

Commission OKs wind power deal

By Brian Sanders

Wind power is coming to Holton through an agreement between the city and a western Kansas “wind farm,” the Holton City Commission noted during their regular meeting on Monday.

According to the agreement, which received commissioners’ unanimous approval during the meeting, the city will receive a wind power allocation of up to 1.5 megawatts of power from the Buckeye Wind Farm in Ellis County near Hays for 15 years “at a very reasonable rate,” according to Holton City Manager Kerwin McKee.

The power allotment from Buckeye will further diversify the types of electricity that the city receives from a number of sources, a significant amount of it coming from a Kansas Municipal Energy Agency (KMEA) power pool, it was noted.

“It’s nice to have a piece of green energy,” McKee said, noting that the new agreement will not have any effect on Holton utility customers’ power bills.

Holton Electrical Production Superintendent Ira Harrison reminded commissioners that the city also has ongoing agreements with the Grand River Dam Authority (GRDA) in Oklahoma, NextEra Energy, headquartered in Juno Beach, Fla., and the Western Area Power Administration (WAPA), headquartered in Denver, Colo., for a total of about 6.7 megawatts.

The city uses about five megawatts a day at present, and at times during the summer, the total gets up to about 12 megawatts, Harrison said.

County FFA students excel at nationals

By Brian Sanders

A recent Jackson Heights High School graduate was named second in the nation in extemporaneous public speaking during the 90th National FFA Convention and Expo in Indianapolis, Ind., where FFA chapters from all three Jackson County schools earned national recognition.

John Kennedy, a 2017 graduate of JHHS, took second place in the extemporaneous public speaking contest, earning a cash prize and Gold Emblem status at the national level, according to JHHS chapter advisor Paul Lierz. The contest recognizes individual FFA members for their ability to prepare and present factual speeches on specific agricultural issues in a short time period and answer questions based on their speeches.

Other Jackson County students making an impact at the national FFA convention included Holton sophomore Cailin Parks, who competed in the FFA creed speaking leadership development event. Holton chapter advisor Jason Larison said Parks broke into the semi-finals but just missed making the national final four, earning a Silver Emblem ranking.

Larison also noted that Holton’s environmental and natural resources career development event team finished 18th in the nation and earned a national Silver Emblem ranking. Team member and HHS senior Mason Chanay finished 11th in the nation and earned a Gold Emblem ranking and a $400 college scholarship, while HHS junior Kortnee VanDonge also finished in the Gold Emblem division.

McAlister unseats incumbent in RV race

By Ali Holcomb

Nathan McAlister, a former Royal Valley teacher, was elected to the USD 337 Royal Valley Board of Education Tuesday after securing more votes than incumbent Jeff Stithem.

A total of 971 registered voters – just 11.7 percent of the total number of registered voters in the county – voted in Tuesday’s general election that included races for school boards, city councils and the Meadowlark District Board of Directors.

While many school board members ran unopposed in Tuesday’s general election, the position five seat on the Royal Valley board drew support for both candidates. McAlister received 257 votes to replace Stithem on the board. Stithem received 166 votes and has served on the board for four years.

In the position four seat on the RV board, incumbent Linda Hegemann was re-elected after receiving 355 votes.

Incumbent Ann Kelly received 286 votes and was re-elected to position six at Royal Valley. Sonja Willms, who publicly withdrew from the race due to medical reasons, received 102 votes. Rusty Douglas received three write-in votes.

Meanwhile, in all three USD 335 Jackson Heights Board of Education races, incumbents were re-elected to their post.

Incumbent Kelly Kennedy was re-elected to position four with 175 votes. Luke Schreiber and Kelly Holliday each received one write-in vote for the position.

Incumbent Ed Rostetter received 118 votes for re-election to position five. Robert “Fred” Mock received 49 votes, and Lyle Alley received one write-in vote.

For position six on the board, incumbent Doug Amon received 180 votes, and one write-in vote was cast for Topher Dohl.

Incumbent Allen Arnold was re-elected to position four on the Holton USD 336 Board of Education Tuesday. Arnold received 178 votes over opponent Michelle Evans, who received 95 votes.

Earlier this fall, Evans reported that she was moving to a different part of town and was no longer eligible for the position.

Incumbent Michiel Ford ran unopposed for position five on the Holton Board of Education and received 257 votes.

Christina Schlodder-Murphy received 234 votes for position six on the board. Janis Bowser received one write-in vote. This will be Schlodder-Murphy’s first term on the board.

Jackson Heights presents ‘Crumpled Classics’

By Brian Sanders

A handful of classic stories including Romeo and Juliet, the Phantom of the Opera, Sherlock Holmes and Frankenstein’s monster will be turned into “fractured fairy tales” that high school students can relate to in the hands of Jackson Heights High School’s drama department this weekend.

“Crumpled Classics,” a comedy by Craig Sodaro, will be presented on the JHHS stage at 7 p.m. Saturday and at 2 p.m. Sunday.

The “play within a play” marks the directorial debut of Tyler Kincaid, new vocal and instrumental music director at JHHS.

“I wanted something they would be able to attach to and relate to, and I definitely wanted a comedy for these guys,” Kincaid said. “It’s perfect for them.”

JHHS student Kate Lierz agreed, noting the comedy of “high schoolers putting on a play without any supervision” was a good fit, and the students took to the comical nature of the play rather quickly.

“I really like it,” said Lierz, who takes on five different roles in the play. “It’s got some really funny parts in it, and it mixes well with the group of kids we have.”

The play’s plot involves a group of high school students putting together the school’s annual “Classics On Parade” based on stories from their literature class, but with their own

Vets’ parade here Friday

By Ali Holcomb

Veterans Day will be celebrated in Holton with a parade on Friday, Nov. 10, and a special dinner for vets Saturday.

A Veterans Day parade is being planned for 1:30 p.m. Friday around Holton’s Town Square, it was reported.

Line-up will begin 30 minutes prior to the start of the parade north on New York Avenue north of Casey’s. Some veterans will be organizing earlier than that at the Vets Club, it was reported.

The Holton High School band is scheduled to participate in the parade.

Participants are asked to contact organizers John Chiles, 364-2824, and Carolyn Koger, 364-3321, to let them know if you plan to be in the parade.

Members of the public and local schools are invited to attend the parade and wave small flags along the parade route.

A special Veterans Day Community Dinner will be held on Saturday, Nov. 11, at the Northeast Kansas Heritage Complex south of Holton. Doors open at 5 p.m. with dinner at 6 p.m.

‘Hotel Nashville’ set for Royal Valley stage

By Ali Holcomb

A failing hotel, a knife-wielding chef, geriatric spies and an unscheduled music competition will keep audiences on their toes this weekend as Royal Valley High School presents “Hotel Nashville.”

Written and directed by RV’s Stephanie Allen, “Hotel Nashville” centers around Mary, who is struggling to keep her hotel open in small Nashville, Kan.

“She’s taking in laundry to keep the hotel afloat, and her friend Steve, who works for a travel agency in Wichita, arranges, without her knowledge, a music competition at her hotel,” Allen said. “While that’s going on, Mary’s grandmother and her bridge group are actually undercover spies whose latest mission is to rescue a 12-year-old girl from guerrillas in Costa Rica.”

The grandmas bring the girl back to the hotel, which is now brimming with aspiring country singers, fans and reporters.

The cast includes 23 students and a special cameo by School Resource Officer John Calvert. All the scenes take place in the hotel’s lobby.

Family Physician of the Year nominations sought

The Kansas Academy of Family Physicians (KAFFP) is seeking nominations for the 2018 Kansas Family Physician of the Year award, it has been reported.

Why don't you nominate your favorite family doctor for this ward?

Each year the KAFFP awards one family physician the prestigious title of "Kansas Family Physician of the Year" on the basis of:

*Providing his/her patients with compassionate, comprehensive, and caring family medicine on a continuing basis.

*Enhancing the quality of his/her community by being directly and effectively involved in community affairs and activities.

*Acting as a credible role model professionally and personally to his/her community, to other health professionals, and residents and medical students.

*Standing out among his/her colleagues.

Nominees must be family physician members in good standing, licensed to practice in Kansas, and actively practicing family medicine at least half time.

More than 90 percent of Kansas family physicians are members of the KAFFP, the state's largest medical organization for primary care physicians.

Nominations explaining why a family doctor deserves to be selected as the 2018 Kansas Family Physician of the Year may be submitted electronically at www.kafponline.org/Members/AwardsforFamilyPhysicians/; by email at mspexarth@kafponline.org; by sending a letter to KAFFP, 7570 W. 21st St. N. #1026-C, #104, Wichita, KS 67205; or by faxing a letter to (316) 721-9044.

The deadline for receipt of nominations is Dec. 30, 2017. Previous recipients are ineligible and may be found on the KAFFP Web site at www.kafponline.org/Members/AwardsforFamilyPhysicians/

The winner will be announced in February 2018. The KAFFP will honor the recipient at its annual meeting, set for June 14-16, 2018 at the Marriott Hotel in Overland Park.

The recipient will be nominated for the American Academy of Family Physicians (AAFP) 2018 Family Physician of the Year award.

Founded in 1948, the KAFFP represents 1,730 physicians and medical students statewide. It is the only medical society devoted solely to primary care. Today, family physicians provide more care for the underserved and rural populations than any other medical specialty. Family physicians conduct approximately one in five office visits.

Family medicine's cornerstone is an ongoing, personal patient-physician relationship focused on integrated care. The mission of the Kansas Academy of Family Physicians is to promote access to, and excellence in, health care for all Kansans through education and advocacy for family physicians and their patients. The KAFFP is affiliated with the American Academy of Family Physicians, the national association for family physicians.

We are very well-served by family doctors in this community. For more information about the KAFFP visit www.kafponline.org

Hospital board of directors meet

The board of directors for Rural Health Resources of Jackson County, Inc., doing business as Holton Community Hospital, held a meeting on Oct. 25.

Board chair Dick Lake called the meeting to order at 5:41 p.m. Members in attendance were Lake, Dan Brenner, Margaret Pagel, Cathleen Reed, Mike Mosier and Alex Gilliland.

Others in attendance were Carrie Saia, Holton Community Hospital CEO, Bart Kenton and Pam Holaday. Dr. Erin Locke was present representing the medical staff.

Kaylie Zimmerman, APRN, a local resident who has started working at the Holton Clinic location, was introduced. Zimmerman will also be working every Thursday in the walk-in clinic and in a regular ER rotation.

Members of the board discussed traffic flow on Gilliland Lane (from the west) into the hospital parking lot and ways to limit the potential for an accident.

The board approved the September 2017 financial reports, as well as the medical staff appointments and annual departmental policy and procedure manuals.

Next, the board heard a report from Saia that in-house nuclear medicine services will become available the second week of December, allowing staff to perform cardiac and non-cardiac imaging testing more than one day per week.

Saia also shared that the hospital was awarded a $5,000 grant from the Prairie Band Potawatomi Nation.

Also during the meeting, Saia updated the board on the recruitment of new medical providers. Pulmonary Function Testing equipment was donated to the hospital by the widow of Dr. Leed.

The meeting was adjourned at 7:15 p.m.

Williams: Saving energy, money go hand in hand

By Cindy Williams
Meadowlark Extension District Agent Food & Nutrition, FNP

Saving energy and money go hand in hand, so the Consumer Federation of America (CFA) has identified 12 simple ways consumers can save both.

The CFA is a nonprofit association of more than 250 consumer groups, found in 1968 to advance consumer interests through research, advocacy and education. The CFA supports nationwide efforts to become more energy independent, improve the environment and save households hundreds of dollars in unnecessary energy costs.

"As one of the nation's leading consumer organizations, we're pleased to provide consumers with energy-saving tips that also save money. CFA has long been a strong supporter of energy efficient policies and practices, especially those that benefit consumers' pocketbooks," said Mel Hall-Crawford, CFA's energy projects director. "Energy takes a huge bite out of household budgets, with the typical family spending about $2,200 each year on utility bills. We're suggesting simple ways to put some of that money back into consumers' pockets."

Consider using these energy saving tools to also save money and help the environment.

12 Tips To Save Energy Dollars

1. Air dry. Air dry dishes instead of using your dishwasher's drying cycle. Most new dishwashers have a setting for "air dry" instead of "heat dry." Use this setting to save automatically.

2. Turn it off. Use timers and motion detectors to turn off lights. Be sure to unplug TV entertainment systems when traveling (use power strips for easy on/off switching). Don't leave your computer and monitor on needlessly.

3. Don't get burned with hot water. Lower the thermostat on your water heater to 120 degrees F. Water heaters are the second highest source of energy use in the home.

4. Fill it up, please. Wash and dry only full loads of dishes and clothes.

5. Keep 'em clean. Check furnace, heat pump and AC filters once a month and clean or replace them regularly. A dirty air filter can increase your energy costs and cause problems with your equipment.

6. Get a checkup. Get your heating and air conditioning system checked once a year. A licensed professional will make sure that your systems are operating efficiently and safely. Checkups can identify problems early.

7. Stop the breeze. Caulk and weather-strip around drafty doors and windows. Consider replacing windows for even more energy efficiency.

8. Get an audit. Your utility company may offer free energy audits that can identify expensive energy losses in your basement, unfinished rooms, attics and leaky duct work. Sealing your ducts can give big savings on energy bills and help keep you from turning up the thermostat because of one cold room.

9. Take a walk. Circle your home with an easy-to-use spray foam insulation and look for openings and gaps around pipes, chimneys, lights, windows and basement brick and cement work.

10. Get with the program. Install a programmable thermostat, which automatically adjusts the temperature during the day or at night, keeping you from forgetting as you dash off to work. A programmable thermostat can save up to $100 a year.

11. Stay bright. As "old-school" incandescent light bulbs burn out, replace them with new, light emitting diode bulbs (LEDs) and save about $90 a year in electricity costs. You pay more up-front, but shop around. Prices are dropping. They use up to 25 percent less energy, can last up to 12 times longer and light like the old fashioned ones do.

12. Be a star. Look for products and appliances that have earned the "Energy Star" label. They meet strict new energy efficiency criteria that will reduce your utility bills and help the environment. "Energy Star" clothes washers, for example, use approximately 40 percent less water and 25 percent less energy for washing than standard models.

When you use these money-saving tools, consider actually saving the money you saved to boost your emergency savings fund, or to make an extra payment on credit card or student loan debt. Money "saved" not purchasing something – in this case, energy – isn't actually saved unless it is moved to a savings instrument, such as an emergency fund, or to pay down debt.

PLAINS FOLK: Cowtown stories of Libby Haley

By Jim Hoy

Mary Elizabeth "Libby" Haley was a Texan by birth.

Her parents, James and Mary, welcomed her into their family on Oct. 15, 1855. James was a Bell County farmer, living near Belton, but the Civil War ruined his prosperity, and then in 1864 young Libby was kidnapped by Comanche Indians.

For three years, her distraught parents searched, finally locating their daughter and paying a ransom to get her back from the Comanches.

People around Belton assumed that the Indians had used the 13-year-old girl sexually, and because she showed no signs of physical abuse, they further assumed that she had submitted willingly.

Given the events in her later life, they may have been right.

At any rate, her reputation and her marriage prospects were seemingly ruined.

When a year later, however, Libby introduced an older man to her parents as her husband, her father, for some reason, became irrationally angry and shot the man dead.

Libby, equally angered, ran away from home and ended up in Abilene, then in its third year as a rowdy cowtown. There she found employment as a dance-hall girl and prostitute.

While thus employed in Abilene, she fell in with a cowboy and gambler named Billy Thompson, younger brother of the better known gunman and gambler Ben Thompson.

In 1870, the couple left Abilene for Texas. Occasionally, Billy worked as a trail drover, but more often he gambled while Libby pursued her occupation as a soiled dove.

By 1872, the couple had returned to Kansas, this time to Ellsworth then in its first year as a raucous cattle town.

"Hell is again in session in Ellsworth," as a local newspaper editor put it.

It was here on the first of April, 1873, that Libby bore the first of at least nine children (some sources add three more and all sources agree that Billy was not the only father).

It was also here, three months later, that Billy Thompson made an honest woman of her (using that phrase advisedly; marriage did nothing to discourage her from continuing her chosen occupation during their 24 years as husband and wife).

In August of that year, after Billy accidentally shot and killed Sheriff Chauncey Whitney of Ellsworth, they moved back to Texas.

By 1876, they were in Dodge City and from there on to Colorado before ending up in Sweetwater, Texas, where they bought a ranch and a saloon/dance hall/brothel.

When not gambling at various other places in the West, Billy ran the ranch while Libby was the saloon keeper and madam at the brothel.

In 1896, after a stint of gambling in Colorado, Billy returned to Sweetwater suffering from tuberculosis.

He died in September of 1897. I don't know what happened to the ranch, but Libby continued to operate the saloon/brothel until she retired at the age of 66 in 1921.

At some point in the ensuing years, she moved to Palmdale, Calif., to be near some of her children.

Speaking of the children, the daughters had followed in their mother's footsteps, the sons in their father's - prostitutes and criminals.

In 1953, after a month in the Sunbeam Nursing Home in Los Angeles, Libby died at the age of 98.

One of Libby's distinguishing features was a gap between her front teeth.

Another was her penchant for keeping prairie dogs as pets, leading them around on leashes and holding them on her lap.

Thus Libby acquired the nickname by which she is best known to aficionados of the American West: Squirrel Tooth Alice.

Note: Jim Hoy, retired professor of English at Emporia State University and co-author of the Plains Folk column.

Jeane K. Carter, 93, of Holton, passed away peacefully Wednesday, Nov. 1, 2017, at Holton Community Hospital.

She was born Dec. 14, 1923, in Kansas City, Mo., the daughter of Charlie E. and Annabell (Smith) Coggin. Jeane graduated from Ruhl Hartman High School, Kansas City, Mo., in 1941 and thereafter Huff Business School. Jeane worked for Central Surety Insurance Co. in Kansas City, Mo.

Jeane married Lewis C. Carter on Nov. 26, 1947 in Kansas City, Mo. He preceded her in death on April 26, 2017.

After the family moved to Holton, Jeane worked in the Jackson County Clerk's office and as a bookkeeper for Nowlin Green House. Jeane was also a homemaker raising three sons. She enjoyed gardening, entertaining friends and family, traveling, playing cards and more than anything, Jeane loved to laugh.

Jeane was preceded in death by her parents; a sister, Shirley Bundy; and eldest son, Steven D. Carter.

Survivors include sister, Betty Pruett of Grandbury, Texas; brother, Tom Coggin (Rebecca) of Chicago, Ill.; two sons, John Carter (Stacey) of Tucson, Ariz., and Blaine Carter (Lynda) of Lake Wabunsee; daughter-in-law, Catherine L. Carter of Albuquerque, N.M.; three grandchildren, Ashley, Elyse and Eryn; and a great-granddaughter, Renee.

Thank you for your love, guidance and wisdom, Mom. We love you and will miss you.

A private family graveside service is planned at the Floral Hills Cemetery in Kansas City, Mo. Mercer Funeral Home in Holton is in charge of arrangements. To leave a special message for the family, please visit www.mercer-funeralhomes.com

Immanuel Lutheran Church

By Esther Ideker

All Saints Day was observed at the morning worship on Nov. 5 at Netawaka's Immanuel Lutheran Church. The opening hymn was "Now Thank We All Our God."

Following the confession and absolution, introit, kyrie and gloria in excelsis, Elder Topher Dohl read from Revelations 7 and the Epistle Lesson from 1 John 3.

Pastor Michael Van Velzer read the Holy Gospel from Matthew 5:1-12. The congregation professed The Nicene Creed.

The sermon hymn was "God Loves Me Dearly." The message, "Saints Are Blessed In The Eternal Presence Of Christ."

"A great multitude...from all tribes and peoples and languages" cry out, "Salvation belongs to our God who sits on the throne (Rev. 7:9-10).

Faith-filled saints from every place and time with unified voices eternally magnify the Lamb of God. As His beloved children,

JH board sets agenda

The Jackson Heights USD 335 Board of Education will hold its regular monthly meeting at 7 p.m. Monday at the Jackson Heights High School library. All district patrons are invited to attend.

Agenda items include two presentations, the first from Jim Long, CPA, about the annual district audit, with action to follow on the annual auditor's report. The second presentation will be given by Mark Wilson, a longtime Holton educator now serving as associate dean of student services at Washburn Tech, about programs at Washburn Tech.

The board will also consider bids received for the sale of two used school buses that were advertised on the district's Web site in recent days. Following administrative and board reports, the board plans to meet in executive session to discuss personnel matters, with action on those discussions to be taken when the board returns to open session.

The meeting is open to the public. For more information, or to be placed on the agenda of an upcoming board meeting, call the district office at 364-2194.

we, too, "shall see Him as He is" (1 John 3:2).

Joined with the throng of angels and myriad saints, we shall "serve Him day and night in His temple" (Rev. 7:15).

In our earthly tension vacillating between saint and sinner, faith and doubt, sacred and profane, we earnestly seek Jesus to calm our fears, comfort our spirits and forgive our sins.

The Holy Spirit, through faith in Christ, propels us forward to our eternal home, fortifying us in Word and Sacrament. In midst of our constant struggle as believers, we need to be blessed. And so we are. The poor in spirit, the meek, the hungry, the thirsty, the merciful, the pure and the persecuted are all blessed, and we will most certainly inherit the kingdom of heaven. (Matt. 5:1-12.)

Offering ushers were Tex Manuel II and Topher Dohl. In the prayers of the church, remembered were the poor in spirit, who gather this day to receive the grace and mercy by which we are made rich in Christ; for those who mourn, that they may receive abundant comfort in the promises of Jesus, who makes all things new; and for the meek, including all who patiently and loving speak the Gospel to others.

Also remembered were those who hunger and thirst for righteousness, that in faithfulness they may approach the altar; for the merciful, including pastors and teachers who speak of God's mercy to His people, that they may remain steadfast in the Word; for peacemakers, including all in authority, that they may be blessed in working toward peace; for those who are persecuted for righteousness' sake, that they may be upheld and strengthened in the one true faith even in the face of suffering; for the sick and recovering, that they may be granted health and healing according to God's wisdom; for all the saints who rest from their labors that we may remember them with thanksgiving and joy as we look forward to seeing them again at the throne of the Lamb. The congregation joined in The Lord's Prayer.

Elders Tex Manuel II and Topher Dohl assisted Pastor Van Velzer with the distribution of Holy Communion. The distribution hymns were "What Is This Bread" and "I am Jesus Little Lamb."

Following the Nunc Dimittis and Benediction, the service closed with the hymn, "Beautiful Savior."

Lutheran Women will meet at 1:30 p.m. on Friday, Nov. 10, at the church. Roll call will be "Your Christian Journey." Marcia Coufal will lead the devotion and Bible Study and Lavon Keehn will be hostess.

November project is KAIR radio broadcast sponsored by Trinity Lutheran Church and planning for the Dec. 9 "Blessings and Brunch" to be held at the Netawaka Community Building at 10 a.m.

Weekday Bible Study has been moved to Sunday night at 6 p.m.

Holton, Frontenac tangle here Friday

- 6 p.m. kickoff
- Gates open 4:15 p.m.
- No league/season passes accepted

By David Powls
For the third season in a row, the Holton Wildcats and the Frontenac Raiders will clash in the Class 4A-DII football sectional playoffs.
And for the second season in a row, the Wildcats will host the Raiders.
The kickoff is set for 6 p.m. here Friday at the HHS stadium. Gates will open at 4:15 p.m.
Since this is a Kansas State High School Activities Association event, no league or season passes will be honored at the admission gates.

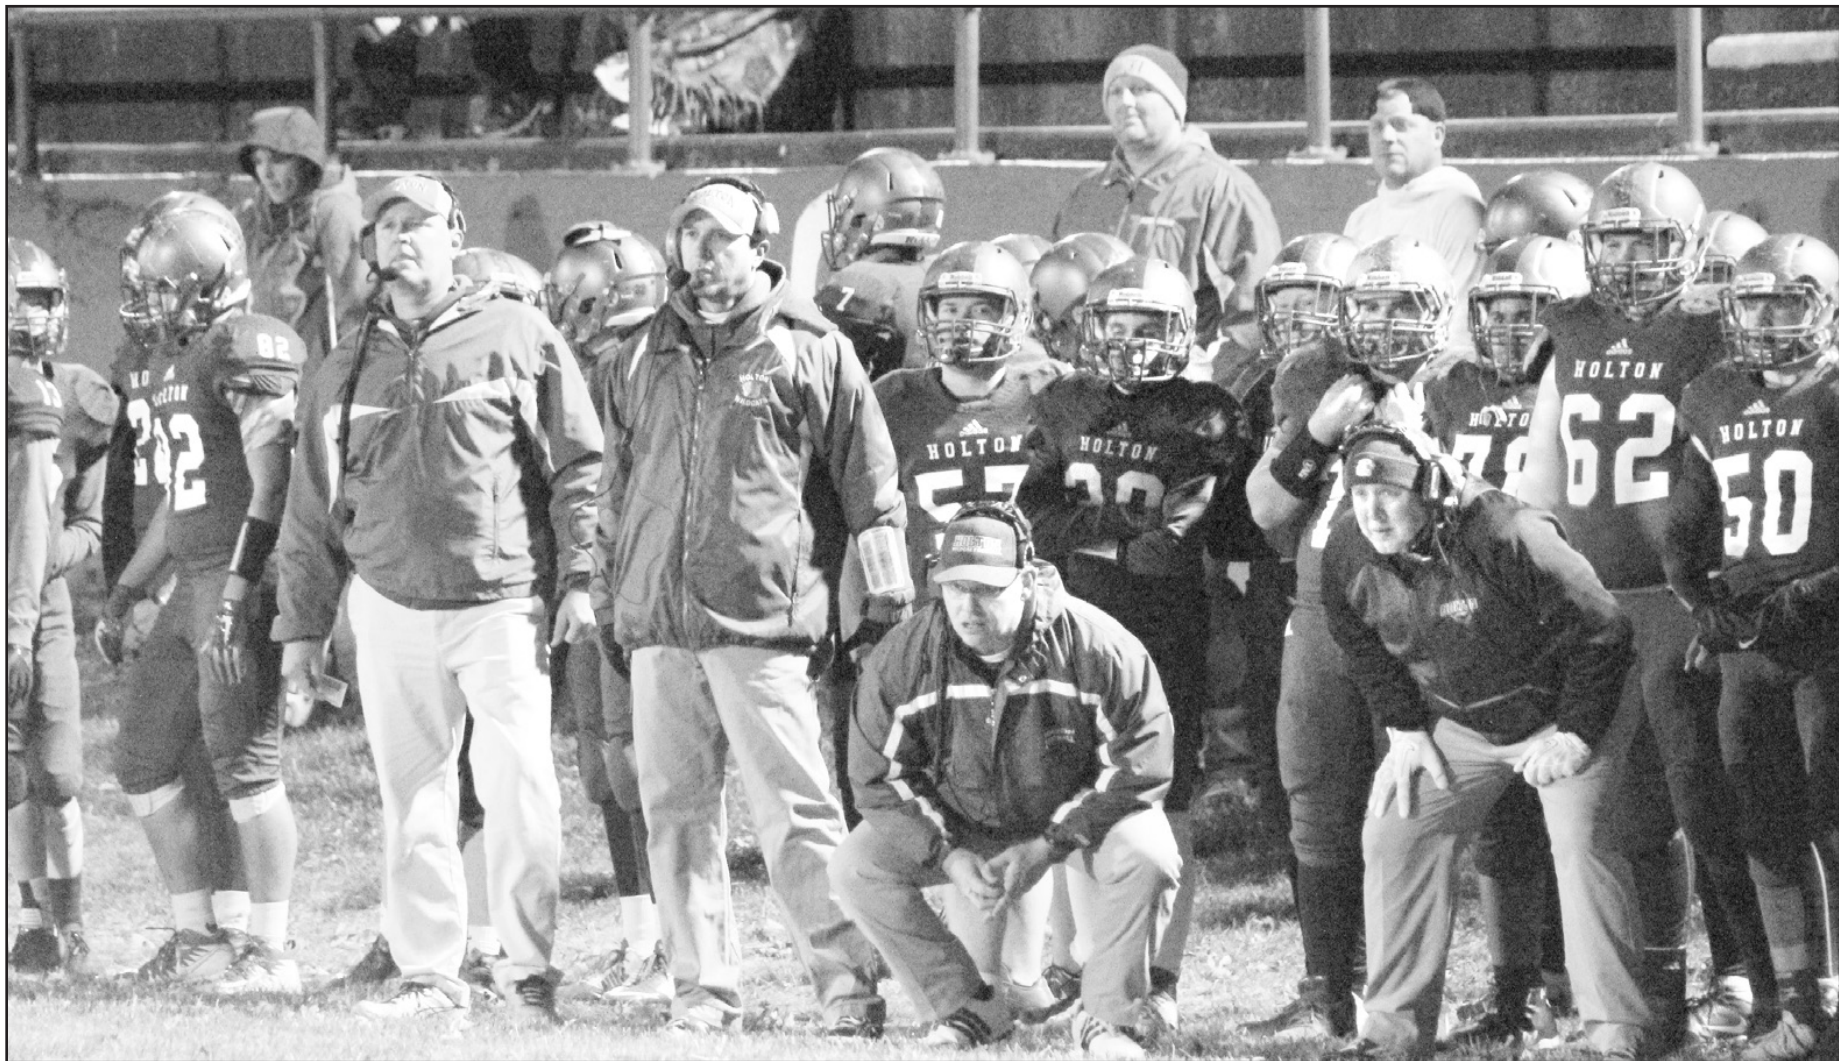

In 2015, Holton won at Frontenac by the score of 22-7. Last season, Holton trailed Frontenac 21-0 after three quarters of play but then scored 32 points in the fourth quarter to come from behind and win 32-28.
The Wildcats, now 7-3 overall, qualified for the sectional playoff round by beating Baldwin last Thursday, 9-8, in regional play.
The Raiders, also 7-3 overall now, qualified for the sectional playoff round by beating Girard last Friday, 41-6.
The Raiders finished fourth in the Cherokee-Neosho-Crawford football league of southeast Kansas, posting a 4-2 record behind Galena (7-0), Columbus (4-2) and Pittsburg-St. Marys Colgan (4-2).

Other teams in the CNC and their league records this season were Baxter Springs (3-4), Girard (2-4), Riverton (1-6) and Southeast of Cherokee (0-4).
The Raiders also beat Girard in their first game of the season by the score of 33-6.
After that game, the Raiders lost to Galena (28-21), lost to St. Mary's-Colgan (20-0), beat Riverton (60-12), beat Harmon (63-18), lost to Labette County (31-17), beat Parsons (44-0), beat Columbus (20-8) and beat Baxter Springs (47-22).
The Raiders have a lot of new personnel making plays for the team this season and do not have good depth at many positions, according to Frontenac head coach Mark Smith.
Senior running back Jake Wilbert (6-0, 185 pounds) has rushed for 940 yards this season and has scored 16 rushing touchdowns.
Senior quarterback Peyton Brown (5-11, 175 pounds), has passed for 1,200 yards and 15 touchdowns this season.
Senior wide receiver Broc Givanan (6-4, 230 pounds) has 28 catches for 495 yards and seven touchdowns.
Coach Smith is in his sixth season as head coach for the Raiders and his teams have made the football playoffs six straight seasons.

"We're excited to be matched with Holton again this season," coach Smith said this morning. "We have a lot of respect for the Holton football program and we feel like we're starting to know each other's programs pretty well."
Coach Smith said the Raiders started the season slowly going 1-2 with a lot of inexperienced players.
"We had some early troubles with turnovers but we're controlling the football better now and playing some good football," the coach said.

Wick: Cobras played well in playoff game

By David Powls
Jackson Heights head football coach Caleb Wick said he was proud of his team, despite not getting past Jefferson County North last Friday.
"We did not play bad at all in the game against JCN," coach Wick said. "Two plays in the second half gave JCN momentum during the course of the third quarter. I believe that if we score right before the half, it is a different ball game for sure. We just made too many mental mistakes on offense and defense and missed too many crucial tackles during the third quarter."

In the battle of unbeaten football teams from the Northeast Kansas League here Friday night, tied 14-14 at halftime, it was the home team's dominant third quarter that made all the difference.
The Jefferson County North Chargers scored 22 points in the third quarter against Jackson Heights and led the game 36-20 as the game clock wound down.
The Chargers improved to 10-0 with the Class 2A-1A regional playoff victory.

The Cobras finished the season with an impressive 8-2 overall record.
In the NEK league, these two teams shared the league title this season without playing each other. Jackson Heights was 5-0 in league play while JCN was 6-0 in the league.
On Friday, Nov. 10, JCN will host Olpe in sectional playoff competition.
"Going into the season, we had a ton of unknowns," coach Wick said. "We knew what we had with a couple of our position players, but there were many unknowns left in the backfield as well as the line."

Things started to come together, though, Wick said.
"Cooper Williams stepped up during the preseason and really took the quarterback position over. Sebastian (Butto) and Conlon (Bruggeman) fought for running back carries during the course of the year as well," the coach said. "Where we made the most gains during the course of the year was on the line of scrimmage. Losing Curtis Niehues and Riley Watkins, two of our most seasoned offensive linemen, is never easy especially being at a 2A school where numbers are usually an issue. Colby Doyle and Taylor Wamego really stepped up during the course of the year, starting every game as freshmen at left tackle and at center. We will definitely miss all of our seniors we are losing this year, but are very excited about the future of the Cobras' program. This incoming senior class has gone 9-2, 6-3 and 8-2. If everyone buys in and works during the off-season, we could have another special year in Cobra Country next season, especially with bringing back both Curtis and Riley."

Trent Tanking finalist for Burlsworth Trophy

■ Fans can vote for Tanking online

Kansas State senior linebacker Trent Tanking (No. 58) is one of 10 semifinalists for the 2017 Burlsworth Trophy, awarded to the most outstanding football player in America who began his career as a walk-on, it has been announced.

Tanking is the fourth Wildcat semifinalist up for the award since its inception in 2010, joining offensive lineman B.J. Finney (2012), defensive end Ryan Mueller (2013) and linebacker Jonathan Truman (2014).

A native of Holton, Tanking leads K-State and ranks sixth in the Big 12 with 75 tackles this year, including 57 solo stops to rank sixth in the nation in Division I football.

A team captain, Tanking has five double-digit tackle games this season, including four of the six Big 12 contests. He tallied a career-high 13 tackles against TCU, while he had 11 at Texas and 10 against Vanderbilt, Oklahoma and Texas Tech.

A special-teams standout for three seasons prior to assuming a starting linebacker role, Tanking is also a semifinalist for the 2017 Campbell Trophy, which is often referred to as the “Academic Heisman.”

A two-time First Team Academic All-Big 12 performer, Tanking holds a 3.633 GPA as an industrial engineering major, and he is in line to graduate this coming May.

The Burlsworth Trophy is named in honor of Brandon Burlsworth, a former walk-on at Arkansas who was a three-year starter and All-American in 1998. Burlsworth was selected as the 63rd overall pick in the 1999 NFL Draft by Indianapolis but was tragically killed in a car accident 11 days later.

Fans can vote for Tanking via a fan vote beginning, Nov. 7, via www.burlsworthtrophy.com. Voting is limited to one per day and concludes on Nov. 12, as three finalists for the award will be announced on Nov. 14. The finalists will be honored and the winner of the 2017 Burlsworth Trophy announced Dec. 4, at a banquet in Springdale, Ark., hosted by the Brandon Burlsworth Foundation, in conjunction with the Springdale Rotary Club.

K-State hosts No. 23 West Virginia on Saturday inside Bill Snyder Family Stadium at 2:30 p.m., a game that serves as Fort Riley Day and will be shown nationally on ESPN2.

■ Holton, Frontenac to tangle for sectional crown

Smith said the team’s 31-17 loss mid-season to Labette County was the turning point in the season for the Raiders.

“We were tied with Labette County, a very good team, at halftime in that game and even though we lost we knew we were improving and getting better. Since then, we’ve been playing pretty good football,” he said.

Coach Smith said the Raiders’ QB this season probably won’t run the football as much as the team’s QB did the last two seasons. QB Brown, he said, is more of a drop-back passer.

“We probably run the football 60 percent of the time and pass 40 percent of the time,” Smith said. “We know that Holton will want to grind up the clock when they have the ball and limit our offensive possessions, so we’ll have to take advantage of every one of our possessions.”

Coach Smith said that, as always at this time of the season, taking care of the football - limiting turnovers - and controlling the line of scrimmage will be the keys to victory in the game.

The winner of the Holton-Frontenac game will play the winner of the Hayden-Burlington game in the sub-state playoff round on Friday, Nov. 17.

With an overall record of 8-2, achieving first place in the Northeast Kansas League and achieving district runner-up and regional runner-up status, the Cobras gave local fans lots to cheer about this season.

FFA students...

Other members of Holton's environmental and natural resources career development event team included senior Joshua Clark, who finished in the Silver Emblem division, and sophomore Alexys Campbell, who finished in the Bronze Emblem division, Larison said.

Four Jackson County FFA alumni also earned their American FFA degrees, it was noted. Royal Valley chapter advisor Kim Clark said RVHS graduates Patrick Broxterman and Jenna Thurman earned their degrees, while Lierz noted that JHHS graduates Joel Nelson and Lance Coe also received their degrees at the national convention.

Larison also noted that Holton's FFA chapter was named a National 3-Star Gold Emblem chapter, while Clark and Lierz noted that their respective chapters were named National 2-Star Gold Emblem chapters. The designation recognizes FFA chapters that actively implement the FFA mission and strategies, it was reported.

Representatives from Jackson County's schools at the national FFA convention included:

- Holton: Alexys Campbell, Mason Chanay, Joshua Clark, Andrew Harrison, Quinn Kennedy, Danni Klahr, Bridget Kucan, Cailin Parks, Savannah Phillips, Chris Roush and Kortnee VanDonge. Larison and Alex Bartel attended as advisors; also in attendance were Tim and Dyann Parks.
- Jackson Heights: Quinn Allen, Jessica Buck, Jill Buck, Lance Coe, Dalton Jones, Joel Kennedy, John Kennedy, Bethany Kenworthy, Jenna McAllister, Jerilyn Nelson and Kati Woltje, in addition to Lierz.
- Royal Valley: Emily Albright, Patrick Broxterman, Hadley Gregory, Holly Mitchell, Cassidy Parks and Jenna Thurman. Clark was also in attendance as chapter advisor; also in attendance were Mary Swift and Lisa Thurman.

Holton City Commission...

Electric power from distant sources, commissioners were reminded, is shipped over power transmission lines, and the city pays distribution charges, Harrison noted. The individual owners of the power lines are allowed to charge for the use of the lines, he added, but "it gives cities an option for really cheap energy."

The city's transformers are "good for about 8.4 megawatts," Harrison said. The city also maintains its own generators, he added, turning them on when the city's total power load exceeds eight megawatts.

In other business on Monday, commissioners approved a new five-year contract for the city's operation of the Public Wholesale Water Supply District 18 water treatment plant, which provides water to the city and to Rural Water District 3 customers.

McKee noted that the only change in the contract from the previous five-year contract involved an increase in plant operating costs covered by the city from $120,000 per year to $147,000, changing an amount that he said had been in place for 15 years.

McKee later noted that the increase in operating costs would have no effect on water rates charged by the district. Any changes in water rates would have to be approved by the PWWS D 18 board of directors, he added.

Commissioners also:

- Approved minutes from the commission's Oct. 16 meeting and budget appropriations made since that meeting.
- Approved a zoning change from R-1 (single-family dwelling district) to R-2 (two-family dwelling district) for a vacant lot on the southwest corner of South Iowa Avenue and Hillcrest Drive where a potential buyer for the lot plans to build at least two residential duplexes in the near future.
- Were introduced to Steven Newport, a new employee at the Holton municipal power plant.

- Were reminded by Mayor Robert Dieckmann of local elections on Tuesday.
- Heard a comment from Commissioner Dan Brenner about the need for placement of a guardrail at the intersection of Ninth Street and Dakota Avenue, where a "a huge drop-off" exists north of the intersection. McKee said city staff will review Brenner's request.

- Heard a comment from McKee that LED lights are being placed into some city light poles to see "how well they perform."
- Adjourned the meeting at approximately 7:30 p.m. All commissioners were present.

Veterans Day...

The dinner is open to veterans and all members of the community. Guests are asked to bring a covered dish and salad or dessert. Unwrapped toys are also being collected at the dinner in support of the Toys for Toys project.

Guest speaker for the event will be retired Lt. Col. Erich Campbell, and music will be provided by the Fairlawn Swing Band.

The dinner will be sponsored by the VFW and Ladies Auxiliary Post 1367 of Holton.

The official Veterans Day holiday is Saturday, Nov. 11, but is being observed by many businesses and organizations, including local governments, on Friday.

The Jackson County Courthouse and the senior citizen meal sites will be closed Friday, as well as local city halls.

On Saturday, the county noxious weed, recycling center and landfill will be closed in observance of the holiday. The United States Post Office and area banks will also be closed on Saturday.

Nemaha: Aubrey Lynn Liby, Seneca, Bachelor of General Studies in Anthropology.

Denison Bible Church

Esther L. Hall

On Nov. 5, Pastor Tom's message was titled, "Which Party Would You Affiliate?" The responsible reading was Acts 4:1-4. Vote! That's what we are suppose to do on Tuesday this week. It's mostly for the school board changes, but regardless it's our obligation to go and vote. It should be regarded as an honor to vote – not matter who's running or what the issues are. We have a responsibility to vote.

In Acts 4:1-4, the apostles were talking to the people but the political, religious leaders took offense of the apostles talking to the people about Jesus. The religious leaders were strictly that – religious. They were not Christian leaders.

Acts 4:2 says the religious leaders were disgruntled because the apostles were teaching about resurrection through Jesus. They were afraid that if they let the apostles continue, Rome would take away their way of life. It was strictly religious reasons without Christianity attached to it and for political favors from Rome.

The Head of the Church was, and is still Jesus Christ. He was rejected for a political cause. The body of the Church was the apostles. Jesus was crucified but the apostles continued to preach Jesus to the people.

The Church grew in spite of all the political powers inside the Church. The "Conservatives" were on the inside. Many are born again believers and have the platform that "as it was, it will be." Change is a cuss word to them and often causes derision within their Church. Even today many Churches are fractured because they don't accept change.

The extreme liberal's platform is "as I feel today." If there's something in the Bible that offends them they disregard it and believe in whatever makes them comfortable.

Independent Christians are those who say, "As He would have me do." "Me" equals the Church; just like the apostles – standing on the side of Jesus Christ. Jesus was gone but they continued to preach what He taught them. We believe in what the Bible says and we stand by it. We're suppose to get into the Word and be informed of the truths it holds.

There is no litmus test for whom we vote for. But when we stand up for Jesus Christ and do what we're suppose to do, that is our litmus test. When we go in to vote we're to vote for who we believe is best qualified. If their platform aligns with how we think and believe it's a no brainer.

Which party do you affiliate? Hopefully it's for Jesus Christ and all he stands for.

Myers - Stanton

Brette Myers and Jacob Stanton of Beloit, along with their parents, are pleased to announce their engagement and upcoming nuptials.

The bride-to-be is the daughter of Ted and Waynette (Mirch) Myers of Wetmore. She is the granddaughter of Pat (Pintar) Myers of Wetmore and Neil and Sheila (Cunningham) Springer of Holton.

Brette graduated from Wetmore High School in 2008 and graduated from Baker University's School of Nursing in 2012 with a bachelor of science degree in nursing. She is currently employed by both Salina Regional Medical Center in Salina and Holton Community Hospital in Holton as a registered nurse.

The future groom is the son of Doug and Matisha (Mann) Stanton of Larkspur, Colo. He is the grandson Pauline (Mages) Kamphaus of Kinsley and Paul and Linda (Wessling) Mann of Simpson.

Jake graduated from Holcomb High School in 2007 and graduated from Kansas State University with a bachelor of science degree in agriculture in 2011. He is currently employed by TK Machine-Works, LLC in Beloit.

The couple is planning a late fall wedding at St. James Catholic Church in Wetmore.

November is National Hospice Care Month

This month, the National Hospice and Palliative Care Organization is working with hundreds of hospice programs across the country to raise awareness about hospice and palliative care.

November is National Hospice and Palliative Care Month and this year's theme is "It's about how you live."

Hospice is not a place, but rather a model of high-quality care that enables patients and families to focus on living as fully as possible despite a life-limiting illness. Palliative care brings this holistic model of care to people earlier in the course of a serious illness. Hospice organizations are among the largest providers of community-based palliative care services in the nation.

"Every year, nearly 1.5 million people living with a life-limiting illness receive care from hospices in this country," said Edo Banach, president and CEO of the National Hospice and Palliative Care Organization. "These highly-trained professionals ensure that patients and families find dignity, respect and love during one of life's most difficult journeys – it's really about living."

Hospice and palliative care programs provide pain management, symptom control, psychosocial support and spiritual care to patients and their families when a cure is not possible.

NHPCO offers a snapshot of hospice care in its recently released report "Facts and Figures: Hospice Care in America." Representative statistics reflecting care in 2015 include:

- * 4,199 hospices were paid by CMS to provide care under the Medicare hospice benefit.

- * 46 percent of Medicare decedents received one day or more of hospice care and were enrolled in hospice at the time of death.

- * Median length of service was 23 days.

- * 74.9 percent of patients received care for 90 days or less, while those receiving care for more than 180 days accounted for 13.1 percent.

- * Cancer was the most common principle diagnosis, accounting for 27.7 percent of patients.

- * 97.8 percent of care was provided at the Routine Home Care level with 55.8 percent of RHC days taking place in the home.

"One of the most common regrets we hear from hospice patients and their families is that they delayed the decision to take advantage of hospice care," noted Banach.

Nearly 30 percent of Medicare beneficiaries receive hospice care for seven days or less, a period considered too short to take full advantage of the many services that the hospice interdisciplinary team offers.

Banach added, "Palliative care services provided as part of a continuum of care may help with a timelier transition to hospice, ensuring that people are getting the best care possible at the most appropriate time."

Gardener's Corner

Autumn always brings me to the edge

By Sandra M. Siebert

In the afternoon, after the first night of freezing weather, I stood in the garden gazing at the freeze-charred plants. The luffa gourd vines hung limp and blackened from the trellis. The long bean leaves were brown and crisp.

A surge of energy went through me.

Yes! Now I can bulldoze through the garden, clean up the last of the summer crops, dig horseradish and cut down the asparagus.

Work, work, work to do. I was eager to get started. I felt refreshed. The burden of summer's harvest had been lifted.

The day before that first freeze I'd picked the last of the bell peppers (a giant cooler full) and taken down the plants. No sense in leaving them for later. It took me half the day, but the bed was left clear and neatly mulched.

The last tomato vines also came down, leaving me with a dozen or so small green tomatoes. Later I roasted them, along with some green bell peppers and the last of the okra and summer squash, and mixed in cajun spices.

The summer squash vines had been removed a week or so earlier, as their production had nearly come to a standstill and the vines were a mildewed mess. I love this time of year, when summer gets scoured from the landscape by a hard freeze. The only green left is in the cold hardy plants.

Next to a trellis covered in browned morning glory vines (the same trellis that had earlier supported cucumber vines, and before that snap peas) the arugula glows deep green. A bed of fresh, pungent arugula brings extra flavor and nutrition to hot winter stews.

Where I had cleared the garden several weeks earlier, blocks of bright green crimson clover and oats grow. These cover crops will protect the soil and its microscopic inhabitants through the winter. More recently cleared areas bear a simple, brown covering of hay mulch. Tidy. For the first time in months, the beds are tidy.

In some ways, autumn and early to mid-spring are my favorite times. The garden is neat and tidy. The emotions I feel in the garden at these times are simple and uncluttered. By the time winter fully sets in, the neatness will be marred a bit. Grassy blades of the oats will have suffered damage from the freezing weather, with the tips or even the whole blades turning brown.

Once I've cleared the oats in the spring and started the planting, the beds will again be neat and tidy, holding promise of abundant growth, but yet fresh and young and small. After a couple of months, as summer looms, vines will sprawl and taller plants will flop. The widely spaced young plants will have grown and become crowded. The garden becomes a raucous jungle demanding attention.

Today I can casually pick a few late-season greens, check for a mature cabbage head or pull a beet or turnip or two. No rush. No long hours in the kitchen blanching and freezing.

While standing in the garden, I hear a "thunk" as the wind shakes loose yet another hedge ball. Even from here I can see the growing pile of the large, yellow-green hedge apples at the edge of the woods where I've already dumped wheelbarrow loads. Looking at the tree's canopy, I see there will be a few wheelbarrow loads more before it's done. I take the wheelbarrow to the hedge tree and begin my hedge ball workout – squat, gather, stand and toss into the wheelbarrow, making its metal clang.

This is the season of clearing away, tidying up, releasing. As the trees release their leaves into the wind, I close my eyes and try to shake my mind free of its clutter. I turn to face the north wind, hoping that will help shake things loose.

Then I turn my attention to the morning glory vines growing up a trellis at the front of the house. As I begin to pull away the vines, I notice that the freeze-dried blossoms still hold bright color. The rich pink contrasts beautifully against the nearly-black green of the shriveled leaves.

I paused to absorb the sight. From a distance the dead vines appear to be an ugly mess; up close they reveal echoes of their summer beauty. Their swan song.

Inspired by these dead flowers, I wander through the garden in search of more scenes of beauty in the death and decay. Fig leaves curl at the edges, the pale undersides contrasting with the dark tops. The small red berries of the ashwaganda (a potent medicinal herb) blaze against the plant's dead tan foliage. At the edge of the nearly leafless woods I can see more deeply in, as if seeing beyond the veil of earthly existence into an as yet unknown realm.

In a few days I will return to the edge of the woods, looking deep inside, even longing to step through the edge and into another world. This winter I will step inside, taking walks through the trees, escaping into their peace, away from where human screeching hammers at my sanity.

Autumn brings us close to the edge, where the material world meets whatever is beyond it. We honor ancestors, a tradition spanning thousands of years. And we relish in spooky stories, horror movies and more other-worldly eeriness in an effort to hide from (or face) the ghosts rattling chains in our subconscious minds.

I close my eyes and feel the edge, soft and gray.

A flurry of leaves rattles down. Another hedge ball thunks on the ground. Energy surges through me.

Time to clean up some clutter.

County approves bridge design work

By Ali Holcomb

Jackson County has signed an agreement with BG Consultants of Manhattan to complete the design work on a bridge at D and 129th Roads, it has been reported.

The Jackson County Commissioners were recently notified that the county was awarded a federal off-system bridge grant to replace the bridge north and west of Delia.

The federal grant is for $249,521.13, it was reported.

The commissioners and Dan Barnett, road and bridge department supervisor, recently met with Moni El-Asar, vice president of BG Consultants, Inc., to discuss details of the grant.

El-Asar said that the new bridge will be designed over the next 18 months to federal standards and that construction of the bridge will begin in 2019.

The commissioners signed an agreement with BG Consultants, Inc. for $45,740 for the design fees for the bridge.

Additional fees, including engineering fees and geology survey fees, are expected in the future for a total estimated cost to the county—including the design fee—of $113,120.28, it was reported.

In other business, according to the approved minutes of Oct. 30, the commission:

- * Accepted the fuel bid of $18,560 submitted by Knotty Pine Oil Company, which was the only company that submitted a bid.

- * Approved resolution 2017-13, which changes the zoning classification of a property at 10388 S Rd. in Hoyt to a general agricultural district.

- * Approved resolution 2017-14, which changes the zoning classification of a property at 19492 Q Rd. in Holton to a light industrial district.

- * Received a notice from David Elsbury, KANZA Mental Health & Guidance Center CEO, about Mirror Inc. of Topeka. The company has a licensed addictions counselor who will soon work a limited amount of hours at KANZA's Holton office.

- * Heard a weekly report from John Kennedy, Banner Creek Reservoir director, who discussed the possibility of using overseas metal storage containers as storm shelters at the reservoir. The containers would be buried and bermed. No action was taken on the issue.

- * Signed hayland rental agreements with Charles Kennedy for 27 acres at a total cost of $607.50, Greg Young for 45.94 acres at a total cost of $803.95 and Gary Zibell for 50 acres at a total cost of $725.

- * Discussed the proposed Fritz Dillner Community Building at Banner Creek Reservoir. Kennedy requested $70,000 from the county's parks and recreation fund, which would be used to construct the 60-foot by 40-foot building shell.

So far, the Friends of Banner Creek Reservoir have raised an estimated $30,000 for the project. Commissioner Bill Elmer stated that if the county were to put $70,000 towards this project, he is not in favor of awarding naming rights due to the amount the county is being asked to contribute. No action was taken on the issue.

“We have a lot of fun and different characters,” Allen said. “It’s going to be a great show.”

The two-act play will be performed at the elementary school gym in Hoyt at 7:03 p.m. both Friday and Saturday. Tickets are on sale in the RVHS office and are $7 for adults and $5.50 for children. Children age three and under are admitted for free.

Dessert will be served during intermission and is included in the ticket price. Proceeds from ticket sales are split between the Europe trip fund and theatre fund, Allen said.

Members of the cast include Noah Spencer (Mary), Nathaniel Haislip (Steve), Gabi Simmons (Grandma), Hanna Allen (Greta), Tanner Holte (Smith), Katie Hanshaw (Isabelle), McKenzie Handley (Genevieve), Allison Clements (Patty), Christina twists in an attempt to make the stories relevant to today’s audiences.

Hanshaw (Chelsea New), Karsen Smith (Morgan), Charlotte Rooks (Courtney Diamond), Ivan Torkelson (Rico Suave), Laurel Lundin (Candi Capri), Megan Putnam (Sara), Chloe Richter (Cara), Courtney Hanshaw (Mara), Zach Wahweotten (Taylor), Will Heavner (Skyler), Elizabeth Sutton (Pocket Lady), Hannah Schnacker (Ava), Wednesday Vaughan (Chris), Blake Holte (Conley), Josh Kent (Jake) and School Resource Officer John Calvert (Officer John).

As a result, the comedy puts Romeo and Juliet into a fast-food merger, imagines a Dr. Frankenstein trying to build the perfect prom date and puts a “slacker” into the legend of King Arthur, trying to impress his mother by pulling a sword from a stone.

The “fractured fairy tale” mash-up doesn’t sit will with everyone, however. The play has the school’s first-year drama teacher fearing a quick trip back to the unemployment line, and the school’s principal calls the superintendent mid-show to lodge a complaint about the students’ antics.

“It’s a lot of fun,” JHHS student Dalton Chartier said of the play. “My character pretty much gets to joke around the entire time, and I get to lighten things up.”

JHHS student Sarah Marshall also praised the play’s “clever” attitude toward classic literature.

“It’s funny and modern,” Marshall said. “It’s a very enjoyable experience. The cast makes it that way.”

Also appearing in the play are Drew Holliday, Trinity McMahon, Kassidi Strathman, Kati Woltje, Hunter Sturgeon, Abby Watkins and Wyatt Bacon. Like Lierz, all of the cast members take on at least two roles each in the play.

Tickets are $5 each for this weekend’s performances. For more information, call the JHHS office at 364-2195.

Mayetta Spray Park committee sets dinner and dance for Veterans Day

By Ali Holcomb

Members of the Mayetta Spray Park committee are hosting a Veterans Day dinner and dance Saturday, Nov. 11, as they wrap up raising funds for a spray park at the city’s park.

A meal of pulled pork sandwiches or hot dogs, chips, drinks and cookies will be served from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. at the Hoyt Community Building Saturday. The meal will cost $7.50 per adult and $4 per child.

The first 50 veterans will receive their meals for free, according to event organizers.

A 7 p.m., members of Boy Scout Troop 173 will post the colors and recognize area veterans.

From 7:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. a dance will be held with music provided by Shockerama DJ Service. Admission to the dance is $7 for singles or $10 per couple. Children 12 and under can dance for free.

Childcare will be provided on site at a cost of $5 per child. This will include a movie, popcorn and a drink.

“This is the last big event for the spray park, but we’re still selling poinsettias and some flower boxes,” said Liz Long, a member of the Spray Park Committee. “Our plan is to order the park in December and have it installed by May.”

Long said an estimated $34,000 has been raised so far for the spray park. The goal is still $50,000.

“Depending on how much more we raise will determine if we have just one or two above ground water features for the park versus five to seven,” Long said.

A public forum for those with questions about the spray park or for those wanting to give their input on the design of the park will be held at 6:30 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 19, at Mayetta City Hall.

“This is just an opportunity for the public to interact with us and share their thoughts, suggestions or concerns,” Long said.

The proposed spray park design includes a recirculation water system, which features an ultra-violet sanitizer that would allow water to be reused and conserved. The spray park would be free to the public.

The Mayetta City Council has agreed to take over the maintenance and operation of the park after it is built, Long said.

The spray park will also include a timer box and activator button so it’s not running when it’s not being used, it was reported.

Since there is no standing water, lifeguards are not needed at the spray park.

The spray park is expected to be built near the restrooms at the Mayetta park since a waterline is already established there.
