HCH nears key fund-raising goal

■ More than $1.4 million raised for hospital's expansion project

Holton Community Hospital officials said Wednesday that they are nearing an important fund-raising goal for the hospital's proposed $17.6-million expansion project, and plans to break ground for the expansion before the end of this summer are still in place if the fund-raising goal is reached.

About 40 people were present at the Boomers' Steakhouse and Grill patio that afternoon for an announcement from HCH CEO Carrie Saia and fund-raising campaign director Ari Hunniford on how much in charitable donations has been raised so far — a total of $1,459,145, they said.

Saia and Hunniford also unveiled an eight-foot campaign "thermometer" during the announcement, showing that with the $400,000 "challenge grant" being offered by the J.E. and L.E. Mabee Foundation, the hospital needs to raise a little more than $140,000 to reach its overall fund-raising goal of $2 million.

"Once we hit $1,600,000 in pledges and we break ground, they will be awarding us $400,000 in cash. That will hit our $2 million goal," Saia said of the Mabee Foundation's grant.

Saia also thanked all in the Holton/Jackson County community that have made financial pledges toward the expansion project, which involves construction of a new, 11,690-square-foot rural health clinic to provide more room for an ever-growing number of outpatient services at the hospital.

Hunniford also expressed gratitude to those who had made financial pledges and contributions, noting that another round of tours of the hospital facility have been scheduled for later this month.

"You may think you know the hospital, but it isn't until you turn certain corners that you see the reality," she said. "You can see the areas that will be most impacted."

The $2 million fund-raising goal has been established by hospital officials to meet a USDA Rural Development requirement for a $14.6-million loan that Rural Development has announced it will issue to cover the majority of expansion project costs, it has been reported.

County chip-and-seal projects OK'd

By Ali Holcomb

A list of chip-and-seal projects for this summer was approved by the Jackson County Commission recently, and additional patching on all of the county's chip-and-seal roads is also being planned, according to Dan Barnett, road and bridge director.

The only new section of chip-and-seal being laid this summer will be on E Road from 142nd Road to 158th Road, Barnett said. All the other roads to be chipped are current chip-and-seal roads and include:

- * 214th Road from Q to R6 Roads.
- * E Road from 134th to 142nd Roads.
- * 254th Road from I to J2 Roads.
- * 110th Road from N to S Roads.
- * 214th Road from P to P4 Roads.
- * 222nd Road from O4 to P Roads.
- * 246th Road from P3 to P4 Roads.
- * O Road from 230th to 235th

Roads.

In addition, 254th Road from Q4 to S Roads is being torn up and rebuilt using CTB (cement-treated base). Once it's rebuilt, the road will be chip-and-sealed.

"We will be patching all the chip-and-seal roads throughout the county," Barnett said. "We will be using the Dura patch method, which is a spray patcher in order to get a better patch for our patrons."

Patching work is expected to begin tomorrow (Tuesday), and chip-and-seal is expected to begin July 1, Barnett said.

Barnett said that two track loaders are now being utilized to improve the county's minimum maintenance roads.

"The weather is looking pretty good for a couple of weeks so we should be able to make some progress," he said.

Also, during the meeting, the commissioners approved a motion to disband the Straight Creek Drainage District after holding a public hearing.

Royal Valley FFA second in Triple Crown at state

By Brian Sanders

Jackson County's FFA chapters were well-represented at the 91st Kansas FFA Convention, where Royal Valley High School's chapter came in a close second in competition for the prestigious Triple Crown award.

"This was huge," RVHS FFA Advisor Kim Clark said on her chapter's second-place finish behind Ellsworth. "We would like to have gotten first, and we were oh, so close!"

The Triple Crown competition — in which Holton High School's FFA chapter was also listed as a finalist this year — was just one component of this year's state convention, held May 29-31 on the Kansas State University campus and attended by more than 1,900 FFA members, agricultural educators and supporters from across the state.

The Triple Crown award is given to the FFA chapter that performs the best in the National Chapter Award program, which recognizes chapters that actively implement FFA's mission and strategies in three distinct areas: "Building Communities," "Growing Leaders" and "Strengthening Agriculture."

Several area FFA members also received their State FFA Degree, the highest honor that the Kansas FFA Association can award its members. They included, from Holton, Alexys Campbell, Quinn Kennedy, Danni Klahr, Cailin Parks, Savannah Phillips and Kortnee VanDonge; from Jackson Heights, Tanner Reed; from Royal Valley, Emily Albright, Eryn Daugherty and Alyssa Gooderl; and from Atchison County Community High School, Shawn Boos and Logan Kramer.

To achieve this award, members must have received their Chapter FFA Degree, been an FFA

Jackson Heights sets eighth Honor Flight

By Brian Sanders

U.S. military veterans of World War II and the Korean and Vietnam wars who have not yet participated in an Honor Flight to Washington, D.C. now have another opportunity to participate in the event that honors said war veterans.

Jackson Heights USD 335 Superintendent Adrienne Walsh said Wednesday that the school district has booked its eighth Honor Flight for Wednesday, Oct. 23. Openings on the flight are available for 20 veterans, Walsh said.

About 200 veterans of those three wars have participated in the Jackson Heights Honor Flight since its first flight to the nation's capital in the spring of 2009, it was reported. Veterans are accompanied by JHHS students who serve as "guardians" to the veterans, as well as medical personnel and other support staff.

Veterans who participate in the Honor Flight are flown to Washington to visit such sites as the World War II Memorial, Korean and Vietnam war memorials and the Lincoln Memorial. A visit to Arlington Cemetery to witness the changing of the guard at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier has been added to recent trips.

All veterans participating in the Honor Flight do so free of charge, as the program is funded completely by volunteer donations. Veterans interested in participating in the Honor Flight, as well as anyone interested in making a donation to the program, may contact Walsh at the Jackson Heights district office at 364-2194.

Community Band in seventh season

By Ali Holcomb

The Jackson County Community Band, now in its seventh season, has announced its summer concert performances and rehearsals.

The band, which formed in 2013 and is comprised of community members, will perform three times this summer. Concerts will include:

* 8 p.m. on Saturday, June 29, at the chapel at Banner Creek Reservoir as part of July Jubilee activities.

A rehearsal will be held at 5 p.m. that evening at Holton High School prior to the performance.

* 6:30 p.m. on Friday, July 12, at the Jackson County Courtyard. This performance will also include a concert by students who participated in the Holton High School summer band camp.

A rehearsal will be held at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, July 9, at Jackson Heights High School.

The Holton/Jackson County Chamber of Commerce will also be hosting "Movie Night" on the Square this same evening.

* 6:30 p.m. on Sunday, July 28, at the Jackson County Courthouse courtyard.

Rehearsal for this concert will be held at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, July 23, at Jackson Heights High School.

Jayne Malsom, band director at Holton schools, and Laura Holliday serve as the volunteer directors for the community band. Alana Seddon, Jackson Heights band director, will also be involved in the band this summer.

"The concert on June 29 will feature patriotic and Americana music," Malsom said. "We're not sure on the others just yet, but we may shoot for a movie or kids theme for the July 13 concert as it will precede Movie Night on the Square."

Malsom said anyone is welcome to join the group.

"We want to invite anyone with band experience, even if it's from 30-plus years ago, to come and join us at rehearsals. We have a lot of fun making music together," he said.

For more information, contact Malsom at j.malsom@holtonks.net.

"We just want to invite one and all to come out to our performances and bring their friends, families and a lawn chair."

Old-time country and bluegrass music filled the air this past weekend at Prairie Lake, where the 26th-annual Prairie Lake Pickin' Party featured the music of 15 groups, including Legacy, which took the Prairie Lake stage on Friday evening. Band members — from left to right, Randy Rahberg on banjo, Don Anderson on bass and Jim Rood and Bob Hirt on guitars — said their appearance at this year's Pickin' Party marks their 20th appearance at the annual event. "I don't think we charge as much as some of the other guys," Rood joked when asked about what keeps the band coming back to the festival.

For the first time since 1976, there will be no American Legion baseball team in Holton, it has been reported. This decision boiled down to a futile coaching search, according to adjutant Gregg Moser.

Dan Shupe, Jackson Heights High School business teacher, was recently named the Holton Optimist Club's Secondary Teacher of the Year. Greg Nilges, Jackson Heights second-grade teacher, received the club's Elementary Teacher of the Year award.

A heavy storm blew through the Holton area on Thursday, June 5, with winds reportedly gusting up to 40 miles per hour. Trees, limbs and power lines were knocked down by the wind, as was a tree in Brian and Amanda Spalding's backyard.

Starting with the 2014-2015 school year, Ryan Noel will take the reins as the new Holton High School boys basketball coach, it has been announced.

The Holton Country Club hosted its annual member/guest tournament recently, and HCC tournament director Mark Fenton said that this year's was the largest field ever in the tournament. Members and their guests competing on the court also got to see all the work being done at the country club, including the pond behind the ninth green being raised four feet and the paved cart pathways being extended on holes eight and nine.

One year has passed since a tornado tore through northwestern Jackson County and left the homes of Andra and Larry Holliday and John and Barbara Grau south of Soldier in ruins. But both families were able to rebuild their homes and their lives in the wake of the tornado, which took a nine-mile run through the county.

The USD 321 Board of Education approved a final resolution Monday night, June 8, to close Delia Charter School. In the fall, about 73 students in preschool through sixth grade will attend Rossville Grade School.

One of Jackson County's longest-running civic organizations voted earlier this year to dissolve - less than a year before the organization would have celebrated its 100th anniversary. As a result, Banner Grange Chapter 481, organized on Feb. 8, 1910, voted in February to close the book on its chapter in March. The building, a historic structure dating back to the 1860s, located at the intersection of 222nd and M Roads southwest of Holton, and its contents will be auctioned off on Wednesday, June 17.

Graduating Jackson Heights High School senior Alexandria Leach is the first recipient of the newly created Jackson Heights Educational Foundation Scholarship, it has been reported.

The Holton FFA chapter made history for the second year in a row during the 76th State FFA Convention last week. The Holton chapter was once again named first place FFA chapter in the state in the closest FFA Triple Crown finish in Kansas FFA history. This year, the chapter was recognized as the top FFA chapter in Kansas for the fourth straight year. Receiving the trophy on behalf of the chapter were Trevor Ashcraft, treasurer, and Sam Miller, vice president.

Holton city regulations regarding boating at the city's lakes have been amended to allow small boats on Elkhorn Lake, it has been reported.

An open house was held at the Hoyt Medical Clinic on Sunday, June 6, and those in attendance witnessed a demonstration of an automatic examination table located in one of the clinic's two resident rooms.

Netawaka U.M.C.

By Mary E. Edwards

Marcia Robertson was greeter, acolyte, and offering usher on the nice sunny morning, June 2, at Netawaka United Methodist Church. Verona Grannell played the recorded music.

Marilyn Banaka gave the welcome and announcements. Vacation Bible School is being planned for July 15-17 at Whiting.

Joys shared were that Marcia and Arnold had some good fun with their grandchildren. Neva Douglas is going to a party for her brother's 90th birthday at Auburn.

We continue to pray for Doris Oxandale as she recuperates from surgery; for Frederika Mullins, who is sick due to a tick bite; and for Jordyn Banaka, who is also ailing.

Marilyn led the responsive call to worship, and the congregation greeted one another in friendship before the hymn of praise, "He Has Made Me Glad."

Pastor Younghwan Won led the congregational prayer and the prayer hymn, "Sanctuary." After silent prayer, the pastor's prayer and the Lord's Prayer, the prayer response, "Cares Chorus," was sung.

Matthew 28:16-20, The Great Commission, was read by Marilyn. Pastor Young's sermon was "Therefore Go; Serve Others."

In Matthew 28:19-20, Jesus told the disciples, "Therefore go and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, Son and Holy Spirit and teaching them to obey everything I have commanded you. And surely I will be with you always, to the very end of the age."

Often there are things that try to separate us from God. Busy-ness, good and bad things that happen can cause us to lose sight of God, and we may lose hope, but we are in His care. Our weaknesses can disappoint us, but Jesus doesn't give up on us. We should trust in God, not ourselves.

Dwell in God through praise, study and prayer. Serve others and connect with others, giving them a chance to also serve, using their gifts and talents. Resolve to connect with one more person; people need the Lord!

Pastor Young served Holy Communion with Marcia assisting. The closing hymn was "People Need The Lord."

MENTAL HEALTH MATTERS

"SMILING DEPRESSION"

People are often told to watch for obvious symptoms of depression in others so that proper diagnosis and treatment can be recommended. However, what if a person disguises his or her symptoms? "Smiling depression" involves depressed individuals covering up the usual symptoms of depression with a veneer of happiness. The closest medical term for this condition is "atypical depression," which may be displayed by people most likely to commit suicide. This form of depression contrasts with other forms of depression in which people might have suicidal thoughts but not enough energy to act on their intentions. Individuals with smiling depression are more likely to be depressed in the evening and feel the need to sleep longer than usual.

P.S. Smiling depression affects between 15% and 40% of individuals who experience depression.

CBT-I can help you control or eliminate negative thoughts and worries that keep you awSmiling depression appears to be more common in people with certain temperaments. It is often linked to being more prone to anticipate failure, having a hard time getting over embarrassing or humiliating situations and tending to excessively think about negative situations that have taken place. Whiting's T.J. McCormick patented farm inventions

By Tom Isern
Years ago I wrote a book called "Bull Threshers and Bindlestiffs," about harvesting and threshing wheat in the days before the combine, or combined harvester.

The book was an award-winner but a loss leader — I mean, it did not sell. It was full of the technical and cultural details of handling wheat, which I argued qualified as "culture" — the commonalities of a group of people. Subsequently scholars coined a phrase for what I was talking about: "commodity culture." I like to think I was ahead of my time. As with pitching bundles into the separator, timing is everything. Over the years both Jim Hoy and I have written a lot about what we call "folk technology" — that is, the devices and technologies that ordinary farmers and ranchers come up with to do their work and live their lives. When Jim wrote a whole book about the origins of the cattle guard, well, that took the cake for attention to folk technology. Our interests and perspectives may not be so weird after all. A couple of weeks ago I described how James C. Malin, that mercurial history professor at The University of Kansas, laid out the origins of wheat culture in the Golden Belt of Kansas. In Malin's book, "Winter Wheat in the Golden Belt of Kansas," he has a chapter called "The Culture of Hard Winter Wheat." What he discovered was that, surprise, the pioneer agriculturalists of Kansas generated a lot of folk technology! As they broke ground on the subhumid plains, and embraced an unfamiliar crop — hard red winter wheat — they spent a lot of time in their shops and at their forges, hammering out farm implements that would work. Tillage and planting were their early concerns. In the 1870s farmers were ceasing to broadcast their seed in biblical style and instead were doing their planting with press drills. Which was all right, but they wanted an implement that would get the seed deep down to moisture, create ridges to protect seedlings and discourage blowing and maybe even save some passes of tillage. The answer was the lister, which we think of as a planter for row crops. Essentially, farmers in the late 19th century tried to raise wheat as a row crop. They invented listers for the purpose and a whole lot of refinements to break down the ridges while preventing the wheat from getting buried. Among the inventors along these lines were Leonard A. Cooper and Oliver F. Bostwick of Atchison; John Longes of Delphos; Sharon French of Silver Lake; John McCandless, Orson King and Alfred Morgan of Randolph; A.W. Gabby of Rossville; George W. Moffett of Frankfort; Rollin Woods of Mankato; Cyprian Guenette of Clyde; A. B. Clippinger of Centralia; Daniel M. Bourne of Cool; Joseph W. Bradley of Wetmore; William F. Hickman of Clear Creek; and T.J. McCormick of Whiting. And these were just the ones who patented their inventions! Add to them all those who did similar work without benefit of patent, or non-English-speaking farmers who were unable to pursue patents. As I said, this work was done in farm shops and forges. I know that the generation of folk technology continued apace in the era of welders and torches. What about the current generation of farmers, however, in a time when you can plunk down $30,000 to replace the transmission on your tractor? Is it still possible to pursue technical innovation at the grassroots? Which is a way of saying, is there still a commodity culture, or a folklore of farming? Note: Tom Isern is a professor of history at North Dakota State University and co-author of the Plains Folk columns.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear editor,
This country has never seen such a pathetic pack of political pygmies, which is the 20-plus candidates for the Democrat nominee for president. Past big time losers like Democrats Dukakis and McGovern easily dwarf most of the present day candidates. Whether known or unknown, the terrible policies that all of the candidates are promoting is what makes them reprehensible, starting with abortion, frequent and very late abortions and beyond. Remember, anyone who is evil enough to be for the murder of little babies, well, that person would promote or support anything. Anything!
Keep in mind: When considering the multitude of abortions done, the amount of abortions performed because a mother's life is in danger or there is rape — those numbers are minute. Overwhelmingly, abortions are done for selfish reasons, which are really just excuses. An excuse is the skin of a reason, stuffed with a life. Evil is illogical, and so the pro-abortion Democrats are full of insane ideas. The monstrosity called The New Green Deal would do away with our plentiful, reliable fossil-fuel energy and would cost trillions of dollars. Our economy and country would quickly be wrecked, and we would be easy prey for any enemies. Bernie Sanders is for sex selection abortion for babies, meaning many girl babies being killed. Bernie, left eye squinting, says that the Boston Marathon bomber, in jail for murder, should be allowed to vote. Beto O'Rourke, the skateboarder, wants to tear down the wall on the southern border. Democrats want to eliminate the electoral college, want 16-year-olds to vote, want to pack the Supreme Court, want a living wage even for those unwilling to work, want reparations even for drug dealers, want open borders (no borders), coupled with free healthcare for illegal immigrants, want single-payer healthcare for everyone, etc. Virtually every policy that the Democrats are promoting is socialistic, stupid, unsustainable and will help bring down traditional America. All the energy with the Democrats is on the lunatic left, which has no morals or common sense, and being ungrateful, they are always upset! Why do the heathen rage? Because they are Democrats. They practice infanticide — that's what heathens do. Remember to honor your father.

Trail-driving songs kept cowboys focused on work

By Jim Hoy
If the old-time cowboy sang to the edgy cattle at night to help keep them quiet, he often found that during the daytime things were way too quiet, tagging along behind a bunch of slow-moving cattle who were stopping every once in a while to graze. After all, if a longhorn steer is going to transport himself to a market several hundred miles away, he has to eat along the way in order to get enough energy to do the job. Not only that, but if you let the steer move even slower he will take in more calories than he is expending, which means that he'll weigh more on the scales in Abilene or Dodge City than he did when he left Texas several hundred miles ago. That's what a good trail boss would do: slowly herd the steers north, not drive them. At four miles-per-hour a longhorn could cover 40 miles in a 10-hour day, but at that rate he'd lose weight. Instead the average pace was around one mile-per-hour, for 10 miles a day. That's like driving 20 mph on a six-lane highway where the speed limit is 80 mph. If you have a passenger or two to talk to, or a car radio or CD player to listen to, such a drive would be bearable, albeit tedious. But the cowboy, traveling at an equivalent pace, had none of those distractions. If the cattle were well behaved so he didn't even have to get his horse out of a slow walk, such a trip could become unbearable. So he would sing to himself to help pass the time while the cattle grazed as they ambled along. The classic trail-driving song is "The Old Chisholm Trail," one of the earliest songs cowboys composed. It's easy to sing, rhythmic and lively, not slow and lugubrious to make you sleepy. And it's easy to make up verses as you ride along: two lines and a chorus. Unfortunately (or perhaps not) the vast majority of verses were never written down, much less published, and are thus lost. As Jack Thorp, who first collected the song around 1890, noted: "The origin of this song is unknown. There are several thousand verses to it — the more whiskey the more verses. Every puncher knows a few more verses. Sung from the Canadian line to Mexico." Thorp and other old-timers opined that the vast majority of verses were risqué at best, if not downright obscene. Philip Ashton Rollins, author of the classic The Cowboy, tells of how his father, a Texas rancher near the Red River, kept a ledger in which he would have visiting cowboys write down verses to "The Old Chisholm Trail." Rollins noted that, "There were 1,042 verses in the book, of which 1,040 weren't fit to print." Of the verses that have survived, we can gain a pretty good idea of what it was like to be on a trail drive. If we had all those that have been lost, however, I'm sure we could have gotten a complete picture. We learn, for instance, that the cowboy was "up every morning before daylight," and before he slept "the moon shines bright."

The food was "bacon and beans most every day/I'd rather be eatin' prairie hay." Why not beef? Because the owner wasn't going to waste a valuable steer on dollar-a-day cowpokes, but if someone else's steer got in their drove, that was OK: "There's a stray in the herd and the boss said 'Kill it!' So I bedded him down in the bottom of a skillet." Bad weather, stampedes, bucking horses and other troubles are among the verses, and even when the drive ends the cowboy might find himself "nine dollars in the hole." But at least singing those verses as he plodded along with the slow-moving herd kept him from getting bored to death. And that's the whole point of a trail-driving song. Note: Jim Hoy, retired professor of English at Emporia State University, is co-author of the Plains Folk column.

Safety urged with traffic increase due to flooding

Flooding along the Missouri River has resulted in the continued closure of highways in the region, and that, as Brown County Sheriff John D. Merchant noted recently, has translated into more traffic than normal on U.S. Highways 36 and 75 in northeast Kansas.

As a result, Sheriff Merchant is advising local traffic along highways in the region to allow for the extra traffic that is making its way through the area.

"Believe me, this high traffic is putting a strain on all of us," Merchant said.

Portions of Interstate Highway 29 along the river in Iowa remain closed as a result of flooding, Merchant said. The highway also remains closed north of St. Joseph, Mo., with only local traffic allowed in the area, it was noted recently.

The Missouri Department of Transportation officials recently advised that "this could last for several weeks or more" with rain still in the forecast, the sheriff said.

The increase in traffic has included drivers who are allegedly "driving recklessly, passing

Mayetta Methodist Church

By Shirley Stauffer

Church services on the seventh Sunday of Easter and Ascension Sunday, June 2, began with reading from the Bible by Pastor Howard, followed by prayer.

Prayers were asked for Leanna Strecker as she takes her state boards this week and for all the flooding/tornado victims.

Bud Stauffer was the acolyte and Mary Anderson rang the bell.

The call to worship came from Psalms. Hymns sung were "Stand Up, Stand Up For Jesus," "Spirit Of The Living God" and "Amazing Grace." The special was "Open My Eyes That I May See."

Karen Burns read the living word of God from Revelation 3:21. June Schlotter took up the offering. Mary Anderson assisted Pastor Howard with the serving of Holy Communion.

The sermon was titled "Bread From Heaven" and was based on scripture from John 6:51-58. Services closed with the circle of friendship and prayer.

Birthday wishes were for Matthew Burns, Pat's daughter, and Delaina Miller.

Mary Anderson gave a report on the annual conference to the congregation.

Mary Anderson met her granddaughter, MaRyka Smith, in Topeka on Saturday at noon for lunch and some shopping.

Mary Anderson and Pastor Howard Sudduth attended the annual Great Plains Conference in Topeka at the Manor Conference Center from Wednesday through Saturday morning.

Karlie Miller made the Dean's Honor Roll list at Washburn University this semester. The Millers spent a great day at Banner Lake on Saturday, fishing and with a barbecue.

The Millers enjoyed Caliber's baseball game on Thursday night. The Panthers won both games. They were also able to see Blaine Ribelin's first t-ball game in Meriden.

Don and Barb White stopped by Thursday evening for a visit with Stan and Wanda White.

Bud and Shirley Stauffer rode with Kevin and Laura Stauffer to Topeka on Friday evening for a belated birthday party for their great-granddaughter, Tally Stauffer. Shirley and Rose Stauffer, Melissa McDonald, Aidan and Brenna and Rachel Whitten attended a baby shower in honor of Ellie Klepees on Sunday afternoon in Holton.

Chuck and Kathy Norris have a new great-grandson, born to their granddaughter, Brittany (Martin) and Ryan Weber. His name is Riley Weber.

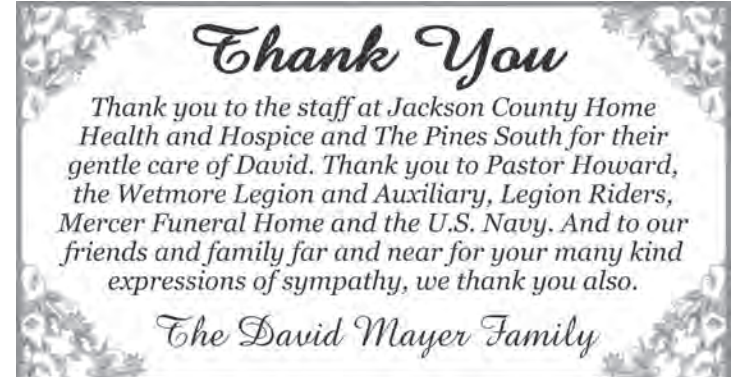

Tina Martin celebrated her 50th birthday on June 1 with a large party. She is the daughter of Chuck Norris and Kathy.

Karen Burns traveled to Kansas State University on Friday afternoon, May 17 with her daughter, Becky Neely. They attended the College of Human Ecology's graduation honors and student awards celebration, in which Karen's grandson, Cordell Neely, was a participant.

At 4:30 p.m. on Saturday, May 18, Karen Burns attended graduation ceremonies at Kansas State University to watch with great pride as her grandson, Cordell Neely, received degrees in nutrition and health as well as gerontology, dual majors. He plans to become a physician's assistant. At noon, prior to the ceremonies, families of graduates were treated to a very nice luncheon at Justin Hall on the K-State campus.

There was a dual graduation party held at Northern Hills Baptist Church in Topeka for Cordell Neely and Leanna Strecker, grandchildren of Karen Burns, on Saturday, May 25. It was a wonderful occasion for those in attendance. A luncheon was held after much visiting.

Straders, Davies run/walk successful

On Saturday, June 1, the Strader-Davies 5K run and 2-mile walk was held at Banner Creek Reservoir.

The 5K and 2 mile walk honors the late Ron and Scott Strader and Tom Davies.

This year's event had a total of 40 participants.

"It was a beautiful day," said Beth Nelson, one of the organizers for the event. "The event was hosted by the Friends of Banner Creek and co-hosts - Banner Creek Reservoir Director, Lu Griffiths, and Julie Keehn of Rhino Fitness."

The event is a fund-raiser held by the Friends of Banner Creek (FOB) for the proposed Banner Creek Shelterhouse.

The shelterhouse was originally proposed by the Fritz Dillner family.

"Fritz Dillner loved Banner Creek Reservoir and the outdoors, his family and he had a passion for volunteering in the community," said Nelson.

Barb, Lana and Deb Dillner are on the Friends of Banner Creek Board of Directors.

"This fund-raising event is one of many that the Dillner family has initiated placing the funds raised toward the costs of the proposed shelterhouse," Nelson said. "The next fund-raising event will be when the BAK participants roll into Holton."

"These men (Ron and Scott Strader and Tom Davies) were community supporters who volunteered diligently for community organizations and events. They loved to run and loved their families," Nelson said. "Place the love and passion of Fritz Dillner's family in this event and the event couldn't be anything but special. The community support for sponsorships was amazing and the FOB wants to thank all those who participated, volunteered and sponsored the event."

Three holes-in-one in five days recorded at HCC

Three holes-in-one in five days occurred recently at the Holton Country Club golf course, it has been reported.

Mark Fenton of HCC said it was very unusual to have one hole-in-one per summer at the golf course, let alone three in five days - and two in the same day!

Adam Brown had a hole-in-one on the No. 7 hole on Sunday, June 2, during the member-guest tourney, it was reported.

Then last Thursday, June 6, Don Fate had a hole-in-one on the No. 9 hole with a hooded 4-iron from 178 yards.

Fate's hole-in-one was made during the Thursday night men's night tourney.

Also that day, Fenton said, a member of a group of Emporia State grads having a reunion - Troy Johnston from Woodlands, Texas (originally from McPherson) - had a hole-in-one on the No. 7 hole from 110 yards out.

"Each year, this group of ESU grads meets in Holton for a golfing reunion," Fenton said, "They are all classmates of Shannon Wright."

Commission notes auction's results

By Brian Sanders

The City of Holton netted more than $12,500 from a recent internet auction in which surplus and seized vehicles were sold. Holton City Manager Kerwin McKee told the Holton City Commission during its regular meeting on Monday, June 3.

The sale of two decommissioned city vehicles — a 2004 Ford F550 Super Duty XL bucket truck and a 2009 Ford Crown Victoria Police Interceptor — made up $12,300 of the total generated from the auction, McKee told commissioners, noting that funds raised from the sale of those vehicles will go into the city's equipment reserve fund.

"I was hoping maybe our bucket truck would have gone a little bit higher," McKee said of the $9,200 generated by its sale. The Crown Victoria, he said, "did pretty good," generating a winning bid of $3,100.

Two vehicles that were seized by the Holton Police Department in accordance with Kansas asset forfeiture laws were also sold at the internet auction, with one of the vehicles netting the city $230. McKee said the other vehicle had not been paid for or claimed by the winning bidder and would be re-listed for sale at another internet auction.

The $230 generated in the sale of a seized 1994 GMC Sierra C1500 pickup will go into the city's "seizure fund" for the purchase of police equipment, said McKee, who noted he was pleased that the pickup generated that much given its age and its condition.

"If you'd have seen it, you would have been happy to get $230," McKee said of the pickup. McKee also noted that by the city having its own impound lot, it saves on storage costs. Prior to 2017, the city had to pay a storage contractor $100 per vehicle per month to store seized vehicles, but that summer, the city built its own impound lot for storage of such vehicles.

"Before we did that, it would take us six months to get those vehicles to sale — sometimes longer," he said.

Also sold at the auction were a gas water pump, three grill guards and several "automotive accessories" for police vehicles, including a CB radio, a radar system and a police light. Those items generated a total of $350 for the equipment reserve fund, it was reported.

Winning bidders on each item sold at the internet auction pay an extra 10-percent fee on items sold, so there is no cost to the city to sell surplus items, it was noted.

In other business on June 3, commissioners approved a resolution setting a public hearing for 7 p.m. Monday, July 15 to determine whether a garage or shed located at 514 Nebraska Ave. should be declared an unsafe and dangerous structure.

Holton Codes Enforcement Officer Jeff Draper shared photos of the dilapidated garage structure at the rear of the property, which is reportedly owned by Jennifer L. Baker of Holton. Draper said he had spoken with Baker "several times" about his concerns with the structure.

Those concerns include general "rot and decay" on all sides of the structure, which leans to the north and contains various accumulated junk items that could harbor animals and insects, Draper said.

A copy of the resolution appeared in last Wednesday's Holton Recorder.

Commissioners also:
 ■ Approved minutes from their May 15 meeting and budget appropriations made since that meeting.

■ Heard a request from Holton resident Diane Gruver to shorten the period in which fireworks can be discharged within the city.

■ Met Bryan Straus, a recent hire in the city's electrical distribution department as a lineman.
 ■ Approved a $200 "red sponsor" contribution to the Holton/Jackson County Chamber of Commerce's July Jubilee event, scheduled for Saturday, June 29 at Banner Creek Reservoir.

■ Were reminded that Biking Across Kansas riders will arrive in Holton on Friday, June 14. Mayor Robert Dieckmann has been asked to "say a few words of welcome" at that time, McKee said.

■ Noted that a ribbon-cutting ceremony for the new KANZA Mental Health facility, to be housed in part of the former Holton Community Hospital building at 422 W. Fifth St., will be held Wednesday, June 12.

■ Heard an inquiry from Commissioner Marilyn Watkins about whether a plaque was being created to honor the KAY chapter at Holton's middle and high schools for their efforts to get the concrete fitness path built at Countryside Park. McKee said "there is a plan in place" to get such a plaque placed at the park.

■ Adjourned the meeting at 7:35 p.m. All five commissioners were present.

Immanuel Lutheran Church

By Esther L. Ideker

At the beginning of the worship service at Immanuel Lutheran Church on Sunday, June 2, three Jackson Heights High School graduates were recognized. Trinity McMahon, Alyssa Keehn and Jenna McAllister were acknowledged and spoke of their future plans with the best wishes of their Immanuel Church family.

The opening hymn was the first two verses of "The Day Of Resurrection." Elder Travis Amon read the first reading from Acts chapter 1 and second reading from Revelation chapter 22. Pastor Michael Van Velzer read the holy gospel from John 17:20-26. The congregation professed the Nicene Creed. The sermon hymn was "Good Christian Friends, Rejoice And Sing."

In the sermon, the Rev. Van Velzer shared that the setting for our gospel reading for the day was once again "The Upper Room." It is all about teaching and final instructions.

Before leaving the upper room to go to the garden of Gethsemane for His eternally scheduled appointment with Judas and the soldiers, and the high priest and governor and the cross and the tomb, Jesus prays the High Priestly Prayer.

First, He prays briefly for Himself, then He prays for "them." The "them" includes His apostles who are in the upper room with Him. But He does not pray only for them. He prays for them who are not in the upper room with Him.

You are living proof that Jesus' prayer was answered and He continues to pray for you. He prays for those times of great loneliness; in our pain, in our frustrations and disappointments, when, as the psalmist describes it, "the waters have come up to our neck. I sink in deep mire, where there is no foothold; I have come into deep waters, and the flood sweeps over me" (Psalms 69:1-2).

Jackson Heights school board sets agenda

The Jackson Heights USD 335 Board of Education will hold its regular monthly meeting at 7 p.m. today in the FACS classroom at Jackson Heights High School. District patrons are encouraged to attend.

Agenda items include action on fees for textbooks and pre-school participation for the upcoming 2019-20 school year, action on the annual food program and meal prices for the upcoming school year, revisions to the elementary school handbook for the upcoming year and administration and board member reports.

Executive sessions are planned for teacher salary contract negotiations and personnel matters, with action on personnel matters scheduled to be taken when the board returns to open session.

The agenda is subject to change. For more information, or to be placed on the agenda of an upcoming meeting, call the USD 335 district office at 364-2194.

In the upper room, Jesus prays for unity — the oneness that Jesus prays for is the unity that is based on the perfect unity of the trinity — "that they may be one, just as you, Father are in me, and I in you that they be in us."

The unity that is celebrated is the unity of God's people gathered together under their great high priest who prays for them and who, through His prayer, are blessed. We continue to strive to live together "with one accord" in oneness with God and with one another.

Following the offering, the offertory was sung by the congregation.

In the prayers of the church, petitions were asked that the church on earth be one, united in doctrine and witness; that the Lord may raise up faithful men for the ministry; that the Lord may guard and protect His church; that we may grow in the knowledge of God's word; that nations may enjoy peace and goodwill; that the sick may be healed, the suffering relieved and the grieving comforted; and that we may joyfully bring the fruits of our labors and the tithes of offerings of a grateful faith to the Lord.

The congregation joined in The Lord's Prayer.

The Service of the Sacrament followed with elders assisting Pastor Van Velzer with the distribution of Holy Communion. The distribution hymns were "Your Table I Approach" and "Come Let Us Eat." Following the Nunc Dimittis, thanksgiving, collect and benediction, the service closed with the last two verses of "The Day Of Resurrection."

A reception for Alyssa, Jenna and Trinity followed.

Esther Ideker returned on June 2 from Galveston, Texas, where she joined family, Curtis and Annie Ideker and J. P., Kay, Maggie and Joe Ideker, for the University of Texas Medical Branch 129th annual commencement to witness the graduation of her grandson, Hank Ideker, held at Moody Gardens Convention Center, on June 1.

Dr. David Callender, president, conferred the degrees and hooding ceremony to 240 candidates. Henry Charles (Hank) Ideker, School of Medicine Class of 2019, gave the class address. A reception was held at The Floral Ballroom for graduates and their families.

The Physician's Oath was given by Bernard Karnath, M.D., which is shared here:

"I do solemnly swear, by whatever I hold most sacred, that I will be loyal to the profession of medicine and just and generous to its members;

That I will lead my life and practice my profession in uprightness and honor;

That into whatsoever house I shall enter, it shall be for the good of the sick to the utmost of my power, holding myself far aloof from wrong, from corruption, for the tempting of others to vice;

That I will exercise my profession solely for the cure of my patients, and will give no drug, perform no operation, for a criminal purpose even if solicited, far less suggest it;

That I will deal truthfully with my patients, respecting their autonomy;

That whatsoever I shall see or hear of the lives of men which is not fitting to be spoken, I will keep inviolably secret.

These things do I swear. And now, should I be true to this, my oath, may prosperity and good repute be ever mine; the opposite, should I prove myself fore-sworn."

Mayetta Christian Church

By Joyce Cochren
Bob Morse gave the call to worship and announcements followed by the congregational reading of I Corinthians 1:18 and John 8:36 as worship hour opened at Mayetta Christian Church on June 2.

"Awesome God" was the opening song. Ginny Woods, Lauri Harris and Bob and Alma Morse served as song leaders.

The children corrected Alma as she tried to blow bubbles to start the children's story. "You have to blow gently!"

When we share God's love with others, our words should be loving and gentle, too. We can't hide bubbles in a sack and save them for later, just as we should not hide the gospel of Jesus and think we will wait until later to enjoy telling others of God's love.

After the congregation shared praises, Pastor Coleman gave the invocation. "All Creatures Of Our God And King" and "What Wondrous Love Is This" were the songs of praise.

The morning message came from Genesis 19, "What We Learn From Lot." Lot lingered when he was told to hurry and take his family out of Sodom. He may have lingered because of his relationships, status and wealth in that city.

We know what the Bible says, but do we linger like Lot by not living godly lives and not taking a stand for the truth of God's word?

"In The Garden" was the hymn of communion followed by a scripture reading from Mark 14 and prayer. Bobby Slocum, Larry McLaren, Tim Dillner and Hal Cochren passed communion. Eli and Cooper Slocum and Daniel Coleman received the offering.

The hymn of invitation was "How Great Is Our God." Following the closing prayer, the congregation sang "Heaven On Earth" and enjoyed time to visit and fellowship.

Southwood Estates on PBPN honored with national award

The Affordable Housing Tax Credit Coalition (AHTCC) has announced that Southwood Estates in Mayetta is a 2019 recipient of the Charles L. Edson Tax Credit Award, recognizing excellence in the affordable housing industry and organizations that have demonstrated especially impactful use of the Low-Income Housing Tax Credit (Housing Credit).

Announced each year at an event on Capitol Hill in Washington D.C. that unites members of Congress, business and housing leaders, the award honors Housing Credit developments that are strengthening communities, improving health and boosting economies in urban, suburban and rural areas across the country.

"This year's Edson Award recipients are among the most innovative developers, investors, builders and facilitators of low-income housing developments nationwide," said AHTCC President Michael Gaber. "It is important to recognize their commitment and achievements at a time when the need for affordable housing is reaching crisis levels."

Southwood Estates Phase II, developed by Prairie Band Potawatomi Nation and syndicated by RBC Capital Markets, provides 27 units of affordable rental housing on the Prairie Band Potawatomi Reservation in Mayetta.

The remoteness of the Reservation, scarcity of natural resources, and the sovereignty of tribal governments often lead to an impression that Indian County is a particularly difficult area to develop, resulting in a chronic shortage of housing, particularly affordable housing designed for multigenerational households.

To meet this need, the project consists of three- to five-bedroom single-family homes that integrate with the existing neighborhoods' character and better meet the needs of large, multigenerational families. More than 50 percent of units are reserved for those recovering from alcohol or drug abuse or physical abuse and more than 20 percent are reserved for military veterans, including widows or widowers.

Since 1986, the Housing Credit has financed more than three million homes for low-income households, including veterans, senior citizens, disabled individuals, and families with children. Virtually no new affordable housing can be constructed without the Housing Credit. Through public-private partnerships, the Housing Credit offers a proven track record of financing safe, decent affordable homes in communities where they are needed most.

"Communities across the country continue to count on the work of organizations like our 2019 Edson Award winners to create affordable homes," said AHTCC Executive Director Emily Cadik. "Affordable housing is needed in every part of the country."

About the Affordable Housing Tax Credit Coalition: Founded in 1988, AHTCC is a trade organization of housing professionals who advocate for affordable rental housing financed using the Low-Income Housing Tax Credit (Housing Credit). AHTCC's for-profit and non-profit members—including syndicators, investors, lenders, developers, legal and accounting professionals and state allocating agencies—seek to preserve, expand and improve the Housing Credit and complementary programs through legislative outreach and education.

Buck's Grove

By Betty Bernitter

To start off Ascension Sunday, June 2, Betty Bernitter rang the bell at Buck's Grove United Methodist Church.

Pastor Charlotte Milroy welcomed everyone and as Leesa Harshaw played a trio of hymns for the prelude, "Heavenly Sun Light," "Sunshine In My Soul" and "He Keeps Me Singing," Mary Ringel lighted the altar candles.

Pastor Charlotte led the congregation in the call to worship, the opening prayer and Psalm 97.

LeRoy Rieschick read scripture from Acts 16:16-34 and Revelations 22:12-21.

Other hymns sung with the accompaniment of Leesa were "We Gather Together," "Wonderful Words Of Life" and "Christ For The World We Sing."

Joyce Immenschuh's special was a reading of three short spiritual stories.

Gospel scripture was John 17:20-26 and Pastor Charlotte chose for her title "Ready Or Not." Remember as a child how you played hide and seek? The seeker called out, "Ready or not, here I come." Well, Jesus has told us the same thing - "Ready or not, I will be coming."

The Bible says Christ will come like a thief in the night when you least expect Him. It will happen in a twinkling of an eye, with the sound of a trumpet. We need to put Jesus in our heart and believe. We must be ready at all times. The Lord will return and He is coming for the people that have placed their faith in Him. Will you be ready?

Leesa played "At The Cross" as Don Boling and Wayne Rieschick were offertory ushers.

The worship service closed by singing "Blest Be The Tie That Binds" as Mary carried out the light of Christ.

Joe, Keri and Levi Brucken went to the Omaha Zoo on Saturday, May 25, with the Cub Scout group. They got to eat dinner, then had a private tour with a zoo educational guide and slept in the actual aquarium. They woke up early, had breakfast and got another private tour. They got to see the newest baby giraffe and the giraffes cross from their bark to the exhibit.

The hearing shall be held by the governing body or its designated representative as soon as possible after the filing of the request therefore, and the person shall be advised by the city of the time and place of the hearing at least five days in advance thereof. At any such hearing, the person may be represented by counsel, and the person and the city may introduce such witnesses and evidence as is deemed necessary and proper by the governing body or its designated representative. The hearing need not be conducted according to the formal rules of evidence. Upon conclusion of the hearing, the findings of the governing body or its designated representative shall be prepared in resolution form, adopted by the governing body, and the resolution shall be served upon the person in the manner provided in Section 8.

Section 10. COSTS ASSESSED. If the city abates or removes the nuisance pursuant to Section 8, the city shall give notice to the owner or his or her agent by certified mail, return receipt requested, of the total cost of the abatement or removal incurred by the city. The notice shall also state that the payment is due within 30 days following receipt of the notice. The city also may recover the cost of providing notice, including any postage, required by this section. The notice shall also state that if the cost of the removal or abatement is not paid within the 30-day period, the cost of the abatement or removal shall be collected in the manner provided by K.S.A. 12-1,115, and amendments thereto, or shall be assessed as special assessments and charged against the lot or parcel of land on which the nuisance was located and the city clerk, at the time of certifying other city taxes, shall certify the unpaid portion of the costs and the county clerk shall extend the same on the tax rolls of the county against such lot or parcel of land and it shall be collected by the county treasurer and paid to the city as other city taxes are collected and paid. The city may pursue collection both by levying a special assessment and in the manner provided by K.S.A. 12-1,115 and amendments thereto, but only until the full cost and applicable interest has been paid in full.

Section 11. REPEAL. Any and all ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

Montgomery receives state project award

Madeline Montgomery of Holton was named a Kansas 4-H State Project winner at the annual Emerald Circle Banquet on May 30, it has been reported.

Thirty state 4-H project winners were recognized for outstanding project mastery.

Montgomery was named a state 4-H project winner in the reading project. Thirty state 4-H project winners are recognized for their citizenship, leadership, learning and participation within a specific 4-H project area and also earn the opportunity to attend the 2019 National 4-H Congress in Atlanta. Each received a $450 scholarship for the trip.

"Emerald Circle is a special time dedicated within the Kansas 4-H year to recognize exceptional youth leadership through 4-H project-based learning. The Kansas Award Portfolio is a process that enables youth to effectively communicate dynamic learning, collaboration with others and how that effort contributes positively to local communities. These characteristics are described within the Kansas 4-H Formula for positive youth leadership development," Wade M. Weber, state 4-H program leader said.

"This year, youth are being recognized at Emerald Circle not just for their content mastery but also for how this mastery leads to generous, independent decision making that creates communities of belonging and learning. Youth learning is not just for the individual but is also learning and leading in order to benefit others. This is the 4-H way, and these award winners embody that 4-H spirit."

The Kansas 4-H Foundation provides private support and services benefiting the state's 4-H program. The foundation's projects include Rock Springs 4-H Center – the nation's largest privately owned and operated 4-H camp and conference facility – as well as support for awards, scholarships, publications, financial services and 4-H alumni programs. The Foundation also owns the Clovia Scholarship House, a cooperative living facility at Kansas State University.

County Commission...

Jackson County Clerk Kathy Mick said that the tax funds collected for the drainage district are in a bank account tied to the last chairperson of the district. The taxes were originally collected for the purpose of straightening the creek as it passed through a farm but that option later became illegal.

The former chairperson died recently, and Mick started a petition that required two signatures from property owners to dissolve the funds. There is about $18,000 in the account, and taxes for the district have not been collected for several years.

The funds could be used by the people who own properties tied to the district for drainage improvements, Mick said. Suggestions included purchasing rip rap and road rock or stabilizing some creek banks.

The funds cannot be used unless the district is disbanded. Two property owners, Lee Doyle and Shirley Mick, were in attendance, and they said they would like to have all the property owners in the drainage district form a committee to decide together how to utilize the funds.

County Counselor Alex Belveal provided Shirley Mick with a list of property owners so that she can organize a committee.

In other business, according to the approved minutes of May 28, the commission:

* Met in executive session for 15 minutes with Barnett, Jackson County Appraiser Jason Claycamp and Belveal for a matter of attorney/client privilege. The meeting extended 10 minutes. No action was taken back in open session.

* Approved the following uses for Jackson County Tourism funds submitted by board members Anna Wilhelm and Lori Banks, $150 (Travel Industry Association of Kansas dues), $500 (Central Brochure Distribution for brochures, flyers and advertising), $1,500 (Bike Across Kansas banners, flyers and advertising) and $1,200 (Banner Creek Science Center and Observatory for advertising and pocket cards).

* Learned from Banner Creek Reservoir Director Lu Griffiths that all the RV camping spots at the lake are full, but there are a few tent camp sites still available. Griffiths said that there were about 180 people at the Memorial Day breakfast fundraiser held by the Friends of Banner Creek Reservoir.

* Met with Chad Phillips,

Courthouse custodian, who gave an update on the sidewalk project on the south side of the courtyard. Phillips said that the sidewalk leading north from the new curb and sidewalk may need to be adjusted since there will be a change in elevation.

* Accepted a retirement notice from Jim Cyphers beginning June 14.

* Met with Marvin Zielsdorf of Hamm Quarries, who reported that he was searching for potential rock quarries within the county.

* Met with Barnett and Pat Korte, director of emergency management, to discuss the county's eligibility for federal relief funds from flooding or damages caused by the excessive rainfall.

Korte explained that, so far, Jackson County has not met the criteria to apply for this type of funding.

* Heard a weekly report from Scott Kieffaber, environmental services and noxious weed director, who noted that he had received his commercial applicator's license and that he has purchased a refrigerator for his department's office.

The commissioners discussed Kieffaber assisting Atchison County while their commissioners are in the process of hiring a new noxious weed director.

* Met with Amanda Spalding, senior services director, who discussed termite treatments for her department's building. Spalding also updated the commissioners on the repair of the building after a portion was damaged by a vehicle.

* Continued to discuss the proposed quarry agreement. Residents Dan and Charlie Barrow attended the meeting and suggested asking Mid-States Materials to apply dust control for the whole length of 142nd Road and not just the proposed 150 feet in front of homes.

* Signed payroll changes for the following seasonal employees at the reservoir, Sarah Marshall, William Marshall, Tracer Fox, Quinn Allen, Dave Snyder, Amaya Marlatt and Morgan Laird. The board also approved a length of service increase for Lisa Hyten, victim services coordinator.

* Adjourned at 4:31 p.m. All three commissioners were present.

Hospital...

Rural Development's lending requirements also call for at least half of the expansion project to involve new construction, which hospital officials note will involve construction of "a more efficient and up-to-date building to meet many of our future needs."

The comprehensive building and expansion project will entail additions to the emergency department, a new 6,594-square-foot clinic building, an updated operating area, a renovated specialty clinic, new office space, meeting and training space, updates to current space and room for further growth.

The existing hospital was built 20 years ago, but as hospital officials have noted, with the addition of more in-house services such as pulmonary function testing and nuclear medicine comes the need for more equipment and space.

Hospital officials also said the expansion will also make it possible for HCH to recruit more new doctors and offer more services.

The hospital has also announced a new Web site dedicated to the project, www.hch-foundation.net, where people can find information about the expansion plans and make donations and pledges online.

Proficiency award winners from Royal Valley included Emily Albright in diversified agricultural product, Mary Broxterman in diversified horticulture and Eryn Daugherty in agricultural education. Winners from Holton were Kortnee VanDonge in veterinary service and Bridget Kucan in beef placement.

VanDonge also represented the Holton chapter as a state officer candidate and was recognized as the Northeast District Star in agricultural placement. Another local state officer candidate was Curtis Niehues of Jackson Heights.

Serving as voting delegates from each chapter in Jackson County were Cailin Parks and Chris Roush from Holton, Joel Kennedy and Jerilyn Nelson from Jackson Heights and Cassidy Parks and Colin Cavinness from Royal Valley.

Several county FFA members also participated in music groups at this year's convention, it was noted. Members of the state FFA chorus included Olivia McAsey, Mary Pritchett, Bailee Stotts and Lily Twombly from Holton, as well as Emilee Falk and Meagan Pitts of ACCHS, while the state FFA band featured Katina Bartel, Sarah Grafton and Hannah Newell, all of Holton.

FFA members also earned scholarships during the convention, with Holton's VanDonge earning a National FFA Foundation scholarship. The Built Ford Tough FFA Scholarship Program also recognized Danni Klahr of Holton as a scholarship recipient.

Clark was also recognized at the convention as the Kansas Association of Agricultural Education (KAAE) Division Winner of the Kansas Association of Career and Technical Education (K-ACTE) Young Teacher of the Year.

Governor adds 15 counties to federal emergency declaration

Kansas Gov. Laura Kelly and the Kansas Division of Emergency Management have been notified that 15 additional Kansas counties have been added to a federal emergency declaration for Kansas dated May 26, 2019. The amendment to the declaration was expanded to include tornadoes that impacted Kansas, it was reported.

The counties added to the declaration are Allen, Doniphan, Dickinson, Douglas, Geary, Jefferson, Leavenworth, Linn, Lyon, Marshall, Morris, Pottawatomie, Riley, Saline and Wabunsee. Additional designations may be made at a later date.

The 18 counties originally named in the federal emergency declaration from President Donald Trump were Anderson, Butler, Chautauqua, Cherokee, Coffey, Cowley, Crawford, Elk, Franklin, Greenwood, Harvey, Montgomery, Neosho, Osage, Reno, Sumner, Wilson and Woodson.

"President Trump's approval of additional counties will help us provide critical support and resources to communities to keep Kansans safe and rebuild," Gov. Kelly said. "We will continue to work closely with our local, state and federal partners during this challenging time."

An emergency declaration supplements state and local government efforts for required emergency measures to save lives and to protect property and public health and safety, or to lessen or avert the threat of a catastrophe through direct federal assistance for emergency protective measures.

The Kansas Division of Emergency has also requested assistance through the emergency management assistance compact for an advance team to assist with requests for assistance from other states, liaison officers, geographic information system specialist to assist with the development of mapping products and other technical assistance to assist counties that have sustained impacts and have unmet needs that exceed their resource capabilities, it was reported.
