Summer food service program sought locally

By Ali Holcomb

More than 1,000 students enrolled in Jackson County schools receive free or reduced-price meals during the school year. While federal funds are available to provide hot meals for these – and all – students in the summer months, no volunteers or organizations have stepped up to coordinate those efforts this summer.

Jackson County is one of 35 counties in the state that does not currently have a hot lunch program set up this summer despite funding available from the U.S. Department of Agriculture, according to a recent report. The Summer Food Service Program is a USDA program and is administered in Kansas by the Kansas Department of Education.

Kansas Kids Table, which is operated by the nonprofit Kansas Appleseed, helps Kansas children connect with summer meal programs. In 2014, Kansas Kids Table reported that 44 counties in the state had no food sites.

The USDA provides funding and dietary guidelines for summer meal sites, and the meals are open to all students, regardless of their parents' income or whether they receive free or reduced-price meals during the year. The meals must be served and eaten onsite, according to USDA regulations.

Throughout the state, summer meal programs as held in schools, libraries, parks and churches, and, in many cases, the volunteers have partnered with Harvesters Community Food Network to provide the lunches.

Nearby counties host lunch and breakfast sites at a variety of locations, including Atchison Middle School, Atchison Boys and Girls Club, Atchison County Community Jr./Sr. High in Effingham, Atchison County Community Elementary School in Effingham, Seneca City Park, Wetmore Pool and First Presbyterian Church in Wamego. Some locations offer meals every day, while others offer meals just one or two times a week.

To increase participation in the summer meal program, Kansas Kids Table recommends that volunteers organize activities before or after the meals, offer transportation or supervision for those walking and offer incentives for children who attend more days.

According to a recent report from the Food and Research Action Center in Washington, D.C., Kansas ranks 50th (last) out of all the states and the nation's capital in terms of its summer meal outreach programs.

In Holton, 450 students received free or reduced-price meals during the most recent school year while Royal Valley had 448 students who met those qualifications.

Royal Valley Superintendent John Rundle said he was unaware of the lunch site programs offered in the state during the summer months.

"We've never been approached about hosting such a program, but I think it's something we would consider," he said.

Second Saturday 'just for the kids'

■ 'Wonka' to feature on 'Movie Night'

By Brian Sanders

This month's Second Saturday promotion is offering kids a "Golden Ticket" to fun on Holton's Town Square for "Movie Night."

For July's Holton/Jackson County Chamber of Commerce event, set for this coming Saturday, July 11, the theme of "Movie Night" centers on the family classic "Willy Wonka & the Chocolate Factory," and according to Chamber director Carolyn McKee, this event is "just for the kids." Downtown shops will be open from 4 p.m. to 7 p.m., and the Jackson County Community Band will play from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m., prior to the movie's 9 p.m. start time.

And just as five lucky kids in the movie won a trip to Willy Wonka's chocolate factory by finding a "Golden Ticket," three lucky kids (age 12 and under) will also have the chance to find a "Golden Ticket" of their own. Each of the three "Golden Tickets" entitles a winner to a $50 bill, and the giveaway is being sponsored by Denison State Bank, The Farmers State Bank and Holton National Bank, McKee said.

"When the kids come to watch the movie, we'll be passing out candy bars to every kid," she said. "They'll open up their candy bar to see if they got the 'golden ticket,' and we'll give the prizes out right before the movie starts."

Also before the movie starts, younger kids will have the opportunity to play in a "bounce house" that's being provided free of charge for the event, McKee said. Evangel United Methodist Church will be offering homemade ice cream, the Holton Lions Club will offer hot dogs and popcorn and Holton High School's SADD chapter will be selling cotton candy.

The show starts at 9 p.m. and is the 1971 movie starring Gene Wilder as the eccentric "Candy Man" who offers five lucky "Golden Ticket" winners the chance to tour his candy factory and meet the "Oompa-Loompas." McKee said this year's choice of "Movie Night" entertainment is geared toward the whole family, particularly those who may not be familiar with this film adaptation of Roald Dahl's 1964 book.

'Guys Read' program targets younger men

By Brian Sanders

According to Jackson Heights High School librarian Jessica Karns, studies have shown that once young men get into their middle and high school years, "reading for pleasure just takes a big fat drop-off."

That's why Karns has teamed with Beck-Bookman Library in Holton to organize a local "Guys Read" book club, utilizing a State of Kansas grant to help keep young men — as well as those who have moved beyond their school years — interested in reading.

"When I read a really great book, my reaction is that I want to tell everyone about it," Karns said. "I'd like to see if other people can share that enthusiasm, especially the younger guys who are involved in a lot of activities during the summer."

The first "Guys Read" series was led by Joe Kelly, assistant superintendent for the Holton school district, Karns said. Even though it was aimed at middle and high school youths, there were "some older members of the community" who also participated in the series.

This Thursday, the "Guys Read" club will start its second series on "The Warrior's Heart: Becoming a Man of Compassion and Courage," a book by Navy SEAL Eric Greitens about his military and humanitarian experiences. Karns said that while the book is targeted toward high school readers, there's something in it for men of all ages.

"Greitens went to Duke University, where he won several grants to photograph people in troublesome situations," Karns said of the book. "He went to Bosnia, Bolivia and Mexico, and he felt that as he was recording these images, he was on the hind end of things. He felt he wasn't being

James Pritchard of the J. Pritchard Masonry Company of Topeka smoothed out some mortar on one of the endposts of the new decorative rock wall being erected at the southwest corner of Holton's Town Square on Thursday. ## Commission accepts some bids for land sales

By Ali Holcomb

The Jackson County Commission has accepted some of the bids submitted for the purchase of lands acquired by the county through recent tax sales.

During last week's commission meeting, the commissioners approve a motion to accept two bids submitted for the purchase of lands in Whiting and Denison.

Janice and Harvey Smith of Denison bid $3,000 to purchase 203 Western Ave. in Denison. The Smiths were the only people to submit a bid on this property, and it was approved by the commission.

Brandon Osborn of Atchison bid $2,500 to purchase 327 Whiting St. Osborn's was the sole bid on that property, and it was approved by the commission.

Some clarifications were needed on bids submitted for additional properties, and the commissioners are expected to approve some of those bids at their meeting today.

Additional submitted bids include $643.55 for lots 43 and 45 Eastern Avenue in Denison submitted by Earnest DeBusk, $1,000 for 327 Whiting St. in Whiting submitted by Roger Breshears and $50 a lot for 107 Eastern Ave., 109 Eastern Ave. and 114 Central Ave., all in Denison, submitted by Dennis and Hannah Johnson.

Also during the commission meeting, the commissioners met with Jackson County Sheriff Tim Morse, County Attorney Shawna Miller and Lisa Hyten from the YWCA Center for Safety and Empowerment of Topeka to discuss applying for a grant that would fund a full-time victim service coordinator in the county.

Grants monies to fund this position are available through the Victims of Crime Fund, which is money collected from convicted federal offenders, penalties, fees and assessments. The grant is administered at the federal level and is distributed by the state, Hyten said.

Currently, Hyten serves victims in Jackson and Wabunsee counties through the YWCA.

"In a violent crime, the victims are the evidence," Hyten said. "And many victims don't have the emotional support to testify in court and be a witness."

Morse said he's worked with other victim's coordinators in the past, but that the county experienced little results until Hyten was hired by YWCA.

Miller agreed. "Lisa has the uncanny ability of meeting victims where they are at," Miller said.

In 2014, Hyten said that 100 percent of sexual assault cases that were filed in the county ended with positive outcomes and successful verdicts in court.

Hyten said she would like the county to apply for a grant so she could work solely in Jackson County full time.

If the county received the grant, Hyten would become a county employee and would no longer work for YWCA. She estimated that the county would need to apply for a $60,000 grant for the position.

The grant does require a 20 percent match, but in lieu of funds, the county can provide other assets like office space.

The commissioners said they were in favor of supporting the grant and asked Hyten for additional figures regarding funding.

Hyten said she would gather that information for the commissioners and proceed with applying for the grant.

In other business, according to the unapproved minutes, the commission:

Westar, KCC agree to rate settlement

Westar Energy and the Kansas Corporation Commission agreed on Wednesday to a settlement that, if approved, would resolve the complaint filed with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission by the KCC last year.

Through the agreement, Westar Energy’s transmission investment would have an authorized return on equity of 10.3 percent and provide for a refund of $10 million, reflecting the change in return retroactive to the KCC’s filing in August. Most residential customers would see a monthly savings of about 40 cents or less per month beginning in early 2016, pending FERC approval.

During the past decade, Westar has invested about $1.3 billion in the Kansas transmission grid, it was reported.

“Transmission investment is critical to keep Kansas moving forward. A strong grid lets Kansas profit from its great wind resources, enables economic development and provides access to lower-cost electricity,” said Mark Ruelle, Westar Energy president and chief executive officer.

“I appreciate that through a constructive regulatory process we were able to reach an agreement that will maintain a return for our investors, allowing continued investment in our state’s infrastructure,” Ruelle added.

When Rotarian Walter Bennett arrived on Friday, June 30, at the club’s weekly meeting, he was surprised to find on display an 18¾-pound Northern Pike he caught on a fishing trip in Canada with Wendell Mercer. In preparing for the Fourth of July, the editor of The Holton Recorder, John Chandler, reviewed some of the files of the paper to find out what people in Holton did on the holiday in past years. Some findings included that in 1880, an ox was roasted and hauled around the Square on a wagon with a committee making sandwiches for all attendants. In 1919, an elaborate celebration was planned on the Fourth to honor the World War I servicemen on their first Fourth of July at home.

Say good-bye to trans fat

Trans fat is starting its three-year farewell forever tour.

That's good news for your heart. The U.S. Food and Drug Administration finally announced recently that it was removing trans fat from its "generally recognized as safe" list, and companies would need to reformulate products within three years or go through a process to prove they shouldn't have to.

Consumers today are more aware of the scientific link between trans fat additives and heart disease. The FDA is finally chiming in.

Trans fat is created by taking a liquid, plant-based fat and adding hydrogen at high temperatures to create a solid fat which will be stable and won't turn rancid. It also can improve texture and taste in food, and was popular in baked goods, snacks and frozen foods.

The FDA has required labeling trans fats since 2006, and customers have generally shied away from using them, though there was an exception from the labeling requirements for products with less than one-half gram of trans fat. Some meat and dairy products also have a small amount of naturally occurring trans fat.

Replacement options include plant oils that were modified to be more stable or that have antioxidants added. Other companies are using animal fats like lard and butter instead, though the saturated fats in those products aren't good for the heart either.

People will have to continue to keep an eye on their fat intake, even when trans fat is off the food shelf forever. Health experts say fat has more calories per gram than carbohydrates or protein and should not make up more than 30 percent of a person's daily calorie intake.

In the war on fat intake, this new FDA announcement is good news.

Time to make good on openness policy

By Patrice McDermott

The president has a new opportunity to ensure that the openness policies laid out on his first day of office do not end on his last day.

On Jan. 21, 2009, President Obama signed an executive order and two presidential memoranda to usher in what he called a "new era of openness."

The Presidential memo on the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) ordered federal agencies to operate under a clear presumption of disclosure for information requested under FOIA.

All agencies should adopt a presumption in favor of disclosure, in order to renew their commitment to the principles embodied in FOIA, and to usher in a new era of open government, according to the memo "The presumption of disclosure should be applied to all decisions involving FOIA."

Following on the President's day one FOIA memo, Attorney General Eric Holder issued new guidelines for implementing the presumption of disclosure.

Holder's March 19, 2009 memo states that agencies "should not withhold information simply because it may do so legally" and strongly encourages agencies "to make discretionary disclosures of information."

The memo also emphasizes that "FOIA professionals should be mindful of their obligation to work in a spirit of cooperation with FOIA requesters" and notes that "open government requires agencies to work proactively and respond to requests promptly."

The language in the presidential memo and subsequent FOIA guidance was praised by transparency proponents who had called on President Obama to reverse the secrecy trend of the Bush-era and issue new directives on openness.

The directives marked a transformative shift from the prior administration, when the DOJ instructed agencies to essentially withhold whatever they could under FOIA.

Now, the president should support legislation that ensures that the next administration cannot undo his guidance, and resort to the presumption of secrecy that guided agencies in the past.

However, much to the chagrin of openness advocates, instead of the hoped-for support of the president for his own language and directions, persistent behind-the-scenes resistance appears to have come from the administration and executive agencies.

It is the time for the president to publicly support the language in the FOIA reform bills moving in Congress.

Two bipartisan Freedom of Information Act bills in Senate (S. 337) and the House (H.R. 653) will codify the administration's FOIA policy and guidance while strengthening citizens' access to public information.

Each contains language that closely mirrors the administration's instructions on FOIA, which otherwise cannot be guaranteed to last into the next administration.

While there are differences in the language, the bills would solidify the presumption of openness, requiring records to be released unless there is a specific foreseeable harm or legal requirement to withhold them.

These FOIA reforms are critical for achieving the unprecedented levels of openness promised by the president, on day one, when he announced that "every agency and department should know that this administration stands on the side not of those who seek to withhold information, but those who seek to make it known."

Modern families have unique insurance concerns

By Ken Selzer
Kansas Commissioner of Insurance

Sometimes the empty nest doesn't stay empty. In fact, according to the Pew Research Center, the number of Americans living in multigenerational households has doubled since 1980.

Baby boomers supporting their parents and their college graduates returning home are among the more than 50 million Americans living in multigenerational homes. These modern families may have unique concerns when it comes to home, health, auto and life insurance.

To help you understand how to protect you and your family, our Kansas Insurance Department staff and the National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC) offer these tips.

Household Concerns

Having an adult child, parent or other family member move into your household can be stressful. To make sure your insurance coverage is adequate, here are some questions to consider:

- How long does your family member plan to live with you?
- Are you charging rent (a fee for room and board)?
- Does your new house mate have all of his/her belongings with him/her?
- Will this person regularly drive your vehicle(s)?

Home Insurance

When a new household resident moves in, know what your homeowners policy covers in terms of limitations or even exclusions. First, check with your insurer or agent to see if you need extra coverage. If a fire or theft were to occur, any resident's belongings are typically covered by a standard homeowners agreement. However, belongings are subject to limitations, and high-priced items may need extra coverage.

If you plan to charge your new household member rent, he or she may want to consider renter's insurance. Renter's insurance is typically inexpensive and covers the renter's property and liability up to policy limits.

Health Insurance

Insurers now allow adult children up to age 26 to be covered by their parents' health insurance policies. If your adult children are older than 26, they'll need to look into an individual policy.

If an older relative moves in with you and is over the age of 65, that person may qualify for Medicare. For more information about Medicare, visit Medicare.gov, the official U.S. government site. If your parent is moving in due to health concerns, you may want to carefully consider long-term care insurance.

Auto Insurance

Car insurers are permitted to request information regarding who is living in your household and who drives your vehicles. If your new resident drives, notify your auto insurance company. If the resident owns his/her own car, your insurer may simply want a copy of his or her auto policy.

If the household member does not own a vehicle, you may want to add them to your auto policy if he or she is a licensed driver. Depending on the person's age and driving history, this may impact your rates. If you misrepresent information to your auto insurance company about drivers using your vehicle, future claims could be denied, and your policy could be canceled or not renewed.

Life Insurance

If you find your family dependent on you to provide for them, you should review your need for life insurance. To determine if you need coverage, ask yourself the following questions:

- How much of the family income do I provide?
- If I were to die, how would my survivors — both children and parents — get by?
- How will my family pay final expenses and repay debts after my death?
- Will there be estate taxes to pay after my death?

In each policy area, you should visit with your local insurance agent or company to determine what is best for your family's insurance needs. If you have additional questions, contact our Consumer Assistance Division, 800-432-2484, to speak to one of our consumer assistance representatives.

Lift ban on U.S. crude oil exports

Dear editor,

Over the past several years, our nation has left behind decades of energy scarcity and has become a worldwide leader in energy production.

Fossil fuels have led the way and will continue to take the lead in providing most of the world's energy needs well into this century.

President Obama's Energy Information Administration estimates that 25 years from now, fossil fuels will account for 80 percent of the country's energy consumption.

Today, the U.S. is the number one producer of oil and natural gas in the world. We should take full advantage of this unique global energy leadership position.

The U.S. energy renaissance is endangered by two key factors: 1) OPEC manipulation by predatory pricing practices to drive U.S. producers out of business, and 2) The combination of restricted U.S. refining capacity and an archaic export ban on U.S. crude oil.

Lifting the ban on U.S. crude oil exports would add to GDP growth, reduce the U.S. trade deficit, de-intensify the Middle East's strategic importance, end OPEC dominance, reduce European allies' dependence on Russia, put Americans back to work here, lower and stabilize gasoline prices for U.S. consumers, and more.

Harnessing the benefits of America's energy renaissance will require lawmakers and regulators to re-examine policies that were enacted long before the U.S. transitioned from a period of energy scarcity to our current position of energy abundance.

In the long term, any oversupply of unrefined crude oil may discourage more energy production here at home.

Lifting the crude oil export ban would allow U.S. oil producers to stay in the game. Even if margins are low, revenue from new global markets would allow U.S. producers to compete for a share of the world market and narrow the price differential between global oil price and that received by U.S. producers.

So, if U.S. crude oil can reach the global market, then consumers should begin to see higher global supplies, more production and consumer-level benefits. We must lift our own self-imposed crude oil export restrictions.

In a domestic market awash with oil, keeping the 1970s-era crude oil export restrictions in place discriminates against U.S. producers and threatens investment in new supply, thereby jeopardizing economic, security, and trade gains from the energy sector.

Policymakers should lift the crude oil export ban to bring export policy in line with present market circumstances, to promote free trade and responsible growth in the energy sector, and to reap the geopolitical advantages of having a larger and more flexible role in the global oil market.

We are in a new era of American energy, but our energy trade policies are stuck in the 1970s.

According to recent studies by the Energy Information Administration and others, lifting the 1970's-era restrictions on U.S. crude oil exports would lead to further increases in domestic oil production, resulting in lower gasoline prices while supporting more than 300,000 additional jobs this decade.

The additional crude oil supply in the global crude oil market would lower gasoline prices by an annual average of 8 cents per gallon, according to the studies.

It is time to let free trade unlock more of the benefits of our energy abundance for U.S. consumers and further strengthen our position as a global energy superpower.

LETTER: Fiscal sanity is severely lacking in state of Kansas

Dear editor,

The recent ruling of the Shawnee County District court suspending the new block grant financing law, passed by the Legislature and signed by Governor Brownback is asinine and insane.

Fiscal sanity is severely lacking in the world, the U.S., and apparently in the State of Kansas as well.

Greece has recently given us a glimpse of our future. A future where people stand in long lines every day to pull out a miserly 69 euros to live on.

A nation which owes hundreds of billions to the IMF with no foreseeable way to ever pay it back. A nation that refuses to accept any measures that would balance their budget and begin to pay back their mountain of debt.

Greece pays 22 billion euros a year in interest alone on their debt, and is not willing to raise sales taxes, or the retirement age, so that they can even make the interest payments.

No sane creditor will loan money to a nation with 197 percent debt to GDP, which is almost twice as much debt as all the earnings of every Greek citizen combined.

When we look at Greece, and now recently Puerto Rico with $79 billion in debt that they say they can never pay back, we pity them and shake our heads.

We can afford to sit in judgement over Greece for now, but that time will quickly come to an end unless we put our own fiscal house in order.

We cannot go on funding the education system of this state the way we have in the past.

Under Gov. Kathleen Sebelius, and other lawmakers, we Kansans have racked up $30 billion in debt. That amounts to more than $10,000 of debt for every Kansas citizen, and we continue to borrow.

The teachers unions of our state would have us believe that it is the law of the land to give them all the money they ask for.

The Kansas State Constitution, specifically article 6, subsection 6(b) states the following, "The legislature shall make suitable provision for finance of the educational interests of the state."

The teachers unions in this state, and their supporters, have used our state constitution to fleece the people of this state for their own profit.

We in Jackson County are told that we cannot even cut the golf program at one of the high schools because that would be unfair to one student.

What is really unfair is forcing the people of this county to pay $5,000 for one student to play golf. This in the simplest terms is highway robbery.

How long will "we the people" allow the teachers and their unions to rob us of our money?

Gov. Brownback is trying to bring back some fiscal sanity to our education system before we end up like Greece.

The teachers unions will not care when we have to stand in lines at the ATM, they will have already absconded with their loot.

We must bring back fiscal sanity to Kansas before this happens and stand up to the robber barons of our day.

JH boys basketball making the most of second season

Cobras take tournament title in Sabetha league

While the Jackson Heights boys basketball team entered the summer with a few holes to fill after the graduation of a small but crucial senior class, it was nothing compared to the rebuilding job that needed to be done prior to last season.

In addition, the Cobras were afforded the stability of not having to adapt to a new coach, as Chris Brown gets set for his second year at the helm of the JHHS boys team.

Being established and getting the chance to be more hands-on with his team in the summer is something that Brown said benefitted him and his players, and allowed him to tinker with the process a little bit and give his players almost a full second season through summer league play and camp experiences.

“Along those lines, that was just a great experience for both of us as we’re still getting used to each other, but definitely getting comfortable with each other also,” Brown said.

Jackson Heights may not have hosted a full team camp this summer, but Brown did have one for incoming freshmen and new players at the end of May to help them get a better understanding of what the team would be doing early before things kicked into high gear.

The young Cobras could get a base before having the opportunity, with the rest of the team, to practice two times a week while preparing for both summer league competition and some traveling camps Brown gave his players an opportunity to compete in this offseason.

With the double round-robin play of the Northeast Kansas League in the high school season and the local competition (Falls City, Sabetha, Hiawatha, Doniphan West, Troy, Axtell, Auburn, HTRS, Washington County, Marysville, Wetmore, Nemaha Central and Centralia) the team saw in the NEK summer league, Brown said competing in Emporia and Manhattan, if nothing else, would help broaden his players’ horizons.

“I really wanted to have us kind of expand our depths a little bit as to who we saw and the types of teams we saw and that ended up working out perfectly,” Brown said. “I couldn’t have been more happy with both of those experiences at Emporia and Kansas State.”

At the Kansas State team camp alone, Jackson Heights faced Chanute, Parsons, Bonner Springs, Kearney Catholic (Neb.), Van Farr (Mo.) and St. Pius X (Mo.) and went 2-4, though that record was deceiving considering none of the Cobras’ losses came by more than six points.

In addition to getting pushed by some new competition, that K-State camp in particular held the added advantage allowing the team to compete in Bramlage Coliseum, the host site of the Class 2A state basketball tournament. Brown noted he wanted his players to have that experience playing there in case the team finds itself making a return trip in 2016.

To do that, though, some players will have to adjust to new roles, like Westin Jacobsen at starting point guard following the graduation of Korby Strube and Zane Richter at post defender after the loss of Lane Slocum. So far, Brown said his players have been adjusting well.

“All of the guys getting their new roles and new duties down has been really important this summer and I really felt this last week we finally started gelling with our new roles in the offense and defense,” Brown said.

This last week, the JHHS varsity team rolled to four consecutive wins and a tournament title in the Northeast Kansas summer league, finishing with a 9-3 overall record. It was the culmination of a productive offseason and the championship game against Sabetha also happened to stress a key takeaway of the summer for the Cobras.

“I’m hoping we’ve kind of learned how to finish close games. We’ve played in a bunch of close games this summer and we lost some of them, but hopefully we’re starting to understand why we lost them and changes we can make when we get into the close games again,” Brown said. “I think we saw that in that championship game in Sabetha playing Sabetha.”

Against the Blue Jays, the Cobras held a big lead early, gave it up and then retook the lead, holding off Sabetha down the stretch with defense and strong free throw shooting. The team also beat Washington County, Nemaha Central and Wetmore in the season-ending tournament.

While there will now be some down time before the competition of the high school basketball season, Brown said his players can benefit from staying in the gym and continuing to shoot this summer, but he also believes just being competitive in the fall sports seasons (football and cross country) could fuel the Cobras even more heading into the winter.

Summer is a time for individual growth, Brown noted, whether it’s working on a new move or finding a new niche, but all that individual work helps the team, too, and he saw his team make a lot of progress and get a lot of good out of the offseason opportunities.

“I was just very happy. We played some really good teams and beat some really good teams. Like I said, we lost some games, but I felt like by the end of the summer we had learned from those experiences,” Brown said.

JHHS players who took part in the Northeast Kansas summer league included Westin Jacobsen, Wyatt Olberding, Zane Richter, Auston Sauvage, Adam Brey, Lane Holliday, Mason Thomas, Braden Dohl, Brady Holliday, Kaleb Keehn, Ethan Fund, Mason Hamilton, Levi Olberding, Lane Thomas and Kolby Rethman. The Cobras also had a freshman team competing in a league in Seneca over the summer.

Jackson Heights’ Zane Richter (shown above, at left) lines up a three-point shot in summer league competition against Wetmore last week. While the team has some holes to fill, Richter is among several varsity contributors who give JHHS a good foundation to build on for 2015-2016.

Area MAYB teams have success

Throughout the year, basketball players of all ages have plenty of local competitive opportunities thanks to the Mid-America Youth Basketball organization based out of Newton.

In the summer, though, Jackson County players in particular can stay even closer to home as Holton and Sabetha co-host an MAYB tournament in late June, with the 2015 tournament recently coming to a close.

Once again, several area teams were well represented in the final results, as six local squads finished in the top three of their respective divisions.

Standing out among those teams was one lone champion, as a group of third and fourth-grade boys from Holton finished first in their respective division. Wetmore, meanwhile, had a team take third in that same division.

There were plenty of runner-ups as well, like the Jackson Heights boys finishing second in the 7th/8th grade division, while the HHS girls fell to Sabetha in the high school division championship to claim the second spot. In addition, Wetmore also played second fiddle in the 5th/6th grade boys division.

Holton had a team take third in the 7th/8th grade girls division as well, defeating a Wetmore team that finished fourth. In the high school boys competition, Holton also took fourth after going 3-1 in pool play and getting a tough draw in the championship bracket.

The final local team to place was the JHHS girls team that finished fifth in the high school division.

In addition to that northeast Kansas tournament, a few Holton players made their way down south to compete in the Summer Kick-off tournament in Wichita this June as well.

Recent HHS graduate Garrett Beecher and incoming sophomore Mason Strader played for the KC Legacy team in that tournament, which went on to win the championship for the second year in a row.

Things started out dicey for the Legacy, as the team went 1-2 in pool play, but the lucky flip of a coin put the team in the championship bracket and the Legacy made the most of that opportunity.

In tournament play, the KC Legacy won four straight games and took down two tough McPherson teams in back-to-back games in the final rounds to successfully defend its title.

Royal Valley also took a team to the Summer Kick-off tournament and while the group went 2-1 in pool play, it ended up in the “B” bracket where it won one game before losing in the round of 16.

On the girls side of the same tournament, the Holton Wildcats had a strong showing as the team went undefeated in pool play, beating teams from Nebraska and Arkansas along the way. The HHS team then made its way to the championship game in the “B” bracket, where it fell a little short and took runner-up to a squad from McPherson.

For more information on MAYB tournament opportunities and full results, visit www.mayb.com.

At the recent Holton Middle School team football camp, HHS coach Matt Hundley (shown above, far left) and camp volunteer Austin Frakes (middle) held up some dummy bags to give the young Wildcats an opportunity to work on their blocking technique. The middle school and grade school players have gotten a chance to hone their skills over the past couple weeks and now high schoolers like Frakes will get their chance to improve as the high school will host its team camp starting this week. The HHS camp begins on Wednesday, July 8 and runs through July 10 before wrapping up the following week, July 15-17.

Summer volleyball comes to a close in tournament play

This past weekend held plenty of fireworks displays with the Fourth of July being celebrated on Saturday, but the volleyball teams competing in the Holton summer league got the week started with a bang as they wrapped up their season with some explosive performances on Wednesday and Thursday.

Varsity competition held few surprises, as the undefeated Holton Alumni #1 team kept its record unblemished on the way to a tournament title. Their championship opponent may have been a little surprising, but third-seeded HHS really pulled off a minor upset in the semifinals and avenged an earlier loss to Hiawatha.

In JV tournament competition, there was a similarly small flip-flop as Royal Valley got the better of the Holton freshmen in a semifinal rematch before falling to the undefeated Holton JV squad in the championship match.

Finally, the middle school teams seemed to have the most pop as they worked through their final games last Thursday. While Sabetha held onto its perfect record and remained alone atop the standings, there was a log of teams behind them as Royal Valley knocked off the previously unbeaten Everest and the eighth-grade team from Valley Falls got a couple of key wins that shook up the final standings.

Fuqua methodically made his way to the front of the pack in the IMCA Modified feature and took the checkered flag in the return to his hometown track.

Local racer wins in return to Thunder Hill

Dorothy Gale once said, “There’s no place like home.”

On Saturday night at Thunder Hill Speedway, a former track champion, Darron Fuqua, returned to the track to try his luck and prove that sentiment in the IMCA Modified division. It wasn’t a bad choice considering that he grew up watching his father race at Thunder Hill and he lives only a couple of minutes away from the track.

The race got started off with a yellow on the opening lap. During the yellow, Dylan Sherfick was sent to the rear of the field for being involved in the caution. As the race got going once again, Mat Stallbaumer (2014 Track Champ) got out in front of the field and stayed there, holding the competition at bay.

Fuqua, who started 12th on the night, slowly worked his way toward the front of the pack and made it up to fifth position. Sherfick, on the other hand, raced his way back up to fourth within five laps of the original restart; not bad considering he started at the back.

The battle up front, though, was between Stallbaumer, Clay Hale and Kyle Olberding. With seven laps to go, the excitement began.

On the restart, Fuqua blasted from fifth to third. Racing in a borrowed ride from Lance Town, Fuqua had a little extra left in the tank for the competition late. As Fuqua started his late race run, the fireworks show at Thunder Hill got a premature start.

Stallbaumer led the field into turn one with just a few laps remaining. While he was navigating the first turn, contact was made with the second-place car of Hale. That caused Stallbaumer to spin and Hale earned a black flag for rough driving, giving the lead to Fuqua for a green, white, checkered finish.

Fuqua got a great start as the green flag waved. Sherfick and Steven Bowers Jr. gave chase, but in a triumphant return Fuqua would not be denied. He hung on to the win and became the third different feature winner of the season.

Sherfick held on to second, the current points leader, Bowers, finished third, Olberding took fourth and rounding out the top five was Tom Charles.

Often times, drivers earn nicknames from announcers, fans and other competitors. This season, Tyler Frye has earned the nickname ‘Mr. Unbeatable’ in the IMCA Northern SportMods.

Coming into Saturday night’s race, Frye had yet to lose a feature event. That’s right, three races and three wins. Most drivers would be happy for a single win, let alone three in a row.

Luke Stallbaumer took the early lead in the feature on Saturday night and looked strong at the front of the pack. The action behind him got wild at times, but Stallbaumer maintained his lead. He held that lead until a yellow flag put a halt to his momentum and gave Frye a shot at the top spot once again.

Frye worked his way to the front of the field and put the squeeze on the competition again. He then closed it out for his fourth victory in a row at the checkered flag. The win also helped him extend his points lead in the division.

A good battle for second ensued late in the race as Shawn Harker, making an appearance, worked on Stallbaumer. Harker won the battle for second after starting 11th, third went to Stallbaumer, Jacob Davis stayed in top five all night and came in fourth while Austin Charles scored a top-five finish in fifth.

The IMCA Stock Car Feature became like an optical illusion by the end of the race. After three races this season, there have been three different feature winners and the action has been more than exciting on the track. Saturday night, it looked as if another new winner, Kyle Stallbaumer, would join the group.

Brent Alverson got the early lead only to have Marvin Griffith Jr. make contact with him. Alverson spun and Griffith got a black flag for rough driving. Due to the rules, Alverson had to go to the rear of the field for being involved in the caution.

Kyle Stallbaumer then took over at the front of the field. A week ago, his brother Mat took home the win and this week Kyle was trying to make sure the trophy stayed with the family.

Jim Powell Jr. started 14th on the grid and slowly moved his way to the front of the field, though. As the race went on, Powell picked up steam and clipped off more of the competition. Late in the race, Stallbaumer was in his sights. Unfortunately, the battle fans were waiting to see never happened.

Kyle had a mechanical issue late in the race and pulled to the infield, handing the lead over to Powell. Once in the lead, Powell hung on for the final few laps and took the win. That is where things took a turn into bizarre world.

After earning the checkered flag, instead of pulling around the track and into victory lane, Powell decided to take a right hand turn and drive back to the flag stand on the high side of the track while other racers were still under green racing to the checkers.

The move was deemed unsafe by Thunder Hill Speedway officials and led to a disqualification for Powell after the event. That disqualification meant the win went to Mat Stallbaumer, who also took the top spot a week ago, making him the first repeat winner of the season in the IMCA Stock Cars.

Brandon Conkwright came home in second, third went to Dominic Thyfault after starting eighth, Bob Arnold was fourth and Greg Deters came in fifth.

In the first race of the night, the IMCA Hobby Stock Feature, it was the Ronnebaum show. Over the past two seasons, Nicholas and Dalton Ronnebaum have been tough competitors in the Hobby Stock ranks. They haven’t won a bunch of features in a row or dominated on a weekly basis, but the have been front runners.

Saturday night, the Ronnenbaums showed that their skills are getting better on a weekly basis.

Nicholas jumped out front early in the feature and maintained his advantage throughout the night. It was a surprise, considering the competition he held back from mounting a charge.

Dalton, Ryan Sutter, Tyler Hinrichs, Tyler Garst, Tommy Fose and Levi Henery were all on the march to the front, each one doing what they could to move forward. It could have been their close racing that allowed Nicholas to establish a dominating run at the front.

No matter what the reason, Nicholas raced his way to win number one on the season and became the third different winner in four races at Thunder Hill in the Hobby Stocks.

Dalton took second, making it a family finish at the top, while Sutter put in another top-five finish coming in third. Fourth went to Tyler Garst, who put together a good run, and fifth was awarded to Fose.

Next Saturday night, July 11, is Ladies Night at the Thunder Hill, meaning admission is free for all female fans. Pit Gates open at 5 p.m., the drivers meeting is at 6:30 p.m. and hot laps and racing will follow soon after.

Ticket prices are $10 for adults, while kids under 12 are free. Pit Passes are $25 and $10 for kids under 12. To follow all of the action, fans can keep up with Thunder Hill Speedway by logging on to their website at www.racetThunderHillSpeedway.com.

Atchison man facing attempted murder charges

An Atchison man was arrested and booked into the Jackson County Jail Thursday on charges of attempted second degree murder, aggravated battery, obstruction of official duty and fleeing and attempting to elude a law enforcement officer, according to Jackson County Sheriff Tim Morse.

The arrest of Ryan Marcus Brownfield, 23, of Atchison stems from a March 12 incident in which a Jackson County Sheriff deputy escaped injury during a police vehicle pursuit that originated in Atchison County, Morse reported.

The Jackson County Sheriff's Office received notification of a police pursuit in progress in Jefferson County at about 5 p.m. that day, and the pursuit was reported to be headed west towards Jackson County from Valley Falls on Kansas Highway 16.

The pursuit involved a Kansas Highway Patrol trooper attempting to stop a Nissan Armada that was later found to be stolen from an Atchison car lot, Morse said.

At approximately 5:25 p.m. that day, a Jackson County sheriff's deputy attempted to deflate the tires of the suspect vehicle by deploying stop sticks in the 16000 Block of K-16 east of Denison.

The driver of the vehicle, however, allegedly left the roadway in an attempt to strike the deputy with the vehicle he was driving. The deputy was able to maneuver his vehicle out of the way of the vehicle without being injured, it was reported.

The suspect vehicle then collided with the pursuing trooper's patrol vehicle, which disabled the trooper's car. The suspect vehicle then turned back to the east crossing into Jefferson County, where the driver, later identified as Brownfield, was forced off the roadway and bailed from the vehicle.

Brownfield was apprehended shortly thereafter with the help of a KHP K-9 and was transported to the Atchison County Jail. The pursuing trooper was medically accessed and released from the Holton Community Hospital the night of the incident, it was reported.

Bond for Brownfield has been set at $250,000.

Stolen car, explosives recovered here Thursday

A Topeka man was arrested following a car stop in a stolen vehicle in rural Jackson County on Thursday afternoon, according to Jackson County Sheriff Tim Morse.

Jackson County deputies stopped a 2015 Volkswagen Jetta near 134th and O Roads in southern Jackson County for a traffic infraction, it was reported. The vehicle had been reported stolen to the Topeka Police Department on June 22, Morse said.

The driver of the vehicle, Justin Christopher White, 39, Topeka, was booked into the Jackson County Jail on charges of possession of stolen property, possession of methamphetamine, possession of illegal drug paraphernalia, driving while suspended, illegal registration and criminal possession of an explosive device.

Morse said that law enforcement removed items believed to be improvised explosive devices from the vehicle.

Four locals named to Baker dean's list

Four Jackson County students were named to Baker University's College of Arts and Sciences and School of Education undergraduate dean's list for maintaining a 3.5 grade-point average or higher during the spring 2015 semester.

Those named to the dean's list included Megan Clark, Tanner Clark, Brandon Haefke and Gun-nar McKenna, all of Holton.

Baker, the first university in Kansas, has been listed among the top schools in the Midwest in the annual college rankings by U.S. News & World Report, and selected as a top school in the Midwest by The Princeton Review.

Founded in 1858, Baker was the first four-year university in the state. Baker serves 3,200 students through the College of Arts and Sciences and School of Education in Baldwin City, Kansas; the School of Nursing in Topeka, Kansas; the School of Professional and Graduate Studies and School of Education in Overland Park, Topeka and Wichita in Kansas; and Kansas City and Lee's Summit in Missouri; and the School of Education at various locations.

Allen, Mellenbruch graduate K-State with honors

laude, were 137 students who have an academic average of 3.95 or higher; 156 students graduated magna cum laude with an academic average of 3.85 to 3.949; and 154 students graduated cum laude with an academic average of 3.750 to 3.848.

Seventeen students earned graduation honors for multiple degrees, and seven students received university honors.

Scammer impersonating local sheriff’s deputy

The Jackson County Sheriff’s Office has received several complaints from citizens who have received phone calls from a male claiming to be Deputy Sergeant Bradley, according to Jackson County Sheriff Tim Morse.

The caller tells the citizen that Jackson County has warrants for their arrest or that the citizen missed jury duty and will be arrested.

The caller also leaves a number for the citizen to call. When the number is called, a female scammer identifies themselves as being with the Jackson County Sheriff’s Warrant Division, Morse said. When asked where they are located, they provide the address to the Jackson County Sheriff’s Office.

The caller may be “spoofing” the call, which makes the call appear to be coming from Jackson County on caller I.D.

Scammers are posing as deputies and telling citizens they have a warrant for the citizen or someone in their family for not showing up to jury duty, Morse said. The caller then tells the citizen to send money upwards of $1,000 by MoneyGram to a Texas location.

“This tactic of advising individuals of warrants is contrary to the procedures of the Jackson County Sheriff’s Office,” Morse said. “Generally, deputies make personal contact with persons who are wanted by the sheriff’s office. In addition, the sheriff’s office posts outstanding arrest warrants on the agency’s website at www.jasoks.org.”

If you receive a call of this nature in Jackson County, Morse asks that it be reported to the Jackson County Sheriff’s Office at 785-364-2251.

“Do not attempt to contact this number or provide any personal information,” Morse said. “The sheriff’s office recommends to never send money or provide personal information by phone to someone you do not know or anyone soliciting you by phone or computer.”

If you ever have any questions whether or not someone is making a legitimate request, contact law enforcement immediately.

Kientz Corner By Beverly Ramey Newell

On June 28, the Pleasant Hill United Methodist Church congregation opened its worship service by singing “O God, Our Help in Ages Past.”

On July 12, the church will have only one worship service at 11 a.m. at the Westlake Shelter House in Gage Park in Topeka. After the service, members will have a potluck picnic. Meat, drink and table service will be provided. Bring a side dish or dessert, your lawn chairs and lawn games. Enjoy a relaxing afternoon at the park. Please sign up if you plan to attend so there is enough meat and drinks.

Lite Bite will be held at 5:15 p.m. on July 8. Vacation Bible School will be held from 6 p.m. to 8:30 p.m., July 27 through July 31. You may register online at www.pleasanthillumc.org.

The birthdays for June 28 through July 4: Karli Lester and Kira Sellens, July 2. The anniversaries for the week were Al and Joyce Mannell and Matt and Deb Mannell, June 29.

The children’s story was given by Kevin McDowell. He asked the children if they knew what the five senses were. They are sight, touch, taste, smell and hearing. He had a big brown paper bag with different things in it. Each child had to close their eyes, reach in the bag and get something and tell what they thought it was.

Some guessed right and some were wrong. The items in the bag were bananas, peaches, pears and oranges. They were all fruit. Our sense of touch is very important to us.

In the Bible, it tells us about a woman who had been ill for 12 years. She believed if she could just touch Jesus, she would be well. The woman saw Jesus and touched His robe and she was made well. May we reach out to Jesus and feel His power in our lives.

The concerns were prayers for the family of Jenny Quinn and for our pastor, our youth director, 20 youth and three other adults who are on a youth mission trip to St. Paul, Minn. Duane Reed would like to have visitors.

Linda Lanning read the scripture, Mark 5:21-43. The sermon “Trust

In The Miracle” was given by guest pastor, the Rev. Jean Marie Grabher. A favorite hymn of many people is “Precious Lord, Take My Hand,” which was written by Thomas A. Dorsey in 1932. Thomas’ wife and baby died, and Thomas began writing hymns, which helped him deal with his grief. He felt that his songs were a gift from God.

Jesus performed miracles by curing people from illness. They believed in Jesus and His power. Jesus told them, “Your faith has made you well, go in peace.” Each one of us is special in God’s eyes. Let us remember to trust in God’s miracles because God is with us every day.

The closing hymn was “Love Divine, All Loves Excelling.”

Those assisting with the service were Linda Lanning, liturgist; Greg Baldwin, organist; Betty Domer, song leader; Brayden and Hailee Gower, acolytes; Judy Glasgow and Deb Mannell, sound system; and Daryl and Joy Jepson and Gary and Barbara Slimmer, usher team.

On June 24, Delores Arredondo, Darlene Carr, Rosie Gutierrez, Marlene Handke and Beverly Newell ate lunch at the Hong Kong Chinese Restaurant in Topeka. They all are retirees of AT&T.

On June 29, Dick and Beverly Newell were afternoon visitors of Pete and Karen Smith of Topeka. Beverly baked Karen an angel food cake in honor of her birthday, which was June 22. They all enjoyed cake, ice cream and ice tea.

Denison Builders hold June meeting to prepare for fair

By Bobbi Horr reporter

The June meeting of the Denison Builders 4-H Club was held on June 1. The pledges were led by Sara and Shelby. The roll call question was, “What is your favorite summer activity?”

Then Bobbi gave the reporter’s report. She said that she turned in the report on May 5, 2015. Then the club leader announced that the fair books are in.

Next, club members learned that photo boards cost $2 this year. They decided that the club tour will be held at 10 a.m. on June 27, 2015. The club is also planning on buying a six-foot park bench for the new fair grounds.

The club did not have recreation. For snack, they had zebra cakes and cosmic brownies.

County Commission...

* Met in executive session for 15 minutes to discuss a personnel matter. No action was taken back in open session.

* Met with members of the Nemaha/Jackson Bullmasters 4-H Shooting Sports Group who reported that they are one of 68 teams participating in a national shooting competition. Members and sponsors present were Jason White, Jodi White, Tayla Manuel, Trey Manuel, Olivia Hietzman, Erika White, Lisa Cronkhite and Ralph Cronkhite.

The commissioners agreed to proclaim July 3 as Bullmasters 4-H Shooting Sports Day in the county.

* Met in executive session with Earl Bahret and Eric Fritz, road and bridge department co-supervisors, for 55 minutes to discuss a personnel matter. No action was taken back in open session.

* Heard a weekly report from John Kennedy, Banner Creek Reservoir manager, who reported that there are not enough picnic tables to cover all the shelters and campsites.

The commissioners agreed that he could seek a quote on purchasing 12 picnic tables. Kennedy and staff members have also discussed using concrete to permanently fix the picnic tables to the sites in the future.

* Learned from Kennedy that staff members have found a 2007 Ford pickup to possibly purchase for the reservoir with 75,000 mile on it. The asking price is $10,000.

* Learned that additional sand will be placed on the two swim beaches this week. Kennedy said that he would like to purchase finer sand in the future.

* Received a purchase request from Terry Mick, bridge and special project manager. Mick would like to purchase pipes for 270th and X.1 Roads and 156th and Q.4 Roads. The commissioners agreed and signed a purchase order for $25,395.20.

* Met with Bahret, Fritz and Luther Braun, Murphy Tractor representative. The commissioners signed off on extended warranties on the recently purchased track hoe and motor grader.

* Discussed the rock budget with Bahret and Fritz. The commissioners agreed to move $100,000 out of the special .04 percent sales tax, $64,000 out of county miscellaneous fund and $20,000 out of the federal exchange reimbursement fund to cover rock expenses for the county roads. These funds would be replenished if the president declares a natural disaster in Kansas due to flooding.

* Met with Judge Mike Ireland, who stated his support for KANZA Mental Health administrators' plans to purchase and remodel a portion of the Moser Building. Ireland asked the commissioners what they were concerned about when deciding not to support KANZA for the Community Development Block Grant.

The commissioners said they were concerned that KANZA administrators did not have any plans to expand its services when they presented their original business plan. They have since changed their plan to accommodate the county with more services.

The commissioners said that the county would be liable financially if KANZA was unable to repay funds, and the commissioners do not want to put tax money in jeopardy.

* Met with Sheriff Morse and Undersheriff Darrel Chapman to discuss the sheriff's 2016 budget request.

Morse requested that the commission look into Kansas Police & Fire Retirement.

Sheriff Morse said he is also concerned with paying his employees overtime and holiday pay. He said he doesn't think they are being compensated well enough to work these holidays and cases.

Morse submitted a 2016 budget request of $1,513,340 for the sheriff's office and $794,270 for jail operations.

* Learned from Chairwoman Janet Zwonitzer that she called Rep. Becky Hutchins, Rep. Randy Garber and Sen. Dennis Pyle regarding House Bill #2109.

* Discussed reducing the speed limit on county roads to 45 miles per hour. Sheriff Morse said he was not in favor of the change due to enforcement issues and the cost of replacing all the signs to make sure each road was posted.

* Approved the Jackson County Tourism Council's allocations of $500 to Pride of Hoyt for advertising, as well as $187.50 to purchase 250 copies of the Holton/Jackson County Chamber of Commerce directory.

* Discussed the roads that the county maintains on the reservation. The Prairie Band Potawatomi Nation plans to apply for Federal Emergency Management Agency assistance, and FEMA representatives have requested a map showing the roads that agencies maintain on the reservation.

County Counselor Alex Morrissey recommended that the commission and the road and bridge department supervisors meet with the tribe's road and bridge department to discuss which roads and bridges are being taken care of by whom and develop a summary document that lists the roads each entity is responsible for.

* Discussed a pending case regarding a dog that was quarantined for 10 days at a local shelter and has continued to be housed since the incident.

Commissioner Zwonitzer said that the cost of housing a dog because of a criminal case should be paid out of the county attorney's office and that restitution should be given back to that office.

* Discussed a faxed proposal from D. Hoover Construction Co, Inc. of Topeka for the construction of a new county shop at a cost of $898,500.

* Discussed a request from a county resident to rock a minimum maintenance road he wants to build a house on. The resident said he would pay to have the road built up to county standards.

* Met in executive session for five minutes to discuss a personnel matter. No action was taken back in open session.

* Signed a request and petition to allow Rural Water District #1 to occupy a county right-of-way to install a new service line.

* Signed payroll notices for William Wilson at the county jail and Brody Harshaw and Lane Slocum at Banner Creek Reservoir.

* Adjourned the meeting at 4:30 p.m. All commissioners were present.

Keanin Williams of the J. Pritchard Masonry Company of Topeka spent part of Thursday morning cutting some of the decorative rock that will go into the new rock wall at the southwest corner of Holton's Town Square. Construction of the wall is expected to be complete in the next two weeks, weather permitting.

Guys Read...

pro-active in helping these people help themselves."

Karns said Greitens' book was suggested for the second "Guys Read" program by fellow JHHS staffer Vern Andrews, who will lead discussion on the book.

"Vern is a humanitarian in many ways," she said.

The "Guys Read" program was started by children's author Jon Scieszka with the goal of helping middle and high school boys to become "self-motivated, lifelong readers." Scieszka has also authored a series of "Guys Read" compilation books with that goal in mind, Karns said.

Holton is not the first library in Kansas to get into the "Guys Read" program, she noted.

"There are lots of libraries and librarians across the state participating in this program," Karns said. "Beck-Bookman matched the state funding."

That funding, it was reported, was a $250 grant from the State Library of Kansas to purchase book club kits for the program, including multiple copies of titles selected to appeal to young men, discussion guides for leaders/mentors and other book-related materials. More books can be made available through the statewide inter-library loan program, Karns noted.

If the interest is there, Karns said, the program will continue.

"To have a community of readers, either to expose you to new genres or new titles or to share your interest, is the best-case scenario," she said.

Karns also noted that libraries across the state and country are turning into "activity spaces," with an emphasis on keeping young men involved in reading and other library-promoted activities.

"I think libraries should fill that role of getting more young people interested in certain hobbies and activities, especially the younger readers who are involved in 50 million activities," she said.

The "Guys Read" book club at Beck-Bookman Library will meet at 6:30 p.m. Thursday to begin discussion on "The Warrior's Heart." Interested participants may pick up a copy of the book at the library prior to or at Thursday's meeting, it was reported. "We wanted to try to come up with a movie that kids today might not have already seen, because of Netflix and Hulu and all those things," McKee said. "Typically, what's been shown in the past, the kids have already seen in some aspect. The reason we picked 'Willy Wonka' as one of the older movies is because it's a classic, and parents will enjoy it, too."

In case of rain, the event will be moved indoors to the event center at Penny's on the west side of the Square, McKee said. She also thanked event sponsors Denison State Bank, The Farmers State Bank, Holton National Bank, Holton Dental, Kellerman Insurance, Kellerman Real Estate, Dyana Morgan, Lifetime Eye Care, Bell Plumbing, Boomers' Grill, the City of Holton, Jackson County, the Prairie Band Potawatomi Nation, Prairie Band Casino and Resort, Walmart, The Holton Recorder and KNZA for their contributions to the event.

Summer Lunches...

Rundle said that Royal Valley, like the other districts in the county, participates in the Harvesters backpack program during the school months in which eligible students receive nutritious items to take home in a backpack on the weekends to eat.

Jackson Heights Superintendent Adrienne Walsh said that 104 students at USD 335 qualified for free or reduced-price meals last school year.

This summer, as well as last summer, Walsh said that free pantry items were available to eligible students through the CommunityCORE bookmobile, which visits Whiting, Netawaka, Circleville and Soldier each Wednesday in the summer.

More than 100 boxes were assembled each week last year and given to students who received free or reduced-price meals and signed up for the program, it was reported.

"I think this has been a wonderful program that's helped families in the summer months," Walsh said. "I know it's very appreciated."

Holton Superintendent Dennis Stones said the summer meal program is a new program and that he plans to explore how the Holton district could possibly get involved.

In 2013, a hot lunch summer food program was organized in Holton through the Evangel United Methodist Church in partnership with Harvesters and the USDA for any student ages 18 and under. Meals were provided from 11:30 to noon Monday through Friday with activities, games and crafts held from 11 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.

According to the Kansas Department of Education, schools, public agencies and private nonprofit agencies can apply to become a sponsor for summer meals and receive reimbursement for food service. Applications are due May 1 each year.

Summer Food Service Program was first created as part of a larger pilot program in 1968. It became a separate program in 1975. By 1980, 1.9 million children across the country were participating.

Participation dropped to 1.5 million in 1985, and grew to 1.7 million again by 1990. More than 2.1 million children participated at more than 32,700 sites in the summer of 2008.

Congress appropriated $357.9 million for the program in 2008. By comparison, the program cost $267.2 million in 2000; $163.3 million in 1990; $110.1 million in 1980; and $1.8 million in 1970.
