

Progress noted on Homestead projects

By Brian Sanders

With contractors preparing to pour concrete for the foundations of the duplexes and four-plexes that will make up the Prairie View Senior Residences complex at the southern edge of Holton, Homestead Affordable Housing president and CEO Tom Bishop is proud to note the project's progress.

"It's coming along," Bishop said of ground preparation work for the 32-unit housing complex for senior citizens. "We've got most of the grading done and the building pad sites are now mostly in place. We're getting ready to start pouring the foundations and putting the concrete in the ground."

Bishop is also pleased at the interest that's been shown so far for the senior housing complex, noting that 28 applications have been received for the 32 units, which are expected to be ready in early 2016. The housing complex is being built at the intersection of First Street and Pennsylvania Avenue, just north of Countryside Park.

"We've got people on a waiting list," he said. "We're waiting to process their applications."

Some of the new complex's prospective residents are also showing an interest in the construction progress that goes beyond being ready to move in.

"I have a number of folks that I see regularly," Bishop said. "They go down there daily or a couple of times a week, or they drive by, and they take their own little tour. I've had one fellow tell me that he was my 'sidewalk superintendent'... it's been really nice to have that kind of interest."

Ground was broken in January for construction of Prairie View Senior Residences, a complex that promises to be a high-quality, energy-efficient residence for its eventual residents. Plans are for the complex to be built as 10 duplexes and three four-plexes, it was reported.

Each of the 32 units is designed with modern appliances, senior-friendly amenities, a concrete safe room and a private entry with a porch area, with some of the units designed to have a single-car garage and a private patio, Bishop said. It was reported that the complex will also have a community center that features exercise equipment, a computer center with internet access, a library and an activity area to encourage seniors to stay active.

Local, state and federal resources — including $5.6 million in housing revenue bonds approved by the Holton City Commission — are being used to build the complex, it was reported.

Interest in the "Building Home" program, in which prospective, low-income homebuyers are encouraged to build and own their own homes, is also good at this point, since homes are expected to be built near the Prairie View complex, Bishop said. Ground surveys, site plans and elevations are being finalized for construction of the homes, which will be built along First Street.

The "Building Home" program is funded through the USDA Rural Development Mutual Self-Help Housing program, providing opportunities to support families who cooperatively build their own homes in building groups to reduce costs. The program enables working families to reduce the cost of building their own home through "sweat equity," it was noted.

2015 Alumnus of the Year nominations due Friday

In less than a month, graduates of Holton High School's past classes will assemble in Holton for the annual Glory Days celebration.

However, HHS alumni looking to nominate one of their fellow graduates for the 2015 Alumnus of the Year award have only until Friday to make those nominations.

The HHS Alumni Association is accepting nominations through Friday, May 1 for a Wildcat graduate to be honored at this year's Alumni Banquet, which is scheduled for 6 p.m. Saturday, May 23 in the Holton High School Gym. Nominations may be mailed to P.O. Box 175, Holton, KS 66436.

The banquet will follow a full day of alumni activities, including class reunions and the alumni parade, the latter set for 11 a.m. that day. Tickets for the banquet are $25 each and may be purchased at the main and highway branches of all three Holton banks.

The Holton Recorder is also looking for 50-year class (Class of 1965) composite photos from all Jackson County-area schools — as well as information on what those graduates are doing today — for publication in a special upcoming edition honoring the county's graduates. For more information, contact The Recorder office at 364-3141.

April showers bring May flowers, including these tulips that Holton Recorder reporter Ali Holcomb planted last fall at her home just outside of Mayetta. Many Jackson County residents have been taking advantage of the recent good spring weather to plant flowers and vegetables.

Relay for Life fund-raising tops $10K so far

By Ali Holcomb

Teams comprised of northeast Kansas residents are now forming to participate in the annual Jackson County Relay for Life event, set for Friday, June 26, at the Jackson Heights High School track.

Seven teams have already signed up for the event, and members have raised $10,309.41 so far. Additional teams are sought for the event, and teams can sign up at www.relayforlife.org/jacksoncooks. Donations can also be made directly on the website.

On June 26, members from each Relay For Life team will take turns walking or jogging around the track during the relay, which celebrates the lives of people who have battled cancer, remembers loved ones lost and fights back against the disease. Each team is asked to have a representative on the track at all times during the event.

Cancer survivors, caregivers, co-workers, 4-H clubs, church groups and extended families are welcome to form teams to raise funds for cancer research.

The survivor's lap at this year's Jackson County Relay for Life will be held at 7 p.m. Luminaries in honor or in memory of a loved one who battled cancer will light up the track that evening. Luminaries can be purchased from any team member for $10, and the names of the luminaries will be read at 10 p.m. the evening of the relay.

The event is set to last until 1 a.m. on June 27.

Information about how to form a team or become involved in Relay for Life is available on the website www.relayforlife.org or by contacting any current committee member.

The chairperson for the Jackson County Relay for Life is Cecilia Sanders and she may be contacted at 785-364-7673 or crs.1990@yahoo.com.

Corporate sponsorships are also being sought to fund the event. Sponsors are needed to finance the event, and businesses are recognized at the relay for their donation.

For more information about corporate sponsorships, contact Jeff Cannon at 785-230-2633 or Jeff1221_01@yahoo.com.

In addition, members of the Jackson County Relay For Life Committee are holding a catered dinner for cancer survivors on May 31 at the First Baptist Church in Holton. Letters were previously mailed to cancer survivors and the deadline to RSVP is Friday, May 1.

McClintocks keep busy with runaway cattle

By Ali Holcomb

Who do you call when your cattle get out and possibly pose a threat to motorists?

One option is Ed McClintock of Soldier and his son, Tyrel.

The McClintocks, who rope runaway cattle on horseback, were called to two separate incidents in Jackson County last Tuesday.

The first incident occurred at Holton Livestock Exchange when a gate came open on a trailer and two calves made a run for it. Later that day, seven cows either jumped or somehow escaped from a fence outside Banner Creek Animal Hospital, Ed said.

"We've both been doing this for several years, and I guess it just spread by word of mouth," he said. "We own cattle so we treat these cows as our own."

Both men have full-time jobs. Ed runs his own farrier business and Tyrel works for a rancher, but they are often contacted every few months by ranchers, private businesses or law enforcement to assist with runaway cattle.

Ed said that they are able to catch cattle more efficiently on horseback.

"If you try walking, you won't be able to keep up," he said. "A four-wheeler is going to scare them so you need to call somebody with a horse."

He said that cattle are curious of the horses, which are able to keep up with them if they run.

When the men were called to assist with the seven escaped cows at Banner Creek Animal Hospital, they initially could only track down a few them.

"We gave up and had a late dinner, and while we were still in the restaurant, the sheriff called and said they were on the highway," he said. "We were able to catch five of the seven that day."

Ed grew up in Holton and worked for a couple of different ranches in Soldier and Emmett. He said he and Tyrel are just two of several people available to catch cattle on horseback during an emergency.

"We work well together, and we have flexible jobs," he said. "Tyrel has a great boss that will let him leave. We just like helping people out that need it."

McClintock said that they are compensated by the cattle owners or businesses for their time and assistance.

City-Wide Spring Cleanup Day moves to new location at Countryside Park

Got some leftover items from this past weekend's City-Wide Garage Sales that you couldn't sell, but wouldn't consider bringing them back into your home?

On Saturday, May 2, Holton residents will have the opportunity to get rid of unwanted junk and other materials not needed around the home for no charge at the annual City-Wide Spring Cleanup Day, to be held at a new location this year.

In previous years, city residents were able to bring their unwanted items and materials for disposal at the old Jackson County Fairgrounds. Since that option is no longer available, the event is being held from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday at the soccer fields at Countryside Park, south of First Street on Pennsylvania Avenue. No soccer games are scheduled that day, it was reported.

Restrictions on accepted materials will be enforced at the site, including proof of Holton residency. No contractor or commercial business material may be disposed of at the site, and the City of Holton, which conducts the annual clean-up event, reserves the right to refuse any material.

Materials that will be accepted at the site include carpet, clothing, paper, cardboard, furniture, mattresses, clean wood, shingles, tar paper, cabinets, porcelain fixtures, wire, metal, appliances without refrigerant, water heaters, sinks, iron and other similar materials.

Hazardous household waste (i.e. chemicals) will also be collected at the site, it was reported. The Jackson County Hazardous Waste trailer will be present.

Items that will not be accepted by city personnel at the site include household trash, tires, paint, gasoline, batteries, chemicals and other hazardous materials. Yard waste such as tree limbs and brush also will not be accepted at the site, but may be taken to the city's brush disposal site that day at no charge, city officials noted.

Supreme Court sides with Kansas in natural gas price-fixing case

The U.S. Supreme Court on April 21 sided with Kansas and decided states may continue to enforce antitrust laws to protect consumers from retail price fixing in the natural gas market, Kansas Attorney General Derek Schmidt announced. In doing so, the court, in a 7-2 decision, rejected the federal government's assertion that federal law preempts state enforcement.
"This is a major victory for Kansas consumers and all purchasers of natural gas," Schmidt said. "The Supreme Court has sided with our view that those who illegally fix the price of natural gas cannot hide behind federal law to avoid state liability."
The underlying lawsuit involved accusations by the plaintiffs, including both Kansas-based Learjet Inc. and Topeka Unified School District 501, that the defendants illegally drove up the retail price of natural gas, costing gas purchasers millions of dollars.
Similar cases from around the country were consolidated into multi-district litigation in Nevada, and the San Francisco-based Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals eventually allowed the plaintiffs to proceed with their state-law claims.

The defendants, backed by the federal government, asked the Supreme Court to reject the lawsuit by concluding that federal law preempts state laws that combat price-fixing in the natural gas retail market when the challenged industry practices also affect the wholesale gas market.
In November 2014, Schmidt led a bipartisan group of 21 state attorneys general in filing an amicus curiae brief asking the Supreme Court to allow continued enforcement of state anti-price fixing laws against retail sellers of natural gas who illegally rig prices. The federal government, which was opposite Kansas in this lawsuit, argued that state antitrust laws are preempted by the federal Natural Gas Act.
The defendants and the Obama Administration argued the preemption extends to the retail market when the challenged practice is engaged in by a federally regulated seller and affects a federally regulated wholesale rate.
Oral arguments in the case, ONEOK Inc. v. Learjet Inc., were heard in January. Kansas Solicitor General Stephen McAllister argued on behalf of Kansas and the amici states when the case was heard in January at the Court.

Deputies check two accidents

The Jackson County Sheriff's Office reported two traffic accidents occurring in recent days.
■ At 6 a.m. on March 15, Cody Springer, 22, Rossville, was driving south on E Road near 134th Road when his vehicle struck a road closed sign owned by Jackson County. Springer's 2008 Dodge sustained damage to its front bumper, front left side and right side that was listed at more than $1,000.
■ At 7:23 a.m. on April 18, Isaac Bohnenkemper, 20, Muscotah, was driving east on Kansas Highway 9 near V Road when his vehicle struck a goose in the road. Bohnenkemper's 2009 Chevrolet sustained damage to its front bumper, radiator and rear bumper that was listed at more than $1,000.

NOTICE RESIDENTS OF HOLTON, KANSAS

Starting Monday, April 27, 2015 and continuing through approximately Friday, May 8, 2015, the annual sewer maintenance cleaning will take place in the City of Holton. Those residing in affected areas will be notified by way of a bright yellow door hanger on their door. Should you receive one of these notices, please read the precautions.

The cleaning of sewer mains helps maintain your sanitary sewer system and helps eliminate sewer blockage that might result in a backup within your residence.

Thank you for your cooperation.

Hotel Josephine in Holton is now serving up lunch prepared by manager Linda Wenger, who has a lunch menu with entrees that are cooked the way she was taught to cook them more than half a century ago. That old-fashioned style of home cooking has begun to draw people to the hotel for their lunch specials, which Wenger said have been available for about a month.

Jan Brandt, kindergarten teacher at Holton Colorado Elementary School, will retire from the district at the end of this school year, it has been announced. Brandt has taught in the USD 336 school district for 22 years and hopes to remain with the district in some capacity in the future.

Starting Thursday, July 1, Bret Bauer will be on the job in Holton. Bauer agreed on Monday, April 26, to become Holton's new city manager effective that date.

More than 30 bicycles and tricycles were part of "Blessing of the Bikes" on Sunday, April 25 on the Jackson County Courtyard. Kent Rogers, pastor of Evangel United Methodist Church in Holton, gave the blessing on the bikes and their owners. Representatives of EUM Church, who put on the event, said they hope for this to become an annual event.

If there are major problems in the ornamental Aristocrat pear trees around the Holton Town Square, they were not noted at an informational meeting on Tuesday night, April 26. No one spoke out in opposition to the trees at the meeting, and the trees were deemed an asset and will remain on the Square.

Owners of the Newman Block building on the north side of Holton's Town Square have been busy with beautifying the outside of the building in recent weeks. New windows were added to the building's second story, and detailing and paint work has improved the building's appearance dramatically. Owners Frank and Betsy Gilliland, Brent and Barb Huyett and Dennis and Joni White may turn the upstairs portion of the building into apartments once the work is complete.

What started out as dinner conversation between two couples one evening evolved into a business partnership between Vicki and Rodney Roy and Pam and Randy Cole that would eventually become The Inn at Muddy Creek. The inn is now celebrating its one-year anniversary, and it features several different themed rooms such as the Casablanca Suite, Cowboy Room and Emerald City available for various events.

Exchange students from 11 different countries attended a recent international potluck dinner at Holton House, hosted by Pat and Kristi Worrel and their Malaysian student, Fahmyie bin Abdullah. Eighteen students from different schools in the area cooked dishes from their home countries for the event.

The Jackson County Commission has signed an agreement to establish a three-county drug task force involving Jackson, Jefferson and Atchison counties. The task force would consist of three independent investigators that would track down and apprehend suspects involved in drug trafficking.

Royal Valley High School students will be able to keep pace with their peers in a new program adopted by the USD 337 board of education in a recent special meeting. The Planned Academic Effort program (PACE) targets high school students who may not pass a required course without assistance. Students who take this program will learn to improve study skills, note-taking skills, how to organize their time and prepare for tests and review course material.

The garage sale season will begin with fanfare in Holton on Saturday, April 28, with a city-wide sale sponsored by the Holton Area Chamber of Commerce. This one sale will feature homes scattered throughout the town where all varieties of items will be up for grabs in 39 different locations. Holton merchants will also get into the act by hosting sidewalk sales. It is hoped that the event will "bring more people into town," said chamber member Carolyn Koger.

Larry Raulie, a native of St. James, Minn., recently came to Holton to assume the position as the new plant manager of Oldham's Farm Sausage.

The Holton Area Chamber of Commerce has implemented a new award program, it has been announced. The Outstanding Business Person Award will be bestowed to a member of the local business community early next month. The person will also be recognized in a special banquet. Kathi Kimmi, executive director of the chamber, said the award program is in its first year, but planners hope to make it a local tradition.

OPINION

Guest commentary: Moving Kansas forward

By Gov. Sam Brownback

There has been much written and said about the state of the Kansas economy. Loud voices on the left dominate the discussion with claims that the Kansas economy is weak, that our tax policy is unfair and that Kansas is losing jobs and businesses.

These claims are emotional and inflammatory. They also are largely untrue. The most current attacks claim the Kansas income tax structure and rates are unfair to lower- and middle-income families. The truth is that 91 percent of Kansas heads of households making less than $25,000 pay no state income taxes. For those making less than $50,000 per year, 63 percent pay no state income taxes.

At the same time, real income for all Kansans has grown, resulting in higher-paying jobs for more people. The median income in Kansas grew by more than $2,000 between 2011 and 2013. The income tax reductions enacted in 2012 benefitted working Kansans through significant rate reductions that allowed them to keep more of their own money to spend, save or invest as they chose.

We are also experiencing the real results of our tax policy: growth in jobs and wages that benefit all Kansans. Let me share a few just a few highlights.

* Between January 2011 and February 2015, Kansas added almost 75,000 private sector jobs.

* In February 2015, Kansas was tied for first place in America for private sector job growth.

* Kansas is seeing meaningful wages grow faster than our neighboring states. Workers on the Kansas side of Kansas City make $3.33 more per hour than workers on the Missouri side.

* We have one of the highest employment-to-population ratios in America.

* We are approaching historically low unemployment rates, which can help low income workers find a way out of poverty at record rates.

Small businesses in Kansas are growing at an annual rate of 6 percent, faster than the nation and all our bordering states. In a state where most of our citizens work for small business, this is important.

In tax year 2013, more than 8,600 first-time small business filers brought more than $486 million in new income to the state. Kansas is now fourth in the nation for small business growth, bringing jobs and opportunities to Kansans.

Our old tax system was overcomplicated and burdensome. It punished entrepreneurs and savers alike, resulting in slow job growth and limited economic opportunity. Lowering income tax burdens and transitioning to consumption taxes allows for economic growth and more opportunity for every Kansan. Under this policy, Kansans are getting higher paying jobs and have more control over how they spend their money.

Our goal, as a state, should be growing an economy that provides opportunity and jobs for all Kansans. A tax policy that puts more money in the hands of working Kansans and that rewards productivity is resulting in growth in Kansas. Without question.

Consumer Corner: Watch out for unregistered roofers

By Derek Schmidt
Kansas Attorney General

Springtime is upon us in Kansas, which also means the spring storms are heading our way. Living in Kansas, the possibility of severe weather means there is also the possibility of damage occurring to our homes.

When the storms hit, it is common for out-of-area, traveling contractors to roll into a damaged town looking to make a quick buck. To help combat this, the Legislature in 2013 passed a law requiring roofing contractors to register with the attorney general's office. The program has been successful, with nearly 1,100 roofers currently registered and in good standing to operate in Kansas.

If your roof is damaged in a spring storm – or if you're just looking to have some work done on your roof this spring – it's important to make sure the roofing contractor you use is properly registered with the attorney general's office. Ask the roofer to provide you a copy of their current roofing registration certificate, and go to our website at www.InYourCornerKansas.org to check the current registration list to make sure the contractor is in good standing.

Many city and county governments also require permits before doing work, so make sure your roofer has complied with all local ordinances as well.

Here are some more tips to help keep you safe from home repair scams:

- If a deal sounds too good to be true, it probably is.

- Get multiple written bids on home improvement projects to ensure quotes are reasonable and competitive.
- Ask for local references. Working with a well-known, reputable local contractor will help prevent becoming a victim of a fly-by-night operator who won't be around if you have problems later.
- Friends, family and neighbors are the best sources for recommendations.
- Be sure your contractor is insured. The contractor should have personal liability, property damage and worker's compensation insurance for workers and subcontractors. Also check with your insurance company to find out if you are covered for any injury or damage that might occur.

- Most importantly, document everything in writing. Insist on a contract that states exactly what work will be done, the quality of materials that will be used, warranties, timetables, the names of any subcontractors, the total price of the job and the schedule of payments. Don't make a final payment or sign a final release until you are satisfied with the work and know that subcontractors and suppliers have been paid.

For more tips on staying safe from home repair scams or to file a complaint, visit our consumer protection website at www.InYourCornerKansas.org or call our consumer protection hotline at (800) 432-2310.

Are you financially ready for retirement?

Every day, nearly 10,000 "Baby Boomers" enter their retirement years, according to the Insured Retirement Institute (IRI). Unfortunately, their confidence in their financial preparations for retirement, including insurance, has been steadily dropping — a recent IRI survey said barely 25 percent of them were optimistic about their upcoming financial situation.

Ken Selzer, CPA, Kansas Commissioner of Insurance, is urging Kansans to review their financial preparedness and insurance priorities concerning retirement as a way to educate themselves about their future needs.

"A set of challenges has emerged for Kansans currently in their working years, including changes in employee benefits, longer life spans, and uncertainty with Social Security and Medicare, as well as health care," Selzer said. "Finding time on a routine basis to assess your financial preparedness for retirement is a first step to achieving financial freedom. Having income-producing insurance products as part of that preparedness can be especially important."

Selzer said National Retirement Planning Week, April 13-17, is a good time for Kansans to begin that review. Below is a list of insurance products that could be considered in retirement strategies when a stream of retirement income is important.

- Variable annuities with guaranteed lifetime withdrawal benefits: Long-term, tax-deferred insurance products that contain both investment and insurance components with optional guaranteed withdrawal benefits.
- Fixed and fixed index annuities: Long-term, tax-deferred insurance vehicles which offer a guaranteed minimum interest rate. Fixed indexed annuities offer the opportunity for more growth based on market index changes.

- Single premium immediate annuities: Products which provide a guaranteed income for life or a specified period in exchange for a one-time lump sum payment.
- Deferred income annuities: Annuities which provide for guaranteed income but don't begin until a specified age, such as 80 or 85.

In addition, Selzer suggests one other consideration for retirement years: the projected need for long-term care insurance. Long-term care insurance products help defray expenses associated with extended care in a variety of settings. However, they are not suitable for everyone.

In recent years, products have been developed which combine previously separate long-term care coverage with life insurance policies and annuity contracts. These "hybrid" products may be appropriate for some people.

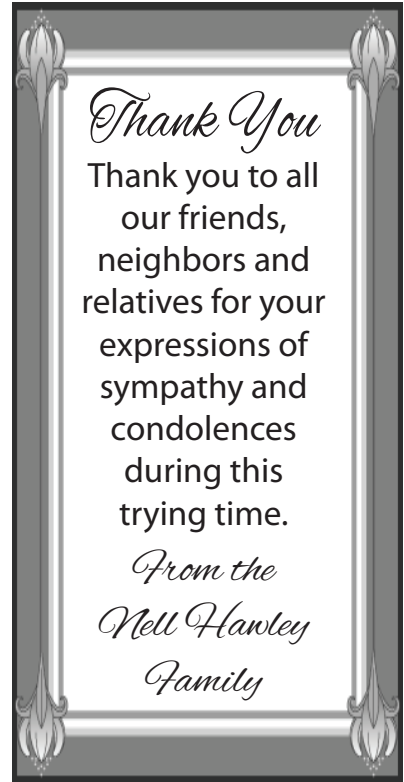

Whatever a person's insurance needs are for retirement years, periodic consultation with an insurance agent and financial adviser is important, the commissioner said.

"As we grow older, insurance needs change," Selzer said. "Making a yearly appointment with your agent or planner about what kind and how much insurance you need, whether personal or property, is an excellent idea."

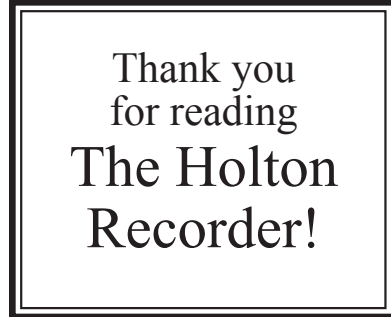

More about insurance needs in retirement is available by reading the KID booklet "Life Insurance and Annuity Basics," which can be obtained by printing a copy from the KID Web site, www.ksinsurance.org; by talking to a KID Consumer Assistance Representative at 1-800-432-2484; or by going to the IRI Web site, www.IRIonline.org

OBITUARIES

Alley

Mildred M. Alley, 92, lifelong resident of Holton, passed away Friday, April 24, 2015, at Midland Hospice House in Topeka.

She was born July 16, 1922, in Holton, the daughter of Ora and Edgarreta "Reta" (Decker) Duffy. She graduated from Holton High School in 1940 and worked at Jackson County Courthouse.

On Dec. 24, 1942, Mildred married her highschool sweetheart, LeRoy Alley, in Hugo, Oklahoma. They had sent home 17 telegrams (to notify her parents of their marriage) before the notification was received due to military censorship. After the couple returned home they helped start Mayetta Meatlocker. Two years later they became the owners/operators of Alley-Duffy Lockers in Holton and later owned and operated Duffy's IGA (at the same location).

Mildred later worked for Missouri Beef (which is now Banner Creek LLC) and was the first woman ever allowed to work on the kill floor. In her latter years she proudly became known as "Grandma Millie" to several foster grandkids in the Laurie Johnson Foster Grandparent Program.

Mildred was a member of the First United Methodist Church in Holton and served in the Ruth Circle. She was also a member of the Eastern Star and Holton VFW Ladies Auxiliary.

On Nov. 18, 1977, LeRoy preceded Mildred in death. Also preceding her in death was her cousin and best friend, Juanita Cozad. She is survived by her son, Dennis Alley of Holton; her step sister Delilah (Walt) Foresman of Topeka; her grandchildren, Arin Alley of Topeka and Reva Alley of Holton; and her several foster grandkids through the program.

Funeral services will be held at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday, April 28 at Mercer Funeral Home in Holton. Burial will follow in Holton Cemetery. The family will greet friends from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. Monday at the funeral home.

In lieu of flowers, the family suggests memorial contributions to First United Methodist Church and may be left in care of Mercer Funeral Home, P.O. Box 270, Holton, KS 66436. To leave a special message for the family, visit www.mercerfuneralhomes.com

Bowser

Virginia L. Bowser, 83, of Holton, passed away Saturday, April 25, 2015, at Holton Hospital.

She was born June 22, 1931, in Holton, the daughter of Leonard G. and Elsie M. (Moore) Askren. She graduated from Holton High School in 1949 and then attended Emporia State Teacher's College earning her teaching degree.

On June 3, 1951 she married Robert C. Bowser in Muscotah. He preceded her in death on March 8, 1993.

Virginia taught at Bucks Grove Rural School, Brightside Country School and Larkinburg Country School. She was a member of Larkinburg Christian Church, a member of Larkinburg Kings Daughters and a Sunday School/Bible School Teacher.

She is survived by her son, John Bowser of Arrington; her daughter, Roberta Haflich (Jeff) of Topeka; her sister, Betty Flynn of Holton; her sister-in-law, Helen Askren of Holton; her three granddaughters, Kristi Mick (Charlie) of Arrington and Kaitlyn Haflich (A.J.) and Kelsey Haflich (Tyler), all of Topeka; and her two great-grandsons, Ean Winsor and Maverick Swain. In addition to her husband, Virginia was also preceded in death by her brother, Robert F. Askren, in 2009, and her daughter-in-law, Patty Bowser, in 2012.

Funeral services will be held at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday, April 29 at Mercer Funeral Home in Holton. Burial will be held in Larkinburg Cemetery. The family will greet friends Tuesday at the funeral home from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m.

Memorial contributions are suggested to Larkinburg Christian Church and may be sent in care of Mercer Funeral Home, P.O. Box 270, Holton, KS 66436. To leave a special message for the family, visit www.mercerfuneralhomes.com

The Holton Wildcat track squad captured its fifth major relay crown this season by defeating West Platte, Mo., 45-29 to win the Baker relays on Saturday, April 24. A total of 25 schools entered the 40th annual running of the Baker meet, it was reported.

Craig's IGA in Holton sold six six-ounce cans of orange juice for $1, five ears of sweet corn for 39 cents, a two-pound package of bacon for 99 cents and round steak for 65 cents per pound.

Daniel Tupper, 1½-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Tupper, had a narrow escape Monday morning, April 26. Daniel was playing in his parents' 1963 Comet, which was parked in front of the Tupper home on Ninth Street just east of Elkhorn Lake, when he somehow pulled the car out of gear and it started to roll down the hill toward the culvert between Elkhorn Lake and Rafter's Lake a block away. The car hit the guard rail of the culvert, which stopped the car from dropping 15 feet into the stream bed at the south end of Elkhorn Lake. Daniel was immediately retrieved by his parents and appeared to be none the worse for his ride.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hobbs of Dighton have purchased the Holton Hotel and will take possession of the business on May 1, it has been announced.

The Big B Food Mart in Holton sold two one-pound bags of carrots for 15 cents, three eight-ounce packages of fish sticks for 89 cents, two 10-ounce packages of Brussels sprouts for 49 cents and a two-ounce can of shoe-string potatoes for 10 cents.

Lady Panthers machine-like in efficient sweep of Red Hawks

Looking at the product on the softball field last Thursday night, the mismatch between the Royal Valley and Hiawatha teams was clear.

The Panthers were playing the role of Steve Austin, the titular “Six Million Dollar Man”, and were simply better, stronger and faster than the Red Hawks in a pair of 15-0 victories that gave the team its sixth consecutive series sweep.

“We’re definitely happy with the streak that we’re on,” RV coach Corey Katzer said. “I know the girls are playing with a lot of confidence, which in this game that’s a lot of it. If you don’t have any confidence, this game can get to you pretty quickly.”

Royal Valley quickly and confidently jumped out to a lead in game one as starting pitcher Hannah Beam struck out the side on 11 pitches in the top of the first inning.

Then, the Panthers went to work on offense, methodically rolling along as Jaycee Worrell led things off with a bunt single before Leslie Schuetz brought in the first run of the game in the Panthers’ second at-bat, lining an RBI double to left field.

Worrell and Schuetz have been a potent tandem for Royal Valley for some time now and have really helped the team settle into a successful pattern of early run production this season, leading to an average of 13 runs per game.

“Jaycee and Leslie get on base. They can steal bases. They can really frustrate and get to teams early, so that’s been really important for us and I think it just allows us to relax,” Katzer said.

The rest of the offense followed suit as Sarah Beam reached on an error that scored Schuetz before Kaylie Parker singled to bring in Beam.

After another single from Maggie Schuetz, Masey Lafferty continued to deliver for the offense and came through with an RBI single before Hannah Beam helped herself out with an RBI double that helped stake the Panthers to a quick 6-0 lead.

In the second inning, the Panthers took advantage of some errors as one put Leslie Schuetz on base safely before the first two outs of the inning were recorded.

Caitlin Burns then delivered an RBI single and Royal Valley proceeded to take advantage of the opportunities it was given after that as Maggie Schuetz reached base on an error that scored Burns before she, too, scored on an error and Lafferty scored on a passed ball later in the inning.

Holding a commanding 10-0 lead,

Hannah Beam continued to cruise in the pitcher’s circle with a third consecutive one, two, three inning and the Panthers proceeded to shut the door on the Red Hawks in the bottom of the third inning.

Leslie Schuetz slapped another double after the first out of the inning and scored on an error that placed Sarah Beam on base once again. After Beam scored on a passed ball, Parker drew a walk and then scored after a single by Burns and an error allowed her to reach home and Burns to reach second.

Following a single by Maggie Schuetz in the next at-bat, Lafferty delivered the final blow with a walk-off RBI double that scored two runs and sealed the Panthers’ 15-0 run-rule victory in three innings.

Kaileigh Gray-Milligan picked up where her counterpart left off in the pitcher’s circle in game two, recording three quick outs on nine pitches in the top of the first inning and the RV offense showed no signs of slowing either.

Worrell got things going with a bunt single once again and the pattern didn’t stop there as Sarah Beam reached on an error after the first out of the inning that scored Worrell.

Burns then drove a ball into center field for an RBI triple to score Beam and Maggie Schuetz followed with an RBI double. She then scored on a passed ball to give the Panthers a 4-0 lead by the end of the first inning.

Once again, Royal Valley proved nigh untouchable as Gray-Milligan struck out the side (and recorded the second straight no-hitter) and the team kept building on its lead in the second inning.

Both Hannah Beam and Gray-Milligan helped the Panthers play from ahead with dominant pitching efforts against Hiawatha and Katzer knew those two would be key to the team’s success before the season began, though both have also given high praise to the defense that plays behind them, even if Gray-Milligan didn’t need much help in game two.

“The goal yesterday was to show up, play our game and for our kids to do what they’ve done all year and that’s what Kaileigh did,” Katzer said. “Kaileigh just showed up, went out there and she was able to do it in 35 pitches. It was very economical, very efficient and that’s kind of what she’s done all year.”

After Worrell doubled with one out to start the second, Leslie Schuetz came through with an RBI single before Sarah Beam sent a pitch for a ride over the fence in left field for a two-run home run.

Parker reached on an error after that and Burns followed with her second consecutive RBI triple. After Ali Bryan drew a walk, Gray-Milligan then helped herself out with a two-RBI single that gave the Panthers another 10-0 lead after two innings of play.

Royal Valley proved to be an efficient machine on both ends in game two and in the series overall and the team also made the right adjustments to end the series with a bang.

In another nine pitches, Gray-Milligan retired the Red Hawks in order before the offense continued to roll, starting with a single from Worrell and a home run from Leslie Schuetz.

After another error put Sarah Beam on once again, Parker came through with an RBI double before scoring on an error that allowed Burns to reach base. Maggie Schuetz then sealed the deal the same way the Panthers did in the first game, delivering a walk-off RBI double to give the team a second consecutive 15-0 run-rule victory.

“The one thing we were able to do in both games was we were able to pile on when Hiawatha made a mistake. We were able to help make them pay and that’s what a good team should do,” Katzer said.

Those two wins gave Royal Valley its sixth consecutive series sweep and moved the team to 13-1 on the season and the scary thing, according to Katzer, is there is still room for improvement. The Panthers have shown a knack for putting in the work and the coach doesn’t see that changing as the team now prepares for a road doubleheader against Nemaha Central starting at 4:30 p.m. today (Monday).

HHS baseball can’t topple JW

In Holton baseball coach Joe Purcell’s eyes, Thursday’s games against perennial Big Seven contender Jeff West were both winnable.

The Wildcats just couldn’t get the breaks to go their way, while the Tigers did on the way to a sweep in Holton with 13-6 and 6-3 victories.

“It would’ve been a nice boost to get a split, but you have to play well to beat them. We made a couple mistakes that cost us a couple runs and that’s the difference in the games,” Purcell said.

Holton’s night started off well enough as the team jumped out to a 2-0 lead in the second inning of game one. Starting pitcher Derek Haverkamp got things going by building up his own run support with a solo home run before Mason Alford and Levi Martin strung together back-to-back singles that were followed by an RBI double from Justin Rieschick.

Jeff West answered with a pair of runs in the third inning, though it was due in no part to the Tigers’ own accomplishments. A pair of bases-loaded walks scored the two runs to tie the game as Haverkamp started to get into a little trouble on the mound.

“He got behind hitters and that makes it awful tough when you’re facing good teams because they don’t have to swing. They can wait on a pitch and drive it,” Purcell said.

That’s just what the Tigers did in the fourth inning, starting things off with a leadoff walk before capitalizing with an RBI double and single to take a 4-2 lead.

After that, the floodgates opened in the fifth inning as Jeff West plated eighth runs thanks to four singles and a home run in the inning.

Trailing 12-4, the Holton offense went back to work as the team got two of those runs back in the bottom of the fifth thanks to an RBI single from Indie Allen.

The Wildcats started the sixth inning off with a bang as well, as Justin Pool drew a lead off walk, Luis Butto singled and Alford drew another walk.

That set up another RBI double for Rieschick. Booth then delivered an RBI single that made it a 12-6 ball game.

Unfortunately, the Wildcats’ rally ended there and the Tigers tacked on an insurance run in the seventh inning to cap off a 13-6 victory.

Just like the first game, the Wildcats jumped out to a 2-0 lead in game two as Justin Rieschick led off with a double and Jordan Booth followed him on base by drawing a walk.

Indie Allen delivered with one out in the inning, lining an RBI single to left field that brought in both runners and gave Holton another early lead.

Rieschick was cruising on the mound up until the third inning, when the Tigers put the first two runners on base. A sacrifice fly then brought in one run. The visitors then strung together three more singles after that to plate two more runs and take a 3-2 lead.

Jeff West added an RBI single in both the fifth and sixth innings before taking an advantage of an error in the seventh inning to go up 6-2.

“When a team has their best pitcher on the mound and we have our best pitcher on the mound, then it’s going to obviously come down to some other factors and a couple of those factors were things we couldn’t control,” Purcell said.

Holton couldn’t keep up, despite getting back-to-back singles from Rieschick and Booth to start the sixth inning.

The Wildcats got another strong start in the seventh inning as Justin Pool connected for a leadoff single and Mason Alford reached on an error after Luis Butto hit into a fielder’s choice.

Pool eventually came around to score, but that was as far as Holton’s rally would go as the team fell short in a 6-3 loss to Jeff West.

Despite the disappointing results, Purcell continues to see progress being made by his team and the Wildcats (5-7) will try and keep that going in another home doubleheader today (Monday) against Perry-Lecompton starting at 4:30 p.m.

“Even thought it’s two losses, I’m pleased with the progress our team’s making. I really see it in our kids,” Purcell said. “When we talk about the best players on our team, I think those guys who may not have been the best players on our team, they’re starting to get better and that’s what we want. We want to be playing our best baseball and we want to try to make the most improvement between now and regionals.”

“I think our kids are really starting to understand their role, what it takes or whatever you want to call it and we’re starting to build some continuity on the team,” Purcell added.

Holton softball learns from tough tournament in Shawnee

After some challenging league games to start the week, the Holton softball team continued to push itself as the Wildcats headed east to Shawnee to compete with a bunch of 6A schools at the Shawnee Mission Softball Fest to close out the week.

Going in, HHS coach John Deitrich noted he felt his team would be able to come away with two wins. While the Wildcats might not have reached that goal, it wasn’t a total wash as the team finished 1-3 in the tournament and got some valuable experience.

Thursday proved to be the toughest day of the tournament and Holton got off to a slow start in a challenging match-up against Olathe East to begin tournament play.

The Hawks jumped out to a 6-0 lead that would prove to be enough as Holton could only muster one run on an RBI triple from Brianna Boyett in the fourth inning. Outside of that, Casi VanAUSDall was the only other Wildcat to collect a hit in the game.

Olathe then added five runs in the sixth inning to collect a 12-1 run-rule victory, starting the tournament off on a sour note for Holton.

“I thought we were ready to do some things and we obviously didn’t prepare well enough to execute some stuff like Olathe East brought out. Olathe East pitched it soundly and hit it soundly and we did none of the above,” Deitrich said.

After some defensive miscues cost Holton in the first game of the tournament, that proved to be troublesome again in the second game against Shawnee Mission South.

The Raiders jumped out to a 1-0 lead in the first inning thanks to an error, but the Wildcats quickly responded as Ali Morris drew a leadoff walk in the top of the second inning before advancing on a sacrifice bunt by Annalys Phillips. Boyett then delivered an RBI single to tie things up at 1-1.

Holton then took advantage of a pair of errors by Shawnee Mission South in the third inning, which allowed both Taryn and Ashlyn Weilert to score and the Wildcats to take a 3-1 lead.

That advantage was short-lived, though, as the Raiders tied things back up in the bottom half of the inning with a pair of RBI hits. The Raiders then ripped the game wide open with four RBI singles and an RBI double in the fourth inning to go up 10-3.

While the Wildcats added a run in the fifth inning, it wasn’t enough to extend the game as the Raiders tacked on four more runs in the bottom of the fifth to pick up a 14-4 run-rule victory.

“We recognize that we’re going to have to do a little bit more if we’re going to get the success that we need to have or that we desire to have and get to where we want to be at the end of the season,” Deitrich said.

Day two started off better for Holton and while the team was locked in a tight battle with Shawnee Mission East early on Saturday, the team comprehended that there was little room for error and managed to pull it out in the end for its first win of the tournament.

Morris delivered an RBI triple in the first inning to start things off for Holton, but East quickly took a lead after that thanks to an RBI single and groundout that gave the Lancers a 3-1 lead.

The Wildcats answered with three runs in the second inning thanks in part to an RBI double from Gaby Porras. Holton then added a run in the third before Phillips reached on a fielder’s choice that scored one and Boyett followed with a sacrifice fly to put HHS up 7-3.

“We did a nice job with some of the things that we do better,” Deitrich said. “We talked about doing what we do and not worrying about other things that are going on. We kind of got back to that a little bit in the first game on Saturday.”

Holaday tacked on another run for Holton in the sixth inning to make it an 8-3 game before the Lancers closed the gap to three runs thanks to an RBI single in the bottom of the sixth.

The Wildcats got a pair of insurance runs in the final inning, though, with Mackenzie Moore delivering an RBI single and Ali Morris following with another RBI triple to help Holton close out the 10-5 victory.

Closing out the tournament, Holton faced tough opponent in Lawrence and while the Wildcats jumped out to an early lead, the team just couldn’t quite hang on for the win.

Taryn Weilert drew a walk and came in to score on an RBI groundout by Moore to give the Wildcats a 1-0 lead, but the Lions quickly answered with a pair of home runs in the bottom half of the inning to go up 3-1.

Lawrence then tacked on five more runs in the third inning to pull away and while Paige DeLay delivered an RBI groundout in the fifth inning, it proved to be just a drop in the bucket as the Lions plated three more runs in the bottom of the fifth to collect a 12-2 run-rule victory.

Holton (6-6) still got a lot of good experience from the tournament and will look to use that as the team gets back into league play today (Monday) with a home doubleheader against Perry-Lecompton starting at 4:30 p.m.

“When it comes down to it, we had to get a little better from it. We have to feel a little bit better about the things we’ve done. I just think that losing’s losing, and I don’t like that, but getting what we got out of it wasn’t too bad in a nutshell,” Deitrich said. “I love the way our kids handled themselves through some adversity as well as through some of the successes we had.”

Wildcat golfers can learn lessons from tough tournament in Seneca

For notable signs of just how different this Holton golf team is from years past, one need not look further than Thursday's performance at the Nemaha Valley Invitational.

Something happened that has only happened rarely in the past several seasons, as the Wildcats left a tournament without a team or individual medal after finishing fourth as a group and having no golfers crack the top 10.

"It's been a number of years since we haven't been able to bring home some type of hardware," HHS coach Don Swisher said. "I don't know if the kids were discouraged by that because some of them haven't played varsity golf, but it was definitely kind of a shock."

That may not have registered with this group of Holton golfers, but Swisher did note they were disappointed with their performance in Seneca, leading to a quiet van-ride home.

"I think the kids and I felt like we would perform a little better than we did," Swisher said. "It was just one of those days where we again had trouble with two or three holes and some big numbers. Consequently, it affected our score quite a bit."

While the Wildcats dealt with some tough breaks, playing only their second 18-hole tournament of the season and having to play the ball down (as it lay) for the first time this season, Swisher wanted his golfers to focus on the positives gained from the tournament.

Nils Bergsten had some troublesome holes on the front nine, but outside of that he played par golf for the rest of the tournament and turned in one of the best scores of any Wildcats on the back nine.

Hayden May continued his strong push this season, vaulting to the top of the scoreboard for Holton on Thursday after carding an 83 at the Nemaha tournament. Meanwhile, freshman A. J. Haussler continued to gain experience and confidence and also had a solid back nine to finish with an 88 for the tournament and be the Wildcats' third-best golfer on the day.

"I want those kids to look at some positive things that came from that tournament and build on those positive things and look at the things that maybe got us in trouble and refocus and get back to some of the fundamentals of what's causing our problems," Swisher said.

One area the HHS golfers did not struggle in, outside of one particularly tricky green, was their short game. As problematic as putting and chipping have been in earlier tournaments, Swisher said he saw solid progress being made by his golfers in those areas from Thursday's performances.

The trouble likely came off the tee box or between the fairway and the green and that comes back to the inconsistency.

Considering who else was in the field, with the top two teams (Wamego and Clay Center) also being in Holton's regional, the Wildcats should have a good picture of what they need to work on if they want to be in the position to be successful in the postseason tournaments.

"It should make us, if nothing else, work harder and know that we didn't do a very good job yesterday competing against primarily those two teams. Our play is going to have to improve if we expect to do anything at the regional here in about a month or so," Swisher said.

With the Wildcats feeling unsatisfied after Thursday's meet, Swisher doesn't see motivation as an issue and he believes the Holton golfers will address their problems in the next few practices and try to take a step forward in what will be another tough 18-hole tournament in Atchison starting at 1 p.m. on Thursday.

Nemaha Valley Invitational Team results:

Area athletes keep rolling

Wetmore and ACCHS athletes kept busy on the track last week, turning in some strong results against tough competition.

The Cardinals headed east to Highland for a meet hosted by fellow TVL member Doniphan West.

Both the boys and girls finished in the middle of the team standings, taking fourth, while some individual athletes made their presence felt for Wetmore.

On the boys side, Jeremy Hoelscher was the lone individual champion for the Cardinals with a first-place finish in the 800m run, but Steve Brooks wasn't far behind with a runner-up finish in the javelin. Brooks is also asserting himself as a versatile athlete, earning points for his team in the 200m dash (4th place) and triple jump (5th place) as well.

Meanwhile, the Wetmore girls were led by a few strong performances, including Alisha Heitz taking first in the discus. She was also runner-up in the shot put and a couple of her teammates matched that showing as Liz Hutfles (3200m run) and Ryley Martin (800m run) also had second-place finishes.

Full results for the Cardinals from the meet at Doniphan West are listed below.

Atchison County

Atchison County had a little different outing at a smaller meet in Meriden, but the team wasn't without its highlights.

The Lady Tigers in particular were on point, finishing third as a team and seeing three individuals earn gold medals.

ATHLETES OF THE WEEK

Royal Valley sophomore Sarah Beam continues to deliver in the meat of the batting order for the Panther softball team and last week was no different. Beam started off the week with a bang, going six for seven with four RBI and five extra-base hits (including one home run) in a key series against Holton last Monday. She then got off to a slower start in a series against Hiawatha on Thursday, but closed out with a one-for-three performance that included one home run and three RBI to help RV cap off the sweep.

Jackson Heights senior Logan Wells had a particularly strong week for the Cobras, turning in some of his best finishes of the season at the Holton Invitational track meet last Tuesday. The senior had one of the top individual performances for the JH boys in the 110m hurdles, finishing runner-up in that event, while also taking third in the 300m hurdles to help the Cobras finish second in the team standings.

Immanuel Lutheran Church By Esther L. Ideker

The third Sunday of Easter worship service at Immanuel Lutheran church opened with the hymn "The Day Of Resurrection." Divine Service III with Holy Communion was followed. Psalm 4 was spoken responsively. Elder Tex Manuel II read the first reading from Acts chapter 3 and the Epistle lesson from 1 John chapter 3.

Pastor Jeffrey Geske read the Holy Gospel from Luke 24:36-49 (Jesus Appears to His Disciples). In the children's message, Pastor shared with the children that because we have the certainty of eternal life, we are to be witnesses of Jesus. His dying love gives us forgiveness, which we share with others. Pastor led the children and the congregation in singing "Jesus Loves Me This I Know."

The sermon hymn was "Children of the Heavenly Father." Sunday, April 19, marked the confirmation questioning of Immanuel Lutheran Church. Confirmation as explained by our Luther's Small Catechism is: the public rite of the church preceded by a period of instruction designed to help baptized Christians identify with the life and mission of the Christian community.

During the two-year study of our seventh and eighth grade students, we seek to teach them the key teachings of our Christian faith. Pastor Geske uses an acronym that spells LASSO plus the + (Cross). Over the course of their study, they learn what each letter of the acronym means.

The L stands for the Lord's Prayer. The A stands for the Apostles' Creed. The first S is for the Sacrament of Baptism. The second S is for the Sacrament of the Altar (Lord's Supper). The O is for the Office of the Keys and Confession. The + (Cross) stand for the T of the Ten Commandments.

We needed Christ to die for our sins since we are unable to keep the law of God perfectly. Today, we strive to live for God and keep the commandments so we can say thank you to Jesus for His death and resurrection for us. Through each part we seek to help our confirmands understand what the Christian faith with a Lutheran understanding of the gospel is all about.

Questioning time during the worship service gave the congregation's three confirmands, Trinity McMahon, Jenna McAllister and Alyssa Keehn, an opportunity to review with the congregation what they have learned.

In the prayers of the church, praise and thanksgiving was offered for the blessings of the week - for rain, for our confirmands, for His death and resurrection. May we give witness empowered by the Holy Spirit. Blessings were asked on our congregational meeting, for our country with good decisions by our leaders and thanks to all those who protect our community and nation. Remembered were all who are ill or recovering. Blessings were also asked on the 100th birthday of Hulda Atwater of Tulsa, Okla. The congregation joined in The Lord's Prayer.

The offering stewards were Kevin Strube and Doug Amon. Elders Tex Manuel II and Mike Keehn assisted Pastor Geske with the distribution of Holy Communion. The distribution hymns were "At The Lamb's High Feast" and "Beautiful Savior."

Following the thanksgiving, the salutation and the benediction, the service closed with the hymn "Spread The Reign of God, The Lord."

The altar flowers were from Hulda Atwater's family to commemorate her 100th birthday.

Serving Sunday were Abby Brey, acolyte; Joyce Peterson, organist; and on the altar committee, Julie Keehn and Jessica Keehn.

A congregational meeting was held, chaired by Doug Amon.

Buck's Grove

By Betty Bernitter

Due to the rewiring of Buck's Grove Church, the congregation gathered for worship at the beautiful Soldier Methodist Church on the rainy Sunday morning of April 19.

Carol Pollock lighted the altar candles as Charlotte Milroy asked for announcements and led in the call to worship and the opening prayer.

Leroy Rieschick provided the recorded music as the congregation sang hymns "All Things Bright and Beautiful," "Crown Him With Many Crowns" and "O Master, Let Me Walk With Thee."

Charlotte read scripture from Acts 3:12-19 and John 3:1-7. Psalter reading was Psalms 4.

The special was provided by Betty Bernitter on God's accuracy and how He created all things. God's wisdom is revealed in His arrangement of sections and segments; each watermelon has an even number of stripes on the rind and each orange has an even number of segments.

The scripture lesson was taken from Luke 24:36-48. In this scripture, it tells of two men walking the road to Emmaus when a man joins them. They proceed to tell the stranger about the grief in their hearts and that the Messiah was dead and the body was missing from the tomb. They felt that there was no hope, no future.

The stranger tries to tell them that all this happened as it was to fulfill the prophecy. As they sit down to eat, it starts to come back to them who this stranger was. Their eyes were opened! It was Jesus and they realize that there is hope and a future if we believe in Him.

Charlotte offered communion to all believers with the assistance of Donna Ashcraft.

Leroy and Wayne Rieschick acted as offertory ushers. The worship service was closed with the singing of "God Be With You Till We Meet Again."

Note: On Sunday, April 26, worship service will be held at 9 a.m. at Soldier. Following the service, the congregation will celebrate Claude and Betty Rieschick's anniversary and Betty's birthday.

Potawatomi Methodist By Ilene Dick

Saturday morning, April 18, brought some nice rains to the area, followed by a nice evening for the Potawatomi United Methodist Church auction and fashion show. Although there was not a large crowd at the event, those present enjoyed an evening of fun and fellowship. The committee thanked all who helped in any way to make it a successful evening.

On Sunday morning, April 19, the congregation at Potawatomi UMC gathered to celebrate the third Sunday of Easter and Native American Ministry Sunday.

Several joys were expressed. Pastor Howard reported having a fun time Saturday evening at the event. Thanks to him for taking part in the fashion show skit.

Darlene Rawlings thanked the church family for the cards, visits and prayers during her fall and healing. It was a joy to have her back to church.

Jessie Thoman has accepted a job in Augusta, Maine, and is in the process of preparing to move. Our prayers go with her for much happiness in her new adventure.

Congratulations to James Dick for receiving fourth place in a cabinet making competition at Pittsburg last week.

Prayers continue for Ann W. as she continues undergoing tests following a mastectomy and for Pam Daugherty as her arm continues to heal and therapy takes place.

Acolyte was Laura Schreiber, and Laura also gave the special. In keeping with the celebration of Native American Ministry Sunday, she shared a CD of "Amazing Grace" being sang by a former member, Jim McKinney, singing in Potawatomi language. It is a beautiful song, and it brought back good memories of Jim McKinney.

Marjean Shenk read the scripture from John 3:1.

Hymns were "What Wondrous Love," "It Is Well With My Soul" and "My Jesus I Love Thee." Music was provided by Tina Pugh and Ilene Dick.

Offertory ushers were Jim Meeks and Jim Shenk.

Pastor Howard's message was "Perfected Love," with the text taken from I John 4:7-21. The text calls us to love God in perfect love.

There are different kinds of love. The pagan religion fears God. There are those who believe love is for their own enjoyment or being pleased – a selfish love. Another kind of love has both fear and love of God.

Paul shows the excellent way to love – be patient, kind, not envious or boastful on self seeking.

Perfect love is God's gift to us. Real love is like God who is holy, just and personal. God creates people to love.

God's love is for the entire world. If you love God, you will love one another. The test of love is how we treat others. Our sense of community may be our finest evangelism.

Pastor Howard's sermon will be "My Friends" next Sunday. Everyone is welcome.

Shayne and Brian Dorris spent the night Saturday with their grandparents, Judy and Donnie Thoman.

Marjean and Jim Shenk enjoyed attending Grandparents' Day at Rossville Elementary School on Friday, April 17. On Saturday, April 18, Marjean went with her sister to an exhibit in Hiawatha about landscape artist Thomas Cole and a mountain man demonstration.

Joe and Terry Redlightning attended the Royals game on Friday, April 17, to see the Royals' first home game with the Oakland A's. They enjoyed a good game and had a nice time.

Lily Hall appreciated having her granddaughter, Lanora, participate in the fashion show skit at the church on Saturday evening. Her son, Joe, also took part in the show. All did a great job and had a fun time.

On Saturday, April 18, Martha Roush, Sandra Williams, Alison Olson, Kevin Olson, Brody Olson and Kreighton Roush enjoyed celebrating the 90th birthday of Maxine Crawford in Osage City. Maxine is Loren Roush's sister.

Anna Pugh spent the weekend with her parents and participated in the church fashion show and the auction fund-raiser.

Jackson Heights students in grades kindergarten through fourth performed a patriotic spring concert at the school last week. In the photo above, second-grade students (front row, from left) Talon Binkley, Max Watkins, Jordan Ackerman, (back row, from left) J.W. Moore, Cash Robinson, Korbin Karns and Kade Holliday sang "Proud To Be An American." A video of the last song of the concert is available to view on The Holton Recorder's website, www.holtonrecorder.net.

Circleville By Jeannie Arnold

Ellsworth and Sandra Hewitt went to Freemont, Neb. over the weekend of April 11-12 to attend a bull riding classic. They enjoyed visiting with several people that they know and don't see very often.

On Sunday, April 12, Judy Olson was in Wichita with Travis and Temple Wilson for her granddaughter Hope's installation as a state officer in FCCLA. The three-day conference and Sunday evening banquet was held at the Marriott hotel. Young people from all across the state were present as the 2014 officers were honored for their leadership and the 2015 officers were introduced.

The semi-formal affair was very nicely appointed with a delicious meal of chicken breast smothered with mushroom sauce, red skinned whipped potatoes and sautéed vegetable medley along with chocolate layer cake or apple pie for dessert. Hope wore a champagne colored, fish tail hemmed, sleeveless gown that had sequins across the front yoke. All the young ladies looked lovely and the young men very handsome. It was most definitely a photo opportunity!

The Circleville High School planning committee for the upcoming Circleville Alumni met at the home of Dale and Ilah Rose Askren on Monday, April 13. The menu of pulled pork, cheesy potatoes, green beans, slaw, apple crisp and tea and water will be prepared by Your Place or Mine Catering in Holton. Other plans were made and will be written on cards and mailed to CHS alumni, teachers and friends around May 1.

On Tuesday, April 14, Barbara Hutchinson hosted the AYLI Club with all members in attendance plus guest Jan Hodge. After the business meeting, four rounds of bridge were played and dessert of angel food cake and coconut cream pie was served. The next meeting will be May 12 at the home of Pat Hasenkamp, with the group meeting at 11:30 a.m. at the China Restaurant.

On Wednesday, April 15, the UMW groups of Netawaka and Circleville met at the Plaza Apartments meeting room for a combined meeting and program and refreshments. Patsy Lehigh from Horton gave a testimonial, along with devotions.

Galen and Mickie Kabance of Pittsburg stopped by on Saturday afternoon, April 18, to visit with Dennis and Barbara Hutchinson. Galen was in the area to attend a meeting and also see his aunt Julia Kabance, who lives in St. Marys.

Bob and I and Maxine Lewis attended the Celebration of Life memorial service for Lauren Stauffer on Saturday, April 18. It was held at Mercer Funeral Home in Holton. Lauren graduated from Circleville High School in 1940 and was a cousin to Maxine.

Don and Deloris Beam and Dale and Ilah Rose Askren went to St. George on Saturday afternoon, April 18, to the home of Mike and Lesa Beam, to help celebrate the birthday of their grandson, Skyler Beam.

This coming Saturday, April 25, beginning at 10 a.m. is the Fritz Mule Fun Day at the Circleville Saddle Club arena. This is a fun event to raise money for the Fritz Dillner Memorial Shelterhouse to be built at Banner Creek Reservoir. This shelterhouse will be a large enclosed shelterhouse with a full kitchen. Think of having a place to hold reunions, receptions, meetings etc. out of the weather.

They are hopeful that this may be able to be built on top of a tornado shelter, which is very needed at the lake. Mule Fun Day is a fun rodeo type event for mules or donkeys, although horses can enter for exhibition only. If you can't participate, you should be sure to come and watch, as it is sure to be entertaining. Free-will donations will be accepted at the gate and concessions will be available on site.

There will be a citywide cleanup Wednesday, April 22 through Tuesday, April 28. A large dumpster will be available next to the gym during these dates. The councilmen will also be available to help move heavy or bulky items if you just let them know you need help.

Denison Builders hold meetings

By Bobbi Horr

The March meeting for the Denison Builders 4-H Club was held on March 2. The pledges were led by Laramie and Presley. The roll call question was, "What is your favorite kind of pizza?"

The club talked about some camps being held. Then, they gave out awards from 4-H Day. The group skit won top purple. Next, record books were given to new members. Sydney, Abigail and Alayna gave project talks.

For recreation, club members played "duck, duck, goose." For a snack, they had graham crackers.

The April meeting was held on April 6. The pledges were led by some younger members. The roll call question was, "Why did you join 4-H?"

Kelly said that May 1 is the deadline for members to add or drop projects this year. Next, the group moved the May meeting to April 27 because they are planning on making May Day baskets after the meeting. After that, they put together a float/bail/banner committee.

Bobbi, Anika, Faith, Aero and Sara then gave project talks. There was a demonstration on parliamentary procedure given with trail mix ingredients used for examples. For recreation, club members played tag outside. For a snack, they had the trail mix and lemonade.

Homestead Affordable Housing...

“I think we’re at three families, maybe four, and we’re getting ready to start our first group,” Bishop said. “We’re still looking for families, but I think we’re at a point where Rural Development is going to say, ‘Go ahead and get started with the three you have, and hopefully you’ll have a couple more by the time you finish all the preliminary processing and getting the house plans approved and the appraisals done.’”

The Housing Assistance Council has also recently awarded Homestead a $54,000 grant to help cover infrastructure and lot costs on the first seven lots involved in the “Building Home” program, Bishop noted.

“For all of those families that are going to be in this first group with the first seven lots, this basically reduces their cost by about $8,000 a house,” he said. “Now is a real good time to get involved with this program. If there’s anyone who’s thought about it, but they just haven’t decided to cross our door yet, this would be a real good time.”

Prospective homeowners may be eligible for the “Building Home” program if they are willing to dedicate time to work on their home and the homes of others participating in the program in their spare time, meet minimum credit score requirements, have a stable employment and job history, meet income requirements and have a strong commitment to own and build their own home.

More information on Prairie View Senior Residences and the “Building Home” program may be found at www.homesteadks.org or by calling the Homestead office in Holton at 364-0110.

Explaining the hype about hemp seeds

By Cynthia S. Williams
Meadowlark Extension
District Agent
Food & Nutrition, FNP

Seeds such as flax and chia are popular for their potential health benefits. Another seed that is gaining popularity is hemp seed.

Hemp seeds have been eaten for almost 3,000 years. The seeds are hulled and referred to as hemp hearts. While they are related to marijuana plants, they are a different variety. The seeds only have trace amounts of the psychoactive ingredient.

Hemp seeds are not grown in the United States, but are imported from Canada and other countries. They must be heat-treated to stop germination.

Many claims are touted about hemp seeds’ benefits with little human research to prove those claims.

Drink Milk to Save Your Knees Consuming milk has always been linked to better bone health. Now there’s more evidence showing how milk can possibly slow osteoarthritis in women’s knees.

Researchers at Brigham and Women’s Hospital in Boston, Mass. found that drinking low-fat or fat-free milk an eight-ounce glass of milk per day can minimize the progression of joint space width loss. The joint space width is between the medial femur and tibia of the knee.

Other factors adjusted for in this research included baseline disease severity, body mass index, dietary intake and other possible factors. It is estimated that 27 million people in the United States have osteoarthritis.

Paternal grandmother is Rebecca DeWitt-Earley of Springfield, Ill. Great-grandmother is Patricia Lewis of Springfield, Ill.

Kientz Corner

By Beverly Ramey Newell

On April 19, the Pleasant Hill United Methodist Church congregation opened its worship service by singing “O Master, Let Me Walk With Thee.”

The announcements were: All ladies, remember that from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. on May 3, “A Ladies Tea” was set to be held at the church; sign up to go to a T-Bones ball game at 7:05 p.m. on June 19 (tickets are $11.50 each, please pay in advance); and anyone interested in exploring what it means to be a member of the church is invited to sign up in the foyer (you will be contacted to set up a meeting).

The birthdays for April 19 through April 25: Bailey Savoie and Annika Wilson, April 19; Gary Domer and Marlene Schilds, April 20; Joey Hentzler, April 21; Jeremy Watson and Jonah Watson, April 22; and Robbie Rea, April 25.

The anniversaries for the week were: Nick and Karen Nicolay, April 19; Ed and Kristy Beatty and Jin Cho and Sun Kim, April 22; and Alan and Linda Shaffer, April 25.

The children’s story was given by Kevin McDowell. He asked the children if they liked puzzles. He showed them a puzzle and asked what it said. Kevin showed the puzzle to the congregation and it said “J-E-S-U-S.” Let us open up our hearts and minds to Jesus. May we understand the word of Jesus and share it with others.

The chancel choir sang “Walk With Me, Lord.” Those singing were Janet Baldwin, Kristy Beatty, Jenny Christman, Betty Domer, Linda Griffiths, Kay Jones-Ray, Annie McDowell, Sandy Old, Gayle Smith, Billie Winsor, Gary Domer, Ron Griffiths, Clifford Hurst, Bruce Lanning and Brian Smith. Greg Baldwin directed them while Mary Smith accompanied them on the piano.

Ron Griffiths stated that he was still collecting aluminum cans, brass and copper.

Prayers were asked for Ray Anderson, who is in the hospital with health problems.

Bruce Lanning read the scriptures Matthew 18:21-22 and Colossians 3:12-15. The sermon “Forgiveness: 70 Times Seven” was given by the Rev. Hyun-Jin Cho. When you ask to be forgiven, you should say, “I am sorry, please forgive me.” After you have been forgiven, you may experience a calm and peacefulness come over you.

God will lead and guide us in our journey with Him. How many times shall we forgive someone?

The scripture Matthew 18:22 says, “77 times.” Some sins may take longer to heal than others. Let us repent our sins and ask for forgiveness often and consistently. May we have peace in our hearts after receiving forgiveness.

The closing hymn was “Savior, Like A Shepherd Lead Us.” Those assisting with the service were Bruce Lanning, liturgist; Mary Smith, organist; Alfred and Matt Mannell, sound system; Harper and Paxton Lane, acolytes; Betty Domer, song leader; and Gary Domer, Brian Smith, Ron Griffiths and Kevin McDowell, usher team.

On April 19, Beverly Newell attended the Hoyt United Methodist Church worship service. After the worship service, the family of Vicki Gilliland served birthday cake, lemonade and iced tea in honor of Vicki’s special birthday. Her birthday was April 19. Everyone sang “Happy Birthday” to Vicki and wished her many more birthdays to come.

The Rev. Beverly L. McCurdy is the pastor of Hoyt United Methodist Church.

Soybean planting dates research

By David G. Hallauer
Meadowlark Extension
District Agent
Crops & Soils/Horticulture

Pick up a copy of your favorite farm magazine or peruse the Internet sometime and check out the soybean planting date recommendations. It’s amazing the difference 100 miles can make!

We’ve flirted with earlier planting dates in Kansas, with planting occurring an average of about half a day per year earlier than in the past. Why? It’s one of the primary management practices that can greatly influence yield – and one that we control!

Should we be planting earlier? Depends on when you are planting now! The ability of soybeans to prosper over a wide range of planting dates speaks highly to their adaptability. In Northeast Kansas, early May through mid-June is acceptable, but a research summary in a recent issue of our K-State Agronomy eUpdate does show some trends of interest.

At Topeka and Manhattan sites, early May planting consistently produced higher yields than other planting dates. Each day that planting was delayed from early May up to mid-late June, yields declined at an overall rate of close to 0.5 bushel/acre/day. The trend in north central Kansas showed clear advantages for early to mid-May as well.

Want to check out the full report? Request a copy from your district office or access it online at webapp.agron.ksu.edu/agr_social/eu_article_throck?article_id=522.

Borers on Pines

Got holes in your pine tree? It’s not uncommon, but it may not be what you think it is!

Most look at holes in the bark of a tree and think borer. Often, that’s correct – if they’re evenly spaced over the trunk. Holes in a horizontal or vertical row are actually caused by a woodpecker – more specifically, the yellow-bellied sapsucker – as it feeds on sap released from the wounds or on insects attracted to them.

Ways to rebuild the cowherd

By Jody G. Holthaus
Meadowlark Extension
District Agent
Livestock-Natural Resources

The following are comments from Derrell Peel, Oklahoma State University livestock marketing specialist.

The long-awaited end to beef cow herd liquidation happened in 2014 as the industry abruptly switched to expansion. The 2.1 percent increase in beef cow numbers in 2014 was more than generally expected, but not a big surprise as the conditions were right for such a turnaround. Modest growth in heifer inventories has occurred since 2012.

It wasn’t until 2014 that beef cow culling decreased enough to combine with heifer retention and result in herd growth. This leads to a number of questions including how much additional herd growth is needed; how fast can it happen; and where will it take place.

The answers to these questions are not completely apparent at this time and will depend on a number of factors yet to be determined in the coming years. However, there are some indications already in place.

After a brief attempt at expansion in 2004 and 2005, the industry has experienced unplanned herd liquidation. I mean unplanned in the sense that it was not typical cyclical factors that caused the liquidation. It was not, for the most part, low cattle prices but rather cost shocks that caused low returns and liquidation between 2006 and 2010.

Widespread drought forced additional liquidation between 2011 and 2013. The question of how much growth is needed will depend on domestic and international market conditions over the next few years as herd growth occurs. It will depend also on things such as carcass weights that will determine total beef production relative to slaughter rates.

At this point, I see little reason why the cow herd should not rebuild to at least the level of the truncated expansion in 2007-2008...roughly 32.5 million head. That would suggest another 2.8 million head beyond the January 2015 level. This implies total herd growth of nearly 9.5 percent in the next few years. Time and market conditions will, however, determine exactly what the size potential is for the industry.

How long will it take? At the 2014 rate of 2.1 percent per year, it would take until 2019 to surpass the 32 million head level. In the last complete cyclical expansion from 1990-1995, the average annual herd growth rate was 1.4 percent. Leaving out the slow first year and tapering off the last year, the principal four years of expansion during this period averaged two percent per year.

In the current expansion, a single year of faster growth is very possible but it is unlikely that an annual growth rate much above two percent could be maintained for two or three years, consecutively. There are, however, a number of regional factors that could slow down expansion. An average herd growth rate of 1.5 percent would take until 2021 to exceed 32 million head of beef cows. The question of how long is related to the question of where herd growth will take place.

In five Midwestern states from Missouri to Ohio, the beef cow herd in 2015 was 8.4 percent smaller than in 2008. In the Appalachian states of Kentucky, Tennessee and West Virginia, the 2015 beef cow inventory was down 15 percent compared to 2008.

In both of these regions, the decrease in beef cows is largely the result of decreased forage acreage due to expanded crop production. Lost pasture and hay production in these regions is not likely to return quickly, if ever. The beef cow herd in these regions will grow but is unlikely to rebuild to previous levels.

The Northern Plains states of Nebraska and the Dakotas experienced a modest 2.9 percent decrease in the beef cow herd between 2008 and Pines aren’t the only host. Apples, maples and Bradford pear are targets and any tree is fair game! Damage is usually superficial, but small trees could potentially be girdled and killed.

If you are worried about a smaller tree, you might think about wrapping the trunk with a fine wire mesh in the area of damage. If left in place, it might help discourage the sapsucker. If not adjusted periodically, the tree will grow around it and cause it to die anyway! I think I’d take my chances with the sapsucker!

Tanglefoot is also a good option. It’s sticky and when applied to tree trunks captures insects that crawl up the trunk. Yellow-bellied sapsuckers do not like to put their feet in the sticky material and will likely find another host. The material will lose stickiness over time and need to be reapplied.

What if you don’t do anything? In all likelihood, the damaged area will ooze sap and look unsightly, but little long-term damage will occur. Wait them out. Since they are migratory, they’ll leave towards the end of April and not return until this fall – if they do at all!

2015. Similarly, the 2008-2015 beef cow herd decrease in the Northern Rocky Mountain region of Montana and Wyoming was only 1.2 percent. These regions will likely experience herd rebuilding but the two regions together are currently only 155,000 head below the 2008 level.

The beef cow herd in other regions is down as well, including the South (down 3.8 percent) the Great lakes region (down 4.7 percent); the Gulf region (down 8.1 percent); the Southern Rocky Mountain region (down 2.8 percent) and the Southwest (down 9.4 percent). These five regions combined are down just over 500 thousand head from 2008 and will likely rebuild but drought will limit or slow the rate of growth in Southwest and Southern Rocky Mountain regions.

The 2015 beef cow inventory of the Southern Plains region (Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas) was down 13.2 percent from 2008, a decrease of over 1.1 million head. This represents 42 percent of the total beef cow herd decline between 2008 and 2015.

This region will clearly play a central role in U.S. beef cow herd expansion in the coming years. Parts of the region are still experiencing severe to exceptional drought conditions. The 6.2 percent herd expansion in 2014 in the Southern Plains may be difficult to maintain if drought conditions do not improve significantly. Moreover, herd expansion could be halted or reversed if drought conditions redevelop in the region.

While the final beef cow herd total for this expansion is unknown, it seems likely that the industry will be rebuilding or trying to rebuild for the remainder of the decade. Much of the herd growth will be in the Southern Plains with proportionately more growth likely in the western half of the country compared to the eastern half.
