways. Besides the fact that voter turnout controls the outcome of elections, voting is our civic duty. As Americans, we live in a beautiful democracy where we have the right and privilege to have a say in what happens in our home and daily lives.

In 2016, a president was elected that America now highly disapproves. This is because only about 58.1 percent of eligible voters voted in the presidential election, according to a Penn State University post-election 2016 recap.

Currently, Donald Trump has a 52.7 percent disapproval rate, signaling that the majority of the country believes Trump is not fulfilling his duties well. Did those people vote for him and now seem to not agree with what he is doing? Probably not.

The majority of that 52.7 percent most likely did not vote in the first place.

Many of those people most likely thought the rest of the country would vote therefore relieving them of their duty. Or possibly voters weren't happy with the choice of candidates.

Yes, if one person does not vote it will not make much difference, but when many people have this same thought process, it can change everything. If 20,000 more young people in Texas or Ohio had exercised their right to vote in the last election, the outcome may have been much different.

Last year in 2018, more women and people of color were elected into Congress than ever before. This is an extremely exciting and hopeful time to have so many diverse viewpoints and ideas brought to the table. How did we get from the 2016 elections to now? People learned from their mistakes. They realized that if they desire a say in who is elected, they must vote.

According to FairVote.org, voter turnout in the midterm elections was the highest it has been since 1966. The voters with the biggest impact were young people from age 18-29. Younger generations no longer believe that white men are the only capable leaders and are voting for people who are truly qualified.

Great things can happen when young people express their opinions through voting. Without the continuation of high young voter turnout we cannot progress as a government and society.

The United States has a rich history of civil campaigns, including fighting for the right to vote for women and minority groups. These people who came before us fought so young women like me could have their voices heard. By young people and others not taking seriously their right to vote, they are disrespecting the people who worked so hard for that right.

Susan B. Anthony once said, "There never will be complete equality until women themselves help to make laws and elect lawmakers." Women and young minorities now have this right and it would be irresponsible to not exercise it. Without all of my like-minded peers voting alongside me, we cannot secure the candidate we desire.

In my time at Royal Valley High School I have been a member of FFA, Students Against Destructive Decisions, Kansas Association for Youth, Band, Soundations, Dance Team and Jackson County Youth Coalition. I have been the president of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes for two years, a Student Council class representative for one year and the events coordinator for the National Honor Society.

I have also been a very active member of St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church, serving as a cantor and communion minister. I volunteer my time at Stormont-Vail Hospital in the Breastfeeding Clinic every Saturday. There I have logged more than 200 hours of community service.

I have also been a member of the Northeast Kansas Rural Youth Council for the Archdiocese of Kansas City in Kansas for the last three years. In this council I serve alongside other teen leaders in helping plan and run conferences and events.

This summer, I worked at Prairie Star Ranch in Williamsburg as a camp counselor and lifeguard. I've attended this camp every summer since I was in fifth grade and am so excited to now be giving back as a member of the camp staff. It is through my upbringing and my school and community involvement that I've learned that a well-informed young person can make an impact and affect change.

■ Sunday Liquor...

noon and 8 p.m. on Sundays — the time window for Sunday sales allowed by state law, which allows cities to choose whether they want to allow it, with the exception of Easter Sunday — if the ordinance is allowed to become law.

It was reported that state law enables cities to either pass a law allowing Sunday beer and liquor sales, or allow the city's registered voters to decide whether Sunday sales should be allowed.

The last time the subject of Sunday beer and liquor sales came up was in October of 2004, when Brenner — then the owner of a Holton liquor store, prior to his election to the city commission — approached the commission to ask for a rewrite of the city's liquor laws to allow for Sunday sales.

The commission expressed favor toward Brenner's request at the time, but decided to put it to a public vote at the next general election, which was held in April of 2005. The question of Sunday beer and liquor sales ended up failing at the polls by fewer than 100 votes, it was reported.

This past July, Meyer asked commissioners to consider amending the city's liquor laws to allow the sale of beer and liquor on Memorial Day, Independence Day and Labor Day, but stopped short of pushing for Sunday liquor sales.

According to Kansas law, retail liquor stores in a city are not allowed to be open on those three holidays unless the city approves alcoholic beverage sales during "expanded hours" that also includes Sundays.

Grocery and convenience stores, however, are still permitted to sell "cereal malt beverages" on those holidays — a concern of liquor store owners that reportedly was exacerbated by the Kansas Legislature changing state liquor laws earlier this year to allow grocery and convenience stores to sell cereal malt beverages with an alcoholic content of up to six percent by volume.

The ordinance specifies that Sunday beer and liquor sales will be allowed in Holton "61 days after final publication or on Nov. 18, 2019, whichever is later, unless a sufficient petition for a referendum is filed." The ordinance does not specify how many valid signatures on a protest petition are required to force a referendum.

Kansas law, however, states that valid signatures on a petition from five percent of city voters who cast ballots "for the office of President of the United States" in the most recent general election — specifically, November 2016 — would force the issue to a public vote.

According to Jackson County Clerk Kathy Mick, the number of such voters within the Holton city limits was 1,313 in the November 2016 election, meaning that 66 valid signatures would be required on a protest petition to force the matter to a vote.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

The Capital Improvement Fund ("CIF") has been established in the treasury of the State of Kansas to assist school districts with making principal and interest payments on voted general obligation bond issues. The amount of CIF funding each school district receives is based on a formula prescribed by statute and implemented by the State Board of Education ("Bond State Aid"). Based on the current formula, the District expects to receive Bond State Aid in the approximate amount set forth below to assist with making the principal and interest payments on the Bonds. No assurance can be given that Bond State Aid will continue at this or any amount in future years.

The following additional information is provided by the District with respect to compliance with the provisions of K.S.A. 10-120a and K.S.A. 12-6,122. This information has been obtained from sources deemed reliable by the District. Certain portions of this information are based upon projections. No assurances can be given that these projections will be accurate as of the date of issuance of the Bonds due to changing market conditions, any changes in assessed valuation of the District, changes in the amount of state financial aid received by the District and other matters unknown or unavailable at this time. The projected rates of property taxation to be used to pay the principal of and interest on the Bonds are based upon the current assessed valuation of the District, the assumed principal repayment schedule and the average interest rates from recent bond issues for similar types of financings and the current level of Bond State Aid the District would receive with respect to the Bonds, all as shown below.

accumulated at least 20 years of service to the city to camp out at the Prairie Lake grounds at no charge.

The new policy, which stemmed from previous discussions about allowing retired city personnel to camp at the Prairie Lake grounds for free, allows retired city personnel and retired firefighters one free day for each year of their service to the city during a calendar year — for example, 30 days for 30 years of service.

Earlier this month, commissioners heard a proposal to allow retired city employees to enjoy the privilege of free camping at the Prairie Lake grounds that current full-time city employees, volunteer firefighters and city commissioners enjoy.

However, Holton City Manager Kerwin McKee said some specifics of that proposal — namely, how long retired employees and firefighters should be allowed to camp at the lake grounds for free. He suggested three weeks per year for retired employees and firefighters with at least 20 years of service.

Commissioner Tim Morris disagreed, recommending that the city go with an “unlimited” amount of camping for those retired city employees and firefighters, while Brenner recommended one day per year of service to the city.

Another policy update regarding Prairie Lake camping was approved during Monday’s meeting — specifically, a new rule requiring camping units to be removed from the lake grounds after 14 consecutive days of camping for a minimum of 24 hours before being allowed to return to the grounds.

That particular update allows the city manager to grant an exception to the new rule for “special events,” such as the annual Prairie Lake Pickin’ Party, which McKee said is “the biggest event we’ve had for years” at the lake grounds.

Commissioners also:

- Approved minutes from their Sept. 3 meeting, along with budget appropriations made since that meeting.

- Met with Bruce and Jennifer Shaw regarding a nuisance letter that was sent to the Evangel United Methodist Church about a trailer reportedly located on property belonging to the church. The Shaws said they were taken aback by the tone of the letter; McKee said he would look into the matter.

- Approved a resolution adopting a five-year, multi-jurisdictional hazard mitigation plan as approved by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) for “Region K,” which includes Holton and Jackson County.

- Approved an ordinance authorizing Sunday sales of beer and liquor in the city (see related story).

- Heard a comment from Commissioner Marilyn Watkins that the new concrete sidewalks on the south side of the Jackson County Courtyard “look great.”

- Noted that a discussion on whether to limit the number of days that fireworks may be discharged will be held at the Oct. 7 meeting.

- Heard a question from Commissioner Mike Meerpohl about whether there had been any inquiries into the purchase of the former Holton Country Mart building. McKee said he had not heard anything.

- Heard a report from McKee about surplus city equipment to be sold via an internet auction.

- Heard a report from McKee that a city dispatcher’s position has opened, as city dispatcher Chris Culligan is resigning to take a position with the Kansas Bureau of Investigation in Topeka.

- Heard a report from McKee that two Holton police officers, Matt Storey and Misty Herbster, will complete their training at the Kansas Law Enforcement Training Center in Hutchinson this week.

- Adjourned the meeting at 7:50 p.m. All five commissioners were present.

prevention and intervention trainer through Nonviolent Crisis Intervention (NCI) and is currently working on her certification in collaborative proactive solutions under Dr. Ross Green of Lives in the Balance.

If elected, Taylor said this would be her first time holding a public office.

“As a graduate, patron, former employee and current parent to three students in the Holton USD 336 schools, I believe I offer a wealth of perspective,” she said. “My work in other school districts around the area and across the state adds depth of knowledge, understanding and practical applications for Holton schools. My philosophy, advanced training and continuing education all center around addressing problems collaboratively, utilizing ideologies based upon data and evidence and grounded in educational best practice.”

Taylor said she is familiar with the Kansans Can initiative and its Redesign projects.

“I can offer meaningful input and direction as the school district faces the inevitable and exciting changes headed our direction,” she said. “Teaching is my profession, but learning is my passion. I believe that a true leader is always growing, learning and applying new information to provide the very best for those in their charge.”

Taylor said that, if elected, she would take the responsibility of being a board member seriously.

“Being a school board member is not a seat from which to look down in judgment and condemnation nor is it a lofty attainment of power or prestige. It is first and foremost a position of service,” she said. “The decisions made by school boards affect real students, families, educators and community members. Patrons and families in this community should never have to fear bringing forth their concerns or challenging any school’s methods or decision making due to fear of retaliation, blaspheming on social media, gossip in the streets or via text message or against their child in the hallways of our schools. The children and families of our community deserve autonomy, respect and positive meaningful relationships from the leadership of USD 336.”

Taylor and her husband, Austin, have three children, Kaiya (seventh grade), Kayde (fifth grade) and Keirya (second grade).

former teacher who worked at both Royal Valley (1994-2000) and Holton (1990-1994) school districts.

He is a certified financial planner. A graduate of Holton High School, Frazier received a bachelor of science degree in education in 1989, as well as a master’s degree in curriculum and instruction in 1993, from The University of Kansas.

“My mother was an elementary school teacher for 40 years. Education has always been important to my family,” he said. “With my master’s degree in curriculum and instruction, my decade as a teacher and spending the last 19 years in finance, I believe that is a combination that gives me a good perspective on many of the issues the school board faces.”

Frazier said he’s learned a lot during his first term on the board, as well as areas he said need improvement.

“I especially have an interest in seeing more differentiation of education so that students are challenged to reach their full potential,” he said. “I am concerned that a focus on testing and minimum standards has diverted some focus from providing more areas of exploration and continuing to challenge higher achieving students.”

Frazier said he is seeking re-election in order to continue to give back to the community.

“Having graduated from Holton High School, I chose to return to this community,” he said. “I appreciate the people who made it such a great community to grow up in, and I hope I’m a part of providing a great community for our youth. I have been active in coaching wrestling, soccer, flag football and baseball.”

He and his wife, Traci, have three children, Gabby, Cael and Alec.

Mayetta Methodist Church

By Shirley Stauffer
Church services at Mayetta Methodist Church on Sept. 8, the 13th Sunday after Pentecost, began with Pastor Howard reading from Psalm 106, followed by prayer.

Announcements were the upcoming sing-a-long at Hoyt United Methodist Church on Sept. 28 and that Pastor Howard will be on vacation on Sept. 22 and Sept. 29.

Prayers were asked for Delaina Miller's father, who was to have heart surgery on Wednesday, Sept. 11, and Dale Renfro, who is having surgery on Friday, Sept. 13.

Kathy Norris reported that Chuck's last oncology report was good and she thanked everyone for prayers. Prayers were also requested for all those affected by Hurricane Dorian.

Liz Smith was the acolyte and Tim Stauffer rang the bell. The call to worship was recited. The living word of God was given by Karen Burns and came from Job 26:12.

Hymns sung were "Majesty, Worship His Majesty," "Where He Leads Me" and "God Will Take Care Of You."

Karen Burns and Pastor Howard sang "Praise Him, Praise Him" as a special. Bud Stauffer took up the offering.

The message was "Seeing The Lord's Deliverance" and was from the word of God and Exodus 14:19-31. Services closed with the circle of friendship.

The prayer covenant church this week is Buck's Grove

The birthday song was sung to Karen Burns' great-granddaughter, Raegan Stutterheim, of Overland Park, whose birthday was Sept. 8, and Tim Stauffer, whose birthday is Sept. 12.

It was a joy for June Schlotter to enjoy lunch on Wednesday with her friends, Betty Moser and Debra and Pam Salts. Pam's birthday was celebrated after lunch.

Bud and Shirley Stauffer attended the soccer game of their granddaughters, Aidan and Brenna McDonald-Stauffer, in Topeka on Saturday and Sunday.

Wanda and Becky White took a trip to Hawaii last week. It is one of God's beautiful creations!

Lisa Smith and Mary Anderson went to Salina on Saturday to see Karsen Smith and attend the football game against Tabor. In the third quarter, there was a lightning delay. Lisa took her two dogs so they could do some search and rescue training on campus. Karsen and two of his friends laid a trail for the dogs to find them.

dinner featuring a performance by the Shawnee Heights String Quartet.

Born in 1936 in Holton, Maxine Summer Catron attended classes at Nieve Rural Grade School, located on what is currently known as G Road, then attended Delia High School, where she was a cheerleader and graduated in 1954.
