

Colorado Ave. houses

Test results needed prior to demolition

By Kelly Breckunitch

At Monday's Holton school board meeting, some routine business was discussed regarding the continuing progress of the new school project school and a report on enrollment numbers for the district for the 2014-2015 school year.

While no members of Hollis and Miller Architecture or Nabholz Construction were on hand to make a presentation at Monday's meeting, superintendent Dennis Stones provided an update on the new school project.

Stones said that before the demolition of the houses across from Colorado can begin, the district needs to receive the results from the hazardous materials test. The tests have been performed, by the same company (Terracon) that did the soil testing Stones noted, and the district is now just waiting on those results.

Once testing is done, demolition will begin and the houses will be cleared. Then, the lower levels will be filled and the land will be leveled out before official construction on the new elementary building begins. Regarding on-site construction, Stones also brought up an idea with the board members that could be a cost-efficient measure to take regarding the elementary building project.

Following the purchase of the 4-H Fair building at the last board meeting, Stones said that opened up the possibility of having Nabholz use that facility as construction headquarters for the new elementary building project. As it stands, it is written into the contract that USD 336 would pay for the rental of trailers used by Nabholz during their time on the project.

Using the Fair building, which the district will close on in January, would defer those costs and potentially save the district some money in the process.

"That's the perfect use for that right now," Stones said of the Fair building.

Anthony Schuetz of the City of Holton's electrical distribution department spent a windy Tuesday afternoon taking a chainsaw to the old shade tree that overlooks the old Jackson County Fairgrounds livestock arena in preparation for the placement of utility lines that will connect to the new Casey's General Store, which is currently under construction at the former fairgrounds site. Schuetz was assisted that afternoon by fellow city employees Andrew Hinman, who did some chainsaw work of his own, and Corey Schuetz, who fed smaller branches from the tree into a woodchipper.

RV B.O.E. reviews site plans for greenhouse

By Ali Holcomb

Plans for the construction of a greenhouse at Royal Valley High School are moving forward.

USD 337 school board members, during their meeting Monday evening, reviewed site plans for the new greenhouse, which will be located behind the elementary and high schools in Hoyt.

The greenhouse will measure 30 feet by 48 feet and will set six feet off an existing sidewalk, according to the site plan that was drawn up by HTK Architects of Topeka.

"They will be doors to the greenhouse both on the east and northwest sides of the structure," said Superintendent John Rundle.

Rundle said that there are a few issues with existing underground power lines and lines to the propane tanks that need to be addressed before construction.

The district plans to continue to work with HTK Architects as they seek out general contractors for bids, Rundle said.

"This isn't something that is going to happen overnight," Rundle said. "It might not get started until February."

In August, the district was notified that it was selected for a $10,000 grant from Monsanto to construct a greenhouse for the high school's agriculture classes.

The greenhouse will allow students to conduct soil and plant experiments, grow vegetables and bedding plants and learn a variety of ag skills, according to the district's grant application.

Representatives from Monsanto will be holding a check presentation and a groundbreaking ceremony for the greenhouse at 10 a.m. Thursday at the school.

Rundle said that the greenhouse is expected to cost $42,000 plus installation and additional site work.

FTE at Jackson Heights down slightly

By Brian Sanders

With a slight decline in full-time enrollment for the 2014-15 school year in the Jackson Heights district, it is likely that the district will use FTE numbers from the 2013-14 school year to figure state funding for the 2015-16 school year, the USD 335 Board of Education learned on Monday.

District Superintendent and Elementary Principal Adrienne Walsh presented board members with FTE numbers for the 2014-15 and the 2013-14 school years during the board's regular meeting, noting that the district had a finalized FTE of 376 students for the current year. Last year's FTE, Walsh said, was

When determining the funding for an upcoming school year, Kansas school districts have the option of using the current year's FTE, the previous year's FTE or an average of the previous three years, which would be 377.7 based on the 2012-13 FTE of 369 students. The state currently provides funding to schools at a rate of $3,852 per FTE student, it was reported.

While board members suggested that being able to use the 2013-14 FTE for upcoming budgeting was somewhat good news, Walsh said this year's numbers and last year's numbers will mean that the district will have to use next year's FTE or the three-year average to determine funding due to the 12-student drop in the current year's FTE.

"It will hit us a little bit next year," she said.

Headcounts for the current year, Walsh noted, are 48 in pre-kindergarten, 18 in kindergarten, 31 in first grade, 26 in second, 21 in third, 22 in fourth, 35 in fifth, 18 in sixth, 33 in seventh, 35 in eighth, 39 high school freshmen, 28 sophomores, 34 juniors and 31 seniors. The district has no students participating in the Fresh Start adult education program, Walsh noted.

Walsh reminded board members that when comparing headcounts to FTE, only students in first through 12th grades are counted as one when determining FTE. Kindergarten students and pre-kindergarten students on individualized education programs (IEPs) are usually counted in halves, but kindergarten students on IEPs are counted as full FTE students.

In other business on Monday, board members met for the last time with accountant David Bogner, who has performed the district's annual financial audit on behalf of Bogner Accounting of Lecompton for several years. Bogner told board members that he would be retiring at the end of the current calendar year.

Holton's municipal swimming pool recently received a fresh coat of paint in preparation for next summer's swimming season. Holton Parks and Recreation Director Mike Reichle (left) and parks and recreation employee Jerry Tudor are seen here working on the deep end of the pool. Reichle said the fresh coat of paint was likely the first time the pool had a new paint job since 2008.

Topekan arrested on financial fraud, drug charges

A Topeka man was arrested Wednesday, Oct. 8, on several charges of financial fraud, according to the Jackson County Sheriff's Office.

That afternoon, the sheriff's office received a call from the Holton Walmart reporting that a male suspect attempted to pass a forged check and that the suspect was in the rear passenger seat of a green Ford Explorer seen headed south on U.S. Highway 75 from Holton.

A Kansas Department of Wildlife, Parks and Tourism officer intercepted the vehicle near 182nd and U.S. 75, according to Jackson County Sheriff Tim Morse. Deputies arrived on the scene and arrested Brandon K. Jordan, 43, Topeka, at 4:30 p.m.

Deputies also recovered a large assortment of credit cards and checks that contained the identity of others. Also seized was a computer, printer and check paper believed to be used in the manufacturing of fraudulent checks and identifications, Morse said.

Also seized were items believed to be methamphetamine and drug paraphernalia. Two other occupants in the vehicle were identified, interviewed and released at the scene.

Jordan is currently being charged with seven counts of forgery, 18 counts of making a false writing, 18 counts of identity theft, seven counts of counterfeiting, possession of methamphetamine and drug paraphernalia.

Jordan also has outstanding warrants for similar charges, Morse said.

The sheriff's office was assisted by the Holton Police Department in the investigation.

Mayetta resident hurt in Atchison County accident

A Mayetta man was transported by helicopter to an area hospital after sustaining injuries in a two-vehicle crash Saturday evening in Atchison County, it was reported.

Shortly after 6:30 p.m., Brian Harding, 24, Mayetta, was traveling eastbound on Kansas Highway 116 in a pickup when it collided with a pickup traveling south through the intersection at Edwards Road in Effingham, according to Atchison County Sheriff Jack Laurie.

The other pickup was driven by Jacob Hastings, 16, Hoyt.

Hastings' vehicle struck the driver's side rear tire of Harding's vehicle, causing Harding to lose control of his pickup. It entered the eastbound ditch and rolled, causing Harding to be ejected.

LifeNet transported Harding to an area hospital for treatment of injuries. Hastings did not report any injuries.

Holton band to play in KSU marching festival

The Central States Marching Festival is coming to Kansas State University's Bill Snyder Family Stadium for its 28th annual celebration on Saturday, it was reported.

With more than 40 high schools participating this year, including Holton High School, the festival gives further support that it has become the premier marching band affair in the region, said Frank Tracz, professor and director of bands at Kansas State University. The event is sponsored and aided by the university's marching band, the Pride of Wildcat Land.

"The Central States Marching Festival is the single strongest and most effective recruitment strategy for the K-State Marching Band we have," said Tracz, who directs the band. "It's a specific audience of band kids right in our backyard who get to experience the K-State treatment."

Clinics for the bands will begin at 8 a.m. Each high school band will take the field and perform in front of a panel of field performance experts. Bands then go to nearby Bramlage Coliseum and are given immediate feedback while watching a video of their performance.

Field performance judges are Larry Blocher, director of the School of Music at Troy University; Phillip Payne, assistant professor of music education at Kansas State University; Jim Oliver, a music educator from Kansas City; Dave McKee, marching band director at Virginia Tech; Debra Traficante, associate director of bands at Kennesaw State University; Daniel Haddad, percussion arranger/instructor with the Kansas State University Marching Band; and Sydney Topliff, color guard coordinator with the Kansas State University Marching Band.

Performances at Bill Snyder Family Stadium will begin at 10:15 a.m.

and will end at 9:30 p.m. with the Kansas State University marching band performing its "Beatles Invasion" show, which includes several Beatles' medleys.

The Boston Brass also will make a guest appearance, performing at 4 p.m. and 4:30 p.m. Admission into Bill Snyder Family Stadium will be $5 for both students and the general public.

Schools participating in the Central States Marching Festival include: Arkansas City High School; Augusta High School; Basehor-Linwood High School; Republic County High School; Bonner Springs High School; Clay Center High School; Derby High School; De Soto High School; Dodge City High School; Emporia High School; Eudora High School; Garden City High School; Eisenhower High School; Goddard High School; Holton High School; Hutchinson High School; Independence High School; Junction City High School; Lansing High School; Lawrence Free State High School; Leavenworth High School; Liberal High School; Louisburg High School; Maize High School; Marysville High School; McPherson High School; Olathe Northwest High School; Blue Valley North High School; Shawnee Mission West High School; St. Thomas Aquinas; Shawnee Mission East High School; Rose Hill High School; Salina South High School; Shawnee Heights High School; Seaman High School; Washburn Rural High School; Wamego High School; Bishop Carroll High School; Maize South High School and Wichita North High School.

On Wednesday evening, we were visited by some of the first and second-graders who belong to the Circleville Christian Church youth group called the Geek Squad. They were out delivering cookies and reciting a Bible verse from Psalm 95:1 as a field trip.

Barbara and Dennis Hutchinson attended the surprise 35th wedding anniversary party at Trails Cafe on Saturday, Oct. 11, for Brent and Beth Nelson. It was hosted by their three daughters. Most of the original members of the wedding party were there. Delicious food was enjoyed also.

Sixteen members of the Circleville Saddle Club enjoyed a trail ride around Banner Lake on Saturday afternoon, Oct. 11. Mary Pat Wilson met Don and Tammy Askren afterwards at Banner Grange for supper at the Dillner memorial fund-raiser, with ham and beans, cornbread, chili and all the fixins and some great sweets.

Deloris Beam and her sister, Dianna Wilson, took their annual trip to Branson, Mo., leaving on Oct. 3. Their aunt, Evelyn Strough, has a son who has moved to Kimberling City, so she rode with them to Branson to meet her son and daughter-in-law and spend a week with them. They all returned home on Saturday, Oct. 11. That evening, Don and Deloris Beam had a nice surprise visit from their grandson, Garin Beam, from St. George.

Dennis and Barbara Hutchinson went to see the production of "Cafe Murder" on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 12. It was held at the restored former JC Penny Building in Holton. They enjoyed the play that was put on by nine cast members.

OPINION

Re-elect Jenkins

Lynn Jenkins was one of about 20 members of Congress who met at Capitol Hill in December of 2012 to form a bi-partisan group whose stated goal is to put people before politics. The group is called “The No Labels Problem Solver Group” and it is patterned after the national organization with the same name.

Since then, the congressional group’s membership has grown to more than 100 members of Congress from the Republican, Democrat and Independent parties.

“It all starts with this group of members of Congress just meeting twice a month for breakfast,” Rep. Jenkins said. “It’s amazing what you can get accomplished if you break bread together.”

Jenkins said the “no budget, no pay” legislation was formulated at a No Labels Problem Solver Group meeting. Dozens of other pieces of non-partisan legislation has also started at NLPSPG meetings.

Jenkins, who was in her hometown of Holton yesterday afternoon, on the campaign trail, said she is encouraged by how, while there is still political gridlock at Washington, D.C., good things are still getting done by good people.

“Even in a divided government, with one-party rule, it’s possible to get things done,” Jenkins said.

She said she is proud of her work on the Violence Against Women legislation, her bi-partisan approach to stopping sexual assault on college campuses, her work to stop sexual assault in the military and her work to provide mental health first-aid to those in need.

“In my view,” Jenkins said, “We need to see if we can do better (than Obamacare). I am still convinced that I can make a positive difference.”

Jenkins said she is approaching the upcoming Nov. 4 election the same as she has approached previous ones. “I feel like if I continue to work hard for the people of the Second District, then the elections will take care of themselves,” she said.

Jenkins said that voters need to know that she did not cast any votes at Washington, D.C. to cut federal funding to education, as her Democratic opponent has erroneously claimed in TV attack ads.

“Stimulus funds from the federal government to the states ran their course and then stopped,” Jenkins said, “They were designed to help out states on a short-term basis, and they did that.”

She said that former U.S. Sen. Bob Dole of Kansas has been, and continues to be, an inspiration for her. She has accompanied him on some of his recent travels across the Second District thanking Kansans for supporting him over the years.

“He encourages me to work to bring people together and find common ground for solutions to the nation’s issues,” Jenkins said of Dole. “When he served in Congress, elected officials took their families to Washington, D.C. They went to church together. They socialized together. Their kids were in school together. The expectations for members of Congress to get back to their home states much more often has changed now. We must find new ways to get things done like the No Labels Problem Solvers Group. And we are.”

Growing up on a dairy farm near Holton, Jenkins said she learned the values of hard work, keeping your word, and the importance of serving your community. She has put those values to work in the Kansas Second District.

After winning election for her third, two-year, term in the U.S. House of Representatives, Jenkins was selected by her colleagues to serve as the Vice Chair of the House Republican Conference during the 113th Congressional session.

Conference Vice Chair is the fifth-highest ranking position in House Republican Leadership. Congresswoman Jenkins is just the 25th woman in U.S. history to hold a leadership position in either branch of Congress. She has proven that she can be a leader, even if it means (at times) not following the Republican Party line.

Jenkins currently serves on the House Committee on Ways and Means, the chief tax writing committee in the House of Representatives. As a member of the Ways and Means Committee, she serves on both the Trade Subcommittee and Oversight Subcommittee.

During Jenkins’s time in Congress, she has developed a track record for supporting fiscally responsible public policy to promote job creation and economic growth, working to improve transparency in Congress and backing a strong national defense.

Jenkins has introduced legislation to make the House more accountable to how it spends taxpayer dollars, to improve transparency in the House committee process and to prevent the House from passing major legislation during a lame duck session.

She continues to oppose wasteful government spending and is working to reduce the record deficits and national debt. Jenkins worked as a certified public accountant for nearly 20 years, helping individuals and small businesses manage their finances. She also served in the Kansas House and Kansas Senate and as the 37th Kansas State Treasurer.

Jenkins should be re-elected to a fourth, two-year term in Congress because she’s earned it. The Kansas Second District covers a lot of territory, but that has not given Jenkins an excuse not to get out and meet with her constituents in many of the district’s towns, big and small.

Jenkins is as accessible to her constituents as a person can be. Her main opponent in the upcoming election has not campaigned much, or at all, in this region.

If a candidate for Congress seeking your vote doesn’t pay a visit to your town before an election, how often will they even think about your town after they are elected?

PLAINS FOLK: Cassoday had abundance of characters

By Jim Hoy

One writing assignment I used to give students back when I was teaching composition classes was to write about a local character, someone with a touch of eccentricity that made life interesting and amusing for the more normal (or perhaps I should say, less colorful) citizens.

Many of my students were from small towns in Kansas, but no town was so small that it didn’t have someone who fit that description, and I got some very interesting papers.

I don’t know why, but the other day I got to thinking about some of the characters and some of the amusing incidents that occurred in my home town.

Cassoday, in fact, seems to have had an abundance of both. I was born well after many of the following incidents took place and the people who perpetrated them were long dead, but the stories lived on.

George Ellis, for instance, was one of the very first settlers in Sycamore Township. Old Number One School, in fact, was called Ellis School. Ellis believed in preparing for his ultimate demise, and he made his own casket out of walnut lumber from a tree he cut on his own farm. Unlike some people I have heard of, he didn’t sleep in his casket at night, but he would often lie in it during the daytime, much to the chagrin of his wife. He was laid in his casket for the last time when he died, in 1911.

Around the time that George Ellis was buried, a man named Herzig (there was no one of that name left in Cassoday in my memory) was living on the old DeGarmo place, about three miles from town. One day, Herzig sold a horse for $100, but lost it all in a poker game.

When he got home, his wife asked about the horse money. He told her that he had lost it on the way home, which was technically the truth. She spent the rest of the night with two lanterns retracing the route from their house to town looking for the money. But she never found it.

Halloween pranks, especially those that involved tipping over outhouses, were common in the small towns of Kansas, and Cassoday was no exception. I remember my father and uncle talking about how one man (they said who it was, but I can’t remember his name), after having to set his outhouse up after every Halloween, decided that he had suffered enough. So he took his shotgun and took up watch sitting in his outhouse, waiting for the tricksters to come by. But they, having learned of his armed vigil, took another approach.

Two young men on horseback stretched a lariat rope between their saddle horns and at full gallop hit the outhouse from behind and tipped it over, door side to the ground, with the man inside. Who the guys on the horses were, they didn’t say, but I always had my suspicions.

Another Halloween prank that occurred year after year at Cassoday was a little less gruesome, shall we say. It involved taking Gus Larson’s goat out of its pen and turning it loose in the high school study hall. This story is helped if you knew Gus Larson. He was either a widower or more likely an old bachelor, and he lived by himself at the edge of town where he kept a few chickens to go along with his goat. There was no doubt about his ethnicity. I don’t know if he came over from the Old Country or was born here, but he spoke with a strong Swedish accent and his English was liberally sprinkled with Swedish words.

Gus didn’t seem to mind having his goat stolen every Halloween. In fact, as he proudly declared, “My goat iss der only von in der town mit a high school education.”

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear editor,

This is a response to the Kevin R. McWhorter letter to the editor in The Holton Recorder recently.

In the USD 336 Budget at a Glance and Kevin’s District Budget at Glance USD 265, at the bottom line of Total Revenue, how does Kevin get his numbers?

And why revenue received doesn’t match spent per pupil and yet the USDs are asking for more funding?

Sources of Revenue – State, Federal, Local for USD 265.
	2012-13	2013-14	2014-15
State Revenues	36,622,218	37,045,602	$46,291,649
Federal Revenues	2,392,150	2,348,283	$ 2,633,041
Local Revenues	33,052,618	29,876,335	$25,101,236
Total Revenues	72,066,986	69,270,220	$74,025,926
Revenues Per Pupil	13,863	12,908	$13,459
Total Budget expenditure spent per student			$11,726

Sources of Revenue – State, Federal, Local for USD 336
	2011-12	2012-13	2013-14
State Revenues	9,095,122	8,845,910	$ 9,244,605
Federal Revenues	1,442,827	1,610,930	$ 1,424,182
Local Revenues	9,877,931	9,819,650	$ 9,435,155
Total Revenues	20,415,880	20,276,490	$20,103,942
Revenues Per Pupil	18,350	18,398	$17,950
Total Budget expenditure spent per student			$16,867

Kevin’s District Revenue per pupil is $3,000 less than USD 336. Is this why they keep talking about consolidation? Jackson County has around 2,500 students and pays out more than $55 million. Kevin’s district has more than 5,000 students and pays out only $74 million.

It is an election year and funding education is being used as a topic to get your vote. More funding for education will come out of your pocket, the taxpayer, no matter if it is federal, state or local revenue.

If you want to fund education in your district, write them a check. If you vote someone in and they increase taxes, who knows where that money goes, maybe the tax money will go to Kevin’s USD 265 instead of your USD 336.

The bottom line is that money for funding any programs comes from you, the taxpayer.

Make it a local donation and not a tax increase, so you can see your money being used here at your home town, and not somewhere else.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear editor,

Several months ago, I got such good bargains at stores in Holton that I decided to do my Christmas shopping in Holton in 2014.

The selection in the stores was good. Good quality items were often times below $10 and the service was excellent.

I figure I’m a winner if I do my Christmas shopping in Holton and nowhere else. I’m on a budget so items below $10 is what I shop for.

But when it comes to shopping for my mom, I’ll spend anywhere from $10 to $20 because she’s so nice and sweet to me.

So if you can’t figure out where to shop this coming Christmas season, shop at Holton. The service at stores is way above average and you’ll be glad you chose Holton to do your Christmas shopping.

Agriculture Week: Volatility describes livestock futures market

By Matt Hines

We have all heard the term “volatility” and it is used more frequently now when reading market comments, especially when looking at commodities post 2008.

Volatility is described generally as explosive or breaking out into violence. In financial terms, it is defined as the measure of risk in a financial instrument. All financial instruments carry with them some form of risk, so a highly volatile market or product carries with it high risk.

Livestock futures are very volatile currently and last week was a great example of this. After hitting new contract and all-time highs, last Thursday was a massive key reversal, higher high and lower low, in this case closing lower.

Friday was a continuation with follow-through triple digit lower futures led by the feeder market. Fundamentally, though, this market is still solid and we should see this rally continued.

Cash feedlot trade was light last week but prices were $2 to $6 higher with trade in the north ranging from $162 to $165 with the majority trading at $164, $3 higher than the week previous and $256 to $258 on a dressed basis up $4 to $6. Trade in the south was also mostly done at $164 up $2 from a week previous.

For the week, Friday to Friday, October live cattle finished up $2.50, October feeders down $.37 and October lean hogs up $3.85. Boxed beef values, Choice up $9.35, Select up $8.38, CME Feeder Index up $5.67.

Cattle slaughter from Friday estimated at 100,000 head, down 8,000 from a week ago and down 10,000 from a year ago. For the week, 562,000 head down 15,000 from last week and down 47,000 from a year ago. Our year to date difference remains at 7.1 percent less.

Monday’s early calls were mixed; no one wanted to step in front of what could be continued liquidation or support and profit taking. Volatility continues as Monday reversed course and markets finished triple digits higher.

Moving over to the grains, futures were mixed to finish out the week. Shortly after the report, grains shot higher but settled back down with corn and soybeans finishing lower as the day progressed and wheat held onto gains.

Overall U.S. crop estimates were not as bearish as some had been forecasting, but corn and soybean crops continue to get bigger. Harvested acreage for both were decreased, corn by 742,000 acres and soybeans by 655,000 acres, offsetting some of the production increases.

U.S. soybean ending stocks were actually reduced by 25 MBU due to the beginning stocks reduction reported at the end of September being more than the production increase for this current crop. Usage was left unchanged from a month ago, which, in my opinion, is still overestimated by USDA and ending stocks will soon be over 500 MBU.

The U.S. corn balance sheet had some additional changes with total supply up 129 MBU compared to month ago but ending stocks only 79 MBU higher. Feed usage was increased another 50 MBU by USDA this month while all other demand factors were left unchanged.

The surprise of the report would have to go to U.S. wheat. Production was only increased by 5 MBU, which was in line with expectations, but ending stocks tumbled 44 MBU. USDA increased not only feed usage of wheat, very questionable with sub $3 corn and cheap DDG available, but also increase exports by 25 MBU? U.S. wheat is not competitive in the world marketplace and hasn’t been for months now!

The only justification can come from the decrease in production in Argentina, Australia, Canada and North African countries. We may secure some additional business but Ukraine and EU production was increased and still offered at the cheapest values to date.

Egypt purchased two French cargoes and one from Russia last week about $4/MT higher than last time. Their supply minister is suggesting now that they are covered through March 2015. South Korea is seeking 55,000 MT of feed wheat and 60,000 MT of corn. The U.S. has a shot at both of these and results should be announced later in the week.

Grain futures, at least corn and soybeans, were as volatile as feeder cattle futures gaining back all of Friday’s post crop report losses. Both nearby contracts got within a penny of Friday’s highs and stayed fairly strong into the close.

December corn so far has carved out a low at $3.18 with resistance at $3.48 and $3.50. New contract lows from here could push us down to the 2009 lows from $3.04 to $2.96 and then the low in December 2008 at $2.90. November soybeans have also carved out a bottom at $9.04 with resistance still at $9.50.

Rogers

Julia F. (Miller) Rogers, 84, of Holton, passed away Monday, Oct. 13, 2014, at Aldersgate Village in Topeka.

She was born on Feb. 14, 1930, in Marysville, the daughter of William and Clementine (Stoehr) Miller. She graduated from Marysville High School in 1949.

She was united in marriage to Glen W. Rogers on Sept. 18, 1949, in Marysville. Glen preceded her in death on June 27, 2013.

Julia is survived by her son, James (Susan) Rogers of Manhattan; her daughter, Terry (Jerry) Bueker of rural Holton; her three grandchildren, Jerri (Doug) Newman of Shawnee, Kelli (Joshua) McClintock of Holton and Jeff (Sarah) Draper, also of Holton; her nine great-grandchildren, Savannah, Madie, Deanna, Gracie, Brayton, Jenna, Reese, Mackenna and Joshua; nieces, nephews, and a host of friends. She was also preceded in death by her parents; two brothers, Robert Miller and Michael Miller; and her sister, Carol Singleton.

Julia was a farmwife in Washington before moving with her family to Holton in 1963 where she was a secretary for Glen in his business at State Farm Insurance for a couple of years. After that, she became a telephone operator for United Telephone Company in Holton. Immanuel Lutheran Church

By Esther L. Ideker

Being called a gracious host or hostess is a compliment, for it means you care about your guests and see that they are well cared for." Sunday's scripture readings talk a lot about being hosts, and in each instance, the Lord is the host.

The Old Testament lesson talks of "a feast of rich food, a feast of well-aged wine." (Isaiah 25:6) The Psalm praises our Shepherd, saying, "You prepare a table before me in the presence of my enemies." (Psalm 23:5) In the gospel text, Jesus compares the kingdom of heaven to "a king who gave a wedding feast for His son." (Matthew 22:2) Our God is the most gracious of hosts, as He cares for us with His own body and blood at His table as a foretaste of the feast to come!

The 18th Sunday after Pentecost worship service on Oct. 12 at Immanuel Lutheran Church was led by Elder Topher Dohl. Divine Service 1 was followed. The opening hymn was "The Lord's My Shepherd, I'll Not Want." Psalm 23 was spoken responsively.

Elder Mike Keehn read the Old Testament lesson, Isaiah 25:6-9, and the Epistle lesson, Philippians 4:13. Topher Dohl read the gospel lesson from Matthew 22:1-14. The sermon hymn was "Come to Calvary's Holy Mountain."

"Come to the Feast," based on the gospel lesson, was the title of the sermon. "Come to the feast" is really what we are saying as we invite people to come and worship with us. As we worship, we come and receive what our God has in store for us. We come to hear His Word and receive the blessing of forgiveness of our sins and eternal life. We come to the feast of our God, which is a foretaste of the feast to come in heaven. By knowing, celebrating and trusting what God is doing in this time of worship, we join King David in saying, "I rejoiced with those who said to me, 'Let us go to the house of the Lord.'"

The scripture readings for the day had the theme of banquet. Banquet imagery is prominent in both Testaments with reference to the kingdom of God. The future, final banquet in the kingdom of God is pictured specifically as a wedding feast; all is in readiness, the invitation is used to many, but few are chosen. We believe that God wants all to be saved and to come to the banquet that Christ has prepared. God calls us to be faithful, to worship, to grow, to serve and to love. Come to the feast and celebrate what Christ has done for you!

The congregation professed The Apostles' Creed. In peace, they prayed to the Lord for the church to be a beacon to the community; for pastors and missionaries that they may have strength for their calling; for leaders to seek to serve Him; and for those who are sick and suffering. The congregation commended to God all for whom it prayed. The congregation joined in the prayer taught by the Lord.

The offering ushers were Travis Amon and Doug Klahr. The offertory piece was "Turn Your Eyes Upon Jesus."

The hymn "Rock of Ages, Cleft for Me" was sung. Following the benediction, the service closed with the hymn "Joyful, Joyful, We Adore Thee."

Diane Summerfield and Trish McCormick were welcomed to the service.

Pastor Geske will return next Sunday for communion service.

Circleville Christian Church

By Jeannie Arnold

Nancy Lundin served as greeter at the door for Cowboy Church at Circleville Christian Church on Oct. 12. Gary Bell gave the opening prayer. Music was provided by the praise team of Gary Bell, Dale and Ilah Rose Askren, David Allen, Max Lierz and Sandra Hurt.

Mike Cochren gave the announcements of upcoming events. With October being pastor appreciation month, David Allen presented Randy Wickham and Dan Ditmars with a token of appreciation from the elders and the congregation. David also gave the prayer for concerns and praises.

Randy Wickham used text from 2 Timothy 4:2-5 and 2 Peter 1:20, 21 as he gave the morning sermon titled "Remembering What It's All About..." His message reflected how easy it is to get off track in our daily living, but as Christians we need to be focused on what the Bible tells us we should be doing. We need to know what it says.

The scripture gives us a standard to live by and teaches us to spread the good news of what Jesus has done for us. Our goal is to point to Jesus instead of ourselves and share the love of Christ. Jesus is everything. We need to serve Him and honor Him. Jesus needs to be first in our lives.

David Allen gave the communion meditation. Communion servers were Don Askren, Ellsworth Hewitt, John Ray and Jason Claycamp. Gary Bell provided the guitar music as communion was served.

The prayer for the offering was given by Dale Askren and the service closed by singing "Happy Trails To You."

Next Sunday, Oct. 19, is the blue rock shoot. Shooting starts at 2 p.m. Supper is at 5 p.m. Hot dogs, chili and pulled pork sandwiches, baked beans and chips along with the drinks will be provided. Please bring a side dish or a dessert to share. Gary Bell will provide music for everyone's entertainment throughout the afternoon. There will also be kid-friendly games during the afternoon for the younger ones to enjoy.

Noah Hill has been playing soccer. His team tied three games, and the fourth game they won.

Lorri Trimble, Sarra Ann Mahoney, Noah and I attended the annual quilt show in Topeka on Sept. 21. They had a good show of quilts this year.

I had in-service on Sept. 24 at the Topeka library. There were a number of booths for senior citizens. It was a very interesting day.

On Oct. 8, the cousins met at Boomers'. There were five of us there, Rosie Boling, Ramona Robinson, Joyce DeVader, Lorma Hladky and me. We will meet Nov. 5 at the China restaurant at noon.

On Saturday, Oct. 11, Noah and I went to Quilting on the Square to get my block of the month. While there, we met Edith Workman, and we left there on a short quilt hop called "Run for the Border."

We traveled 300 miles and were in four states and visited seven shops. We had lots of fun and really enjoyed the day. We were back in Holton by 5 p.m.

For the morning worship service on Sunday, Oct. 12, at Denison Reformed Presbyterian Church, Pastor Ed Hindman continued the series from Paul's letter to the Christians in Philippi. Based on Philippians 4:4-13, the sermon title was "Learning to be Content." Julie Rusko was precentor.

Welcome visitors were Jessica Scoby's parents, Bob and Kathy Keys from Ohio; and two of David and LouAnn Porter's granddaughters from Waterville.

We are sorry that Eleanor Phillips has suffered from shingles the past two weeks. She has appreciated prayers, phone calls and help during this difficult time.

The Hindmans hosted a family gathering last week when Cindy's cousin and his daughter came from Pennsylvania to visit Ann Bell at the nursing home in Winchester.

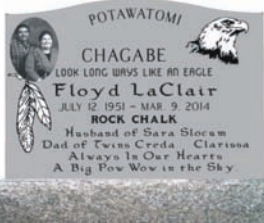

We are looking forward to several events in November. Fall Family Night will be held Saturday evening, Nov. 1.

The church will be hosting the Community Thanksgiving Service, Sunday evening, Nov. 23, beginning with a soup supper. The offering is given to the Topeka Rescue Mission.

Each year, we join the other Reformed Presbyterian churches in eastern Kansas for a Presbytery Psalm Sing. The Topeka R.P. Church is hosting the event at 5 p.m. Nov. 30.

Prepare now to spend time, money during coming holiday season

By Cindy Williams
Meadowlark Extension
District Agent
Food, Nutrition and Finance

We've had exceptionally beautiful late summer and early fall weather this year. It may seem too early to think about the holidays, but, actually, now is just the right time.

Having some discussions about holiday expectations and laying out plans for how time and money will be spent can avoid stressful, budget-breaking situations during the holidays. This early planning can establish realistic expectations for children, as well as adults, in the family.

Start with a plan. Make a budget for spending money. Start putting events on the calendar now. Decide how much money your family is able to spend this year. Gifts, greeting cards and postage, food and decorations are the four things people typically spend money on around the holidays. Include holiday traditions at home, at work, with friends and at children's schools as you plan your calendar of events.

This is a good time of year to gather gift ideas. Think back through the year – do you remember having a great gift idea for someone? Now is the time to buy it, maybe even wrap it. Doing this for several items or people on your list will put you ahead, both with time and money. As the holidays get very near, and the weather turns colder, shopping becomes a challenge.

Use cash to stay on budget. Stay within your spending budget by paying with cash. After developing your gift budget, make an envelope for each person on your list and put that amount of cash in the envelope. Use the cash to buy each gift, replacing the money with receipts. Once you've taken all of the cash out, you should be done.

Using credit cards for holiday shopping has advantages in that there's no need to carry cash. There may also be warranty benefits, depending on the item or the credit card you use. The drawback with credit cards is that people sometimes don't stick to their budget and overspend. Research has shown that people often spend 30 percent more when buying with a credit card compared to spending cold, hard cash.

Is there such a thing as too many toys? It's easy to go overboard and shower children with lots of toys and gifts. Keep in mind that the reality of the research is that most children tend to have three to five favorite toys. Don't be the family that jokes about the children having more fun with the boxes than all the toys they received. A good source for people looking for age-appropriate gifts for children can be found on the National Association for the Education of Young Children (NAEYC) website.

Spending time with those you care about is important, too, and that can be done without spending a lot of money. Include children in as much planning and preparation as possible around the holidays. Children can be part of gift wrapping, baking or visiting family and friends. Including children in holiday activities will be their best gift in the long run.

Incorporate learning into holiday preparations. Buying a Christmas tree becomes a lesson in decision making and consumer choices when you discuss different prices and options: cut-your-own, buy at the nursery or use an artificial tree.

Teach basic baking skills, as well as numbers and measurements when you bake cookies together. And there is no better lesson in time management than preparing a holiday meal, and having it ready to put on the table all at once! Children will feel a sense of pride and accomplishment when they are included in holiday preparations.

Share your family traditions for the holidays with children. Many will be fascinated with how these traditions started with past generations and the meaning they have for your family. Emphasize the quality of time spent together over the quantity of objects everyone receives.

I saw recently on social media that there are less than 16 Fridays before Christmas. It's time to get busy!

Cobra Caleb Sullivan (shown above, front left) makes a tackle in Friday’s game and forces a fumble in the process, though the Dragons recovered. The Jackson Heights defense was flying around the field against Valley Falls and will have to be up to the task again in a showdown against Onaga this Friday.

County football teams set for district battles

While Jackson Heights football jumped into district play last week, Holton and Royal Valley will join in on the fun this week with the postseason looming and the Wildcats and Panthers getting a chance at a fresh start.

A fresh start isn’t something the Wildcats need, after the success they’ve rolled up in the past five weeks. Incidentally, though, that’s basically what the team was looking at going into the season, but as Holton has come together in recent weeks coach Brooks Barta said it is time for the team to start playing like one that hasn’t missed the playoffs in nearly two decades.

“I think we made a lot of progress and we shouldn’t feel like an inexperienced team anymore,” Barta said. “We’ve been through a pretty good schedule and dealt with a lot of different looks on offense and defense, so that excuse has to be gone. It’s time to play like an experienced football team.”

Injuries compounded some of those issues of inexperience early, but heading into district play the Wildcats are nearly back to full strength and that should help the team in more than just that regard.

“We’ve been a little banged up and kind of felt like we were on a thin wire on both sides of the ball at times, but we should have that depth back and an ability to rotate people in and stay fresh,” Barta said.

That could be a key on Friday as Barta noted opposing Jeff West’s strength is by committee, whether it’s on offense or defense.

On the offensive side of the ball, Jeff West has shifted from a pass-happy attack early in the season to a power run game out of the traditional I-formation. Meanwhile, on defense, the Tigers feature a strong defensive front that could pose some problems for Holton.

Scheme-wise that means the Wildcats may need to be especially crisp in Friday’s game because the Tigers come at you in waves and every player needs to handle their assignments in order to slow them down.

“Anything they do, they run at you hard and they have a chance to break big plays, so we really have to understand what we’re doing defensively against the different concepts they use on offense,” Barta said.

In years past, the Wildcats and Tigers have met up with a league title on the line. While this year’s match-up will have district implications, it may have also lost some of its luster as the Tigers have struggled so far in 2014.

However, a veteran coach like Barta knows the records go out the window once district play begins and he suspects Jeff West could present a tougher challenge than expected after some close calls in recent weeks.

“I think we’ll get their best shot and I think they’re a little better than their record,” Barta said. “I think they got off to a rough start and they’ve kind of figured out who they are in the last couple weeks.”

The Wildcats will find out more about who they are in the next few weeks and Barta believes they will show themselves to be a playoff team once again and the coach hopes the team shows it is heading in that direction starting this week.

Holton (5-1) will take the first step to get there as they prepare to host Jeff West (1-4) in the district opener at 7 p.m. on Friday.

In the other half of District 1 play in the new Class 4A-Division II, Royal Valley is getting set for a road test against Perry-Lecompton and RV coach Jake Lott said his team is looking forward to the fresh start in district competition.

“We grew a little bit in the first part and took some lumps in the first part. Now, we’re ready to see what we can put together for our three-game stretch here,” Lott said.

It won’t be easy as the Panthers start out against a Kaws squad that is not short on playmakers.

“They have very good skill players and it’s a team that we’re going to have to make sure defensively we’re very sound if we want to be in the ball game. They can score some points,” Lott said.

Three-year starting quarterback Seth Surface poses possibly the biggest threat, as he has amassed nearly 1,400 yards of total offense so far this season. Lott said running back Austin Kurtz (649 yards, seven touchdowns) is also a threat out of the backfield.

Maybe the biggest threat, though, won’t even be wearing a blue jersey on Friday night. In recent weeks, the Panthers have hurt themselves with penalties and turnovers. Lott noted the effort has been there, but now Royal Valley needs to work on making it a consistent thing so the team won’t suffer those same problems against Perry-Lecompton.

“It’s hard. It’s tough, but they can get the job done if they really want to. Hopefully as a team we can push through all these struggles we’ve been going through and everything will come together for us,” Lott said. “We just need to fight through it and wait for some good stuff to happen and hopefully we can capitalize on it.

Royal Valley (2-4) will try to make those good things happen on Friday in Perry, with kickoff against the Kaws (3-3) set for 7 p.m.

Now that the Jackson Heights football team is healthy once again, the Cobras could be pushed to their limits against a physical Onaga team on Friday, according to coach Caleb Wick.

“Onaga presents different match-up problems and different things that we have to tweak and that we have to do. We have to practice well, we have to watch film and we just have to get ready to play,” Wick said. “This is a physical football team. They like to pound you. They’ll go double tight with a wing on both sides.”

“Their main objective is to run north and south, get downhill and give it to their big, bruising back and let him just get what he can,” Wick said.

In response, the Cobras have to be ready to gang tackle in Friday’s game and Wick said that is definitely one of the fundamentals his team will go back over in practice this week.

While Wick said their running back and quarterback do a lot on the ground, he noted the defense will need to be ready for a challenge in the passing game as the Buffaloes feature two tall tight ends that could have an impact, like Jarod Gronewoller who leads the team with 11 catches for 186 yards.

“They definitely have some size match-ups there on our little corners outside, so they might want to exploit those a little bit during the course of the game. We might have to roll our corners up a little bit. That’s something we’re going to have to talk about during the course of the week,” Wick said.

Also, the Cobras did not escape last week’s game against Valley Falls scot-free. Quarterback Zane Richter was banged up and could be limited on offense on Friday, which could place even more emphasis on team play in a critical district game.

“Whoever wins this game has the upper hand with the playoffs looming. Every game’s a playoff game for us. We’re treating it like that, just one step at a time, but we know how important this game is,” Wick said. “We’re going to have to go over there and fight to be physical. Hopefully, if we can put a full game together, we’ll see some good results there on Friday night.”

Jackson Heights (2-4) and Onaga (3-3) will kick off at 7 p.m. on Friday night in Onaga.

Bahrets roll in Pick ‘Em contest

There’s no such thing as a sure thing and boy did that gambling adage apply to week six of The Holton Recorder’s Pick ‘Em contest.

Only six games had definitive favorites based on the picks of the 37 contests who took part in week six of the contest and the rest were up in the air.

The field was pretty split when it came to the match-ups of Rossville vs. Centralia/Wetmore, LSU vs. Florida and Detroit vs. Minnesota, while even Kansas, Texas, Texas Tech, UCLA and Washburn had a fair amount of support in week six.

Of the 18 games, though, the only true upsets that most competitors did not see coming included Jackson Heights’ district-opening win over Valley Falls, Chicago taking down Atlanta on the road in the NFL and Dallas doing the same to defending Super Bowl champion Seattle (only seven contestants picked Dallas).

That led to a log jam at the top as several entrants tallied 14 correct picks, but six contestants ended up tied for first with 15 correct picks.

With the tiebreaker in play and most predicting a shootout, this week’s win went to the competitor who predicted the lowest score and Erikah Bahret took that spot after guessing the Eagles and Giants would combine to score 48 points on Sunday night. Earl Bahret and Don McDaniel were right behind her with a prediction of 52 combined points, with Bahret winning the second tiebreaker on a coin flip.

Week seven games were listed in Monday’s edition of The Holton Recorder. Remember to once again turn in entries before 5 p.m. on Friday. They can be turned in at The Recorder office at 109 W. Fourth St. or mailed in to 109 W. Fourth Street, P.O. Box 311, Holton, KS 66436. You can also fax entries to 364-3422 and e-mail them to holtonrecorder@embarqmail.com.

Several factors hinder HHS golfers in bid to return to state

Monday’s 4A regional golf meet in Ozawkie was going to be tough no matter what for the Lady Wildcats. Holton’s girls golf team was likely to be in a logjam with three other teams for two of the three sports in the Class 4A state tournament.

Then, the rains came on Monday and a constant deluge added to the level of difficulty, though it was something the entire competitive field had to deal with at the meet.

“It was miserable. It rained just about the whole time and the wind blew just about the whole time,” HHS coach Dennis Tegethoff said. “It wasn’t a lot of fun playing golf, there’s no doubt about it.”

The golfers who excelled in the tough conditions, Tegethoff said, were those who came in with a positive attitude and were prepared for the inclement weather. While some of his own golfers were among that group, he noted others still struggled preparing for the conditions, which caused some issues.

“Until the weather’s bad, sometimes it doesn’t hit home with a lot of them. It doesn’t hit home until you experience it,” Tegethoff said. “Unfortunately in this situation, there are no do-overs.”

Some of the Wildcat golfers weren’t even expecting to play on Monday, according to Tegethoff. Play they did, though, as one of eight regional tournaments in all classes that was not postponed.

At least two of the Wildcat golfers went about business as usual as both Quinn Holaday and Hannah Deegan shot around their yearly average on Monday. Holaday was the lone Wildcat to qualify for state competition, while Deegan came up one spot short of joining her.

“I really think they trudged right on through it. There’s something to be said for mental toughness. It makes a difference and I think that was a lot of that,” Tegethoff said.

One golfer who tried to trudge through it as well was senior Paige DeLay. Tegethoff noted he didn’t find out until Monday that DeLay was battling some injury issues with her shoulder and while she tried to soldier through it over the weekend and at the regional meet, she couldn’t quite pull it off and had to withdraw from the tournament.

“She was frustrated because she’s been playing pretty well down the stretch, so I know she felt bad about that and I felt bad for her,” Tegethoff said.

Injuries have been another obstacle the Wildcats have tried to overcome late in the season, and it proved just one too many things to overcome on Monday. The Holton team finished sixth and couldn’t quite get back to the 4A state meet for the second consecutive year.

While the team won’t be going, Holton will send at least one individual for the fourth year in a row as Holaday will represent HHS at the 4A state meet at Dub’s Dread Golf Course in Kansas City.

As tough of a course as it is, Tegethoff said Holaday certainly has the potential to sneak into medal contention next Monday.

In addition to being an individual accomplishment, Tegethoff also said Holaday’s performance could be a lesson to the other younger golfers about what hard work can do for your golf game after the time she put in during the summer.

“That hard work paid off for her,” Tegethoff said. “You can talk about it all you want, but the proof is in the pudding. She gets to play one more week and she gets to play in the state golf tournament and I think that’s a direct reflection of the work she’s put in.”

While it was a tough finish, with the team not playing up to the level it had been at earlier in the season, Tegethoff noted the Wildcats had a lot of positives to look back on this season and some they could certainly build on looking ahead to 2015.

“It wasn’t a disappointing season by any stretch of the imagination. We had some kids play some good golf. They got some medals and had some success,” Tegethoff said. “It’s always a little bit bittersweet in the end because if you don’t reach the goal that you wanted, you’re always going to be a little disappointed. Overall, it was still a pretty good season and hopefully something to build on.”

For now, Holaday will play on and get set for 4A state competition in Kansas City starting at 8:30 a.m. next Monday.

Jackson County volleyball teams thrive on the road

On Tuesday night, it seemed the Cobra volleyball team could do no wrong. Jackson Heights went on the road and picked up two big league wins on the way to the team’s first sweep of the season.

Everything was seemingly going the Cobras’ way, according to JHHS coach Jennifer McMahon, and that started in the first match of the night against host Oskaloosa.

While both teams started slow in that match, McMahon said her team eventually found its rhythm and did not miss a beat the rest of the way.

“We basically did everything that we were supposed to do. There were amazing hits, blocks and the coverage in the back was right on,” McMahon said.

On top of that, the Bears had to settle for tips as the match went on because the front row tandem of Emily Bowhay and Hannah Williams proved quite formidable on the block.

In the second set against the Bears, McMahon noted her team got out to a 10-1 lead, but the Bears started to claw their way back. During that rally, she took a timeout and noted her players came into the huddle and talked about the need to take care of business, which the Cobras did to close out the set.

“They pulled themselves back up, started hitting some more and really went after it,” McMahon said.

Following that match, Jackson Heights then went up against the Rams of Pleasant Ridge and hit a bumpy patch early in the first set. The Cobras actually trailed for most of the opening set before rallying together when trailing 23-20.

McMahon noted the team’s attack wasn’t crisp early on and the Cobras couldn’t get their rotation in a rhythm. Once they did, though, JHHS was aggressive once again and got some big hits and blocks that fueled them to the win.

“I think just being able to get those and know that they were back in the game helped them turn it around,” McMahon said.

Aidan Allen had a big hand in the late rally, too, as she served for the majority of the Cobras’ points in that final stretch to pick up the win.

Jackson Heights then rolled in the second set to wrap up the sweep on Tuesday night, a night in which McMahon noted her team did just about everything extremely well.

McMahon pointed to the team’s serving in particular as a major strength against the Bears and Rams, with Jackson Heights missing just three serves over the course of the night.

The foursome of Allen, Bowhay, Bree Williams and Katelin Strube also had a strong night on offense. McMahon noted Williams delivered some key kills time and time again, while Strube ended the night with a perfect kill to cap off the win over Pleasant Ridge.

Hannah Williams was also a part of the strong play from the front row, though McMahon noted the defense was equally strong in Tuesday’s matches.

“They dug some really hard serves and some really hard hits and popped them up just perfectly so that we could get a real good set and hit,” McMahon said.

Jackson Heights followed that routine (pass, set, hit) through most of the night and had good volleys throughout the matches, according to the coach.

Winning two against league opponents was a big deal and McMahon noted her players were excited afterwards. Now, she hopes the team will continue pushing forward and try to build on that success as the Cobras get ready to close out the regular season in some tougher league matches next week.

First, though, Jackson Heights (9-21) will head to Atchison for a quad starting at 5 p.m. on Thursday.

The Cobras weren’t the only team to get a league sweep on Tuesday night, as the Panthers of Royal Valley were also strong on the road.

In Hiawatha, the RVHS volleyball squad had no trouble taking two matches from the struggling Red Hawks. The Panthers didn’t drop a set in the two wins.

Royal Valley (19-12) will get set to close out the regular season in tournament play at Abilene starting at 9 a.m. on Tuesday.

For most of the season, the Jackson Heights Middle School football team has been in every game it has played, but once again last Thursday, against St. Benedict, the Cobras couldn’t quite come out on top and suffered a gut-wrenching loss.

“We didn’t give up and played hard. We had chances to win the game,” JHMS coach Greg Nilges said. “We were never out of it.”

A couple big plays turned out to be the difference in the game as Nilges noted St. Benedict got to the outside on those plays. Jackson Heights fought back with some big plays of its own, including some forced turnovers, but the Cobras couldn’t quite get over the hump.

Levi Olberding had a long touchdown run to get the Cobras within striking distance, but in the end JHMS fell to St. Benedict by a slim margin of 14-8.

Jackson Heights will look to break through in its final game of the season as the team closes out at home and will host Troy in a game starting at 5:30 p.m.

Volleyball teams excel for ACCHS and Wetmore recently

Wetmore and ACCHS had some ups and downs in competitive action last week, while some of the teams didn’t even get to see any action at all due to the weather.

Part of the highlights for both schools was the performance of the volleyball teams.

While it was a slow week for the Lady Tigers, they didn’t waste their time on the volleyball court. Only Perry-Lecompton was on the schedule for ACCHS and the Tigers went out and swept the Kaws in Effingham last Tuesday to pick up two big league wins.

Atchison County took the first match in straight sets (27-25 and 25-13) before fending off an early rally from Perry in the second to win (24-26, 25-13 and 25-20) and pick up the sweep.

Now, ACCHS (15-9) is getting ready to head north to Sabetha for tournament action on Saturday starting at 9 a.m., while the Tigers will close out the regular season next Tuesday against Hiawatha.

Wetmore had a couple more matches during the week and while they ended up going 2-2 overall, the Cardinals closed out the week on a strong note on the volleyball court.

After two tough losses on the road last Tuesday to Clifton-Clyde (25-12 and 25-18) and Frankfort (25-22 and 25-19), Wetmore returned home to close out the week against Hiawatha.

That home cooking must’ve been just what the Cardinals needed, as the team had little trouble dispatching the Red Hawks and picking up their first sweep of the season.

The Cardinals (5-24) will now close out the regular season at the Twin Valley League tournament on Saturday hosted by Blue Valley and starting at 9 a.m.

On the football field, ACCHS and Centralia/Wetmore ran into some tough opponents and the results just could not be helped.

Atchison County had the unenviable task of going up against Holton on the Wildcats’ homecoming night and the drizzly weather on top of that on Friday didn’t do the Tigers any favors.

In a 47-6 loss, ACCHS was held to 118 yards of offense and the Tigers were plagued by some turnover issues that made things worse in a 47-6 loss on the road.

The Tigers (2-4) will remain on the road as the team gets set to start district play this week in a game against Maur Hill starting at 7 p.m. on Friday in Atchison.

Centralia/Wetmore had the equally tough task of going up against Rossville, the second-ranked team in all of Class 3A. While the Panthers themselves came in ranked fifth in the class, that ranking and the team’s 18-game winning streak took a hit by the end of the night.

To start the game, Centralia/Wetmore actually took an early lead as quarterback Wyatt VanDorn had a 59-yard touchdown run with time winding down in the first quarter.

Rossville retaliated quickly, though, as Bulldog quarterback Tucker Horak passed and ran for one touchdown before the end of the quarter to put the visiting team ahead 14-6.

The Bulldogs tacked on three more scores in the second quarter to go up 35-6 on the way to a 42-6 victory in the end.

While the Panther defense came up with some stops in the second half, including two forced turnovers, the offense just never got going as Darrian Turner was held to 87 yards, while VanDorn had the bulk of success in the running game finishing with 106 yards on 17 carries.

Centralia/Wetmore will try to rebound from the loss to undefeated Rossville, but things won’t get much easier in the start of district play as the Panthers (5-1) will open up against the Thunder of Nemaha Central. Centralia will travel to Seneca for the 7 p.m. game on Friday.

Meanwhile, the cross country teams from Wetmore and ACCHS were both idle last week, but not by their own choosing. Both the Cardinals and Tigers were scheduled to compete at Sabetha last Thursday, but that meet was cancelled due to the rain.

The teams were also set to compete at the rescheduled Holton Invitational on Monday, but the rainy weather again put a damper on things. Now, both squads will get set for league competition this Thursday.

“You’re going to be investing some dollars in this,” Rundle said. “This really becomes your ag lab. You’re essentially building a laboratory. At this size, 20 kids will be able to work in there without standing on top of each other.”

Also during the meeting, the board approved the purchase of 90 iPads (16 GB with retina display) for a total cost of $34,110 from Apple Inc.

The iPads will be used at the elementary school as part of the district’s technology initiative.

In other business, the board:

- * Approved consent items.

- * Appointed Linda Hegemann as the Kansas Association of School Boards delegate assembly voting member with all other members as alternates.

- * Accepted a $1,804 donation from the United Way of Greater Topeka, which represents $2 for every child in the district.

The check was presented to the district by Katie Alford.

Alford said the money can be used to provide basic needs, like school supplies or coats, to students.

“We are totally committed to education,” Alford said. “Any time we can remove a barrier, we want to be a part of that.”

Rundle said the money will be given to the district’s school counselors, and they will help administrators determine where the funds can be best used to impact students in the district.

- * Heard a report on the recent staff development day from Susan Pfrang, director of curriculum and instruction. The development day included information on ACT preparation for students, as well as a presentation from Curtis Chandler, education specialist, on technology in the classroom.

- * Reviewed KASB “Road Capacities” report. The seven “capacities” or standards are what the court is using to determine the level of suitable funding for public school in Kansas. This stems from the Supreme Court case stating that Kansas was not providing adequate funding for schools.

The standards include communication/basic skills, civic and social engagement, physical and mental health, arts and cultural appreciation and postsecondary and career preparation.

- * Accepted $11,000 in donations from the PBP Charitable Contributions Committee, which will be distributed to a variety of school organizations.

- * Approved Impact Aid policies in order to move forward with the district’s Impact Aid application.

- * Discussed purchasing a used Massey-Ferguson tractor for the Hoyt school grounds. The tractor is being sold by a local resident, and board members agreed to allow Rundle to look further into the matter.

- * Reviewed a redesign of the school’s logo and letterhead created by Cory Triplett, middle school art teacher.

- * Reviewed the board of education and superintendent evaluation process.

- * Accepted the resignation of Kyle Stockman as the technology assistant.

- * Adjourned the meeting at 8:30 p.m. Board members Linda Hegemann, Boone Smith and Rusty Douglas were absent from the meeting.

Audit report presented at Hoyt Council meeting

The Hoyt City Council met in regular session on Tuesday, Sept. 2, 2014.

Present were Mayor Debbie Dreasher and council members Guy Cumpton, Lana Dillner and Nathan McAlister. Council members Ed Ryan and Leonard Allen were not present. Also present were City Attorney Lee Hendricks, Samantha Hancock, Crystal Kiely, Dee Olson, Sharon Gabriel, Mike Brookshire, Corky Milroy, Ed Kester, Jerry Thornburg, Mike Peroo, Theresa Hannigan, Janelle Kent and Police Chief Jon Brown.

Dreasher called the meeting to order at 7 p.m.

Council was previously provided the minutes to review from the Aug. 5 budget meeting, Aug. 5 regular meeting and special meeting on Aug. 18.

Cumpton made a motion to approve the Aug. 5 budget meeting minutes as provided. McAlister seconded and the motion carried.

Dillner made a motion to approve the minutes from Aug. 5 as provided. McAlister seconded. The motion carried.

McAlister discussed corrections to the minutes from the Aug. 18 minutes. McAlister made a motion to approve the Aug. 18 minutes with the corrections discussed. Cumpton seconded and the motion carried.

Brookshire appeared before the council to discuss his interest in donating a golden redwood tree he purchased for the park. McAlister made and Cumpton seconded a motion to accept the donated golden dawn redwood tree from Brookshire. The motion carried.

Peroo appeared before the council to discuss his auditor’s report for year ending Dec. 31, 2013. He also presented and discussed recommendations for improving cash controls, improving utility billing, improving cash disbursements and vendors, improving compliance and understanding the tax impact of fringe benefits. He also discussed suggestions for improvements to financial reporting and policies and procedures for accounting and personnel.

Kester presented bulk water invoices and discussed the amount of water used for the Farmer Dash and mud volleyball pit for Pride of Hoyt Days.

Kiely appeared before the council to discuss the need for an updated ordinance relating to chickens and ducks. She also discussed dog complaints she had this last month. She has talked with Brown to get decals on the animal control vehicle.

Kent appeared before the council to ask if the community building account will be subject to an audit. She also asked about the status of the surety bond and Bob Ehrhart’s bill for work done at Eighth Street and Kansas Highway 214 behind Slocum/Wege’s. She also asked the status of painting parking lines by the city building and discussed with McAlister the culvert opening at her home.

Chief Brown gave the monthly police report and updated the council on the new police car.

Cumpton discussed the recent work on Second and Third streets and work done by Kenny Bryan. McAlister discussed the need for Bryan to state which residential lots he has mowed on his timesheet.

Dillner informed the council that Royal Valley FFA will be using money left over from a grant to help with landscaping at the north end of Robinson Park. She also stated with winter approaching it is probably a good idea to hold off on installing water fountains at the park.

The council discussed Ehrhart’s bid for work done at Eighth Street and Kansas Highway 214. Cumpton made a motion to accept Ehrhart’s bid for the work (ditch project) with the caveat it needs to be done as soon as possible. McAlister seconded and the motion carried.

McAlister reminded Cumpton to purchase the flags for the city building. There was additional discussion relating to the moving of residential areas.

McAlister updated the council on the city website. The city owns the domain.

McAlister discussed the criteria for getting the jail listed in the historic register. The jail does not meet the necessary criteria. There was additional discussion regarding the option of Hoyt having its own “historic register.” The area is designated as a park so it has that protection.

McAlister discussed the status of the sister city project. He also proposed the idea of a meet and greet before the election to give citizens an opportunity to meet and interact with the candidates. It was decided to first check the availability of the candidates for such an event.

Dreasher discussed with the council purchasing a yearbook ad for Royal Valley High School. Cumpton made a motion to purchase a $50 ad to support the school. Dillner seconded and the motion carried.

At 8:57 p.m., McAlister made and Cumpton seconded a motion to go into executive session to discuss matters of attorney-client privilege. The motion carried.

At 9:07 p.m., council came out of

Nemaha and Brown Republicans Challenge Democrats to Co-Host District 62 Debate

A week ago, Randy Garber issued a two-debate challenge to Mr. Lukert requesting such debates meet the fair debate criteria. In the week that has passed, Rep. Garber has yet to receive an invitation and a confirmation from any sponsor that any such debate was planned. The only contact continues to come from Mr. Lukert’s campaign for debates that they are first trying to organize among their supporters without independent sponsors or local media moderators confirmed.

In keeping with the fair debate criteria allowing “equal co-sponsorships by organizations/groups that back specific candidates,” the Republican Party chairmen of Nemaha and Brown Counties are challenging the Nemaha and Brown County Democrat Parties to co-sponsor two debates on the evenings of October 21 and 28.

They’re asking for KNZA and KMZA to host these debates live in their studio and teams of at least two moderators from one of the local print media moderate the debates. Questions would be submitted to the moderators by email, mail, Facebook, or Twitter, or those with questions could call in live during the radio broadcast. Additionally, Rainbow Communications and Seneca SCTV would be invited to film these debates and broadcast them at the time of their choosing afterward.

As co-sponsors, the Republican and Democrat Parties would agree to split the cost of all advertisements that air during the radio or cable replay of these debates 50/50 so that each Party has an equal number of ads airing.

On this challenge, Nemaha County Republican Party chairman Ray Shinn commented the following, “I think everyone who truly wants to see a fair discussion of the issues that allows everyone within the district to fully participate can find something they like about this proposal, and I hope to hear the Democrats’ acceptance of this challenge soon.”

Brown County Republican Party chairman Bill Pollock also said, “Being on both radio stations allows everyone from across the district to hear this debate. Allowing so many different options for questions lets them participate as well.”

Randy Garber also said the following on this debate challenge, “I think this open challenge and these clearly defined parameters might help people separate all of Mr. Lukert’s debate discussion chatter from debate proposal reality.” Garber continued, “I certainly hope the Democrat Party accepts this challenge and our local trusted media participates. If so, I’ll be on board, and I can’t imagine why Mr. Lukert wouldn’t do the same.”

ADDITIONAL NOTES:

In the last week, only one invitation was received by the Garber campaign, which Rep. Garber responded to affirmatively, putting the organization in touch with his debate negotiator. However, later in the day the organization withdrew their sponsorship. Rep. Garber can provide an email chain of this correspondence upon request.

This is not an unprecedented concept or event. In 2008, the Brown County Republican and Democrat Parties co-sponsored a County Commissioner’s debate with Keith Olsen and Jack Geiger.

Fall weed control ahead of corn

By David G. Hallauer
Meadowlark Extension
District Agent

Crops & Soils/Horticulture

How would you rate your spring-applied pre-plant corn weed control program? If “less than stellar,” have you thought about fall application? Late October/November programs may be just the ticket to enhance your control program, particularly for henbit and marestail.

KSU weed scientist Curt Thompson notes how fortunate we are to have good options. For residual control, atrazine is a great low price option – so long as you are planting corn (or sorghum). The label for fall applications is anytime before Dec. 31, as long as the ground isn’t frozen.

One half to two pounds (maximum) per acre of atrazine in the fall, tankmixed with one to two pints/acre of 2,4-D LV4 or 0.67 to 1.33 pints LV6, can give good burndown of winter annual broadleaves like henbit, Virginia pepperweed, field pansy and marestail, plus small, non-tillered winter annual grasses. Crop oil concentrate will enhance atrazine activity.

A fall program might be just the boost your marestail control program is looking for! Where corn will be planted next spring, fall-applied atrazine plus 2,4-D or dicamba has been very effective on marestail rosettes, and should have enough residual activity to kill spring germinating marestail. Just don’t forget the 2,4-D!

KSU work has found atrazine alone to be less effective post-emergence on marestail than a combination of atrazine plus 2,4-D. Sharpen can also be good on marestail when tankmixed with 2,4-D, dicamba, atrazine or glyphosate to prevent re-growth.

Other residual herbicide options for corn include ALS herbicides like Autumn Super or Basis Blend. If ALS-resistant marestail is a concern, add 2,4-D, dicamba and/or glyphosate. Aim + 2,4-D or Rage D-Tech are additional herbicide options for fall application with only the 2,4-D component providing a very short residual.

Winter annual grass control is a greater challenge, depending on the stage of growth and rate of atrazine. Tillered volunteer wheat and brome species with a secondary root system developing will likely not be controlled even with a two-pound rate. Adding glyphosate to atrazine will ensure control of volunteer wheat, annual brome-grasses and other winter annual grassy weeds.

Atrazine antagonizes glyphosate, so if the two are used together, a full rate of glyphosate (0.75 lb ae) is recommended for good control.

The tankmix should include AMS as an adjuvant.

If the fall treatment works like we hope, at planting time use a pre-emerge grass-and-broadleaf herbicide application with glyphosate or paraquat to control newly emerged weeds. Soils will be warmer and easier to plant where winter weeds were controlled in fall.

Last Tomatoes of the Season

It’s October, and that means that increasingly cold nights could soon spell the end of the tomato growing season. Want to get one last harvest as that killing frost approaches?

You likely have tomatoes on the vine that are (slowly) approaching maturity. To get that “last harvest,” let them remain there until a frost is forecast. For tomatoes to ripen off the vine, they have to reach a stage of maturity called the “mature green stage.” Look for full-sized tomatoes with a white, star-shaped zone on the bottom end of the green fruit.

When harvested, separate tomatoes into three storage groups, discarding those with defects, rots or skin breaks. The first is those that are mostly red, then those that are just starting to turn, and finally, those that are still green. Place tomatoes on cardboard trays or cartons using layers of newspaper to separate stacked fruit to catch leaking juice and preventing damage to nearby fruit. Store as close to 55 degrees as possible until needed.

Mayetta Methodist Church

By Karen Burns

On Oct. 5, the candle lighters at Mayetta Methodist Church were Cody Smith and Trevor Matthews. The bell ringer was Tim Smith. The ushers were Charles Harden and Bud Stauffer. The scripture was read from 2 Timothy 1:10. The children’s message was “Family Fun Time.” The sermon title was “Offensive Words” with the text coming from John 6:41-60 and John 15:12-17. The service of Holy Communion was celebrated.

The birthday song was sung for Trevor Matthews, whose special day is Oct. 20; also for Amanda Finch, celebrating her birthday on Oct. 5.

It was a pleasure to have Trevor

Matthews attend services with the Robert Smith family.

Mary Anderson, along with Lisa, Kevin, Karsen and MaRyka Smith, were in Topeka to celebrate MaRyka’s 18th birthday on Saturday evening. They had dinner at Paisano’s. MaRyka’s special day was Oct. 3.

If created things are so utterly lovely, how gloriously beautiful must be He who made them.

Friday, Oct. 3, was girls day out for June Schlodder and her daughter-in-law, Margy Brown of Topeka. They met for lunch in Holton at Trails Cafe and then checked out some of the stores around the Square. They really had a fun day.

Alva and Karen Burns visited with Ross, Helen, Raegan and Joxelyn Stutterheim of Overland Park in the home of Matthew and Rhonda Burns in Topeka on Saturday morning. On Sunday evening, there was a gathering at the home of Erik and Amanda Finch near Overbrook. The occasion was a bonfire cookout for Amanda’s birthday. There were also a number of other family members in attendance.

Cordell Neely, grandson of Alva and Karen Burns, was inducted into Phi Theta Kappa (National Honor Society) at Hutchinson Community College on Sept. 28.

There will be a nominating committee meeting at 7 p.m. on Oct. 19 at the church.

"What or Who is Controlling You?" was the opening for Pastor Tim's message on Sunday, Oct. 12, at Holton First Baptist Church. "Are my emotions or feelings in control of my life?" was his next question in presenting "The New Morality" message.

Adultery is unfaithfulness in marriage, and Jesus enlarged on this subject to say that anyone who looks upon another in lust has committed adultery. Those who look at pornography or follow a homosexual lifestyle are adulterers (Matthew 5:27-28).

Strive for purity in our marriages; don't put yourself in a place where we might stumble or become ensnared in an adulterous relationship. We should not put ourselves in a social circle, a certain form of recreation or around a so-called friend that would be a major temptation.

Our eyes are to be only for our spouse; otherwise the look can turn into lust and adultery. It's the hook that Satan uses to trap us.

JH Board...

Board members accepted the audit, which Bogner said was “very clean,” adding that board clerk Sheri Dibbern has done “a great job” of keeping records for the district, which has “some of the better records I’ve seen for such a small school.” However, he added, that “with a two-person office, you really can’t have separation of duties, so internal control takes a hit,” but that was not a worry since “98 percent of the school districts in Kansas” are that way.

The district, Bogner said, is in good shape, having started the 2013-14 school year with $2.6 million in unencumbered cash and ending it with $2.57 million, which puts Jackson Heights in “real solid financial condition.” The only major issue with the audit, he added, was a budget violation in the school’s KPERs special retirement fund that amounted to $4, for which he said there was “no penalty at all.”

Board members also:

■ Approved the meeting’s agenda and consent agenda, the latter of which included minutes from the board’s Sept. 8 meeting and monthly bills and account activity reports.

■ Accepted a check for $838 from the United Way of Greater Topeka to be used for student needs in poverty situations.

■ Approved a set of district advisory council guidelines that had been created by Walsh in accordance with the Kansas State Department of Education’s Advisory Committee Guidance Handbook and revised by Walsh, Middle and High School Principal Darren Shupe and board members Doug Amon and Kelly Kennedy.

■ Approved the Jackson Heights High School FFA chapter’s trip to the national FFA convention in Louisville, Ky., later this month. Walsh noted that the chapter would be covering the bulk of the trip’s costs and was seeking transportation from the district as in previous years.

■ Discussed options for the purchase of a new district vehicle and authorized the expenditure of up to $29,400 for the purchase of a Chevrolet 12-passenger Express van from Ed Bozarth Chevrolet of Topeka, based on bids requested at the state level. Bozarth’s base bid for the vehicle was $22,865 according to State of Kansas 2015 model year specifications; the spending limit was approved by the board to allow for vehicle options.

Other state bids reviewed included a $34,391 base bid from Bozarth on a Chevrolet nine-passenger sport utility vehicle, a base bid of $29,400 from Shawnee Mission Ford for a Ford Expedition eight-passenger sport utility vehicle and base bids from Shawnee Mission Ford on a Ford Transit, $22,135 for an eight-passenger van and $22,668 for a 10-passenger van.

■ Heard a report from Walsh on teacher vacancies in Kansas.

■ Heard a proposal from Walsh to start seeking bids for a utility task vehicle to replace a golf cart that had “died” during a recent football game. More than half the schools in the Northeast Kansas League regularly use UTVs and “find them quite useful,” she added. Board members advised her to consider UTV options and report back.

■ Discussed options for a concrete pad and the track renovation project at the high school football field and track.

■ Heard a report from Walsh on elementary school activities, including science training for teachers; classroom activities including fourth-grade region presentations, third-grade community projects and fire safety training for students in pre-kindergarten through first grade; upcoming professional development training; and multidisciplinary task and on-demand writing programs.

■ Heard a report from Shupe on student and staff activities at the middle and high schools, including inservice information, the cancellation of a recent cross-country meet at Rim Rock Farm in Lawrence due to issues with fees, an upcoming career fair at Highland Community College, sports team updates and events, seventh-grade activities and the participation of students in a financial literacy assembly on Wednesday at Holton High School.

■ Met in executive session for an hour and 10 minutes to discuss personnel matters with Walsh present.

■ Following the executive session, the board accepted the resignation of Julie Kirk as assistant district clerk and approved supplemental contracts for Laura Holliday as high school musical co-sponsor and Sheri Bartel as musical accompanist.

■ Adjourned the meeting at 9:55 p.m. All board members were present.

It was also noted that the final meeting of the design committee is taking place today (Wednesday). It will be the last meeting for some time as representatives from Hollis and Miller will be getting the final input from teachers and committee members, sorting things out and then going to work on the final design.

With the design planning coming to an end, Stones said it won’t be long before Nabholz will start getting projects out to bid and in regards to that he requested a list of local contractors and businesses from board members that he could present to Nabholz to keep in mind for the various projects related to the new elementary building project.

Stones also reported to the school board on the current enrollment numbers. After count day (Sept. 22), enrollment in USD 336 stands at a full-time equivalency of 1,118.5.

The enrollment has dropped in the district this year (headcount was 1,199 in 2013-2014) and unless Holton sees an influx of students next year, he noted it is likely the district will need to use the three-year average enrollment numbers to maximize state funding.

While those numbers are unaudited, Stones credited the school secretaries for working diligently to collect all the needed information, especially Karen Beightel at HHS.

The board also addressed the following business on Monday:

*Adopted the agenda.

*Approved the consent agenda items including the approval of minutes, payroll and bills.

The board also accepted several donations through the consent agenda, including $35 from the Optimist Club and $50 from EUM Church for Colorado school, $3,050 from the Mat Cats and a 12x16 shed from Chris Gross Construction.

In addition, the board accepted the resignations of Kim Nations (Central para), Ryan Noel (MS asst. girls basketball coach), Dawnie Boyd (SPED para Colorado), Lois Zeller (Central Fd. Svc.) and Karen West (HHS Fd. Svc.) through the consent agenda, along with approving the transfers of Lydia Reburn (HHS SPED para to ELL elementary para) and Sue Lamastus (Colorado para to HHS SPED para).

The board also hired Kallie Stallbaumer (Central para), Shannacy Schimmel (Central para), Holly Wendoff (SPED para Colorado), Tony Rieschick (sub/activity bus driver), Terri Clancy (ACE program sub.), Christie Boswell (MS asst. girls basketball coach), Lydia Reburn (ELL para Colorado), Amy Duryea (SPED para SMS), Mary Enault (Central Fd. Svc.), Esther Essary (Fd. Svc. transport), Sharon Devader (Fd. Svc. HHS) and Kathleen Wesley (Colorado para).

*Heard a report on some upcoming performances for and by the HHS students, including a rock show/financial literacy presentation that will be put on by the band Gooding on Wednesday afternoon at HHS. Wittmer noted students will also be transported from RVHS and JHHS for the concert/presentation.

Wittmer also noted the HHS Notables will be performing with members of the Washburn University choirs at a concert in White Hall this coming Sunday.

*Heard from Joe Kelly after board members raised questions regarding a transportation issue that was discussed at a previous board meeting. The issue tied to the pick-up/drop-off at a certain designated area and the safety concerns regarding that area.

After monitoring the situation on a ride along, Kelly noted he saw no outstanding safety issues and the board was of the opinion to leave the routine as is.

*Accepted a donation of $2,188 from the United Way of Greater Topeka for students in need in USD 336.

*Approved the addition of the Holton Country Club as part of the district’s liability insurance policy at an approximated increase of $25. The country club was added in regards to the golf meets it hosts for the high school, while it was also noted that HHS in the process of moving cross country meets from HCC to the Banner Creek Reservoir.

*Discussed the policies on facility usage regarding the HHS gym as Stones was recently approached by Gary Zibell about a men’s winter basketball league that runs from October through April.

While it was noted that the league is currently charged roughly $180 to $200 per month ($2/night), the board discussed a potential trade-off regarding usage for volunteer time donated.

There was discussion regarding the need to pay for utilities and liability and when the topic circled back to a trade for services, board members were wary about setting a precedent. In the end, the board decided to leave the policy as it is and ask the basketball league to continue to pay to rent out the HHS gym.

*Discussed the leasing of a new Bobcat maintenance vehicle for use by maintenance director Mike Porter. Porter noted the lease is up for the steer-skid loader that he currently uses and he suggested replacing it with a Toolcat, which is a more versatile machine that Porter believed would be of more service to the district at a cost increase of $2,000 per year.

The board approved the lease of the Toolcat from Whitestar Machinery of Topeka at a total cost of $6,000 per year.

Porter also noted the lease would soon be up for the Bobcat UTV, which is currently used for athletic purposes and moving equipment. That lease is good for two more months, but the district will not be able to lease it again as the current agreement involved a clerical error, it was reported.

The board discussed several options for replacing that vehicle and ultimately decided to readdress the topic at November’s board meeting.

*Approved the use of electronic administration evaluation forms from McREL to keep things uniform now that the district uses McREL for teacher evaluations. The cost for administrator evaluations is $300/person and will cost the district $1,800 on a yearly basis.

*Approved fuel bids for the district from Haag Oil of Topeka at a cost of $2.83/gallon for diesel and $2.63/gallon for regular. Those were the lowest bids received out of four companies that submitted bids, including Jackson Farmers (Holton), Knotty Pine (Holton) and Parallel Farms (Whiting), it was reported.

*Heard a report and received information from Stones regarding the regional KASB meeting, which the board will need to review before deciding how to vote on some legislation at November’s meeting.

*Met in executive session with Stones and assistant superintendent Joe Kelly to discuss matters pertaining to non-elected personnel for a total of 30 minutes.

*Approved a motion to terminate the employment of Amber Blanton (food service, transportation) with two weeks of severance pay following executive session.

*Noted the upcoming parent/teacher conferences on Oct. 22 (4 to 8 p.m.) and Oct. 23 (8 a.m. to 7 p.m.).

*Noted the presence of all board members.

*Adjourned the meeting at 8:38 p.m.

Substitute for Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 1618

A PROPOSITION to amend article 15 of the constitution of the state of Kansas by adding a new section thereto, authorizing the legislature to permit the conduct of charitable raffles by certain nonprofit organizations.

Section 1. The following proposition to amend the constitution of the state of Kansas shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the state for their approval or rejection: Article 15 of the constitution of the state of Kansas is hereby amended by adding a new section thereto to read as follows:

"§ 3d. Regulation of 'raffles' authorized. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 3 of article 15 of the constitution of the state of Kansas, the legislature may authorize the licensing, conduct and regulation of charitable raffles by nonprofit religious, charitable, fraternal, educational and veterans organizations. A raffle means a game of chance in which each participant buys a ticket or tickets from a nonprofit organization with each ticket providing an equal chance to win a prize and the winner being determined by a random drawing. Such organizations shall not use an electronic gaming machine or vending machine to sell tickets or conduct raffles. No such nonprofit organization shall contract with a professional raffle or other lottery vendor to manage, operate or conduct any raffle. Raffles shall be licensed and regulated by the Kansas department of revenue, office of charitable gaming or successor agency."

Section 2. The following statement shall be printed on the ballot with the amendment as a whole:

"Explanatory statement. The constitution currently prohibits the operation of lotteries except for specifically authorized lotteries. A raffle is a lottery and is illegal under current law.

"A vote for this proposition would permit the legislature to authorize charitable raffles operated or conducted by religious, charitable, fraternal, educational and veterans nonprofit organizations subject to the limitations listed. Nonprofit organizations would be prohibited from contracting with a professional lottery vendor to manage, operate or conduct a charitable raffle.

"A vote against this proposition would continue the current prohibition against all raffles."

Gardener's Corner

Apple varieties that prosper in Kansas

By Sandra M. Siebert

Nothing defines autumn quite like a bushel of freshly picked, tree-ripened apples.

If your only exposure to apples is those shipped from faraway places to your grocery store, you are likely never to have experienced the full-bodied flavor of a tree-ripened apple.

And you likely will have eaten only a very few varieties, most of which would not grow well or taste quite the same when grown in our Kansas soils and climate. Leave the Galas, Fujis and Pink Ladies to Pacific Northwest growers.

When we selected our apple varieties, we looked for disease resistance and the ability to handle our conditions.

Our last tree to be harvested is the Tydeman's Late Orange, which promises to be quite a tasty apple, sweet with fizzy-tart undertones. It is not the prettiest of apples, and the tree did not produce abundantly this year, but the drops that I've tasted have me looking forward to tree-ripened versions.

The Tydeman's has not been our favorite tree because its weeping habit makes it somewhat difficult to prune and train properly. Yet it has turned into a rather nice looking tree. The author of "Apples for the 21st Century" rated the flavor of Tydeman's Late as "very good to best." He noted that he had difficulty learning to thin the fruit to prevent annual bearing because of his "greediness" for the delicious apples.

Many of the other apple varieties we had this year could have stood another week or two on the tree. This being the first year of real production in our five-year-old orchard, we were a bit on the eager side. However, when we would frequently find one or two apples on the ground half eaten by squirrels, I figured that they were close if not completely ripe. First-year apples usually don't exhibit the best flavor, anyway, so we have something to look forward to.

These later apples have had more insect damage than the Williams Pride apples that we harvested in August. More time on the tree means more time for the little worms to do their damage. Next spring, we'll start our spraying schedule - Neem oil and a few other things for nutrition, and Surround (a clay powder) - to keep the pests at bay.

However, we were able to fill a refrigerator with bags of unblemished apples, while the spotty and bird-damaged fruit were used immediately. The aroma of our special baked apple dish frequently filled the house over the past few weeks as we used up the spotty apples.

The Liberty apple won the award this year. This dwarf tree stands at the edge of the vegetable garden and reaches about 8 feet in height after 5 years, but it was loaded with apples, producing far more than any of the larger trees. Dwarf trees reach production a year or two earlier than the larger trees, so no real surprise.

We chose Liberty because of its exceptional disease resistance and "Apples of the 21st Century" rates the flavor "very good," the best among the disease-resistant varieties. The apples are lusciously tart with a sweet undertone, as well as crisp and juicy. As a bonus, when you polish these dark purple-red apples, they take on a glorious sheen. Lovely, as well as flavorful. The apples hung from the tree like Christmas ornaments, creating such a lovely vision that I almost hated picking them. Almost.

Our reading had led us to believe that the fruit of the Liberty is notoriously attractive to the codling moth, whose larvae burrow into the apples. However, most of these apples were worm-free. A fluke because of the low-pest population this year? We will see.

The Grime's Golden trees gave us quite a good number of fruit, too. We had high expectations for this parent of the Golden Delicious apple, which it has not quite met. I think we picked them a bit too green, but the tree started dropping lots of fruit, so we did not have much choice. I do like them, however, and their flavor promises good things to come.

Enterprise, another disease-resistant variety, has proven to be quite a robust tree. Our two trees did not produce a lot this year, but the apples were large. They possessed good flavor, but would have benefited from more time on the tree or in storage. This is one apple that improves in flavor during at least the first month of storage. However, most of those apples were spotted and needed to be used quickly. About three more still hang on the tree, so we will get a chance to test a riper version.

The other variety noted for disease resistance, Freedom, also produced large, but few, apples. Its flavor has been a bit bland, in my opinion, but some taste a bit spunkier than others. This one might be better for cooking.

The Wickson Crab apple is sweet enough to eat fresh, but we picked them a little too early. The small fruits are a real chore to cut up and core, so we'll save next year's crop for fresh cider.

And finally, Haralson. I don't have much to say about it, except that it is promising.

Those are our apple varieties currently in production. Some others have been in the ground for only one or two seasons and are not yet producing. We look forward to full crops on all our trees in future years. It might be time to build that root cellar.

Denison Bible Church

By Esther Hall

What a cold, dreary morning we had, but it didn't dampen our spirits as we worshiped and fellowshiped on Sunday at Denison Bible Church. We missed Rose and pray that she'll feel better quickly.

Youth Under Construction (YUC) will meet at 5 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 18. YUC members collecting Sunday's offerings were Sidney Bohnenkemper and Shelby Phillips. Happy birthday to Dakota Johnson, whose birthday was on Friday.

Pastor Tom's message Sunday morning was "Discovering the Messianic Secret" based on Mark 1:35-39. Is Jesus the Christ or not? Throughout the Old Testament, the coming of the Christ or the Messiah was prophesied. He was to be the deliverer; the hope of Israel, and the Jews were told to keep watch for Him.

There was lots of controversy as to whether or not Jesus was the Messiah spoken of in the Old Testament. People were coming to Jesus - not because of who He was but to hear Him preach and because of the miracles He was performing. Jesus warned people, like the leper, the deaf mute and the two blind men, not to tell anyone that He had healed them. But they told everyone; spreading the news of what Jesus had done.

People began referring to Jesus as the Messiah. Even Jesus' disciples realized that He was the Messiah, and Jesus warned them not to tell. Why was He warning people not to talk?

For the same reason that when we're told not to talk about something we often do tell someone. It wasn't a failure to His plans. Jesus knew the people would talk about Him and what He had done. He wanted people to know who He was.

The controversy for us today is that we have to have a reason for why Jesus did what He did. When people openly take positions against Jesus, we, as Christians, have to at least wrestle with what they're saying. There is controversy in the scriptures. We have to look at the controversy that's keeping people away from Christ and ask ourselves "Why is there this controversy?"

As we study our Bibles, we find areas that appear to not coincide with each other. But if we study long enough, we find that those areas of controversy resolve themselves.

However, there are some that still don't believe. When someone says that Jesus is not the Messiah, it is blasphemy. Many religious leaders thought it was a scandal to think that Jesus was the Messiah because an Old Testament verse said "Cursed is anyone who hangs from a tree," and Jesus died on the cross (a tree) at Calvary. But they didn't realize that the reason He was cursed was for our sins. He became sin by taking on our sins. So the "scandal of Christianity is the Truth of Christianity." Jesus is the Messiah!

God's not dead and anyone who says He is is a liar. Some people believe Jesus was a myth, but they're wrong. Lots of unbelievers refer to Jesus as "Just a man... just a man who walked this earth and did good things." It's an insult to claim that Jesus was anything less than what He claimed to be. It's one thing to be blind but to refuse to even give it thought and to refuse to acknowledge Jesus is sin.

The devil's job is so much easier than Jesus'. The devil's job is to get us to doubt everything and to believe anything. Jesus wants us to believe that He is the Christ and to cast all our cares on Him.

Jesus is the Christ. He is the Messiah, although He never claimed that title for Himself. But when people called Him the Messiah, He commended several of them. People were expecting a different kind of Messiah because they didn't know what their scriptures said about the coming Messiah. Jesus came preaching and calling people to repent so He could deliver them from sin.

If you settle for just Jesus, you're missing out on Jesus the Christ. It is His timing that determines when He does what He does. That's why He didn't reveal himself as the Messiah until He was on trial before the Sanhedrin.

When He was asked if He was the Messiah, Jesus replied that He was. It was a matter of timing when He wanted it out in the open. Of all the claims and credentials that Jesus presented as evidence, we are to come to a place where we are concluding whom He is.

Our concluding should agree with what He claims for Himself. We have to get into the scriptures and take what we read to come to a conclusion about who He is and our conclusion must agree with what He claims for Himself.

Many of us just mimic the words, "I believe in Jesus." But we haven't stopped to think about what it is we believe. If we conclude that Jesus is the Messiah, then we have to start confessing who He is.

The book of Romans says that unless we confess who He is, we won't be saved. Have you come to the conclusion that Jesus is the Christ? It is absolutely essential that you know the answer to the question.

Fall Fest Finds

Paige Childers (left) and Linda Brown, both of Topeka, enjoyed browsing through antiques and oddities brought to the Jackson County Courtyard on Saturday morning by Wally and Terry Leander of Hiawatha, representing Walnut Creek Antiques, for the annual Holton/Jackson County Chamber of Commerce Fall Fest event. The day started off with temperatures hovering above freezing, but things got slightly warmer as the day progressed. "We don't mind a little chilliness," Brown said while browsing. "That just means it's October."

Potawatomi United Methodist

By Ilene Dick

The Potawatomi United Methodist Church was blessed Saturday evening with good weather for the annual soup supper along with good music by the Classic Country Band and beautiful art show of Lester Arnold and family.

Appreciation goes to the committee and to all who donated soups and other food items, and especially to all who attended in making the evening a success along with good fellowship.

The quarterly board meeting was held Sunday following church and yes, a soup luncheon.

Pastor Howard greeted the congregation and asked for announcements. Ilene Dick announced there will be two more Sundays for the contest for Roundup for Hunger.

A thank-you note was read from the Whitmans and extended families for acts of kindness shown them at the death of Steve's mother, Maxine Sanders. Prayers continue for the family and for Pam Daugherty as her arm continues to heal.

Pastor Howard asked for prayers for all of the pastors as they continue on the new path in the organization of the Great Plains Conference.

Acolytes for the service were Martha Roush and McKenzie Shenk. Ronald Dick read the scripture from Psalms 84:11.

Hymns were "Great Is Thy Faithfulness," "How Great Thou Art" and "Amazing Grace," with music provided by Tina Pugh, Ilene Dick and Ann W.

We were blessed with a special by Sara and Matt Worchester singing "Wonderful Words of Life," with Tina Pugh accompanying on accordion.

The children's story was "Beware of Danger."

Offertory ushers were Keith Bell and Jim Shenk.

The sermon text was from Jeremiah 1:4-5 and John 1:5-9, 12-17. Pastor Howard's sermon was "Life Together." Pastor Howard discussed how everyone has certain routines on Sunday as they prepare to go to church. Why the effort? For some, it may be a habit, or people you hope to see - brothers and sisters in Christ. Some come out of desperation. Many come because they want to worship God. Reasons are different, but there are reasons for being there.

There is a more ultimate reason. Jesus told the disciples they have not chosen Him, but He chose them. God is working in our lives. He is calling us. There is a need for community in faith. Without Christian community, there is a lack of nourishment, just as a lack of food causes a lack of physical nourishment.

God loved us long before we were formed. God works in hidden, mysterious ways. When we realize God is at work in our lives, we say it is a real life.

Judy and Donnie Thoman and Neil and Mary Lou Harding flew to Las Vegas last week for a few days. During that time, they celebrated Donnie's birthday.

Darlene Rawlings attended the 80th birthday of Dorothy Woods Saturday evening, Oct. 11, at Shawnee Lake in Topeka.

On Wednesday, Oct. 8, Marjean Shenk spent time helping her sister in Hiawatha. Her sister, Linda Day, is recuperating from broken pelvic bones caused by a fall.

Jim and Marjean Shenk attended a football game at Jeff West High School to watch their grandson, Sam, play on the team on Friday night, Oct. 10.

Sara and Matt Worchester of Burlingame and Anna Pugh of Kansas State University spent the weekend with Warren and Tina Pugh to celebrate Anna's 19th birthday.

The birthday song was sung to Anna Pugh, Darlene Rawlings and Ilene Dick at church Sunday morning.

Holton High School sophomore Cali Smith recently joined other members of the HHS cheer and dance squads in painting the windows of businesses on Holton's Town Square with slogans cheering on the HHS Wildcat football team during homecoming week. Here, Smith's reflection could be seen in one of the windows on the north side of the Square. The Wildcats beat ACHS 47-6 in the homecoming game.

Netawaka United Methodist Church

By Mary E. Edwards

Oct. 12 was a cool, cloudy day. The heater in the car was surely comforting. Lots of the field crops along the way have been harvested and trees are colorful.

"For the Beauty of the Earth" was the prelude at Netawaka United Methodist Church as Doris Oxandale carried in the light for the altar candles. Doris was also greeter and offertory usher.

Marilyn Banaka was in charge of recorded music and gave the welcome and invited the sharing of joys and concerns. The soup supper was declared a success. Many thanks to all who helped and supported our fund-raiser.

Pastor Caren Loper led the responsive call to worship and the Canticle of Love. The hymn of praise was "Come, Christians, Join to Sing." The prayer hymn was "How Can We Name a Love?"

Scripture readings by Pastor Caren were Psalm 106:1-6, 19-23; Philipians 4:1-9; and 1 John 4:7-12. The sermon was "Speaking Love Languages With Our Children." We love because God first loved us. We love our children and grandchildren but we need to express that love in ways that cause them to respond in love.

The five parts of the love language are: 1. Physical touch (very important for babies); 2. Word affirmation of love; 3. Quality time (all ages need and want attention); 4. Gift giving (need not be expensive items);

5. Acts of service in the home and away.

Children learn by observing. It's good for them to see people showing kindness and respect.

"Perfect love casts out fears." We are advised to keep our "love tanks" full and share with others that their love tank be filled.

The closing hymn was "Love Divine, All Loves Excelling."

On Friday, Sept. 19, at the end of the school day, science teacher Pat McKinney, art teacher Amy Maiers and science teacher Gary Keehn participated in the ALS ice bucket challenge. The seminar that raised the most money from Sept. 8 through Sept. 12 got to dump ice cold water on the teachers!

Math teacher Gary Baldrige's seminar raised the most money; they raised about half of the $121 that was donated.

Students in Baldrige's seminar were very determined to be the ones to drench their teacher in the cold water.

"We wanted to raise the most money for a great cause," said Jenna McAllister.

"It was a good choice of activity to Evelyn Spencer greeted the congregation at Circleville United Methodist Church on Sunday, Oct. 12. Leesa Harshaw, pianist, played "At the Cross/Amazing Grace" for the prelude. The altar candles were lighted by Evelyn Spencer and Thersa Wade.

The hymns were "Come, Christians, Join to Sing," "Where He Leads Me" and "O Master, Let Me Walk with Thee." Dawn Duryea served as help the people in need from illness," Karley Dieckmann said.

McKinney came up with the idea. She had a friend that had ALS. That motivated her to do the ice bucket challenge. Then she had the idea of getting other teachers involved and having a competition between the seminars to see who could collect the most money.

"I thought it would be a good chance to teach the kids about ALS and to raise a lot of money for the cause," said McKinney. Keehn and Maiers chose to do the challenge.

"When I heard about the challenge

I felt like God was leading me to do it because my friend had ALS. I wanted to do it for my friend," Keehn said.

"The thought of getting cold water dumped on me was worse than the actual ice bucket challenge," Maiers said. "It was a fantastic idea and we had a lot of fun!"

On Oct. 5, the Pleasant Hill United Methodist Church congregation opened its worship service by singing "Lord, Speak to Me."

The announcements were: If you can provide food and/or serve at the Topeka North Outreach luncheon on Oct. 17, please contact Jenny Sodergren; and the next Emergency Response Training is set for Nov. 22.

The birthdays for Oct. 5 through Oct. 11: Colgan Harris and Lee McManaman, Oct. 6; Kara Hahn and Harry Worden, Oct. 7; and Ciera Dowd and Peggy Wilson, Oct. 8.

The anniversaries for the week were Roger Rooker and Jamie Lamb, Oct. 5; James and Kim Garrett, Oct. 9; Gary and Betty Domer, Oct. 10; and Barry and Thera Boyles, Oct. 11.

The children's story was given by Kevin McDowell. He asked the children if they liked to color. Do you stay in the lines when you color? As we get older, we learn more. God gave us the 10 commandments to live by. But sometimes, we don't follow them. Let us make good choices in our lives every day.

Phil Pond spoke to the congregation about the "Compassion International" program. It is about releasing children from poverty all over the world. For the last 10 years, Phil has sponsored a boy from Haiti.

Barbara Hanson read the scripture Exodus 32:1-8. The sermon "Leadership Coming From You" was given by the Rev. Hyun-Jin Cho. The church mission statement is to make disciples of Jesus Christ through connecting, worshiping, learning and serving.

A church is a gathering place to worship and to serve God. Let us share the joy in our lives with others. May God strengthen us and help us to deliver the message of Jesus, which
