Jackson is among debt-free counties

■ State Treasurer: Indebtedness at zero since November of 2013

By Ali Holcomb
 Jackson County is one of 31 Kansas county governments that is debt-free, according to a bonded indebtedness report recently released by Jake LaTurner, Kansas State Treasurer.

LaTurner presented the report to the county during his recent visit to the Jackson County Courthouse as part of his office's unclaimed property tour. The report, which is dated June 30, 2017, shows that Jackson County continues to remain debt-free since paying off all its indebtedness in November 2013.

At that time, the county finished paying off debt towards a heating and air conditioning system for the Courthouse that was purchased in 2004, as well as new windows that were installed in 2006.

The county spent $498,750 on the new heating and cooling systems, and $130,000 to replace the Courthouse's original windows.

Nearby counties and their general obligation bond indebtedness include:

- Atchison County — $1,115,849.
- Brown County — debt free.
- Doniphan County — $1,048,279.
- Jefferson County — $3,888,760.
- Nemaha County — debt free.
- Pottawatomie County — $9,532,429.
- Shawnee County — $48,640,000.

Wabaunsee County — $2,482,307.

Johnson County, which includes Overland Park, Olathe and Lenexa, has $312,063,100 in bonded indebtedness, which is the largest indebtedness of any Kansas county, it was reported.

According to Johnson County, bond indebtedness is due to a growing population and funds have been used for general infrastructure and improvements towards the Johnson County Executive airport, streets and library.

According to the state indebtedness report, Jackson County's school districts had a total of $27,855,038.29 in debt (general obligation bonds and/or lease purchase principal), which included $3,625,000 at Jackson Heights, $21,840,038 at Holton and $2,340,000 at Royal Valley.

Almost all of Jackson County's cities reported some outstanding indebtedness (general obligation bonds, revenue bonds and/or lease purchase principal) when proposed budget reports were published this July and August.

As of July 1, debt for each city in the county, included:

- * Circleville — $335,388.
- * Delia — $121,231.
- * Denison — $16,910.
- * Holton — $4,904,248.
- * Hoyt — $1,022,488.
- * Mayetta — $87,125.
- * Netawaka — $300,000.
- * Soldier — $203,281.

Bontrager new owner of Yoder meat shop

■ Purchase latest in HHS grad's efforts to expand locker operations in Kansas

YODER — There's a new Bontrager in town, but he's no relation to the folks who live around this small Amish community.

Or at least, Chad Bontrager of Holton doesn't have any relatives in Yoder that he knows of.

But on this weekday afternoon, he stood in the meat market of Yoder Meats — three hours from the Jackson County farm where he grew up. He purchased the custom meat processing and retail market in late August.

"I have four employees here whose last name is Bontrager," said Bontrager of one of the family names of the area. "It would be interesting to compare my branch to some of the Bontragers that are here and see if there is a point where they come together."

It might seem odd to some that a northeast Kansas man is establishing some roots in a little Reno County town where he has no connection. But Bontrager is a familiar face in Kansas agriculture — and leaders know his passion for the industry and marketing Kansas products.

During his tenure as the Kansas Department of Agriculture's deputy secretary of agriculture, Bontrager has gotten a foothold in the state's small retail meat market.

It started in January of 2016 when he and a couple of investors purchased the Bowser Meat Processing plant in Meriden.

"What sparked my interest was growing up with cattle and still being involved in that business, knowing there is more value that gets added as the supply chain goes along," Bontrager said. "That got me interested in owning a meat locker."

He also saw opportunity as aging locker owners — with no one to pass their business to — were looking to retire.

"I look at that and said here's an opportunity, there is demand for this. And it is a service we want to keep offering in these rural communities around the state," he said.

After getting requests to have a retail storefront for their Meriden plant, the owners opened Heartland Meat Market in Holton in fall 2016. Another location in Lawrence will open soon.

His reach in the retail meat industry spread in June when Bontrager and four friends from college who have worked together at the state ag department — Justin Law, Jake Worcester, Josh Roe and Jason Walker — opened Manhattan Meat Market.

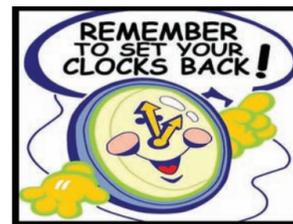

"We were talking about how we need a retail meat shop in Manhattan, and I said, 'Well, I'm in for that,'" he said.

By then, Bontrager had already been in communication with Alan and Carol Waggoner, the couple who purchased Yoder Meats in 2008. He had heard they were interested in selling the business, which includes three retail stores in Wichita along with the original Yoder packing plant and retail store.

"I thought 'What a great way to expand. It has a great brand reputation, nice retail presence and some great products you can only get from Yoder Meats.' All around, it seemed like a good opportunity," he said.

Bontrager and his wife, Mandy, and her sister, Melissa, and husband, Matt Deutsch, of

Daylight Saving Time ends Sunday

This next weekend, it's time to "fall back" as Daylight Saving Time ends Sunday, Nov. 5.

Don't forget to set your clocks back an hour before going to bed on Saturday night, Nov. 4.

The time change will officially "fall back" at 2 a.m. on Sunday, creating darkness earlier in the evenings and more daylight during the early morning hours. Fire safety experts also recommend changing batteries in smoke and fire alarms this time of year.

In addition to changing smoke alarm batteries, it is also a good idea for families to practice fire escape routes and designate an outside meeting place in case of any emergency.

Purple Heart Profiles Whiting's Priest died in Battle of Okinawa

Editor's note: This is the 75th in a series of stories about past and present Jackson County residents who earned the Purple Heart Medal, which is awarded to military personnel wounded or killed in the line of duty.

The names of those profiled in these stories are among those placed on a special monument for Purple Heart Medal recipients now standing in Holton's Linscott Park.

U.S. Army Private First Class Glenn Priest was with the 184th Infantry when he made the supreme sacrifice at the age of 24 in one of the bloodiest battles of the last days of World War II — the last major battle of the War in the Pacific.

After being in military service for only 10 months, Priest, a native of Whiting, was killed in action on May 23, 1945, during the Battle of Okinawa, which put Allied forces within striking distance of Japan and ending the war. Priest posthumously received the Purple Heart Medal for his bravery in battle.

Born Nov. 14, 1920, in Whiting, the son of Roy and Pearl Mehrwin Priest, Emerson Glenn Priest — who went by his middle name — attended grade school at Center District 4 and graduated from Whiting High School in 1938. He made his home with his parents and helped his father farm until moving to California in April of 1941.

At that time, Priest went to work for Lockheed Aircraft Corporation in Burbank. In July of 1944, Priest entered military service, receiving his basic

WHS students take HCC classes

By Faith Bratcher
 Student Correspondent
 Wetmore High School
 Five Wetmore High School students leave Wetmore each school day to take advantage of vocational classes offered by Highland Community Tech School in Baileyville. Senior Kyler Vance and juniors Walker Gibson and Cooper Duryea are taking welding classes. Junior Joel Hutfles is taking construction technology, while Cole Strathman is taking precision agriculture.
 The students have varied reasons for taking these courses.
 "I decided to go to Highland because I felt I wasn't a four-year college student," Strathman said. "My Highland Community College class is really hands-on, which is the biggest reason I am taking the class."
 Highland could help them all in the future, Duryea confirms.
 "It (this program) will help me get a job in the future," he said.
 Hutfles agrees.
 "I've always wanted to learn how to remodel a house on my own," he said.
 Vance is equally enthusiastic about the courses.
 "These classes will help to make me a qualified welder," he said.
 Vo-tech boys are especially impressed with the hands-on learning.
 "In the future, I could start my own business and use the knowledge I have learned at Highland and use it to help other farmers find better ways to plant, fertilize and process data," Strathman said.

 Gibson claims, "I really like welding. I've done it before and I wanted to do more hands-on work rather than being at school for the full seven hours."
 Hutfles agrees.
 "Construction technology is a hands-on class. Right now we are turning a former band room into a conference room with a kitchenette," he said. "We have a little bookwork, but the majority of our time is spent with hands-on learning."
 Coaches have to work around the Highland schedule since the boys leave for Highland at 11 a.m. and don't arrive back at Wetmore until 3:45 p.m. However, the staff is more than willing to begin practice a little later to accommodate these career-bound students.

WHS students rely on superstitions

By Ally Davis
Student Correspondent
Wetmore High School

Although many people don't believe in them, others are passionate that their superstitions are the reason they do well. At Wetmore High School, the most common superstitions involves right before, and the day of, musical and play performances and pre-game activities in sports.

Theater superstitions can vary anywhere from a diet change for the day, to healing crystals, all the way to what words not to say that day.

Alyssa Montgomery, a junior at Wetmore who was recently in the "Beauty and the Beast" musical at Atchison Community Theater, says, "You can never say MacBeth, referred to as 'the M word,' or, if you do, you have to run around the theater twice counter-clockwise or someone will get injured. I personally have a healing crystal that is Lapis. It symbolizes wisdom so before I go on stage, I'll kiss it, then put it to my throat to protect my wisdom and voice. Right before a show at Atchison we would say 'You know what they say about those ducks, they always stick together' then we circle up and chant 'Quack quack quack quack! Go Ducks!'"

Montgomery also had a routine for her makeup application.

"I would put on my foundation and mascara first, then wait for a minute, do my eyeliner and fan my face so it wouldn't smudge, then I would apply lipstick and blush," she said. "Once, I didn't do my makeup in that order and I ended up getting lipstick on my rented costume, so after that I would always apply my makeup in that order for fear of smudging it everywhere. Break a leg, just not yours."

Linda Boyd, director of the theatrical productions at Wetmore High School, agrees with many of the common superstitions.

"You never say 'good luck' before a show," she said. "You say 'break a leg!'"

Some sports superstitions include refusing to wash one's game socks, listening to certain songs and always putting hair-spray on a bow.

"We always used to gather in a circle, kneel and hold hands as we listen to either our coach, or certain peers say a prayer," said Seth Shumaker, a former Wetmore-Sabetha Middle School football player.

Volleyball player Sophia Amon says, "I have to be wearing two different colored socks and have trimmed nails or else I won't play well."

In conclusion, superstitions may not make for a better performance on the stage or field, but if they help the mindset of the actor or athlete, what's the harm?

High school life can be frantic for freshmen

By Lauryn Scott

Wetmore High School

Everyone says that high school years are the best years of someone's life. However, freshman students don't often feel that this maxim is true.

Several freshmen experience stress when they get to high school. This stress comes with academic pressures, extracurricular activities and time management.

Freshman year introduces many new academic pressures. These pressures include getting into Wetmore Academic Society and getting homework completed while juggling a busier schedule.

To get into Wetmore Academic Society, which is open to students in grades 10 through 12, the students must obtain a cumulative GPA of 3.5 or higher. This grade point average may not be as easy for many freshmen as the classes are more demanding.

With high school bringing so many new opportunities, students must stay focused and work hard. In high school, many extracurricular activities are available to students. These activities include SADD, theater, KAYS, StuCo, Scholars Bowl, and many sports.

Alyssa Bloom, a student in-involved in basketball, KAYS, the musical, SADD, StuCo and volleyball, stated, "Sports are much

Government's handling of JFK files says a lot to U.S. citizens

On Thursday, the U.S. government released thousands of more documents regarding the Nov. 22, 1963 assassination of then President John F. Kennedy.

Since the time of the assassination, 54 years ago, the government has kept many of the assassination-related documents and files away from the public.

Twenty-five years ago, the U.S. Congress ordered that all of the assassination records be released to the public on Oct. 26, 2017 – that was Thursday.

Current President Donald Trump initially stated that he supported the full release of all of the assassination documents on Oct. 26.

When the day came, however, President Trump announced that some assassination documents held secretly by the government would continue to be held secretly at this time, at his order.

Over the weekend, Trump said all of the JFK files would be released with only names and addresses of living persons redacted.

News reports stated that the government's CIA (Central Intelligence Agency) and FBI (Federal Bureau of Investigation) had convinced Trump to continue to keep some of the assassination records secret.

Why, after all this time, is the CIA and the FBI still so concerned about what's in those assassination documents and files?

So much time has passed. Any real concern about how the government secretly monitored foreign governments at that time, for example, are now outdated and obsolete. Plus, all the foreign government leaders of that time are dead.

The stance of the CIA and the FBI today are still enough of a mystery to make today's U.S. citizens skeptical of the government's reasoning in 1963 and now.

For U.S. citizens who had already come of age in 1963, and viewed the actual TV reports and followed the full week of TV coverage of the assassination aftermath and presidential funeral, these new developments in the JFK assassination are probably more than enough evidence to them that JFK's suspected killer – 24-year-old, former U.S. soldier, Lee Harvey Oswald, likely was not the only one who knew that the president would be shot that fateful day in Dallas.

The CIA and FBI – the public records show, I believe – knew all about Oswald and the man who killed him later – Jack Ruby – and the CIA and FBI took no action to stop Oswald – and probably others – from killing the president. That, in itself, defines conspiracy, or at least profound ineptness for which the CIA and FBI would be embarrassed.

Did Oswald act alone? Spent bullet casings found in the Texas Book Depository Building minutes after the shooting reportedly were not consistent with the exploding type of bullet that struck JFK in the head that day.

Another lesser-circulated JFK shooting theory is that a hung-over Secret Service agent, traveling in the motorcade in a convertible directly behind the president's car that day in Dallas, accidentally shot the president in the back of the head after the Secret Service agent heard other shots and pulled out a shotgun from under his carseat. The Secret Service agent's shotgun reportedly was loaded with the exploding type of bullet consistent with the one that killed the president.

Plains Folk: More on bison bone trade

By Tom Isern

Those of an Old Testament frame of mind will find resonance in my title today, "Dry Bones" – but in fact I speak not from the Book of Ezekiel but rather from the historical sources of the central plains in the late 19th century.

A Wichita merchant named John Exton advertised in March 1879, "I will pay $7.50 per ton for Clean, Dry Bones, for the next three months."

The "dry" part of the notice was important. Processors such as the Michigan Carbon Works, in Detroit, or the St. Louis Carbon Works, wanted dry bison bones for grinding.

At the western end of the transaction, buyers didn't want bone pickers to bring in heavy, wet bones and expect dry-bone prices.

Merchants buying bones at Kansas points sometimes paid in cash, but often in credits for future purchases at the store.

Freighters wanted cash; local farmers, picking bones to grubstake their homestead claims, could be satisfied with credits.

The bone trade began, in fact had its boom time, as soon as a railroad arrived in any locality.

In the single month of July 1873, the Santa Fe Railway in Great Bend shipped 50 tons of buffalo bones.

This was about one-eighth of the line's eastbound freight.

The next year, The Wichita Eagle reported, "Hardly a day goes by now that 10 or 20 tons of bleached bones and horns does not go over the A. T. & S. railroad."

A correspondent of The Eagle in 1875 paid a visit to a processor on Long Island that received both cattle bones from the pampas and bison bones from the prairies.

"Many of our readers have, doubtless, at different times, as they have seen the wagon loads of buffalo bones drawn through the streets of Wichita, wondered what is done with them at the east," the writer mused. "The sight of a large pile of bones from your prairies, in the yard, at once carried me, in imagination, back to Kansas."

The observer explained that the softer bones were ground for fertilizer, or for bone black, while the select, harder ones were made into knife handles.

The factory had about a dozen men using circular saws to cut wet bones into handles. The reporter came away impressed both with the production line and with "the intensity of the odors."

There was a great stink at both ends of the trade. Newspapers reported from Kinsley in 1878 that the citizens were "a good deal exercised about the stench, and, as some allege, consequent sickness rising from piles of bones in the city. There has been a mass meeting to discuss the subject."

The Eagle said in reference to the bone trade in 1879, "The supply seems inexhaustible. But it wasn't, of course."

An exchange item in The Dodge City Times in 1882 reported that with all the larger bison bones gathered up, domestic cattle, craving minerals, had developed the "singular habit" of gnawing on the smaller fragments of bone they rustled in the course of grazing.

That year, The Times located the center of bison bone trading in eastern Colorado, where prices were good – $12 or $13 a ton.

Bone pickers found themselves going farther and farther afield to fill their wagons.

In September of 1885, The Cimarron News reported three wagon loads brought into town. But the pickers had gathered them 125 miles away, in the Indian Territory.

Jenkins: Fed tax reform doesn't mirror KS

By Rep. Lynn Jenkins
R-Kansas
Second District

Fixing our broken tax code is a foundational step to building a healthy economy, creating more jobs and ensuring more take home pay for hardworking Americans.

To that end, Congressional Republicans are working to reform our tax code – which today includes more than 70,000 pages of laws and regulations – to make it fairer and simpler.

We recently released our tax reform framework, which will be an outline for Congress in the months ahead.

As a member of the Kansas House Delegation and the Ways and Means Committee, I am often asked to explain the differences between Kansas' tax reform and Washington's tax reform.

Before I begin to dispel the myths, I would ask that you read the eight page framework – simply glancing over it will not work.

As for the myths, folks like to hastily equate our tax reform effort to the 2012 Kansas tax cut package.

I've seen several headlines with variations of this exact statement. This is either lazy analysis, or analysis based on assumptions that lack substance.

The only real similarity is that they are both called "tax reform."

It's no secret that Kansas made a few mistakes with their tax reform plan.

For instance, they zeroed out the tax rate for pass-through businesses, which is the tax status used for most small businesses, and failed to erect any guardrails to discourage tax avoidance.

This created a loophole that allowed some existing businesses and wealthy individuals to avoid paying income taxes altogether by simply reclassifying as a pass-through and thus create a new "business" without adding any employees.

As for our federal tax framework, Congress wants to lower rates for all taxpayers: individual, corporate, and pass-through.

As the top corporate rate drops from 35% to 20%, the pass-through rate drops similarly from 39.6% to 25%.

Kansas went to a zero rate, not 25%.

Let me say this again: we are not zeroing out the pass-through rate as Kansas did.

This means that instead of paying one of the highest tax rates of any first-world country, American businesses, both small and large, will be firmly in line with our other global competitors.

Further, the pass-through rate and the corporate rate will remain relatively similar to each other eliminating the incentive for businesses to reclassify for tax avoidance purposes. Instead, business owners can just focus on creating jobs.

Also, much has been made of individuals in Kansas who set up pass-through businesses in order to avoid paying tax on their personal wage income.

Congress is well aware of this loophole and has worked hard at crafting safeguards to ensure that the federal pass through rate is not exploited in similar ways.

That is why we specifically included this statement in our eight page framework that committees will, "adopt measures to prevent the recharacterization of personal income into business income to prevent wealthy individuals from avoiding the top personal tax rate."

Finally, in addition to lowering rates, the federal tax reform plan calls for broadening the base.

This is shorthand for closing tax loopholes.

When tax loopholes are closed, more business and personal income is subject to taxation, so we are able to raise the similar revenue at lower tax rates.

This allows us to cut the tax rate for individuals and businesses without blowing a hole in the budget, since revenue neutral reform is our goal.

As a CPA, I am fully aware of how confusing and complex taxes can be.

Unfortunately, that's why Americans waste so much time and money filing their taxes and exactly why we are working to make our tax code fairer and simpler – so that you can do your taxes on a postcard.

In the coming weeks, as Congress continues to reform our broken tax code, I encourage everyone to read our framework – in its entirety – to better understand our policies and agenda.

Simply stating that Washington's tax reform is the exact same thing as Kansas' tax reform is incorrect, and you deserve better.

Note: On Thursday, Rep. Jenkins votes against a budget resolution, stating that it did not include enough spending cuts.

Hamilton: Consensus builders needed in politics

By Lee Hamilton

One of the gifts of living in a representative democracy is that voting is only one of the rights it confers.

For ordinary people who want to make change – who in some way want to alter their neighborhood or town or state or even the nation – the promise exists that by dint of their own efforts they can do so. This is a precious gift.

But it is not an easy one to enjoy.

Even in a democracy, bringing about significant change requires hard work – a level of intensity and commitment beyond the ordinary responsibilities of citizenship.

You need a workable, achievable remedy that will correct the problem you're worried about. You need patience and perseverance, and a specific set of skills and capabilities.

To begin with, you can't make change alone. You'll require the help of others. So you have to be able to listen carefully to people – and then identify the interest groups and individuals who can help you achieve what you want.

This means you also need to be able to look around you and understand the political lay of the land.

How intensely will this or that individual or group support you? Will they actually help, or just pay lip service? What are they willing to do – and, just as important, not willing to do?

What about the lobbyists, the mayor's or governor's office – or the White House? What kind of reception can you expect from the media? And what will it take to get your allies to work in a coherent, coordinated way?

You also have to take responsibility for being the expert on your proposal. You'll need to understand its weaknesses and strengths, its potential impact, and the arguments both for and against it.

There's nothing quite so challenging as appearing before a city council or congressional committee and answering questions from politicians who have their own agendas as they grill you.

You have to know what you're talking about, and be willing constantly to update yourself on the facts. Facts drive the public dialogue, and you want always to be on the lookout for the most persuasive facts or developments that can support your proposal.

This is because you'll also need to communicate constantly, whether you're trying to build support one on one or before a gathering of hundreds. On radio, television, in print, online – it's impossible to over-communicate.

And though amplifying the reach of your voice has value, so does retail persuading – plain one-on-one conversations that teach you which arguments carry weight and which don't. Because although you might be starting with like-minded allies, inevitably you'll need to broaden your coalition to include people who were initially skeptical or saw the issue differently from you.

Which is why you also should always be open to the idea that you could be wrong, that your proposal could be improved and strengthened, that others might have better ideas both on substance and on strategy.

Part of the art of building coalitions is being open to proposals that alter or change your proposal. You may have put a lot of work into designing and drafting it, but one of the first things you'll encounter is someone who's got an amendment.

No one possesses all the skills needed to persuade, cajole, negotiate, and strategize his or her way to success.

Especially when it comes to pushing a cause at the state or national level, it will take money: to communicate, to advertise, to travel. It takes resources to accomplish changes of consequence, which means raising money – and dealing with donors who want a role to play, with all the challenges that brings.

Fortunately, there is no single center of power in this country. It takes a complex effort within a complex system to make change, which is why it's such a challenge and why many people get discouraged.

It's built into the idea of representative democracy that making change is difficult. But most of us wouldn't have it any other way. Few things can exceed the satisfaction of helping shape the direction and success of your community or nation.

Note: Lee Hamilton is a senior advisor for the Indiana University Center on Representative Government; a distinguished scholar, IU School of Global and International Studies; and a professor of practice, IU School of Public and Environmental Affairs. He was a member of the U.S. House of Representatives for 34 years.

LETTER: Supporting McAlister for RV board

Dear editor,

If you are reading this, you are already an informed voter. And we need more people like you.

We need more people reading newspapers, more people questioning those running for office and more people being informed about the issues.

Even though local elections were moved to the fall in the hope of getting a better turnout, it's unfortunate that there are few people running for these local offices: our city councils and our school boards, as is the case here in Jackson County.

Take a look at your property tax bills and see where your tax money is going – largely to school districts, the county, and your local city (if that applies).

So, yes, your vote is important because it does decide who will be spending that money and how it is spent.

The only real race we have here in Jackson County is for the Royal Valley school board.

Even though I don't live within the district, I do believe Nathan McAlister is the best person for the job.

Having interacted with him for several years, I have seen how he always put his students first and how he worked to bring them the best educational experiences possible.

I believe he will bring those same values to his position on the school board, carefully weighing what is best for both the students and the patrons.

Remember to vote on Nov. 7. If you can't vote that day, contact the county clerk's office at 785-364-2891 to find out how to get an advance ballot.

The county clerk's office can also tell you where you vote if you wish to do so that day.

Williams: Raw sugar can be used in some batters

By Cindy Williams
Meadowlark Extension
District Agent

Food & Nutrition, FNP

'Tis the season for baking and with that comes questions like, "Can I use raw sugar in baking?"

Raw sugar is a trendy sweetener found in many specialty food stores. Examples include Demerara and turbinado sugar. They have a light molasses flavor and a larger crystal size. Can they be used in place of traditional granulated sugar in baked goods?

For wetter batters, such as cake batter, the moisture in the recipe can help dissolve the raw sugar to produce a good cake batter and the moisture in the recipe can help dissolve the raw sugar to produce a good cake texture.

For a dryer batter or dough, such as muffins, cookies and shortbread, the finished texture is poor. The low amount of moisture will not completely dissolve the large sugar crystals.

To use raw sugar in baked goods, grind the sugar until fine and powdery before adding to batters. This will help the sugar dissolve and improve results.

From Dine-Store Lunch Counter To Grocerant

For decades, eating lunch at the grocery store counter was the norm for a quick meal. Today, grocery stores are offering the "grocerant" concept to offer grocery shoppers a restaurant dining experience.

Dining options include fresh-made pizza, tacos, salads, Asian, Mexican, sushi, breakfast and more. The grocerant concept appeals to high-income, young shoppers who are short on time. But seniors also take advantage of buying smaller portions for one or two people. Millennials mix and match items to make a complete meal.

Chef-driven menus offer restaurant-quality food at lower prices than traditional standalone restaurants. Many grocerants provide casual seating up to a full service experience. The grocerant growth has gained at least 30 percent growth since 2008.

Deloris Beam and Dianna Wilson spent a week in Branson, Mo., returning home on Oct. 14. This was their yearly sister trip. Their aunt, Evelyn Strough, from Sabetha, made the trip with them. She has a son, daughter-in-law and grandson that live west of Branson, so she spent the week with them and then made the return trip back home with Deloris and Dianna.

Mike Beam and Denise Wheeler helped with the care of their dad, and a good friend of Don and Deloris Beam's spent the week with Don to help him out while Deloris was gone. It is difficult for Don to do some things when he only has one leg. So thankful for family and friends or Deloris and Dianna would not have been able to take their sister trip.

Barbara Hutchinson attended the birthday celebration of her friend, Carolyn Langenwaller, in Wichita on Sunday, Oct. 15. Barbara's daughter, Georgia Flood, went with her and Barbara stayed overnight with Georgia and her husband before returning to Circleville the next morning. Carolyn was born and raised in Anthony, and Barbara knew her family when she lived there.

The Circleville seniors met on Monday, Oct. 16, at the Lodge Hall. President Ken Wykert called the meeting to order with 17 members and guests who stood and said the pledge of Allegiance to the flag.

Dale Askren gave the blessing. Fall decorations were on the tables. The minutes were read and corrections were made, and the treasurer's report was given. New business was about the November meeting. It will be at the Holton Senior Center on Thursday, Nov. 16 for the annual Thanksgiving meal. Reservations must be made several days in advance.

For the program, Superintendent Adrienne Walsh, gave an informative talk and update of the school year. She talked about "project based learning" and an Ag Charter School that Newton school district has. She also talked about the Honor Flight Jackson Heights fundraiser scheduled for Oct. 28 at Circleville Christian Church. Plans are to have the Honor Flight in April 2018.

She told about the new classification of school for sports, which will take place next year. For one of the in-service days, the teachers will tour the Washburn Tech facility in Topeka. We appreciate Superintendent Walsh coming to our meeting and giving the update.

Next on the program was Mayor Ed Rostetter. He told about the sale of the restaurant, sale of the old City Hall (bank building) and property deeded over to the city in the north edge of town, cleanup of trees and brush and also the upcoming elections of City of Circleville council members. He invited everyone to attend the annual Trunk n Treat on Saturday, Oct.

28 in the downtown area of town from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. The meeting adjourned by 1:15 p.m.

The Circleville Saddle Club play night that was scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 21, has been rescheduled for Nov. 4 due to the weather.

Leroy and Marla Shupe joined Miss Janice's Jackson Heights afternoon preschool class on Tuesday, Oct. 24, at Renyer's Pumpkin Patch. They were there with their granddaughter, Elaine. The group was able to get out of the wind for a little while for story time, and they ate lunch in the barn. Though it was cold and windy, the kids didn't seem to mind the weather at all. They all had a fun time.

Bob and I attended the Elk Creek Opry Honor Flight fundraiser at Circleville Christian Church on Saturday afternoon, Oct. 28. It was a fun-filled afternoon with lots of good entertainment. All the entertainers did a wonderful job!

The Circleville Trunk n Treat was held at the Circleville Gym on Saturday evening, Oct. 28. There was not quite as good of a turnout as last year, but there were still about 80 trick or treaters. The city of Circleville provided hot dogs, chips and drinks. Various kinds of cookies were donated by those attending. The weather was a little cool, but everyone had a good time.

Doug Hutchinson was a visitor at the home of Dennis and Barbara Hutchinson on Sunday, Oct. 29.

more demanding and practices are an hour and a half, so you have barely any free time left. You have to wake up extremely early on Thursdays and even on some Saturdays."

Time management is very important for freshmen. Abby Shumaker said, "You have to learn to use your time wisely. In high school, there is much more to do, so you have to use your time more efficiently."

Student Austin Smith gave this advice: "I would invest in a planner. It is an easy way to keep track of all of your activities and assignments."

Academics, activities, and sports in high school present challenges, but most freshmen at Wetmore High School agree that the problems that come with these challenges are not insurmountable.

Three named in Jefferson Co. murder-suicide

The three people involved in an apparent double murder-suicide last Wednesday just northeast of Topeka at a Jefferson County residence have been identified, it has been reported.

Jefferson County Sheriff Jeff Herrig said Thursday in a news release that Jefferson County E911 received a medical call of an unconscious female at about 2:50 p.m. Wednesday at 3222 Detlor Road in rural Grantville.

Jefferson County EMS and Kaw Township first responders found two unresponsive bodies at the location, backed out of the home and called law enforcement.

The Jefferson County Sheriff's Office and the Kansas Highway Patrol responded to find the two victims and a suspect located at the residence with fatal gunshot wounds.

The victims were identified as Penny J. Nelson, 64, and James V. Chavez, 61.

Herrig said Nelson owned the residence and was sister of the suspect, Harlan T. Gleason, 66.

Average gas prices in Kansas, nation decline

Average retail gasoline prices in Kansas have fallen 0.7 cents per gallon in the past week, averaging $2.31 per gallon on Sunday, according to a daily survey of 1,329 gas outlets in Kansas.

This compares with the national average that has increased 0.6 cents per gallon in the last week to $2.45 per gallon, according to gasoline price monitoring Web site GasBuddy.com.

The Holton average on Sunday was $2.36 per gallon, it was noted.

Including the change in gas prices in Kansas during the past week, prices on Sunday were 31.3 cents per gallon higher than the same day a year ago and are 0.4 cents per gallon lower than a month ago.

The national average has decreased 8.9 cents per gallon during the last month and stands 25.0 cents per gallon higher than the same day a year ago.

"Oil prices have rebounded in the last week, led higher by geopolitical tensions and declining inventories, leading gasoline prices in some parts of the country to make an unseasonable move higher," said Patrick DeHaan, head of petroleum analysis for GasBuddy.

"As refineries continue autumn maintenance, we may continue to see gasoline inventories under pressure, with a mixed bag of increases and decreases in the weeks ahead until the conclusion of such maintenance," DeHaan said. "Meanwhile, exports of crude oil and refined products continue to hit record levels, also weighing on markets. Without the ability to export crude oil, inventories in the U.S. would have continued to increase, keeping pressure on oil prices, but without such protection, oil is flowing out of the U.S. at record pace."

RV football finishes with 4-5 overall mark

By David Powlis

The Royal Valley Panthers football team finished its season Thursday evening with a loss to Silver Lake.

The Panthers finished with a 4-5 overall record while the Eagles moved their unbeaten streak to 9-0. The Eagles won the Class 3A District 3 crown with the win.

In the other game involving Class 3A, District 3 teams, Perry-Lecompton shutout Oskaloosa, 63-0, to finish as the district runner-up. The Kaws improved their record to 6-3 overall while Oskaloosa dropped to 3-6.

Both Silver Lake and Perry-Lecompton now advance to bi-district action.

Silver Lake, the third top-five ranked football team that Royal Valley played this season, scored all it needed to in the first quarter when they put 27 points on the scoreboard.

From there, the Eagles scored two touchdowns in the second quarter and one touchdown in each of the last two quarters.

For Silver Lake, senior running back Mason Jones scored three TDs on runs of eight, three and 10 while senior Trent Byers scored two TDs, one on a 75-yard kickoff return and the other on a six-yard pass reception from junior quarterback Mason

Wildcats win match over Frontenac at state

By Ali Holcomb

Although the Holton High School varsity volleyball team didn't advance to the semi-finals at the Class 4A-DII state tournament this past weekend in Salina, the team did end its season with a win against Frontenac.

The Lady Wildcats were 1-2 during pool play Friday as they fell to Burlington and Nickerson at the Tony Pizazz's Event Center in Salina.

"Since I've started coaching at Holton, I've wanted to get a team to state and give them a taste of it so they'll want to go back," said HHS head coach Janelle Noel. "We have a young group of girls and now they know what I'm talking about when we talk about state and what it takes to get there."

Due to some games going long in the Class 4A-DII tournament, which were held prior to the Class 4A-DII tournament, Holton's first game, which was against Burlington, was pushed back two hours.

"We showed up to Salina early in order to watch a game before ours," Noel said. "We had all this adrenaline, and we were ready to go and then we had to wait and wait, and it just kind of killed that momentum."

Burlington led the entire first game and won 25-16.

"I knew we would be nervous, and I expected the first few points not to be the best because none of these girls had played in a state tournament before," Noel said. "It took us a while to get out of that and play, and when we finally started playing, it was a little too late."

In the second game, Holton took an early lead, 9-5, which forced Burlington into a timeout. Burlington quickly took four points after the break, and the two teams battled point for point until Burlington took the win, 29-27.

"When we get that close, instead of playing aggressive, we play it safe," Noel said. "We got a little timid and didn't want to make a mistake so we weren't hitting as much."

Holton's second match was against Nickerson, who came out strong and won the first game 25-10.

"We knew that they would be tough," Noel said. "They had a lot of girls that could hit. It was almost like we were trying to overplay or overthink, and we needed to relax and play and do what we've done all year."

In the second game, the Lady Wildcats hung close to the Lady Panthers but fell 25-22.

Holton's last match of the day was against Frontenac, who was also looking for their first win of the day.

"At this point, the girls were down and knew that they weren't going on to Saturday," Noel said. "I told the girls that we didn't come this far and work this hard this season to walk away from state without a win. We also talked about finishing out the season with a win. Not many people get to finish their season with a win and not many people get to do it at state."

The Lady Raiders took the first game 25-18, but Holton rallied and won the next two games, 26-24 and 25-23, to take the win.

A large group of students and fans drove from Holton to attend Friday's tournament.

"We appreciate our student section and fan base so much," Noel said. "We had community support that was loud and encouraging."

Nickerson and Burlington advanced to Saturday's semi-finals, where Nickerson took second after falling to Topeka-Hayden, the defending state champs.

Holton's outside hitter, Regan Baum, a junior, was named to the Class 4A-DII all-tournament team for her efforts at the tournament.

Holton ended its season with an overall 24-19 record and took third in the Big Seven League.

Senior members on the HHS team include Shay Tanking, who's played varsity since her freshman year; Sarah Lierz, Emma Gilliland, Janae Skaggs, Maleah Price and Emma Reith.

"I've talked to the girls about the start of the season and the way it started," Noel said. "We had a rough start, and after that, a lot of teams could have given up and been done. But we peaked as the season went on. We got better and better. We finished with a winning record, and we made it to the state tournament. We didn't give up."

JH football team takes district runner-up, advances

By Brian Sanders

Friday night's Jackson Heights High School football match against Centralia was described by Cobra Head Coach Caleb Wick as "a weird game" that ended with a 32-14 win and a district title for the Panthers, as well as the first loss of the season for the Cobras, as both teams prepare for post-season play. "I thought the kids fought hard," coach Wick said of the road loss, which drops the Cobras' overall record on the season to 8-1. "I don't believe the score was indicative of how close the score really was. But we'll come back, get better from it and have a better showing on Friday."

That "better showing" is needed against Northeast Kansas League foe Jefferson County North, still undefeated (9-0) after thrashing McLouth 58-12 on Friday, if the Cobras are to continue in post-season play.

The Cobras' game-opening drive was stopped on downs inside the Centralia 30-yard line, then the Panthers' Trenton Flentie scored on a 24-yard run, adding a PAT to go up 8-0.

Then, on the return kickoff, the Cobras fumbled the catch, which the Panthers picked up and ran into the end zone for another touchdown and PAT, all within the game's first six minutes.

Early in the second quarter, the Cobras' Brady Holliday paid a visit to the end zone on a one-yard run and added a PAT to make it 16-8. But the Panthers answered with a 43-yard touchdown pass from Flentie to Kamble Haverkamp, and with another Flentie PAT, the Panthers were up 24-8 at intermission.

20th straight season for Holton football playoffs

The Holton Wildcats football team, with its home field victory over Santa Fe Trail here Friday night, 21-6, qualified for the state playoffs for the 20th straight season.

It was the second straight season that Holton advanced after beating Santa Fe Trail. And it is the second straight season that Baldwin was named as the Wildcats' next regional opponent.

This Thursday, the Wildcats will play at Baldwin in the regional round of playoffs. Kickoff will be at 7 p.m.

"We have had a lot of tough districts over the years," said HHS head coach Brooks Barta, who has led the team during the 20-year playoff streak. "Our staff has done a good job of preparing our kids when it matters the most. We have had many good teams from our district not make the playoffs over the years. We are fortunate that we have always had a chance to move on."

In the other Class 4A, DII district game on Friday, Hayden beat Jeff West 35-28.

Hayden will host Prairie View on Friday, Nov. 3, in regional football action.

In the other Class 4A, DII regional football playoff games, all set for Friday, Nov. 3, Burlington will host Columbus, Frontenac will host Girard, Nickerson will host Clay Center, Scott City will host Kingman, Smoky Valley will host Collegiate and Holcomb will host Colby.

The winner of the Holton-Baldwin game will play the winner of the Frontenac-Girard game on Friday, Nov. 10.

In the Holton-Santa Fe Trail game here last Thursday, the Wildcats led 7-6 at halftime and then scored two touchdowns in the third quarter to take the charge out of the visiting Chargers.

"We were pretty consistent on offense," coach Barta said. "We limited our offense a little due to the amount of wind. Defensively, we played pretty well other than a couple breakdowns on their hand sweep. We did a nice job of taking away their inside run and trap game. Our kids executed all of our adjustments that were made at halftime."

The Wildcats scored a touchdown on their opening drive on a one-yard TD run by senior fullback Dylan Aeschliman. Sophomore Paul Kuffner kicked the PAT.

The Wildcats fumbled the football away on their second drive and the Chargers capitalized on the turnover by marching the ball the length of the field. Senior Angel Esparaza scored a TD for the Chargers on a five-yard run, but the team's two-point conversion run attempt failed.

Another offensive highlight for Santa Fe Trail in the first half was a 47-yard run by its quarterback.

On Holton's third offensive possession of the game, a 31-yard field goal attempt by Kuffner failed.

The Chargers had the ball first in the third quarter and quickly picked up two first downs in a row, taking the ball to the Holton 35-yard line.

From there, however, the Holton defense buckled down and prevented the Chargers from picking up another first down on a four down and four yards to go play.

With 8:09 left in the third quarter, Holton senior running back AJ Haussler gained 19 yards rushing on first down and followed that up with 15 more yard rushing on the next first down play, taking the ball to the SFT 31-yard line.

Running backs Jackson Martin (a junior) and Jayger Carson (a junior), fullback Aeschliman and senior quarterback Mason Strader took turns carrying the ball next, picking up two more first downs along the way, moving the ball to the SFT four-yard line where Strader scored a TD with some second effort, breaking a tackle. Kuffner kicked the PAT to culminate the 12-play, 66-yard drive and making the score 14-6.

The Chargers received the Holton kickoff after that but did not have the ball long as the team fumbled the ball on its second play from scrimmage and Holton senior Kyle Tannahill recovered it at the Charger 32-yard line.

The Wildcats then gave the Chargers a steady dose of Haussler and Martin running the ball. Aeschliman scored his second TD of the game from the one-yard line and Kuffner kicked the PAT to make the score 21-6.

Santa Fe Trail's next offensive possession did not end well for them either as Wildcat defensive back Zane Moylan intercepted a Charger pass at midfield early in the fourth quarter.

Holton punted with 9:00 minutes left in the game and the Wildcat defense continued to come up with some big plays.

Tannahill deflected a Charger pass on one play. Strader tipped a long pass away from a Charger receiver on another play.

Holton got the football back with 7:50 to play in the game and never relinquished it. From there, Strader had a 21-yard gain and Haussler had a 14-yard gain. Holton's offensive had three snaps at about the Charger one-yard line but seemed most content to run out the game clock, which it did.

Unofficially, Holton had 23 first downs in the game, one turnover, five penalties for 40 yards and no yards passing. Rushing, Holton had 328 yards on 64 carries. Haussler rushed 16 times for 120 yards. Aeschliman rushed 77 yards on 23 carries and had two TDs. Martin rushed 12 times for 70 yards and Carson rushed three times for 16 yards. Strader rushed 10 times for 43 yards and one TD.

SFT had eight first downs, two turnovers, five penalties for 20 yards and completed one pass for six yards. The Chargers rushed 30 times for 174 yards.

Coach Barta said the victory over SFT was the result of a good week of practice and preparation by his team.

"I think our kids have improved every week this season," he said. "We still have a lot of room to improve."

To beat Baldwin, coach Barta said, one of the keys will be stopping their quarterback.

"We have to contain the Baldwin QB," he said. "He is very fast and athletic. He also has a very strong arm. We have to finish blocks against them. We did not do that very well last year at Baldwin. We will practice on Seaman's turf early this week. Our experience is that playing on turf is a bit of an adjustment."

Cobra runners compete at 2A CC

By Brian Sanders

Saturday's Kansas Class 1A-2A-4A cross-country state championship meet at Wamego Country Club saw a trio of Jackson Heights High School Cobra girls narrowly missing out on bringing home a medal but still finishing in the top half of the pack.

JHHS cross-country head coach Brad Alley noted before the Class 2A girls race that the three representatives of his team at the state meet — junior Faith Little, senior Hanna Davault and freshman Shelby Phillips — were dealing with "nerves" as he advised the girls to stay in the top 30 during the early parts of the race.

"We'll see if they can hold those spots," Alley said, noting that the Cobra girls were going up against regional champion Halle Johnson from Bennington High School and adding that if his girls could keep up with Johnson, they would have a shot at a medal or two.

Johnson, however, outran the competition by nearly half a minute to take the state title, and the regional champion girls team from Bennington also won state championship honors, with five of their runners finishing in the top 10.

Meanwhile, the Cobra girls — including Little, who ran an excellent race at the 2016 championship meet before collapsing not too far from the finish line — battled their way to the finish line but came up just short of a medal. Little, with a time of 21:47.1, finished 21st, just outside medal contention.

"We were about four or five weeks behind with her training. She didn't join us this year until about the fourth or fifth meet," Alley said of Little, who laid out the first part of the season to recover from injuries received during her sophomore track season. "She just didn't have the volume that the other kids did, but we'll get her back."

Not far behind Little, in 27th place, was Davault, wrapping up her high school cross-country career with a finish that Alley said was impressive.

"She came up as a sophomore, and she finished 50th at state that year," he said of Davault. "We set a goal that day that by the time she graduated, she would be an all-academic, all-state athlete in the top 30, and I think she did awesome."

Phillips came in 34th, and Alley said her performance was a strong indicator of how well she will do in the future.

"To come in and run what she did as a freshman is a really good accomplishment," Alley said of Phillips. "This is her first experience at it, so I look for her to have another good year, to be one of our leaders next year. She's really going to move up."

With the 2017 cross-country season now over, Alley said that despite not getting a full team into the state meet, the Cobra girls had a great season and a league championship to remember with pride.

"To bring three girls to the state championship, and to have them compete and finish in the top half — that's great," he said. "We would have liked to have gone home with a medal, but Faith's going to have another year. We knew there were some circumstances as to why she wasn't able to get back this year, and we were realistic about it. But I still think that she ran really well."

Elsewhere at Wamego, Wetmore High School senior Alena Pfrang, who took third place individually at regionals, finished 18th in the state field of 87 in Class 1A, earning the first and only medal of her high school cross-country career.

Pfrang and others noted after the race that this was the first year she had gone out for cross-country at WHS, making the medal she earned at Wamego all the more impressive.

Also representing the Cardinals at the state 1A meet was junior Jonathan Hladky-Bailey, whose course-finishing sprint belied his 44th-place finish.

"That's a really tough course," Hladky-Bailey said after finishing the race.

■ Cobras to host JCN Friday!

After a back-and-forth third quarter that didn't change the score, Centralia's Isaac Gore ran for a four-yard TD and a PAT to make it 32-8 as the fourth frame began. The Cobras were able to add another six points on a TD pass from Holliday to Cooper Williams later in the quarter, but the failed PAT run left the final score at 32-14.

With Sebastian Butto and AJ Mock unable to make the game, it was up to Holliday to get the rushing yardage, which he did, picking up 125 yards on 23 carries with the two touchdowns. Conlan Bruggeman added 38 yards on 12 carries, and Garrett Hartman added 35 on 13 runs, with the team total at 267 yards.

But even though the Cobra defense was able to force three Panther fumbles, Wick said it was "the little things" that contributed to the Cobras' loss on Friday.

"We had a reverse that was one block away from scoring in the second half," he said. "We were able to force the turnovers, and we were able to get their quarterback out of the game. But it hurt us not having Sebastian or AJ in there."

Butto and Mock, however, will be ready to go for Friday's regional match against JCN, Wick said.

"JCN is a great football team," Wick said. "They play great defense and they have some nice pieces on offense, so it'll be a big challenge for us."

Friday's game is set for 7 p.m. at Winchester.

In addition, sophomore Logan Matzke kicked on PAT while Byrne scored a two-point conversion on a pass from Griffin and Byers scored a two-point conversion on a pass from Griffin.

On Tuesday, Oct. 31, Silver Lake will host 6-3 Mission Valley while Perry-Lecompton will travel to 8-1 Jayhawk-Linn at Mound City.

THE HOLTON RECORDER

Kientz Corner

By Beverly Ramey-Newell
On Oct. 22, the Pleasant Hill United Methodist Church congregation opened its worship service by singing "This Is A Day Of New Beginnings."

The birthdays for Oct. 22 through Oct. 28: Taylor Cartolano and Marty Ransdell, Oct. 23; Susie Forman and Grace Unruh, Oct. 25; and Jack Unruh, Oct. 28. The anniversary for the week was Michael and Angie Smith, Oct. 28.

The concerns were prayers for Camille Schoettlin's grandson, who was deployed with the 190th unit on Oct. 22; and the family of the Rev. Jim Coder.

Mary Hudson, who is in rehab, really appreciates the lovely, warm prayer shawl that she received from the church.

For special music, the adult bell choir played "Interlude" by Michael Helman. Those playing bells were Susan Arnold, Kyle Kurtz, Danette Martin, Annie McDowell, Kelly Neiman, Kristy Richards, Barbara Slimmer and Val Warkentine. Greg Baldwin directed them.

The children's story was given by Kevin McDowell. When you buy things, you pay taxes to keep the state and federal government going.

During Jesus' time, people paid a poll tax. The taxes went to Caesar, the emperor of Rome. Give God what belongs to God. Let us give ourselves to God. Let us give our hearts and lives to God.

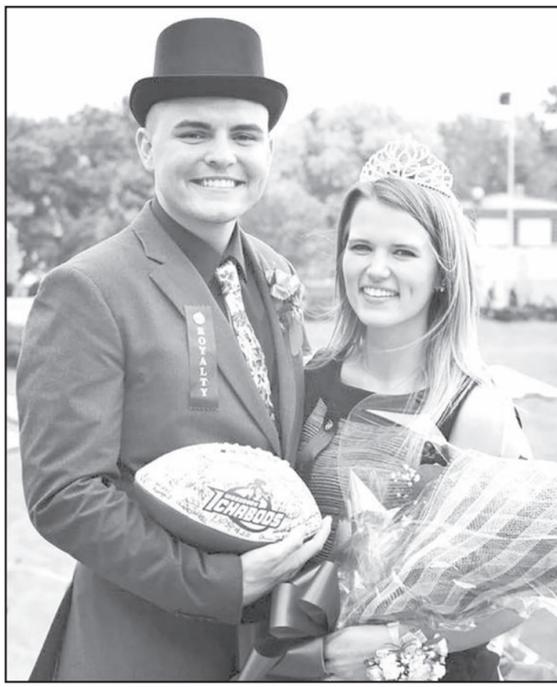

Daryl Jepson read the scripture Genesis 2:18, 21-25. The sermon "Love To Stay: More Than A Piece Of Paper" was given by the Rev. Hyun-Jin Cho. God created us, man and woman. Marriage is more than a ceremony and a piece of paper. God gave man authority over woman. God created Eve to help Adam.

Genesis 2:24 says, "Therefore a man leaves his father and his mother and clings to his wife, and they become one flesh."

Marriage requires both to be equal partners. Each one makes the other a better person. Love is important in a marriage. Love is more than sexual. Love is patient. Love is kind. Love endures all things. Love never ends. Caring, humor, joy and love are needed in a marriage. And we should also have forgiveness.

The closing hymn was "Blessed Be The Tie That Binds." Those assisting with the service were Daryl Jepson, liturgist; Greg Baldwin, organist; Joy Jepson and Deb Manell, sound system; Molly Strobel, acolyte; John Wilson, song leader; and Ron Griffiths, Kevin McDowell, Mark Searles and Brian Smith, usher team.

On Oct. 6 through Oct. 18, Gary and Barbara Slimmer were on a cruise of the Mediterranean. The tour was "The Travels Of Paul, The Apostle, In Italy And Greece." It was led by the Rev. Adam Hamilton of the Methodist Church of the Resurrection of Leawood.

Jackson Heights High School graduate Cameron Thomas (Class of 2014) was selected as Washburn University's 2017 homecoming king during the Ihabod's game on Oct. 21 against the University of Central Missouri. Thomas is the son of Craig and Rhonda Thomas of Whiting.

Thomas is currently involved with the Campus Activities Board where he serves as the marketing technology director. He has also served as a summer orientation counselor and as a RA.

He is a Love Your Melon ambassador and is a member of Young Life College. His academic honors include the Mortar Board Honor Society.

His volunteer work includes Brookdale Senior Living, Race Against Breast Cancer and WU Stock. He is currently working toward a degree in human services.

Cold water saves

Family Life*

At the recent National Extension Association of Family and Consumer Sciences annual meeting in Omaha, we learned about the "Be Bold, Go Cold" Initiative at the American Cleaning Institute's exhibit hall booth.

About 90 percent of the energy the washing machine uses goes towards heating the water. Washing in cold water saves energy, saves your clothes and could help save the planet. So, check your garment care labels.

Wash four out of five loads of your laundry in cold water and you could cut out 864 pounds of CO2 emissions in a year. That's equivalent to planting .37 acres of U.S. forest.

Check your garment care labels, and you'll see that many clothes specify to wash them in cool or cold water. This is because cold water is gentler on your clothes, and can protect them from fading, shrinking or bleeding. The right temperature can prolong the lifespan of your clothes and save you money.

Cutting back on hot water can help decrease your energy bill. You might have heard that hot water washes best, but the times, they are a-changing. Years ago, the composition of detergent was different than it is now. New detergent technology introduces enzymes to the scene that actually work better in cold water.

Some stains (think: grass, makeup and blood) should only be washed in cold water, as hot water could make the stains permanent. Load size and amount of detergent can also play a role in how clean your clothes get.

Save energy. Save your clothes. Save our planet. We can all make more sustainable choices in our laundry habits.

October is National Pork Month

*By Jody Holthaus
Meadowlark Extension
District Agent
Livestock & Natural Resources*

Okay, so October is almost over, and I've neglected National Pork Month. Well, I haven't totally neglected. We've had smoked pork loin and then there's all the bacon we consume.

Every year, the average American eats nearly 18 pounds of bacon. In the past 10 years, bacon has grown into an industry generating more than $4 billion in annual sales. It's gone from the breakfast table to a whole array of foods - bacon-flavored milkshakes, for instance. Our national obsession with bacon has been a real boom for the pork industry.

Pigs save lives? It's long been said we use "everything but the squeal" of a pig. Pork is a source of niacin and other nutrients and pig heart valves have long been used as replacement for human's valves. Now researchers in Cambridge, Mass. are a bit closer to raising pigs whose organs and all other tissues can be transplanted into humans. eGenesis is a bio tech company that is gene-editing to modify DNA in pig cells that can remove viruses that make pig organs unsuitable for humans.

When these virus-free pigs are created, it will be the first step in making them suitable for transplanting their organs to humans. When this happens, a whole flood of transferrable organs and tissues would become available.

That is just amazing! If we could raise pigs for not only the protein we need but use their organs and tissue to prolong human life, that would be quite the success story for technology. We would literally "use everything but the squeal."

In the U.S. alone, almost 117,000 people are awaiting a lifesaving organ transplant, according to the United Network for Organ sharing.

So celebrate Pork Month. Go have yourself a BLT, bacon burger, bacon sundae, bacon milk shake, bacon-wrapped jalapeno pepper, bacon brownie...

Jackson Heights Superintendent Adrienne Walsh (right) gave an update on the school year and Honor Flight during a recent Circleville Senior Executives meeting.

Circleville seniors hold meeting

By Barbara Hutchinson
The Circleville Senior Executives met on Oct. 16. President Ken Wykert called the meeting to order with 17 members and guests who stood and said the pledge of allegiance to the flag. Dale Askren gave the blessing. Fall decorations were on the tables. There was one birthday, LeRoy Rieschick. The minutes were read from the Sept. 18 meeting and corrections were made. The treasurer's report was given. New business was about the November meeting. It will be at the Holton Senior Center on Thursday, Nov. 16. Reservations must be made several days before. For the December meeting, members will see if the Jackson Heights music students will be performing at the Soldier Senior Citizen's dinner on Dec. 2. In the past, members have joined them. For the program, Jackson Heights Superintendent Adrienne Walsh gave an informative talk and update of the charter school that Newton school district has. There is a 20 new student increase in enrollment this year. Supt. Walsh told members about the Honor Flight Jackson Heights fund-raiser on Oct. 28 at Circleville Christian Church. Plans are to have the Honor Flight in April 2018. Next on the program was Mayor Ed Rostetter. He told about the sale of the restaurant, sale of the old City Hall (bank building) and property deeded over to the city in the north edge of town and the clean up of trees and brush. He also reported on the upcoming elections of city of Circleville council members. A motion was made and seconded to pay the bills, and the vote was unanimous.

Fighting colds and the flu

By Cindy Williams
Meadowlark Extension District Agent
Food & Nutrition, FNP
With reports of flu already affecting people, it is time to do what you can to protect yourself from colds and flu. Here are some tips:

1. Get a flu shot. While no flu vaccine is 100 percent effective, it does reduce your risk of flu-related hospitalization.
2. Eat more fruits and vegetables. Five servings a day gives you many antioxidants, vitamins and minerals to boost your immune system. Fresh, frozen or canned varieties are all beneficial.
3. Get up and walk! Even a brisk 20-minute walk in cold weather every day can reduce cold and flu symptoms.
4. Vitamin E builds the immune system. It can help the body's response to the flu vaccine and risks of upper respiratory infections.
5. Consume foods rich in zinc, which are found in meats and poultry, legumes, whole grains and nuts plus fortified cereals. Don't overdo it, as too much can be harmful.
6. Lose weight. A reduction in weight can improve the immune response. Always follow your doctor's recommendations for best results.
7. Drink fluids. Water, or even green tea, is beneficial to reduce inflammation.

8. Wash your hands. This cannot be emphasized enough. Wash frequently and avoid rubbing your eyes and nose with dirty hands.
 9. Sleep cures many things. Research has shown a link between a brain-specific protein and sleep that can fight flu symptoms.
 10. Know your body. When you feel tired and run down, that stresses your immune system and increases your chance of illness.
- What about vitamin C? While many think taking a lot of vitamin C can keep illness away, the science does not back this up. Vitamin C supplements will not prevent you from getting a cold, but might shorten the duration of illness. If you are ill, stay home. This will help reduce the spread of colds and flu.

Fall chores involving soil

By David Hallauer
Meadowlark Extension District Agent
Crops & Soils, Horticulture
A couple of weeks ago, the fall chores list was all about trees and flowers. This week, soil preparation work is the focus. Soil testing is an often overlooked fall chore. Testing in the fall allows time to correct soil fertility issues that a soil test late in the spring may not. For example, addition of organic matter is best done in the fall. Waiting until a soil test confirms the need for additional organic matter in the spring doesn't allow time to collect and apply material, let alone do much correction.

tainer and submit a pint jar's worth of soil. Soil tests cost $14 per sample through any Meadowlark Extension District Office. Remember: a soil test determines fertility problems, not other conditions that may exist such as poor drainage, poor soil structure, soil borne diseases or insects, chemical contaminants or damage or shade with root competition from other plants. Fall is also a great time to prepare gardens for planting next spring as well, for a number of different reasons. First, soils at this time of year are typically drier, allowing work to be done when soil moisture is appropriate. Freeze/thaw activity over the winter can also help break tilled soils down even further, leaving a mellow soil the following spring. Second, fall tillage can disturb insects that like to hide in garden debris, reducing their ability to survive the winter. It also allows the incorporation of plant debris, reducing disease levels that can survive the winter while adding valuable organic matter to the soil. Last, but not least, fall is an excellent time to add organic matter. As referenced before, fall gives us a longer time frame over which to allow organic matter to break down in the soil and provides a great opportunity for material incorporation when soils are dry. Fall also gives us plenty of readily available organic materials like leaves, rotten hay or silage or grass clippings as well as fresher material that can be added with more success in the fall than in the spring. As a general rule, add two inches of organic material to the surface of the soil and till it in. Only till until soil particles are the size of grape nuts or larger. Working to dust destroys soil structure.

Rustlers meet

By Marcus Pruett
Reporter

The monthly meeting of the Pleasant Valley Rustlers 4-H Club was held on Oct. 8, 2017. The meeting was called to order by Judd Nelson. Pledges and songs were led by Lane, Noah, Lilly, Lucy and Clara. "Happy Birthday" was sung to Mrs. Stous.

Jerilyn Nelson, secretary, led club members in roll call answering the question, "What is the color of your toothbrush?" She then read the minutes of the last meeting. They were approved as read.

Lora Larison read the treasurer's report and reminded club members that they would be doing an audit at the conclusion of the meeting.

JoAnn and Jennifer gave the leader's report. Jennifer noted how the club had met at 6:30 p.m. instead of 7 p.m. and picked up trash from U.S. Highway 75 to the entrance of the fairgrounds. This was done in observance of 48 Hours of 4-H.

JoAnn said that new year enrollment opened on Oct. 2 and is due by Nov. 1. New this year, there will be a $15 enrollment fee for each member. It was moved and seconded that the club will pay the enrollment fee for each member.

Achievement night is Friday, Nov. 3, and PVR has to set up and take down the stage. Club members noted that they would like to see this event go back to being a Sunday event instead of Friday. Both Holton and Jackson Heights have football teams that could interfere with Friday nights.

In new business, vice president Josh Clark told about Adopt A Spot. It is a way to give back to the community and make the community look good as well. 4-H council members will be Judd, Jerilyn, Josh and Jennifer. The next meeting will be held on Nov. 9.

Halloween cookies and drinks were enjoyed before the meeting was adjourned. The next meeting will be held at 7 p.m. on Sunday, Nov. 12.

MENTAL HEALTH MATTERS

ATTENTION DISORDERS

"Attention deficit hyperactivity disorder" (ADHD) and "attention deficit disorder" (ADD) are conditions that affect one in twenty children. ADHD is a brain condition that leads to a combination of poor attention, hyperactivity, and poor impulse control that can interfere with functioning or development. There are also three types of ADHD. "Hyperactive-impulsive" ADHD gives rise to restlessness and impulsive decisions, but not inattention. "Combined" ADHD is characterized by inattention, hyperactivity, and impulsivity; however, not everyone with ADHD is hyperactive. With this in mind, the third type of ADHD, known as "inattentive" ADHD and also referred to as "attention deficit disorder" (ADD), features forgetfulness, disorganization, and lack of focus. A professional diagnosis makes these important distinctions.

P.S. Adults may also suffer from ADHD or ADD, but they might display different symptoms. For instance, while hyperactive children may be in constant motion, constant restlessness may be a physical sign of hyperactivity in an adult.

Whatever emotional challenges you may face, counseling can help you to find the resources within yourself to build a more satisfying and joyful life. We can offer you support and guidance on this journey. Our goal is to offer a safe and compassionate environment where each person can experience growth and healing of the mind, body, soul and spirit. Please call today for an appointment.

Buck's Grove

By Betty Bernitter
God made a beautiful Oct. 29, 2017 for those attending Buck's Grove United Methodist Church. As it being fifth Sunday, members from Circleville United Methodist Church joined the congregation for a bountiful brunch. To begin the service, Leesa Harshaw played "Ivory Palaces" as Mary Ringel lighted the altar candles. Pastor Charlotte Milroy introduced members of the organization "Thrive," who then explained how they are helping people by giving them tools to help build social bridges and confidence. Volunteers are needed to help this organization thrive. Pastor Charlotte asked for announcements and then led the congregation in the call to worship, opening prayer, Psalm 90 and the Modern Affirmation. The scripture reading was from Deuteronomy 34:1-12 and 1 Thessalonians 2:1-8. Donna Ashcraft was song leader and Leesa played hymns "Oh God Our Help In Ages Past," "Every Time I Feel The Spirit" and "Swing Low Sweet Chariot." The gospel reading was from Matthew 22:34-46 and Pastor Charlotte chose "Who's Christian" as the title of her message. Back about 1054 is known as the great divide of division between western Christianity and eastern Christianity. Out of that came Roman Catholic Church and eastern orthodoxy. Specifically, does the Holy Spirit proceed from the Father and the Son – that was the position of the western church – or from the Father only – that was the position of the eastern church. In the early part of the 1600s, the Dutch reform church in the Netherlands almost split over the issue. Did God decide to send a Messiah before the fall? We have made being Christian very complex, as if it's about getting our doctrines right, but being a Christian is actually very simple. Being a Christian is about loving God and loving what God loves. What God loves is found in John 3:16 as it provides the answer: "For God so loved the world..." Not just you and me, not just Christians, not even just human beings, but the whole of creation. Being Christian is also about participating in God's passion. We are called to do mission work, volunteering for God and being the feet and hands for Jesus Christ. It is not your denomination that makes you a Christian. It is how you know God and Jesus Christ. Being a volunteer can be challenging. Most of all, it is seeing how God works in the project you are volunteering for. Be a volunteer for Thrive. You will be surprised. Leesa played "Blessed Assurance" as Wayne Rieschick and Leroy Rieschick were offertory ushers. The closing hymn was "God Be With You Till We Meet Again."

Yoder Meats...

Topeka, began talking with the Waggoners in fall 2016. The sale was finalized Aug. 25.

"Ideally, you wouldn't do all these things so close together," said Bontrager of all his meat business investments. "But at the same time, I saw the opportunity to do it is now, so let's go ahead and do it. And we'll figure out how to make it work."

The Yoder store, after all, is a unique business with Amish roots. It first opened in 1946 as Roth Food Locker. In 1965, it was purchased by the Yutzy Brothers, who built a new locker in 1974 at the present location in Yoder, according to an article in Hutchinson Magazine.

John and Joyce Yoder purchased the plant in the early 1990s — renaming it Yoder Meats. They eventually expanded, adding a retail marketplace.

The store has always had products exclusive to Yoder.

It's not everywhere you can find all-natural Kansas heritage pork in the case, along with Kansas grown beef, lamb and elk.

Buffalo is supplied by a Moundridge rancher. There are jars of products made by the Amish in other states. Customers can also get homemade items from the deli — including bierocks, sandwiches and — the customer favorite — cinnamon rolls — the smell of which wafts through the market on any given day.

"There are a couple Amish ladies in the kitchen who make hundreds of cinnamon rolls every week," he said.

Yoder Meats also makes its own hams and cottage-style bacon. One of the best sellers is the German country-style beef sausage, which is made using an old recipe, said Kenneth Bontrager, the facility's plant manager.

"You can't find sausage like this everywhere," said Chad Bontrager. "The fact that it is in the big links like this is unique as well. We have a whole variety of sausage links and bratwursts — that is something we take a lot of pride in."

Bontrager introduced some of the niche items to the Manhattan market earlier this month. Meanwhile, a Kansas State football tailgating breakfast package includes Yoder cinnamon rolls.

"We'll see how they do up there," he said. "We expect it to be good."

Bontrager still lives with his family in Jackson County but spends three days a week in Yoder. Along with keeping tabs on his other business interests, he still works for the Kansas Department of Agriculture, serving as the agribusiness services director.

He also has interest with his brothers in the family cattle operation.

"My relaxation is driving a feed truck on Saturdays," he said.

There might be a few changes down the road at Yoder. That includes developing more unique product offerings, such as with the smoked and cured side of the business.

"That is an opportunity to set ourselves apart," he said.

Bontrager also wants to continue to grow the retail presence, whether that is another store, expanding offerings at existing stores or developing an online ordering system, which the business does not have at present.

Kenneth Bontrager, who has worked at the plant since 2000, said he is excited to see Yoder Meats continue to develop while sticking to tradition.

"We want to keep doing as we have been doing in years past and that is Chad's goal, also," Kenneth said. "That includes putting out a quality product."

Bontrager said he just likes to promote and sell Kansas agriculture.

"I'm just excited to be part of a great brand that Yoder Meats has," he said. "And I'm excited to do business in south-central Kansas. It has been great so far, and I expect that to continue."

training at Camp Wolters, Texas, and along the way, he met Lorine Hailey, a Dalhart, Texas native whose family had moved to Glendale, Calif., during the war, and the two were eventually married.

Priest later went to Camp Ord in California, which later became Fort Ord, for more training before receiving his orders to go overseas in January of 1945. He served as a private first class with the 184th Infantry, 7th Division of Company F, and they eventually found themselves on the Pacific island of Okinawa.

The Army's strategy in invading Okinawa with the U.S. Marine Corps was part of Operation Iceberg, a plan to invade and occupy the Ryukyu Islands, which included Okinawa, with a push toward Japan. The Army and the Marines, more than

Glenn Priest

180,000 troops strong, were joined by the Navy's Fifth Fleet in descending upon Okinawa on April 1, 1945 — Easter Sunday.

Allied forces would eventually take the island, but not before losing more than 12,500 men, including Priest, who was killed on May 23. He was initially buried in the 7th Division cemetery on Okinawa Shima, which, according to a fellow soldier's letter home to Priest's mother, was "marked with a white cross with his name and (was) well cared for."

"Please believe me when I tell you that your loss is ours also, although I know that a boy is never missed as much by anyone as his mother," the soldier wrote in a letter that was published in the Sept. 17, 1945 edition of The Holton Recorder.

Priest was later brought back to the States and buried in Fort Leavenworth National Cemetery.

Holloway facing new criminal charges

By Brian Sanders

A former Hoyt resident facing a November trial on child sex charges was arrested Wednesday and charged with possession of child pornography, Jackson County Sheriff Tim Morse said.

Following a Wednesday afternoon traffic stop in Hoyt, Leon Holloway, 52, of Onaga was arrested on a charge of exploitation of a child based on an investigation by Morse's office into Holloway's alleged possession of child pornography.

Morse said Holloway was taken to the Jackson County Detention Center with bond set at $25,000. Jackson County Attorney Shawna Miller said Holloway was freed on bond over the weekend.

A four-day trial for Holloway is currently scheduled to begin Monday, Nov. 27 on charges of rape, indecent liberties with a child and two counts of aggravated criminal sodomy. He was scheduled to appear in court Friday morning for a pre-trial hearing on those charges.

The charges Holloway faces in the November trial were filed in May of 2015 and stemmed from alleged incidents involving a girl younger than 14 years of age that reportedly occurred between April of 2012 and March of 2015 at Holloway's residence in the Hoyt area.

Holloway was arrested in May 2015 on the charges but later freed on bond. Earlier dates for the November trial had been set twice but delayed each time due to health problems with — and later the death of — Topeka defense attorney William Rork; Holloway's current legal counsel is now former Rork associate Matt Williams.

Miller said this morning (Monday) that Holloway will appear in court to address the new charges on Monday, Nov. 13.

Topeka man charged in Mayetta burglary

A Topeka man was arrested in Jackson County Saturday afternoon in connection with a vehicle burglary in rural Mayetta, Jackson County Sheriff Tim Morse reported.

Morse said the vehicle burglary occurred at 1 p.m. Saturday, and within an hour, a suspect was in custody.

Todd Gordon Severt Jr., 30, of Topeka was taken into custody by Jackson County Sheriff's Office investigators at a Topeka pawn shop.

Severt was transported and booked into the Jackson County Jail on burglary and felony theft charges. The stolen property that was allegedly found in the possession of Severt was recovered. The Topeka Police Department assisted with the incident.

Morse reminds the public not to leave valuables and firearms in vehicles and to make sure to remove keys and secure vehicles.
